SEAL OF THE SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES

The official Seal of the Synod of North Carolina, Presbyterian Church in the United States, was adopted by the Synod, meeting in the Ginter Park Presbyterian Church, Richmond, Virginia, May 26, 1965. The design and artwork were by the collaboration of the Reverend Harold J. Dudley, D.D., Stated Clerk of Synod, with The Graphic Press, Inc., Raleigh, North Carolina, Mr. Braxton Flye, President, and a ruling elder in the White Memorial Presbyterian Church, Raleigh. The artist was Mr. Floyd Harness. Valuable suggestions were made by Dr. James E. Bear, Professor Emeritus in Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Virginia; the Reverend J. Raymond Lord, Duke University, Durham, N. C.; the Reverend Richard S. Watts, Greensboro, N. C.; Dr. Henry M. Brimm, Librarian, Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Virginia; and Dr. Thomas H. Spence, Jr., Executive Director, Historical Foundation, Presbyterian Church in the United States.

The Greek noun for synod, while not appearing in the New Testament, is used in classical Greek, sometimes for persons assembling for deliberation.

The root verb, found in the Septuagint, and once in the New Testament, is συνοδεύω and means "to journey with". The word συνοδεύωμεν on the Seal of the Synod of North Carolina is in the plural form, and translated means, "We travel together".

In view of the fact that the Synod, as a Court, comes between the Presbyteries and the General Assembly, the

RESOLUTIONS ON THE CHURCH AND WAR

WHEREAS, confessing with the Church throughout all ages that Jesus Christ is Lord, we affirm its correlate that Caesar is not Lord and that we are compelled to question any actions of the state or society, which in the light of our Christian faith are judged to be inhumane or immoral; and

WHEREAS, in our time students have been among those who have taken the lead in raising the moral issues involved in the Vietnam conflict and our Union Theological Seminary students have sought to face these issues in terms of their own commitment to the lordship of Christ; and

WHEREAS, citizens and churchmen cannot abdicate the responsibility for facing these issues and must recognize that failure to listen may feed the fires of increasingly violent dissent; and

WHEREAS, we heartily support the administrations's announced intention to withdraw American troops from Indochina; and

WHEREAS, we speak not as men who are military tacticians, or experts in international affairs, or infallible in our judgments and actions but as men whose Christian commitment to and feelings for human values make us speak with a sense of urgency;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that this Synod of North Carolina convened at First Presbyterian Church Burlington, N. C., June 24, 1970 does hereby;

(1) Express its grateful appreciation to the students at Union Theological Seminary for their efforts to deal responsibly with this serious national issue;

(2) Ask the churches and presbyteries to provide forums in the fall or winter for meaningful discussion of the moral and political issues of war; and to study war in the light of the Christian faith and send results of study to the Church and Society Committee for a subsequent report to Synod and the government of North Vietnam.

(3) Urge Congress and the administration to avoid further expansion of the war and speed the end of our military involvement in Indochina;

(4) Assure our President and his advisors that we are undergirding them by our prayers, that the Lord will direct them in their decisions as they seek to lead us to an early and righteous end of the war in Southeast Asia;

(5) Direct that copies of this resolution be sent to the President, to the members of his cabinet, and to the Senators and Representatives from the State of North CArolina; and to the President of N. Vietnam.

Additional Reports and/or Financial Statements on Campaigns, the Executive Committee on Christian Education, the Guidance Program, and other agencies of the Synod, together, fairly well summarized the total program of the work of Synod.

Annual Statistics (Vital, on Education, Evangelism, and Stewardship) have been prepared in Synod's Office and may be found by reference to the index.

STEWARDSHIP

The estimated income of Presbyterians of the Synod for 1969 was not less than $693,630,000, a considerable increase over the previous year. It has been estimated that the Presbyterians of North Carolina have total assets of several billions of dollars.

III. REPORT OF SYNOD'S COUNCIL

Rev. David H. Burr, Chairman

Meetings

The Council and/or its Committees convened on February 25–26, and May 20–21, 1970. Minutes of the meetings have been recorded.

Last year Synod voted to accept an invitation from St. Andrews Presbyterian College to meet there in 1971; from Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Virginia, 1972; and Queens College, Charlotte, 1973.

This year Synod is meeting within the bounds of Orange Presbytery to share with the Mother of Presbyteries of the Synod of North Carolina in her Bi-Centennial. The Presbytery was organized September 5, 1770 in the Hawfields Presbyterian Church. There were then only seven ministers (Hugh McAden, Henry Pattillo, James Creswell, David Caldwell, Joseph Alexander, Hezekiah Balch, and Hezekiah James Balch); about 40 to 50 churches; and a total membership hardly in excess of 2,000. The reference is to the territory which is the State of North Carolina, for actually Orange Presbytery embraced the territory south of Virginia and indefinitely west. Today the Presbytery has been reduced geographically to embrace seven counties, to wit, Rockingham, Caswell, Guilford, Alamance, Orange, Randolph, and Chatham. As of January 1, 1970, there were 88 churches, 102 ministers, and 25,674 communicants in the Presbytery.

Publicity

For the second consecutive year, 1969, Synod's Office was able to negotiate a new contract for publishing the Presbyterian News, resulting in a reduction in cost. The circulation of the paper has increased from approximately 56,000 twelve months ago to 65,000 today. This results from a vigorous effort to increase the number of churches furnishing church rolls and by the addition of a person to the staff to give full time consideration to improving the mailing lists.

Last year Synod's Office distributed orders for 44,230 copies of the brochure, "The Work Presbyterians Do Together", a slight increase over the previous year. This contrasts with the first year, 1961, when only 5,110 copies were ordered. Two hundred fifty five churches, representing all nine Presbyteries, ordered brochures. Fifty churches in Mecklenburg used the pamphlet, and the number of churches ranged down to thirteen for Winston-Salem Presbytery.

The Radio and Television Program of Synod (TRAV) is the function of the Executive Committee of Church Extension and is reported on separately by the Committee.

Numerous releases for the press, radio, and television emanate from Synod's Office.

During the year also the Office of Synod edited and published the 1969 Minutes of Synod, the 1970 Blue Book of Synod, and numerous work books for the Council and the Committees of Synod.

Stewardship

The year 1969 was the fourth under the new Stewardship program, projected by the General Assembly; however, the previous formula of a Basic Benevolence budget and an Advance Program was abandoned.

Budgets of Agencies and Institutions were prepared, carefully scrutinized, and adopted as realistic, with the expectation that all Presbyteries and Churches would so regard them, and thus honor their pledges to meet them.

The results of Benevolence Giving for 1969 indicate that the Synod contributed to both budgeted and non-budgeted causes of the General Assembly a total of $1,718,293, which was $305,732 in excess of the Budget Asking. The Budgeted Giving to the General Assembly was $1,415,900.

Synod asked the churches and presbyteries for $1,045,467 in 1969. The Presbyteries accepted $992,125, which was $53,342 less than the budget. (Previous year $17,413 under).

Presbyteries and churches contributed to Synod's Benevolent Causes in 1969, $975,259, which was $70,208 less than Askings and $16,866 less than Acceptances (respectively $35,342 and $17,829 the previous year). Income for 1969 to Synod's Causes was $24,151 over 1968.

This represents 98% paid of the Acceptances, but only 93.2% of the Budget Askings. A three-year study of comparative ratios of Benevolent Budget Askings, Acceptances, and Giving to Synod's Benevolent Causes shows an average of 95.5% Acceptance (96.55% last year); 100.12% average in receipts as related to acceptances (101.51% last year); but only 95.96% in relation to Askings (98.01% last year).

For a number of years prior to 1966, the year of the change to the "realistic budget", Synod had a record of a 5% increase per annum in Giving to Synod's Benevolent Causes. The average increase for the past three years is 3.73%.

1970 Acceptances by Presbyteries: In regard to Synod's Askings and Presbytery Acceptances for 1970, it will be noted that for Synod's Causes only, the Presbyteries have accepted $1,004,352 of the $1,099,831 asked, or 91.3% (94.89% last year). Experience shows that Presbyteries pay 2% less than they accept; therefore, though 91.3% will produce $1,004,352, it is more practical, other things being equal, to expect 89.2% of Askings for 1970, which is $981,049.

The Presbyteries rank in the following order for a three year average in per cent of Receipts to Askings for Synod's Causes:

1. (F)	105.87%	6. (A)	95.4%
2. (WS)	99.47%	7. (M)	92.98%
3. (KM)	98.89%	8. (C)	92.89%
4. (G)	96.83%	9. (W)	88.27%
5. (O)	96.14%

The average for all Presbyteries of Synod for three years is 95.6%.

Whereas last year three Presbyteries were reported as having given in excess of askings for Synod's Causes in 1968, only Kings Mountain exceeded the Askings in 1969 104%; however, other Presbyteries made excellent responses as follows:

Fayetteville, 99%, Winston-Salem, 97%; and Orange, 96%. Others ranked as follows: Mecklenburg, 92%; Concord, 91%; Albemarle, 90%; Granville, 87%; and Wilmington, 77%.

The Report of Giving to Synod's Causes, reflected in the Minutes of the General Assembly indicate for budgeted benevolences, $973,835; and for non-budgeted benevolences, $613,411; or a total of $1,587,246. The total amount which was audited through the books of Synod's Office for Synod's Causes was $942,994.99.

Each of the Agencies and Institutions of Synod received its proportionate part of the income, or 93.2% of the budget request.

(For detailed information on 1969 stewardship, consult the Stewardship Tables in the back of this volume).

1970 Acceptances

Acceptances by Presbyteries for 1970 for Synod's Causes alone are reflected in the following table:

During 1969, by careful management, Synod's Office earned on investments, over-and-above loans, $8,033.82.

1971 Benevolence Program

Assembly

The General Council recommended to the General Assembly for 1971 benevolent asking of churches the highest of either of the following: (1) The average of 1966–67–68 giving, or (2) 1968 giving.

The General Assembly Benevolent Budget of $8½ million for support of eighteen causes in 1971, represents an increase of 14.95% over actual receipts for 1969, but a decrease of 6.14% from the 1969 Asking Budget.

The General Assembly has asked of the Synod of North Carolina for 1971, $1,593,222, which represents an increase of 7.16% in askings over 1970.

Synod

The Synod program for 1971 is reflected in the Recommendations. We commend for your perusal the studies which appear in the various tables under "Statistics" in the Index; particularly "Stewardship" and "Vital Statistics", which will reveal Presbytery comparisons, including total giving, per capita giving, growth, etc., and comparison of the Synods of the General Assembly.

Foundation Facility

The Committee on Bequests and Deferred Gifts will make a separate report in reference to the charter for the North Carolina Presbyterian Synod Foundation.

A. Report of Auditor, Including Financial Statements

Committee on Finance and Auditing
Synod of North Carolina
Presbyterian Church in the United States
Raleigh, North Carolina

Gentlemen:

We have examined the balance sheet of the Synod of North Carolina, Presbyterian Church in the United States, Raleigh, North Carolina, as of December 31, 1969, and the related statements of income, changes in fund balances and statements of cash receipts and disbursements for the year then ended and have audited the following funds maintained by Dr. Harold J. Dudley, General Secretary and Treasurer:

Synod's Office General Fund
Church Extension Fund
Educational Institutions Fund
Synod's Office Fund
Public Relations Fund
Inter-Church Relations Fund
Permanent Reserve Fund
Campus Christian Life Fund
Contingent Salary Fund
Synod's Office Reserve Fund
Christian Higher Education Campaign Fund
Presbyterian Campus Christian Life Campaign Fund
Synod Secretary's Discretionary Fund
Foote's Sketches of North Carolina Book Fund
Christian Education Fund
Fleming's Historic Third Creek Church Book Fund
Presbyterian Office Building Expansion Fund
Foundation Feasibility Study Guidance Program Fund

Scope of Examination

We tested the recorded transactions to the extent of tracing the receipts to the depositories and verifying the amounts recorded by appropriate transmittal papers and correspondence, and verifying the contributions from the presbyteries by direct confirmation. Church loans were also verified directly. Expenditures were supported by endorsed cancelled checks and invoices or signed receipts. These were found to be authorized in the minutes of committees and Synod's Council. Bank Balances, which were confirmed by correspondence, were reconciled with balances shown on the books. We also ascertained from our analyses that disbursements were properly allocated.

Our examination included such tests of the accounting records and other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances, the books having been maintained on a cash basis. Our audit of the records of the Christian Higher Education Campaign Fund and the Presbyterian Campus Christian Life Campaign Fund, was limited to the recorded receipts and disbursements; however, we mailed confirmations on all unpaid pledges as of December 31, 1969.

Opinion

In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheet and statements of income and changes in fund balances present fairly the financial position of the Synod of North Carolina, Presbyterian Church in the United States at December 31, 1969, and the results of the various funds' operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applicable to such organizations, maintaining the books and records on a cash basis, excluding the Assets and Fund Balance of the Kate B. Reynolds Trust Fund for Retired Presbyterian Ministers which are shown at October 2, 1969, taken from a statement prepared by Wachovia Bank & Trust Company, Winston-Salem, North Carolina, without audit or verification.

Exhibits and Schedules

In presenting to you our findings, as the result of the audit, we have prepared twenty-three Exhibits and twelve Schedules, as enumerated in the Index, which are attached as a part of this report.

General Comments

In Exhibit "A" – Assets and Liabilities – All Funds Combined – we show a combination of all assets and liabilities as we determined them on December 31, 1969. Inter-fund accounts have been eliminated. Assets totaled $1,669,251.53. Liabilities amounted to $3,560.82. The excess of assets over liabilities results in a surplus of $1,665,690.71. This is composed of $415,810.08 which was invested in fixed assets, $450,472.61 in Synod's fund balances, the Kate B. Reynold's trust balance of $539,466.52, and the A. T. McCallum Trust Fund principal of $259,941.50. The changes in fund balances are explained in the supporting Exhibits and Schedules referred to on Exhibit "A".

Synod's Office General Fund received and disbursed funds for Synod's various causes and funds maintained by the General Secretary and Treasurer. All cash balances in the various funds are combined within the General Fund Cash Account except for $810.47 in the Educational Institutions Fund, and $1,036.26 in the Christian Education Fund, as shown in Exhibit "A". The cash in all funds totaled $176,267.68, of which $56,765.03 was available for support of Synod's causes. The balance of $119,502.65 is held for the various designated funds.

Following Exhibit "A", we have prepared statements for each fund showing the financial position or cash balance at December 31, 1969 and statement of income or statements of cash receipts and disbursements for the year then ended. In addition, we offer the following comments:

Investments represent securities which are part of the Presbyterian Office Building Expansion Fund and Permanent Reserve Fund. The securities and the dividends received are shown in detail on Exhibit "Q" and Schedule – 12.

Loans to churches and others total $263,095.78, as shown on Exhibit "A". The exhibit shows the various funds which made the loans. The total of the unpaid balance of these loans includes accrued interest to December 31, 1969. This balance does not include a loan from the Permanent Reserve Fund to Presbyterian Synod's Office Building Fund. The original amount was $50,000.00. The balance was $27,366.81 at the close of 1969. Included in the loans from the Wharton Estate Fund is a loan to Presbyterian Home, Inc., in the original amount of $12,000.00.

Notes receivable from sale of Sadie Duncan Wharton Estate Property – $3,633.53 – represents the balance of two notes taken for the sale of houses in Raleigh, North Carolina, which were a bequest received from the Wharton estate.

Synod's property and equipment are shown as General Fixed Assets totaling $415,810.08. This represents the cost of the various assets. Details and the changes made during the year 1969 are shown in Schedule – 8.

Included in the Assets of the Synod are assets of a trust fund administered by Wachovia Bank & Trust Company, Winston-Salem, North Carolina, John C. Whitaker and L. D. Long, Trustees, under the will of Kate B. Reynolds for Retired Ministers in the Synod of North Carolina. The Assets are shown as reported by the Trust Department of Wachovia Bank & Trust Company as of October 2, 1969.

Assets of the A. T. McCallum Trust Fund have been included in Synod's assets of December 31, 1969. The assets are shown as reported in the Trust Fund's audit report for the year then ended.

In addition to the funds included in our audit, Synod also received memberships for the North Carolina Presbyterian Historical Society. Memberships received in 1969 totaled $533.50. Interest of $53.80 was earned on deposits, and miscellaneous income of $1,036.80 was received. Expenses amounted to $906.84. At December 31, 1969, there was $1,486.20 in the fund which is shown as a liability on the combined balance sheet.

A Permanent Advisory Committee on Higher Education was established by the Synod of 1955. The Committee's share of funds available in 1958 was $2,873.78. Interest on the funds deposited in a savings account has amounted to $323.55. Committee expenses have totaled $1,547.81, leaving a balance of $1,649.52.

Budgeted benevolences from the Presbyteries amounted to $942,994.99. Funds sent directly to Presbyterian Children's Home amounted to $24,038.50. Presbyterian Home, Inc., received $8,225.72 in direct gifts. These totaled $975,259.21. Distributions to the Synod's agencies were made according to the adopted budget.

Presbytery tax assessments for the support of Synod's office amounted to $69,570.00.

Synod's Office General Fund received and disbursed designated receipts for Presbyterian Children's Home, Presbyterian Guidance Program, Presbyterian Home, Inc., and Catechism awards. The details of these are shown on Schedules – 1, – 2, – 3, and – 4, respectively.

Support of the Synod's Educational Institutions and other Higher Education agencies was based on a net of $445,599.09 for distribution after expenses of the fund. The amounts and percentages are shown on Exhibit "I".

Synod's support of the North Carolina Council of Churches was disbursed from presbytery benevolence receipts. These funds were received and disbursed by the Inter-Church Relations Fund – Exhibit "N".

Synod's Office Reserve Fund has been supported by surplus funds from Synod's Office Account, profits realized on printing and services rendered churches, and interest on deposits. Interest earned on general funds during the year amounted to $731.81. $541.80 was transferred to the office Operating Account for termite control expense. Cash balance at December 31, 1969, was $8,810.10. Cash transactions during the year are shown in detail in Exhibit "T".

The Contingent Salary Fund had a cash balance of $10,706.18 at the end of the year. During 1969 $2,372.02 was distributed to the Synod Office Operating Fund to offset a current deficit. $636.17 was transferred to Inter-Church Relations Fund to offset a 1968 deficit, and a loan of $2,695.00 was made to a Synod employee. All transactions are shown in detail in Exhibit "S".

The Synod's Office Building, located at 1015 Wade Avenue, Raleigh, North Carolina, was completed in 1960. Transactions in connection with construction and receipt of funds were handled through the Presbyterian Office Building Fund. Purchase of land, and construction, necessitated borrowing $50,000.00 from the Permanent Reserve Fund by the Office Building Fund. The following funds are currently budgeting for retirement of this loan:

Synod's Office Fund	$ 1,500.00	per annum
Church Extension Fund	1,500.00	per annum
Campus Christian Life Fund	600.00	per annum
Educational Institutional Fund	900.00	per annum

Since all transactions in connection with the Building Fund, except liquidation of this liability, have now been completed, this fund has been closed out, and the liability is being carried in the Synod Office Operating Fund.

Balance on the loan due the Permanent Reserve Fund at December 31, 1969, in the amount of $27,366.81 is shown in Exhibit "K".

Assets acquired by the building fund totaled $97,841.42, made up of the following:

Land and Improvements	$ 6,273.40
Building	81,278.39
Furniture, Equipment and Furnishings	10,289.63

The Christian Higher Education Campaign was begun in 1956 and the records have been maintained in Synod's Office. On Schedule – 5 the current year's receipts and disbursements are shown and the totals to December 31, 1969. Our audit of receipts was made from summaries of subscriptions and payments. The subscriptions through December 31, 1969, after cancellations, totaled $1,619,163.79. Of this amount $1,616,539.79 had been paid in cash and securities. Thus the unpaid subscriptions were $2,624.00. 1969 net receipts were transferred to St. Andrews Presbyterian College Fund, Inc., and the Campus Christian Life Campaign Fund.

Synod allowed the Campus Christian Life Committee to conduct a campaign in 1958 to raise $300,000.00 which was the amount unpledged in the Christian Higher Education Campaign and needed to implement the program of work initiated by the Committee. The campaign was supervised by the firm of Ward, Dreshman and Reinhardt, New York, New York. Campaign receipts have totaled $279,139.74. Campus Christian Life's share of the Christian Higher Education Campaign gifts was $186,250.95 to December 31, 1969. Interest earned on savings had totaled $11,607.18. The Board of Christian Education contributed $23,000.00 from its challenge funds. The disbursements include 1958 campaign expenses of $40,450.89. Capital expenditures in college areas totaled $419,449.19. The fund's balance of cash at December 31, 1969, was $24,458.33. Details of the year's transactions are shown on Schedule – 6.

Dr. Harold J. Dudley began writing a history of the Synod of North Carolina in 1961. The expenses incurred through 1968 were paid for from contributions plus transfers from Catechism Awards accounts and Discretionary Funds. During 1969 this (History and Book) Fund was combined with certain other transactions in a "Synod Secretary's Discretionary Fund", as presented in Schedule – 9.

Synod's office published a re-print of Foote's Sketches of North Carolina during 1964 and 1965. Receipts have totaled $12,750.44 through 1969 and expenses were $10,902.39, resulting in a surplus of $1,848.05. Schedule – 10 has been prepared to show the receipts and disbursements.

Synod's office also published John K. Fleming's Historic Third Creek Presbyterian Church. Schedule – 11 shows the receipts and disbursements through December 31, 1969.

Funds to finance an expansion of Synod's office building were received in the Presbyterian Office Building Expansion Fund. Cash received during the year to apply on pledges receivable totaled $6,863.70. Securities in this Fund in the form of 160 shares of Waccamaw Bank and Trust Company common stock, with a $5.00 per share par value, are carried on Synod's books at $31.50 per share which was the fair market value at date of receipt. All transactions for the year are detailed in Schedule – 12.

Distributions from the A. T. McCallum Trust Fund amounted to $11,341.95 in 1969 and $2,390.00 was distributed from the L. Richardson, Sr. Trust Fund. These funds were distributed according to the treasurer of the fund.

Income and budgeted expenses of Synod's Christian Education Fund are shown on Exhibit "V". The Office of Christian Education is located in Charlotte, North Carolina. Expenses of the office and the committee on Christian Education, except for salaries and payroll related items, are paid by Synod's office on an imprest basis, refunding the Charlotte office for expenses incurred. Our audit covered the request for funds and expenses paid by Synod's office. The supporting documents for the expenditures made from the Charlotte office were audited by the committee's independent certified public accountant. These were found to be fairly stated in all material respects and are accepted by us without taking exception to our opinion on the fund's statements.

A study to determine the feasibility of establishing a Foundation Facility for the Synod was started during 1968. The following agencies pledged a total of $5,000.00 for financing the study which had been received in full at December 31, 1969:

Presbyterian Home for Children
Presbyterian Home, Inc.
Davidson College
Queens College
St. Andrews College
Union Theological Seminary
Church Extension Committee
Presbyterian School of Christian Education, Richmond, Va.

Details of 1969 transactions are set out in Exhibit "W"

Synod's records are maintained on a cash basis. The books were not closed until all funds for the year were received from the presbyteries in order that all receipts for the year January 1, 1969 to December 31, 1969, could be included. Likewise, some expenses for the year were paid after December 31, 1969, and the cash balances shown herein are after including these in the disbursements.

We found a depositor's forgery bond in force for $10,000.00; fire insurance on contents of the office $42,000.00; blanket position bond for $25,000.00; open stock safe burglary; and fire insurance on the office building for $87,500.00. Synod's office and Campus Christian Life Centers are covered by a multi-peril policy totaling $200,000.00 on buildings and personal property and $300,000.00 general liability. Policies on buildings and personal property at Durham, North Carolina, Greensboro, North Carolina, and Greenville, North Carolina, carry a 90% co-insurance clause.

We found the books and records in balance and accurately kept.

We wish to express our appreciation for the courtesies extended us and the assistance and cooperation rendered by the entire personnel, which greatly facilitated our work.

We examined the minutes of the Secretary and found the approved procedures currently adhered to.

Very truly yours,

IV. REPORTS OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEES

A. Report of Executive Committee on Campus Christian Life

The Reverend Will H. Terry, Chairman

The Campus Christian Life Committee of the Synod of North Carolina is seeking to provide in your name a crucial ministry to one of the most chaotic and important sectors of our society – the university. To say we do this in a time of transition and crisis is almost trite. The campus ministers and this committee are struggling with several facts which shaped both the style and the substance of our ministry to the campus. These facts are so complicated and the forces which influence them so diverse, that it is difficult to enunciate them briefly or simply. We do believe, however, that you should know of some of the issues with which we are struggling.

The first fact we have to accept is that we are ministering to new kinds of students. He is not like you (the reader) were when you were in college. Any attempt to define him fails, but the description which appears in the Danforth study, New Wine, is a starter. "There is on most campuses a constituency of young people who, though not deeply committed, are accessible to a proclamation of the faith and who worship within a context of doubt, prophetic inquiry, and effective governance related to the world. This constituency offers to the campus minister a varying perspective and experiences needed to explore the meaning of contemporary Christianity, along with various other religious and ethical options. Also among a substantial group of students, moderately involved, there is a religious complex of beliefs – a radical monotheism that makes the ethical dimensions of faith a test of religious seriousness. These students want contact with faculty administrators and public leaders and have a deep concern for responsible action in many areas. But they, along with most students, are open to the proclamation of faith only within the context of an open hope and search for a faith which includes an awareness of the variety and intensity of unbelief and competing beliefs."

This leads campus ministers to the conclusion that their style of ministry changes form constantly. The old ways of ministering to students are no longer accepted by most of them and are considered irrelevant by most. To depart from the old ways of ministry causes unhappiness on the part of some university administrators and many elements in the life of the church.

A second fact we have to deal with is the new role of the university, which has become a battleground for the social and political issues of our society. These two facts – the new students and the new role of the university – add up to a bewildered, doubtful, or hostile constituency in the church which supports campus ministry. The Campus Christian Life Committee is deeply concerned with you of your bewilderment. We want you to understand the complexities and the problems that our ministry to the campus entails. We want you to understand both the opportunities and the difficulties which any campus minister and any Campus Christian Life Committee must face if it is to be worth its salt to the campus, to the student, and to the on-going life of the faith. We want you to provide ways through the local church and through the Presbytery which we can be of help to you in understanding the campus – its ferment and potential – and the role of the Christian faith in this academic milieu. We are convinced that our ministers, if they are to be heard by the university and by the student, must operate in unique and often controversial ways. We are also keenly aware that we cannot do this without your encouragement, both spiritual and financial.

A third fact is the growing necessity for ecumenical involvement. Such involvement is both a theological and a financial necessity. It will mean that in some places we will help other groups of Christians to minister on campus, and in other places, they will help us to be the primary source of ministry. No branch of the church in our Synod has either the financial or the human resources to cope with this alone. The student population is growing; the number of secular educational institutions increasing. All of this adds up to an increasing opportunity for the Christian faith to be heard where its influence may have the most lasting value. Your committee is looking for new ways to cooperate with other branches of the Christian church, and at the same time, listing our own order of priorities for ministry across the Synod.

Your committee is convinced that the Synod has every right to be proud of the quality of campus ministers we have on our campuses. They are intellectually alive, spiritually sensitive, contemporary men. They are genuinely concerned for students and for the university, and evidence a renewed concern for their pastoral ministry which many will find most encouraging. As a Synod, we are fortunate to have these kinds of persons as our representatives on campus.

Personnel

For the first time in several years our campus ministry is intact and all positions are filled. Three new members have been added: the Reverend Milton Carothers at Duke, the Reverend Ernest Miller at UNC–Chapel Hill as an associate, and the Reverend John Miller at E.C.U. Our other campus ministers are: the Reverend Z. N. Holler (N. C. State), the Reverend Carl Culberson (UNC–CH), the Reverend James Allen (UNC–G), the Reverend Robert Massey (Fayetteville State), the Reverend William Kercheval (Winston-Salem), and Miss Louise Pendergast (Presbyterian Hospital, Charlotte). The Reverend Herbert Eaton works in a cooperative ministry at N. C. Central University. At UNC–Charlotte we are seeking a man who will be supported by our church and the Methodist Church.

New Work

At the University of North Carolina at Charlotte, the Presbyterians and Methodists are now in the process of hiring a campus minister jointly for ministry to that institution.

With the transfer of the Boone-Blowing Rock area from Holston to Concord Presbytery, Appalachian State University has now become the responsibility of this Synod.

Recommendations:

1. That Synod urge Sessions of the churches of the Synod and Presbytery Campus Christian Life Committees to avail themselves and other organizations within the opportunity of inviting campus ministers to the current university scene to interpret their jurisdiction of the current university scene their ministries within the universities to the church.

and their ministries within the universities to the church.

2. That the 1971 budget of the Synod of North Carolina for Campus Christian Life be approved in the total amount of $112,888.

B. Report of the Executive Committee of Christian Education

Allen C. McSween, Chairman

The emergence of the '70s has faced the Church with new and rapidly changing problems. This first year in the new decade has brought many frustrations but has brought to light new opportunities as well. Your committee on Christian Education has sought to wrestle with the dual responsibility of nurturing our existing work at the same time we are attempting to look ahead to ways of meeting needs in the future.

The Christian Education Staff and the members of the Committee spent a day in working with Dr. William Kadel, Executive Secretary of the Board of Christian Education and Miss Estelle Roundtree, Associate Director of Adult Education of the Board of Christian Education, in the area of "Curriculum Building in the Local Church". The possibilities in the field are great. For a long time we have recognized the fact that the same curriculum does not speak to the needs of all persons nor all churches, but we have not known what to do about it. Now, with the assistance of the Board, we are able to see opportunities for local churches to design their own curricula to meet their specific needs. Many new resources are being made available to churches for designing their own programs.

Another thrilling development has been a study in which the staff and members of the committee are engaged. Miss Bettie Currie, Director of Research of the Board of Christian Education, led us in a study of the needs of persons, the directions Christian Education must go in order to meet those needs and the underlying Theology of Christian Education. This study is continuing as we attempt to make plans for viable Christian Education in the 1970s. At the same time we are studying the function of Christian Education, setting up criteria for evaluating those functions and setting priorities so that we may meet the goals set.

The members of the Christian Education Committee have been diligent in attendance and in fulfilling their assigned tasks. But without the wise and helpful guidance of our Regional Director, the Reverend Robert Turner, we simply could not have done our work. He, in turn, has been ably assisted by Miss Beatrice Kiser, Assistant to the Regional Director, and the Area Directors: Miss Mildred Mallard, Albemarle; Miss Eloise Wells, Concord; Mrs. John F. Cheney, Jr., Fayetteville; Mrs. Klell Napps, Granville; Mrs. Frank S. Jones, Mecklenburg; Miss Sara McNeill, Orange; Miss Donna Cook, Wilmington; Mrs. Earl F. Thompson, Winston-Salem. Their devotion and their professional competence are a constant inspiration.

AUDIO-VISUAL LIBRARY

Miss Beatrice Kiser, Director

In order to meet the growing demand for Audio Visual material your committee has planned to expand this area of our work. We have secured a number of new and helpful materials but the need for even more is evident. In order to be of the greatest service in a time when more and more churches are expanding their teaching programs with the use of audio visual equipment we have no choice but to enlarge this part of our work. It is for this reason our committee has asked for an increase in our budget.

The work done by your committee is reflected in the reports of the Councils, cabinets, and Ad Hoc Committees.

MEN'S WORK Committee James M. Painter, President, Synod's Men's Council

Men's Work in the Synod of North Carolina has, with few exceptions, moved forward at a rather progressive pace.

First, I feel that it is well to note that more churches are recognizing that Men's Work is not just a Friday night fellowship but men working in the church.

A three year theme, "You and Your Ministry Throughout the World," has been selected with emphasis for 1970 on "You and Your Ministry in the Community."

Reports from eight (8) of the nine (9) Presbyteries (Albemarle not reporting) indicate that the spring rallies were well attended. A great amount of detail planning went into each rally for a successful program. Total attendance of 1515. This is approximately 300 more than the attendance at the '69 rallies.

Attendance at the '69 fall rallies exceeded 2000 and is par for the course.

The '69 Annual Summer Conference at Montreat was attended by 400 men, of which 60% had their wives. That Conference has been labeled as the most successful one that we have ever held.

The 1970 Summer Conference is built on the study of the evaluation reports from 1969. I think the attached brochure will speak for itself.

Each day I see a greater need for the involvement of men in the life of the church and feel that through organized Men's Work we can be more effective in witnessing for Christ.

ADULT CABINET REPORT

Mrs. Bernice Estes, Chairman

The Adult Cabinet met in Asheboro December 4, 1969. Most of the Presbyteries were represented.

A discussion was led by Mrs. Virginia Jones and Mrs. Bernice Estes on "Building Curriculum in the Local Church". This seemed to create much interest and the adult chairmen were encouraged to attend the Conference at Montreat this summer on this subject.

The chairman of this cabinet attended the staff meeting at Camp Susan Barber Jones in November, 1969 for planning of the North Carolina Christian Education Conference.

YOUTH CABINET REPORT

James T. Frazier, Chairman

During the past year Synod's Youth Cabinet met three times. Each meeting was held in the First Presbyterian Church, Asheboro, N. C.

At the December 4, 1969 meeting the cabinet used the morning for some business and a sharing session. The afternoon session took the form of an Audio-Visual Workshop led by Miss Eloise Wells. At this meeting it was agreed that the chairman should invite Mr. Bill Peterson to meet with the cabinet on February 12, 1970 to (1) share directions in which the Board of Christian Education is heading in youth ministry; (2) to offer some help in what presbytery cabinets can do in assisting local as well as presbytery groups in youth ministry; and (3) to work with us in defining what is the function of a synod's youth cabinet. It was also agreed that in fulfilling the Synod authorization to assist in planning worship for the 1970 Synod Meeting this cabinet should recommend a folk worship service. It was further agreed that this service should be done by a troop of young people such as the Mocksville, N. C. troop that does "The Winds of God". This proposal was taken to the Synod Planning Committee but due to the problems of schedule and funds the service will not be held.

At the February 12, 1970 meeting the cabinet met with Mr. Bill Peterson, a Board of Christian Education staff person in youth ministry. In working through to a definition of our cabinet's function with Mr. Peterson's keen insights we came to four findings. One, this cabinet can provide an opportunity for an exchange of what's happening in the presbyteries. Two, the cabinet members can feed each other with an exchange of resources including some brainstorming and evaluation on how to use them. Three, some cabinet meeting time can be profitably used in a think tank setting where issues in youth ministry can be aired. And four, this cabinet can assist the presbytery cabinets by providing opportunities for training in youth ministry. Following up these findings the cabinet has agreed to use a Spring meeting for sharing sessions and the December meeting as a training session for new members.

At the April 14, 1970 meeting the cabinet met for a sharing session. Although the sharing was handicapped by poor attendance, there was a helpful exchange of resources. Many new resources were introduced and those present felt it was a day well spent.

CHILDREN'S WORK CABINET

Mrs. Martha McCorkle, Chairman

The Cabinet on Children's Work met in Asheboro on December 4, 1969. The agenda included reports on:

- Discovery Learning Workshop in Dallas
- Church related Day Care and Child Development Centers
- The new Through the Week series of materials
- Current trends and issues in Christian Education

Discussion of:

- Special needs of local churches, especially the small church
- The use of consultants
- Training events

HOME AND FAMILY COUNCIL

Paul H. Felker, Chairman

The Council on Home and Family has been trying to determine the course of action it should take for the future. For this reason, four representatives of the Council met on November 12, 1969 in the West Raleigh Presbyterian Church. The special guest for the occasion was the Reverend Harold Minor, new Executive Secretary of the Division of Home and Family Nurture. Rather than our receiving counseling and new direction from him we were the ones to inform him of the work that has been done in this Synod. His only suggestion was that we urge churches not to be limited to "the sequential approach" which has been recommended in past years. Any approach and wise use of any of the materials is recommended.

Plans for the Family Life Workshop in Montreat, June 26 – July 2, are progressing. A different format will be used this year as well as different materials and audio visuals. We will deal specifically with the male–female role in marriage and in society. The regular staff will be assisted several days by professionals in this field. It is hoped that this new approach will prove to be helpful to all, and indicative of the type of thing that can be done by Presbyteries and local churches.

.3. PRESBYTERIAN GUIDANCE PROGRAM

Rev. Tom B. Anderson, Chairman

I. NEW DIRECTOR EMPLOYED

On March 3, 1970 the Presbyterian Guidance Program Council regretfully accepted the resignation of Dr. Logan Cockrum, in order that he might accept a position as an Associate Professor at the University of Virginia. At the meeting of the Council on April 22, 1970 a call was issued to Reverend Alfred E. Thomas, who is presently completing his doctorate work at the University of North Carolina in the field of Guidance Counseling. Mr. Thomas is formerly pastor at Butner and is known throughout the Synod of North Carolina. He will assume his duties on June 1, 1970.

II. COUNSELORS' CONFERENCE

The Counselors' Invitational Conference was held on the St. Andrews College Campus on October 11, 1969. Approximately seventy counselors and counselor educators within a 250 mile radius of the college attended the conference.

Dr. Walter F. Johnson from Michigan State University was the main speaker for the event.

III. PUBLIC RELATIONS

Meetings of the Local Church Cabinet, including a chairman or representative from each Presbytery, have been held on a regular basis. This group has helped the Center to publicize its activities and has served as liaison between the Center and local churches. This has been especially helpful since the move into the new building and the director's leave of absence curtailed the usual Presbytery workshop type of relationships.

Approximately twenty individual and/or small group conferences have been held at the Center during the year with ministers, school counselors, and college personnel seeking additional information about the Presbyterian Guidance Program. Also, a large number of letters have been written in response to questions regarding the services of the Center.

IV. MAJOR EVENTS: 1969

Mr. New employed part-time at the college during the summer of 1969 to assist with Academic Enrichment Workshop.

Mr. Patton attended Duke University both summer terms and began work toward a doctorate.

Moved into the new Center building during July, 1969.

Dr. Cockrum given year's leave of absence to serve as Visiting Associate Professor at University of Virginia.

Mr. Patton authorized to take over operation of the Center during Dr. Cockrum's leave of absence.

Counselors' Invitational Conference held on October 11, 1969. Dr. Walter Johnson, Michigan State University, major speaker.

C. Report of the Executive Committee of Church Extension–1969

Rev. E. D. Witherspoon, Sr., Chairman

PREAMBLE

Your Executive Committee of Church Extension does not offer, as a part of its report to the Synod, any outstanding speaker, or any presentation from a sub committee. Instead your Committee would seek to stress the importance of the written report which has been placed in your hands. This report speaks of our total work. A careful reading of the report will remind you of those things which we have been able to accomplish with your help in the various areas of work, and of those areas where we find challenge and the need of greater dedication throughout the Synod. Attention should be called to the fact that only two Presbyteries showed a gain in the number of communicants, and that the Synod showed a loss of 286 communicants.

IN GENERAL

1. The Executives Conference: November 5–6, 1969 the Synod of North Carolina and Granville Presbytery were hosts to the Annual Executives Conference for the Synods of Appalachia, North Carolina, Virginia, and West Virginia. A total of thirty persons attended the Conference. During the two days, the visiting group were given a tour of the Triangle Area and were briefed thoroughly on the developments taking place in the area. Representatives of the nine presbyteries of the Synod gave brief resumes of work being undertaken in each of the presbyteries. The Conference was concluded with lunch at the Governor's Mansion, with Governor and Mrs. Robert W. Scott serving as hosts.

2. Special Ministries Projects: During the year the Finance Committee approved of requests for assistance from the Board of National Ministries for Special Ministries as follows: Granville Presbytery – $25,000 for Raleigh-Durham Inner-City Ministry; Mecklenburg – Morven Project, $6,661.–80 per annum for three years; Wilmington Presbytery $3,000 for 1970 for general ministries.

3. Butner Ministry: Word from the Rev. Don Neel, Board of National Ministries, is that the Board will be unable to grant support to the Butner Ministry after the first quarter of 1970.

FINANCES

1. 1969 Income: Presbyteries paid 93.2% of Askings in 1969, or $46,812.44 of the Budget Askings, which was $50,190. The deficit of income from presbyteries was $3,387.56. Other income included $2,500 from the Board of National Ministries designated for the Butner Ministry; $122.85 from the Richardson Trust Fund; and $1,433.86 from the Reserve Funds for support of the Butner Ministry, a total of $50,869.15 against a budget total of $54,690, $3,820.85 under the budget.

2. Acceptances by Presbyteries, 1970: The presbyteries have accepted 1970 Askings of 91.3%. For Church Extension this means $48,562 of the Budget–Askings of $53,190.

3. Loan Funds: At the end of 1969 there were 34 loans (35 last year) ranging up to approximately $40,000. Loans are made at 4% interest and are properly secured. Income from the Church and Manse Loan Fund is returned to the corpus.

The Church and Manse Loan Fund, as of December 31, 1969 was valued at $211,187.05 in contrast to $199,957.58 the year before.

The Permanent Reserve Fund, as of December 31, 1969 was valued at $79,362.36, an increase of $2,025.14. In this account are the following bequests: Mrs. A. T. McCallum Bequest; A. T. McCallum Bequest; Mrs. Elizabeth Osborn Bequest; Mrs. Sarah J. Hutchison Bequest; Samuel Andrews Grier Bequest; and securities valued at $1,980.

4. Bequests:

(1) Wharton Bequest: The Wharton Bequest was received in 1958 and 1959 from the estate of the late Mrs. Sadie Duncan Wharton, widow of the late C. P. Wharton of Raleigh. As of December 31, 1969 the bequest had a value of $22,603.90. For a full report, see "Auditor's Report".

(2) A. T. McCallum Bequest: Synod came into possession of the A. T. McCallum Estate in 1961, when it was valued at approximately $250,000. The latest audit represents the value at $271,357.88 and in 1969 Synod received for distribution in accordance with Item VIII (d) of the will a total of $11,401.98, representings earnings for 1969. This amount was distributed according to the terms of the will. Of the amount earned, Synod received a total of $5,827.68 ($2,660.46 to Barium Springs Children's Home; $1,266.89 to Glade Valley School; and $1,900.33 to Synod's Home Missions).

(3) Mrs. Elizabeth C. Osborn Bequest: The original bequest was in the amount of $1,000.00. Mrs. Osborn who resided in Greensboro, died in 1957, leaving 10 shares of paid up stock in Gate City Savings and Loan Association, shares having a constant value of $1,000. Bequest received in full and invested.

(4) Samuel Andrew Grier Bequest: In May, 1963, Synod received a Bequest in the amount of $1,468.95 from the Estate of Samuel Andrew Grier of Barium Springs to be used for Evangelistic work. (See Synod Minutes of 1963, page 118). This is invested, and the income is used in the manner stipulated in the will.

(5) Sarah J. Hutchison Bequest: In November, 1963, A. Walton Litz, Associate Director of the Presbyterian Foundation, Inc. advised the General Secretary that under a legacy left to the Presbyterian Foundation in 1926 by Mrs. Sarah J. Hutchison of Charlotte, the "Home Missions Work" of the Synod of North Carolina would receive the income from the legacy of $4,500. In 1969, Synod received $235.67 from the bequest.

(6) Thomas L. Wilson, Sr. Memorial Fund: In October, 1953, the American Trust Company, Charlotte, N. C. advised that Thomas Lee Wilson,

Sr. of Gastonia had left a bequest in his will [IX, (c), (2)] to be known as the "Memorial Fund bearing the name of Thomas Lee Wilson, Senior, Gastonia, North Carolina". This provides that 2½% of the residue of the Estate be designated for the "Home Missions Committee of the Synod of North Carolina in connection with the Presbyterian Church, United States, with principal office presently located in Greensboro, North Carolina". In 1969, Synod received from the bequest $302.16.

(7) Mrs. A. T. McCallum Bequest: This Bequest was originally for $5,924.42. The bequest is invested, and in 1969 earned approximately $237.

SUB–COMMITTEE ON HOME MISSIONS

Reverend Kay M. Misenheimer, Chairman

It is the task of the Home Missions Committee of the Church Extension Committee of the Synod of North Carolina to coordinate by report to the Church Extension Committee and to the Synod the work of Home Missions in the nine presbyteries. Here is a summary of those reports:

Albemarle Presbytery, Gail D. Jones, Chairman

The Committee has been trying to make the best use of leadership and funds available. In Greenville there has been a linking together of the First Church and two small struggling churches. There have been efforts throughout the presbytery for the relocation of some churches in poorly located areas. There are eight aid-receiving churches in the presbytery. At Dare Beach there continues for the third year an inter-denominational cooperative summer chapel, which is also a gathering place for young people and for their parents. The gathering place is called "The Circus Tent" and ice cream is sold there during the week. There are also entertainment features conducted by the summer worker, also dialogues and discussions. There is no church on Dare Beach but through this work a foothold has been gained in that area. There has been a grouping of churches in Kinston, which has made it possible to secure a minister.

Concord Presbytery, Fielding Clark, Chairman

This committee has made a study of the serious concern and problem of pastoral oversight for a large number of small churches in the presbytery. The committee has also worked toward grouping some of these churches and reports four new groupings during 1969.

1. Fifth Creek, Harmony, Providence, and Tabor churches are served by Rev. Tracy Fisher, and are self-supporting.
2. Clio, New Salem, and Shiloh are being served by Rev. Harold Stone, and receive aid from the committee.
3. Bridgewater, Clinchfield and McDowell churches are served by Rev. Burriss Bender, and receive aid from the committee.
4. Conley Memorial, Landis Memorial, and Old Fort are looking for a minister, and will need aid from the committee.

Seventeen churches have received aid from the committee during 1969. Cooperative ministries across denominational lines (Methodist, Reformed and Episcopalian) are being considered and entered into.

Fayetteville Presbytery, Reverend Charles E. Kirkpatrick, Chairman

Two churches during 1969 have outpost chapels: these are the Dunn Church and the Lumberton Church. Both have nearly one hundred persons in attendance. The committee has assisted in a number of small churches who are without pastors in securing stated supplies in order that regular services may be held. Two churches were assisted in building and remodeling existing facilities. Use of the McNair Memorial Building has been given to a group of Indians within the presbytery, and the building is being transferred to this group for their continued use. Visitation by members of the committee to each of the aid receiving churches in the presbytery has been conducted at least once during 1969 to discuss opportunities, problems, and ways the committee might be of assistance to them. A total survey of the presbytery was begun to determine the direction in which the committee needs to move in the way of merging, closing churches, opening new work, etc. Under consideration is the support of Hope Harbor, a Christian home for alcoholics in Fayetteville.

Granville Presbytery, George Elliott, Chairman

During the past year several aid-receiving churches and/or fields have received loans or grants in aid. Representatives of the committee have visited every aid-receiving church or field preparatory to the Every Member Canvass season. As of January 1, 1969 each minister in an aid-receiving church or field began to receive a minimum salary of $6,000, car allowance $600.00, and regular fringe benefits. This has now been established as the minimum income for all members of the presbytery. Representatives of the committee have attended the National Ministries Conference in Montreat last August and the Annual Meeting of the Home Missions Association of the General Assembly in Atlanta last December.

Kings Mountain Presbytery, Reverend John Kimbirl, Chairman

Three churches within the presbytery became self-supporting during 1969. The committee has maintained regular communications with the aid-receiving churches of the presbytery, of which there are seven. In November a dinner was held for representatives of all these churches. The ministers, an elder, a deacon from each church were invited. Each church was given time to make a brief report of the work that it had been doing during the past year and to project its future plans. The response to this program was excellent on the part of all churches. The committee is currently involved in a survey within the presbytery. Consideration is being given to the clustering or grouping of two aid-receiving churches and two self-supporting churches.

Orange Presbytery, Reverend K. M. Misenheimer, Chairman

During 1969 the committee helped ten churches with missionary aid. The committee called Reverend Angus McGregor as a church extension worker to develop a new church in southeast Greensboro. Mr. McGregor began his work in July, and already has some 75 interested persons gathered for worship, dialogue, and fellowship. The committee called Reverend David Garth as part-time church extension worker (also called by the Speedwell Church) to develop a new work in southwest Reidsville. Mr. Garth has moved into the Speedwell Church Manse and has begun his dual work.

The committee called Reverend M. M. Foust in September of 1967 as a church extension worker to develop a new work in Jamestown. After two years of effective work, Mr. Foust and 140 people petitioned Orange Presbytery to be organized into a church. A commission was appointed to organize the church on December 7, 1969. The organization took place in the Town Hall of Jamestown. The committee effected the clustering of four churches in Orange County: Eno, Fairfield, Efland and Bethlehem. Reverend Galen Elliott, Reverend Charles Sample and Miss Frances Pritchett, (Church Extension Worker in Christian Education) make up the present staff serving the churches.

After securing the approval of Orange Presbytery the committee joined the Methodists in supporting an inner-city ministry in Greensboro. The financial support, in the amount of $10,000, began in January 1969, and has enabled the inner-city ministry staff to engage a social worker, and to expand their ministry to the poor and poverty stricken people. The committee has given encouragement, advice and financial support to the Church of the Cross which is located in a community which has changed from 100% white to 90% black within a three to four year period. The minister and members of the church are attempting to continue a ministry to the total community. This is being done through worship, church school, kindergarten, recreation programs, Vacation Church School, community dialogue, etc.

Mecklenburg Presbytery, Reverend Robert S. Owens, Chairman

The Church Extension Committee of Mecklenburg Presbytery has been dissolved in a new organizational arrangement, and the duties of that committee are now performed by two committees: I. The Strategy and Research Committee. This committee is concerned with (1) Deployment of churches; (2) Establishment of new churches; (3) Dissolving of churches; (4) Merging and relocation of churches; (5) Benevolence reports; (6) Strategy and research itself. II. The Specialized Ministries Committee. This committee, headed by Reverend Leonard Topping, is concerned with (1) Mass and personal evangelism; (2) Experimental ministries; (3) Liason between the presbytery and inter-denominational agencies; and (4) Responsibility to develop new programs.

There are four areas in which the Strategy and Research Committee has been working: (1) Development of policies and procedures; (2) Setting of priorities; (3) Trying to identify resources; (4) Looking at the other presbyteries and what they are doing; and employing denominational consultants. There have been efforts to develop strategy for strengthening churches and for regrouping churches. Two mergers of four churches have taken place in the past year: Commonwealth and Eastminster Churches have merged and are called Commonwealth-Eastminster Church. Also Wilmore and Camp Green Churches have merged and are now called Christ Presbyterian Church. The committee is talking with three other churches about possible mergers. This is in keeping with our denomination's recommendation in 1968 to create congregations with a minimum of 250 members. In the realm of research, surveys have been conducted, sociological studies have been made, statistical data has been employed, and other data and information has been gathered to help develop strategy for mission. There are 11 aid-receiving churches in the presbytery.

Wilmington Presbytery, Reverend Joseph G. Morrison, Chairman

The committee has sought to group small churches and create fields large enough to challenge and keep pastoral leadership. All ministers salaries have been raised above the present minimum or presbytery except two ($6,500 single field, $6,700 two-church field). All but five salaries are over $7,000.

Windermere Presbyterian Church in Wilmington, N. C. was organized on March 15, 1970 with approximately 225 members. There are ten aid-receiving churches in the presbytery. Christmas International House Program was conducted at Winter Park Presbyterian Church over the Christmas holidays with thirty-three students as guests.

Dr. Ben L. Rose is spending one year's sabbatical leave in the presbytery with four seminary students placed in churches as interns under his direct supervision, and in cooperation with the committee and the Seminary.

Three acres of property have been acquired for the relocation of Myrtle Grove Presbyterian Church on Highway 132. A special ministry to seamen has been proposed in Wilmington and Morehead City and will be conducted through the following churches: Wilmington First, St. Andrews - Covenant, and Morehead City First. A Bogue Bank Resort Area ministry to youth will be conducted through the summer of 1970 through the Morehead City First Church.

Winston-Salem Presbytery, Reverend E. Perry Mobley, Chairman

The committee has been seeking direct involvement between itself and local congregations. It has met on two occasions with local congregations, with the purpose of the meeting to allow the local congregations to share with the committee its concerns and plans. The committee has listened and offered help where possible, and has given assurance of its interest and of special help that is available.

The committee has also been involved with the Northwest-Ashe County Project. This is an area of extreme poverty in the mountains of the presbytery. With funding from the Board of National Ministries and from the presbytery, the committee has undertaken a special three year ministry in this area. There were three Presbyterian church buildings in the vicinity. The congregations were weak or non-existent. The committee has acquired a building in another section of the mountains which total four areas from which to operate. From these centers the committee carries on a ministry that deals with people in every area of their lives. From a survey the committee has discovered the places of greatest need and has sought to minister to those needs. It has established a dental clinic to work with pre-school children. Dentists from Winston-Salem are giving their time each week to go into the area and operate the clinic. In addition, the committee has a Weekday Kindergarten operating in two areas, and a clothing distribution center. It also works with the youth of the area and conducts worship services in each of the four areas every Sunday. This ministry has proven to be greatly needed and the response has been outstanding. The committee plans to continue the ministry beyond the three year projection.

SUB–COMMITTEE ON SPECIAL MINISTRIES

George Elliott, Chairman

Reverand James N. Grubb is Chaplain at Butner for the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina. Butner consists of the John Umstead Hospital for nervous and mentally disturbed; the Blind Center; the Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center; the Youth Center for young first offenders; the C. A. Dillon Correctional Center.

The Chaplain calls on individual patients, conducts worship services, leads discussion groups, and visits churches and presbyteries on occasions. He arranges tours of Butner for visiting ministers and church leaders, and tells them about hospital ministry.

Mr. Grubb plans to give greater emphasis to the educational aspects of the institutional ministry. He plans to have ministers and church leaders attend seminars at Butner to discuss hospital and institutional ministries. He is also stressing the importance of Christian service to the institutions on the part of the churches. Several groups from churches have been to Butner, visiting the patients and some have given parties for the residents.

Mr. Grubb requests that you let him know about people from your church who are at Butner and to call on him to serve them. You are also invited to visit him at Butner.

SUB-COMMITTEE ON TRAV

Rev. William R. Smith, III, Chairman

Production

Since the last meeting of Synod, the TRAV Subcommittee has continued the production of "The Sunday School of the Air" and "News of the Church."

"The Sunday School of the Air" is a fifteen-minute weekly program presented over forty North Carolina radio stations and six radio stations in Virginia. Both of North Carolina's largest fifty-thousand watt stations carry the program which features ministers from across the state.

The 1969 "Sunday School of the Air" speakers were as follows:

January	–	Jerold D. Shetler, Raleigh
February	–	Russell B. Fleming, Raleigh
March	–	B. Frank Hall, Wilmington
April	–	H. Edwin Pickard, Raleigh
May	–	William R. Smith, III, Raleigh
June	–	George A. Grissom, Wendell
July	–	E. Eugene Kirkman, Winston-Salem
August	–	Robert A. Massey, Fayetteville
September	–	Leighton B. McKeithen, Fayetteville
October	–	David B. Jenkins, Rockingham
November	–	Charles Williams, Durham
December	–	Ed Wilson, Charlotte

"News of the Church," presented weekly in cooperation with the North Carolina Council of Churches surveys interdenominational religious news on the state, national, and international levels. Dr. Raymond A. Horn, TRAV Director is the newscaster.

During 1969, the TRAV Sub-committee originated a new program, "Encounter," a thirty-minute talk-show which is produced on WTVD–TV, Durham, North Carolina. The program airs at 10:00 A.M. on WTVD and 2:00 P.M. on WFBC–TV, Greenville, North Carolina. Several other stations are considering the program at the present time. Guests on the program have included the moderator of the General Assembly, The Rev. R. Matthew Lynn of Midland, Texas; the Honorable Brooks Hayes of Winston-Salem, North Carolina; Horace A. "Bones" McKinney, Coach of the Carolina Cougars; and other church and civic leaders.

In 1969, TRAV produced in cooperation with WTVD–TV three documentaries which were viewed in prime time on that station and other stations across the state. "The Now Generation at Chapel Hill High" was a thirty minute study of the problems encountered by a consolidation of a white high school with a black high school, with emphasis on the part the church played in helping to ease the tension. "From South Bend to Salisbury and Beyond" was a study of the Episcopal Church's controversial Special Convention II, held in South Bend, Indiana and the furor which was caused in North Carolina as a result of the funding of Malcolm X University. The third program, "A Century at Central Prison," was a one-hour documentary which revealed conditions at the one-hundred year old maximum security penal institution in Raleigh, North Carolina.

In other production last year, a film newsclip of the 1967 Synod meeting was prepared and telecast over nine stations.

Placement – Radio and Television

A complete survey of the needs of radio stations in the state was completed in 1969 and approximately eight-hundred placements of radio programs were made.

A total of ninety-three placements of thirteen television programs in spot announcement series have been made on North Carolina stations since the last meeting of Synod. A complete survey of the needs of television stations was made during 1969 and personal visits by the Director to various stations helped to establish friendly relations.

Audio–Visuals

The Sixth Annual Audio–Visual Previews were held in November in cooperation with the Synod's Office of Christian Education. The Charlotte previews were conducted in the Myers Park Presbyterian Church. White Memorial Presbyterian Church of Raleigh, North Carolina was host for the second Preview.

Personnel Changes

The Rev. William R. Smith, III, pastor of Milner Memorial Presbyterian Church was appointed Chairman of the TRAV Sub-Committee to succeed the Rev. Mr. Francis M. Womack, Jr., who was called to become Executive Secretary of Greenbrier Presbytery in West Virginia.

Other Activities

The Director of TRAV has assisted several local churches with radio and television productions, has sought to establish active TRAV Sub-Committees in all the Presbyteries within the Synod, has served on the Presbyterian Appalachian Broadcast Council, and served as Chairman of the Radio–T.V. Committee of the North Carolina Council of Churches. During the year the Director established an Audio–Visual Resource Guide Viewing panel to evaluate current motion pictures that are available to local churches. He has also cooperated with the Board of World Missions in Publicizing the work of that agency. A three-day workshop on the use of mass media was held at St. Andrews Presbyterian College during the year. In cooperation with the General Assembly's TRAV, the Director put on a three-day workshop for the youth council of Orange Presbytery which was attended by about 250 young people. Also during the year the Director has spoken to many churches and Christian Education groups about the work of TRAV.

SUB–COMMITTEE ON WITNESS

Rev. Everett K. Brown, Chairman

The Sub–Committee on Witness cooperates with the Presbyteries in developing and promoting strategies for heralding the Good News of Jesus Christ and also attempts to confront the Synod with unique opportunities for witnessing in timely and relevant ways. (See Table IV: "RECORD FOR 1969")

Interpretation: The success of the church cannot be measured statistically. However, we are responsible for witnessing, our concern should be one of faithfulness to duty and a willingness to leave in the hands of God the way and extent to which He uses our witness to increase or decrease the membership of the church. Statistics can give us cause for gratification. They can also disturb our complacency and stimulate us to be more zealous and enthusiastic in our efforts to obey the mandate of Jesus to be witnesses of Him.

Sharing Witnessing Ideas: Today there seems to be little value in Synod-wide or Presbytery-wide Witness programs or strategies. Each Church Session must exploit the opportunities and the means of Witnessing which are open to it. Witness is a facet of the day-by-day, week-by-week work of the Church. Programs and strategies must be developed by Church Sessions which take into account local needs, concerns and opportunities. There should not be a reluctance to attempt new ways of witnessing, nor should the old, tried and proven ways be disparaged and avoided.

The Synod's Church Extension Sub–Committee can best serve as an instrument for sharing and exchanging ideas on ways and techniques of witness which have produced gratifying results. There can also be a value in sharing those witness experiences which did not fulfill the anticipated hopes and expectations.

Therefore, we request that Church Sessions send to the Synod office a description of their witness program with an evaluation of its effectiveness in terms of the results desired. The Sub–Committee on Witness will develop ways of sharing significant and promising ideas with the Church Sessions of the Synod.

Recommendations:

1. That the Synod express its gratitude to the Reverend Francis M. Womack for his faithful service as Chairman of the TRAV sub committee:
2. That the Synod express its gratitude to the men who have given of their time and talent for the "Sunday School of the Air" and "Encounter".
3. That the budget of the Church Extension Committee for 1971, amounting to $60,686 be approved.
4. That the Synod express its deep appreciation to Dr. E. D. Witherspoon for his diligent work, keen interest and wisdom as Chairman of the Church Extension Committee of the Synod of North Carolina.

D. Report of the Executive Committee on Educational Institutions

Dr. William M. Roberts, Chairman

The most significant matter to be reported on to Synod is the "Report of the Ad Hoc Committee to Study the Educational Institutions of Synod". This report is being presented separately, but as a part of the Report on Educational Institutions.

The past year in Higher Education in the Synod of North Carolina has been one of self-study and appraisal of the higher education program of Synod. This has been true not only in reference to Synod's Committee but in reference to the educational institutions supported by Synod.

The Ad Hoc Committee has held several meetings since Synod last convened. All four presidents of Synod's institutions met with the Committee November 20-21, 1969. The Committee addressed itself to the following items:

(1) The relationship of educational institutions to the Church.

(2) Fiscal matters, including division of income and a capital gifts campaign.

(3) Inter-relationships of institutions.

(4) Re-assessment of charters on institutions.

(5) Possible effects of restructuring of synods.

The Committee further discussed with the Presidents, (1) The meaning of a Christian college and (2) The definition of church-related institutions.

The Committee approved of employing a retired educator in the academic field "to review the charters (of the institutions) and to undertake other chores in preparing a report" to this Committee.

The four Presidents presented to the Ad Hoc Committee a paper containing the following recommendations:

(1) Endorsement of promotion and support of the Synod Foundation.

(2) Equalization as soon as possible of the distribution of the annual benevolent monies of the Synod to the three colleges . . . (recognizing that) the seminary has a unique claim upon Synod's support.

(3) Approval of "the principle of joint campaigns" and the recommendation of "a joint capital funds campaign in the Synod of North Carolina preferably to be launched in 1972, for our four institutions, with goals and allocations to be worked out mutually by the Synod's Committee, fund-raising counsel, and our institutions.

Subsequent to the foregoing meeting, Dr. John O. Reynolds, former professor of mathematics and Dean of the Graduate School of East Carolina University, Greenville, was employed as "Research Coordinator", to engage in the specific studies mentioned above, during a period of three months, to wit, January, February, and March, 1970.

Dr. Reynolds mastered the available data in hand, visited the several institutions involved, conferring with the presidents, other administrative officers, faculty, and in some instances with students. In addition, he examined the charters of the several institutions. Later he reported to the Ad Hoc Committee, with whom he had been in constant touch through its Chairman and the Secretary. On March 16-17 Dr. John B. Evans, Secretary of the Division of Higher Education, Board of Christian Education, Richmond, Virginia, convened with the Committee and Dr. Reynolds, and with their advice and consent prepared a draft, embodying the ideas and conclusions reached in the paper which has been presented to the full Committee under the title of "Report of Ad Hoc Committee on Higher Education Study".

Your Executive Committee convened on April 1, 1970 with fourteen members of the Committee present and with three of the four presidents of institutions, present. Dr. Frontis Johnston sat in for Dr. Samuel R. Spencer, Jr.

The Ad Hoc Committee Study Report presented to the Committee was fully examined, following which, Dr. Pelham Wilder, a member of the Ad Hoc Committee, was requested to rewrite the document, "taking advantage of the conversation in this meeting", after which the report was circularized as revised, and approved by the Committee by correspondence, for presentation to Synod.

Financial

The total income for Educational Institutions for 1969 was $448,638 as compared with $441,374 the year before. This was an increase over 1968 of $7,264; however, this represented only 93.2% of the budget askings. The Educational Institutions item in the Synod's Benevolent Budget last year was 45.89%. This year it is 46.10%.

The average increase of giving by Synod to its educational institutions for the past three years is 3.73%.

The approximately 154,000 Presbyterians of Synod gave last year $447,546, or a per capita gift to Higher Education of $2.91. The per capita gift of the three colleges supported by Synod was $2.26 and to Union Theological Seminary $.63. The per capita giving last year for all four institutions was $2.81 and in 1967 $2.95.

The Christian Higher Education Campaign Account, the 1956 Campaign, shows total income through December 31, 1969, of $1,617;197. Of this amount $2,470 was received in 1969. Only one pledge has not been paid in full or cancelled, and that will be completed this year. Of the total income, $1,253,303.86 was distributed to St. Andrews Presbyterian College; $1,200 to Peace College; $195 to the Lucy Steele Memorial Fund; and $186,250.95 to Campus Christian Life.

As of December 31, 1969 Reserve Funds showed a balance of $42,363.80. In this account appears the W. Z. Stultz Reserve Fund, which was an original bequest of $24,000 (1955). One-half of the value of this fund belongs to Executive Committee of Campus Christian Life since, when the fund was established, Campus Christian Life and Educational Institutions were respectively sub-committees of an Executive Committee on Higher Education.

Miscellaneous

Going to College Handbook: Last year we distributed approximately 450 copies of the "Going to College Handbook", published by the Presbyterian Outlook to high schools in the state of North Carolina.

Inauguration: Dr. Donald J. Hart was inaugurated as the second president of St. Andrews Presbyterian College, on April 24.

Campaign: It is rather significant that the four presidents of Synod's educational institutions unanimously recommended to your committee that a joint capital funds campaign be inaugurated by Synod, preferably to be launched in 1972 for Synod's four educational institutions.

Committee Personnel: During the year the Committee lost the Rev. Cortez Cooper, Class of 1970, and the Rev. Albert N. Wells, Class of 1971, by removal from the Synod. The Moderator of Synod appointed in their places, respectively, Mr. Ralph S. Robinson, Jr., of Gastonia and Mr. Charles W. Mauze of Lexington. Regretfully, Mr. Mauze had to resign from the Committee before he was able to attend a meeting on account of illness.

Recommendations:

1. That Synod take note of the fact that the Higher Education Campaign of 1956 will be completed with the final payment in 1970 of one church; and that Synod hereby expresses appreciation to the churches of the Synod of North Carolina which participated in and supported the campaign of 1956; furthermore, that Synod's appreciation also be expressed to all individuals who and corporations which contributed to the campaign of 1956.
2. That Synod enthusiastically endorse the joint capital funds campaign in the Synod of North Carolina, preferably to be launched in 1972, for her four educational institutions (Queens, Davidson, St. Andrews, and Union Theological Seminary), with goals and allocations to be worked out mutually by the Synod's Committee, fund-raising counsel, and our institutions.
3. That Synod receive for full consideration at this meeting the report of "The Ad Hoc Committee to Study Higher Education in the Synod of North Carolina"; and appropriately implement the report.
4. That Synod approve of the Budget for Educational Institutions for 1971 in the total amount of $527,498, as it appears on page

SENIOR COLLEGES

DAVIDSON COLLEGE, Davidson, North Carolina – Samuel R. Spencer, Jr., President. The college is owned and controlled by the Trustees of Davidson College who are elected by Presbyteries in the Synod of North Carolina, Suwanee and Everglades Presbyteries in Florida and by Asheville Presbytery in Appalachian Synod, and by the Alumni Association. Founded in 1837; 1,000 men.

Academic standing: Davidson is fully accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. The Davidson chapter of Phi Beta Kappa was one of the first in North Carolina. It is a member of the Association of American Colleges, the Southern University Conference, the National Conference of Church-Related Colleges, and the Presbyterian Educational Association of the South.

Academic Program: A new curriculum and new calendar became a part of Davidson College in 1968, bringing about the greatest changes in the college program in nearly 40 years. While the basic elements of the three-term year and the 32-course requirement for graduation were quickly embraced, other facets proposed and adopted by the faculty are still being made a part of the total educational program.

Davidson College continues to maintain a fine liberal arts program, preparing young men for careers of dedicated service to mankind and to the church. Increasingly its graduates seek lifetimes of service in ever broadening fields of concern for man.

The new educational approach at Davidson places greater responsibility upon each student for his own education, and with the advent of the Honors College in 1970, some students will be given almost complete freedom from the usual academic requirements to pursue their education under faculty guidance but without required class attendance or other usual aspects of academic life.

The development of an Asian Studies program is another aspect of the new curricular thrust, one which requires of the faculty a large measure of effort in building insights and expertise in new areas of the world and in cross-fertilizing the various disciplines.

Finance and Campus Planning: Davidson College has completed the first phase of its major fund raising effort for the new E. H. Little Library, having met the original challenge of Mr. Little. However, changes in curriculum have dictated new demands upon the library plans, turning it into a versatile Learning Resources Center for which additional funds will be necessary.

During the past year and a half two detailed studies of various aspects of the college have been made. One major study was instigated by President Samuel R. Spencer, Jr., under five commissions made up of faculty, students and alumni, charged with a careful investigation of various areas and reporting back to the president.

These studies were, in turn, made a part of the complete college study by the Academy for Educational Development, which included all phases of the college. During the following year, much of this material is being carefully studied by Trustees, the administrative staff and faculty as guidelines for future developments of the college are established.

On June 30, 1969, Davidson College had total assets of $32,059,649.02. During the preceding year it operated on a budget of $4,214,247.35, ending with a balance of $67,117.71.

QUEENS COLLEGE, Charlotte, North Carolina – Dr. John E. Smylie, President. The college is supported by the Synod of North Carolina which elects 10 members to its Board of Trustees. It also is supported by the Synod of South Carolina which elects eight members to its Board of Trustees. A liberal arts college for women located in the Myers Park residential area, it has granted degrees since 1857. It currently offers bachelor or arts and bachelor of music degrees.

The 1969–70 academic year at Queens College has been one of consolidation and improvement in all areas, especially the educational program.

Student Body: In May 1969, the college graduated 167 bachelors of art and five bachelors of music, the largest graduating class in Queens history.

In August 1969, Queens enrolled 705 students from 30 states and one foreign country. The largest delegations came from North Carolina (161,22.8%), South Carolina (105,14.9%), Georgia (96,13.6%), Virginia (84,11.9%), and Florida (75,10.6%). See Exhibits I and II.

Scholarships and financial aid totaling $160,261 were awarded to 142 students, with individual amounts ranging from $100 to $1,900.

Finances: On June 30, 1969, Queens College had an endowment worth $3,342,772 (market value) and plant assets valued at $9,345,291. Its outstanding indebtedness in long-term bonds and bank notes against its plant assets totaled $3,026,500.

In October 1969, Mr. Irwin Belk, a trustee, gave the college funds to purchase 84 acres of prime land on the eastern shores of Lake Norman for future recreational use. The property is 25 miles from Queens and faces the Davidson College Lake Campus.

Queens' expenditures for current operations in 1968-69 were $2,494,778. Its 1969-70 budget totals $2,581,148 with gifts needed to balance totaling $350,000, or about $500 per student (in addition to church support and endowment income). The college's comprehensive fee for 1969-70 is $2,800 against expenses which are equivalent to $3,687 per student.

Admissions: Mr. Terry L. Edmonson came to Queens in July 1969 as Director of Admissions. He is the former associate dean of student development at Iowa Wesleyan College.

In August 1969, Mr. Paul L. Samuelson joined the staff as an admissions counselor. Under Mr. Edmonson's direction, a new recruiting program has begun, including additional travel in key areas from which Queens draws students, new graphic materials, and a series of follow-up meetings and campus weekends for students offered admission. Early results show an increase in applications and an anticipated large freshman class in August.

Revised Curriculum: In August 1969, the college implemented curriculum revisions which change the traditional approach to a liberal arts education. The new curriculum, accenting the development of the student as learner, thinker, communicator and decision-maker, has received enthusiastic reception by both faculty and students. The revision emphasizes area electives rather than general education requirements and permits each student maximum freedom to develop an individual program in close consultation with faculty advisors.

May Term: Queens College will add a new dimension to its educational program with a May Term, beginning May 18 and ending June 5. Courses in art, dramatic art, education, history, physics, political science, psychology and sociology will be offered. Students will be permitted to take one three-hour semester course during the three week period. The May Term enables students to complete additional "summer" work before regular summer sessions begin at other colleges and before summer jobs normally start. Some 90 students are expected to participate this year. Queens academic calendar, which begins in late August and ends in mid-May, facilitates a May Term program.

Student Programs: In February the Student Government Association sponsored its second annual two-day symposium on a current topic. This year's subject was "Man in Control?" and featured addresses by nuclear physicist Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, ecologist Ian McHarg, and philosopher Dr. Alan Watts. Other program participants were drawn from North and South Carolina.

This year more than 200 students are taking part in some 13 different volunteer projects in Charlotte including tutoring, Model Cities, Little Sisters and a rehabilitation hospital.

Self-Study: The college began an institutional Self-Study in the fall as required every ten years for accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. Ten faculty committees are gathering material on all phases of the college's operation under the direction of Dr. Y. L. Medlin. The study, scheduled for completion this summer, will be followed by a visit to the campus of a committee of examiners. The purpose of the Self-Study is threefold: to study the operation of the college over the last ten years, to evaluate its present status, and to make projections for the future.

Cooperative Programs: Queens has continued its membership in the Charlotte Area Educational Consortium which provides faculty and student exchange opportunities with Davidson College, Belmont Abbey College, the University of North Carolina at Charlotte, Central Piedmont Community College, Johnson C. Smith University and Sacred Heart College. The college is in its second year as a participant in the North Carolina Computer Education Program which gives Queens direct teletype access to the Triangle University Computer Center for teaching and research. The college remains active in the Piedmont University Center. Davidson College and Queens will shortly begin conversations about cooperative programs which may lead to an exchange of students.

Honors and Distinction: A Queens College senior has won honorable mention in the 1970 Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship competition. Dr. B. A. Fusaro, chairman of the Department of Mathematics, has received a Fulbright lecture grant for the 1970-71 academic year to lecture in Taiwan. Dr. B. Darrell Jackson, assistant professor of religion, has received one of two junior post-doctoral fellowships for 1970-71 given by the Society for the Humanities at Cornell University. Drs. Janice Coffey and Richard Reichard have each received grants from the Piedmont University Center for summer research projects. Drs. Lloyd Elliott and C. Frank Jacks have each been admitted to a Faculty Seminar scheduled for this summer in India under the U. S. –India Exchange Program. Assistant professor of art Thomas F. Mason is represented in two national traveling sculpture exhibitions. Four Queens faculty members hold National Science Foundation grants this year. Others have won distinction for themselves and the college through publications, travel and public service.

Development Program: During the first 17 months of operation, the new Development Office inaugurated a consolidated Annual Fund with gifts for 1968-69 totaling more than $103,000 compared with $28,000 for the preceding year. The Development Office also has begun programs with parents, including the sponsorship in October of the first all-college Parents Weekend since the early 1950's. Systematic calls are being made on foundations, corporations, and friends of the college seeking unrestricted and capital support. The college began in May 1969 a special campaign to raise $625,000 to retire bank indebtedness on the fine arts center. Pledges and gifts to date for this program total more than $413,000. Discussions are underway now with a Trustee Development Committee for a comprehensive development plan for the 1970's.

Alumnae Program: The Alumnae Association continues to emphasize alumnae activities throughout North Carolina. Alumnae meetings this year in North Carolina included Asheville (Western North Carolina Chapter), Charlotte–Mecklenburg, Concord, Fayetteville, Gastonia, Greensboro (Piedmont Chapter), Hickory, and Winston-Salem. The college again sponsored an Alumnae Council in the Fall. Alumnae Homecoming is a second major program of the Alumnae Association. A majority of the members of the Board of Directors of the Alumnae Association are from North Carolina.

The college has continued its vigorous Annual Fund activities in an effort to increase alumnae participation. The Fund involves the work of more than 500 class chairmen and class agents. In 1968-69, 1,320 alumnae gave $20,474, a 56.7% increase over 1967-68.

Personnel Changes: Mrs. Colleen Spencer joined the college staff in August 1969 as director of public information, a newly created post. Dr. Herbert E. Babb, dean of the college since 1961, will become director of operations for the North Carolina Leadership Institute in Greensboro on July 1.

Queens and the Synod of North Carolina: During this academic year, Queens enrolled 161 students from North Carolina, 22.8% of the total student body, and awarded from its own funds a total of $33,416 to 49 of those students for scholarship assistance. The college was allocated $75,000 by the 1969 Synod.

ST. ANDREWS PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE, Laurinburg, North Carolina. Dr. Donald J. Hart, President – Supported by the Synod of North Carolina, Presbyterian Church, U. S., St. Andrews opened its doors on a new campus in Laurinburg, September 17, 1961. It is a coeducational, four-year, liberal arts, senior college.

Academic Standing: Accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. It is also an institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Music and holds a membership in the North Carolina College Conference, the Association of American Colleges, the Council of Protestant Colleges and Universities, the North Carolina Foundation of Church-Related Colleges, the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, and the Piedmont University Center of North Carolina.

Curriculum: At the heart of St. Andrews' academic offerings is the interdisciplinary Christianity and Culture Program. This four-year program is required of all students and provides eight course credits in history, religion, philosophy, literature, and the humanities. It is taught by five teams of professors who make use of the lecture-preceptorial method.

Three degrees are offered at St. Andrews – bachelor of arts, bachelor of science, and bachelor of music. Majors include religion, philosophy, English, biology, chemistry, economics, mathematics, history, foreign languages, education, psychology, business administration, art and theatre, music, politics, and sociology-anthropology. A Cooperative program in medical technology has been worked out with Bowman-Grey Medical School.

Physical Plant: Eighteen buildings are used at the present time, sixteen of them new as follows: the liberal arts building, the science building, the teaching auditorium, the library, the student center, eight dormitories, music building, physical education building, and the heating plant. Urgently needed are the chapel, the administration building, residence hall, student center addition, and an infirmary.

Student Enrollment: A total of 898 persons were enrolled at St. Andrews Presbyterian College during the first term of the academic year 1969-70 – 446 men and 452 women. Some of these were on a part time basis so that the total full time equivalent enrollment was 892.

Faculty and Staff: There are 71 full time members of the St. Andrews faculty holding degrees from some 38 first-class graduate schools. Thirty people are listed in administrative positions. A faculty member at St. Andrews must have at least the Master's degree. Forty percent of the faculty now hold earned doctorates.

Financial Picture: Book value of property, $10,424,704. General and Scholarship Endowment, $1,755,022. Total operating budget, $3,644,326.

With a grant of $779,000 from the Federal Government, a new science building and teaching auditorium costing $2.2 million has just been constructed. The balance of funds for this excellent new facility will come from the $5 million St. Andrews Forward Campaign successfully completed last year.

The Forward Campaign goal of $5 million is divided as follows: $2 million for endowment and $3 million for buildings, designed to provide the program, the faculty, and the facilities to serve an enrollment of 1200 students by 1972. New buildings planned for in addition to the science facility are a chapel, administration building, learning resources center, dormitory, student center addition, and the renovation of the liberal arts building.

The Forward Campaign was the initial effort in a long-range plan adopted by the Trustees for $30 million over a twelve-year period anticipating an enrollment of 1600 students. The need for physical facilities will be cared for early in this plan, with later efforts devoted to undergirding the college with adequate endowment.

The continuing and increasing support of the Synod of North Carolina, its churches and its members is vitally needed in order that St. Andrews may truly serve the purpose envisioned by her founders.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY IN VIRGINIA: The Trustees of Union Theological Seminary in Virginia respectfully present to its controlling Synods of Appalachia, North Carolina, Virginia, and West Virginia this report concerning the 1969–1970 academic year.

The largest student body in its 158 years has attended Union Seminary this year. The 350 students have come from 28 states and 13 foreign countries. Fifty-three presbyteries of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., are represented in the student body.

Faculty and Administration: Three new members have been added to the teaching staff, and one administrator has joined us. Donald G. Dawe, Th.D., has become Professor of Theology. He was formerly on the faculty of Macalester College. Terence R. Anderson, Th.D., who came from St. Stephen's College in Canada, is now Assistant Professor of Ethics. The Rev. Bruce L. Robertson has come from the Presbyterian Church of the New Covenant, Miami, to be Director of the Church and Society Program and Associate in Field Education.

Dallas W. Wampler, a Ruling Elder in the Forest Hill Presbyterian Church of Richmond, has become Treasurer and Business Manager of the Seminary.

Richmond Theological Center: The Presbyterian School of Christian Education and the School of Theology of Virginia Union University were joined with Union Seminary in 1969 to form the Richmond Theological Center. Classes of each institution are open to students of the others. Each school maintains its own faculty, awards its own degrees, and operates on identical academic calendars and daily schedules. This cluster of three institutions across denominational and racial lines onto two adjacent campus quadrangles has received national publicity as a progressive move in theological education.

Students: The largest group of interns in the Seminary's history are spending a year off campus before returning as Seniors. Twenty-five interns are at work; fifteen in churches as assistants to ministers, seven in Church and Society Programs in Raleigh, Richmond, and Washington, two are exchange students in Bern, Switzerland, and Montpellier, France, and one is a missionary intern in Ghana, West Africa. Therefore, during the current year only, the Senior Class numbers only thirty-three.

Three Seniors have been elected to receive Fellowships for further graduate study: Stephen L. Miller of Huntington, West Virginia, a graduate of Marshall University; Chester J. Minarcik, Jr., of Bound Brook, N. J., a graduate of Rutgers University; and Leslie C. Squires of Attica, Ohio, a graduate of Taylor University.

Officers of the Student Body are R. Banks Hudson, III, of Lexington, Kentucky, a graduate of the U. S. Military Academy (President); Arthur Ross, III, of Asheboro, North Carolina, a graduate of Davidson College (Vice–President); G. Preston Nowlin, Jr., of Charlotte, North Carolina, a graduate of Davidson (Secretary); and Roger W. Jackle of Raleigh, North Carolina, a graduate of Lowell Technological Institute (Treasurer).

New Trustees: Eight new Trustees have been added by our constituent synods to the Board of the Seminary, filling vacancies created by death and/or retirement: F. Gwyn Harper, an attorney and Ruling Elder of the First Church in Hickory, North Carolina; Dr. Robert D. Phillips, a practising psychiatrist of Durham, North Carolina; Dr. Paul D. Stewart, Professor of Political Science, Marshall University, Huntington, West Virginia; Walter Kennedy, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Newport News, Virginia; W. Robert Martin, Jr., associate director, The Fund for Theological Education, Princeton, New Jersey; Herbert Meza, pastor, Church of the Pilgrims, Washington, D. C.; Edward A. White, Coordinator of Urban Mission Work for the Presbyteries of Potomac and Washington City; and Preston M. Yancy, Jr., professor, Virginia Union University, Richmond.

Other Services to the Church: Educating men and women for ordained ministry in pastoral service is Union Seminary's basic mission. In addition to this primary function, Union contributes substantially to the life and work of the church through many other activities. During the past year these have been some of the more notable events: seventeen seminars for alumni and others held in presbyteries of our four synods; fifty-four weekend visits to churches by five student evangelistic teams; a two-week summer school of theology attended by more than eighty ministers from thirteen denominations; "Church in Context" weekends on campus from eighteen churches' pastors and three or more laymen; nearly two hundred college students and graduates on campus for a "Weekend for Theological Inquiry"; more than two hundred pastors and laymen in fourteen Continuing Education Seminars on campus through the year; and several hundred engagements by members of our faculty as teachers and preachers in churches throughout the denomination and beyond.

Buildings: Construction of a classroom building as projected in the Union Seminary Advance has been deferred, and more efficient use of space in present buildings has been planned. Expansion of the Library by the addition of two stack levels and study carrel increases has been contracted, and the work is expected to be complete by December 1970.

Fiscal Affairs: An increase in enrollment annually for the past three years has meant larger expenditures for operations, yet gifts and grants have not kept pace with the higher costs. Five years ago our receipts from gifts and grants amounted to 29% of our operating budget. In the present year these receipts represent 18% of our income. Other sources of income have remained relatively constant – return on endowment and trust funds, student fees, auxiliary enterprises, and scholarship aid to students.

This higher enrollment coupled with inflationary rises in costs have come when the benevolences from synods have not kept up with our expenses and student body growth; so that we have incurred a deficit which we are seeking to eliminate by all appropriate means.

Support from synods for four fiscal years ending May 31 was as follows:

	1969	1968 (14 months)	1967	1966
Appalachia	$ 13,221.76	$ 15,875.05	$ 13,208.93	$ 16,548.12
North Carolina	93,318.45	94,209.88	93,260.50	93,450.78

West Virginia	16,250.82	18,532.52	16,204.36	16,346.07
	$171,041.37	$185,091.62	$164,739.43	$164,102.44

The Future: With a growing student body representing all the diversities found in the contemporary churches, with an enlarged faculty steadily engaged in improving its teaching competence, with physical facilities that are being enhanced systematically to make them more functional, and with a program of teaching and learning that seeks ever fuller depth and breadth, Union Seminary is moving into the future with confidence under God that its needed support both spiritual and material will be forthcoming as the church recognizes and responds to its commitment in educating for ministry.

Thornton H. Brooks, Chairman
Board of Trustees

INFORMATION

The General Secretary endeavors to make his office a channel for distributing information about the institutions for which Synod has a responsibility. He is available for presenting the cause of Christian Education to Presbyteries, Presbyterials, local Churches, and Men's and Women's organizations.

Several schools have motion picture films which they make available to interested groups.

[1]The General Assembly figure is larger than the Synod for the reason that the former includes budgeted and non-budgeted giving, whereas the Synod figure is only for funds which passed through the books of the Treasurer of Synod. Gifts made directly to institutions, including campaign gifts, are not reflected in the Synod column.

[2]The General Assembly statistics have been reported differently since 1955, and the information on total gifts to Higher Education is not available.

6. BEQUESTS AND MEMORIALS

According to Webster, a memorial is anything intended to "preserve the memory" of a person or event. Granite preserves a name; influence preserves a memory. A memorial dedicated to the service of Christian Education is truly an everlasting memorial since it lives on generation after generation. This type of memorial is not only possible to people of large wealth but to the average man. Buildings and gifts for endowment are appropriate for people of means. Gifts of equipment for gymnasiums, offices, and music departments; audio-visual materials, furniture, and outdoor improvements are within the reach of average people. Information on specific needs will be furnished to interested persons.

FORM OF GENERAL BEQUEST

"I give, devise, and bequeath to (.....), an institution located and operating at....., and its successors, by whatever name it may be known, the following described property, to wit: (here described the amount of money or nature of property given)."*

FORM OF BEQUEST FOR INDICATED PURPOSE

10. REPORT OF AD HOC COMMITTEE ON HIGHER EDUCATION STUDY

I. Unique Role of Independent Church-Related Higher Education

The contribution of the independent school to education in America is inestimable. Because they are free of political pressures and trends, independent institutions have been able to be fearless and innovative in the planning of curricula, in the implementation of new programs, and in the creation of new and meaningful living-learning experiences.

Historically, from the founding of Harvard College in 1636, the church-related institution has clearly been the major contributor to the success of higher education in this country. A distinctive mark of a church-related college is that it is an academic community in which there is institutional commitment to the Christian faith, boldly expressed in the basic document establishing the on-going purpose of the institution and in the personal commitment to this purpose of the persons who determine its policy and programs. Further, it is an academic community whose educational climate is such that the Christian faith is respected intellectually and offered as a live and honored option. Also, the church-related college is an academic community where such derivatives of the Christian faith as a concern for persons and for society inform the fuller community of the world as mandates rather than as mere options.

Finally, the twin roles of evangelization and equipping its own people for their ministry in the world should always be retained as purposes in institutions of higher learning which are related to the Church. It is in this context that the seminary is the primary example of higher education, if not the one essential institution, for the Presbyterian Church.

North Carolina Presbyterians have played a special support role in the life of Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Virginia. Union Seminary, in fact, antedates the Synod of North Carolina. Theological education has been the historical reason for the Presbyterian Church's entering the field of higher education, and the Seminary must maintain not only an historic, but also a contemporary and viable relationship with its constituency and with our own and other institutions of higher learning because the students trained in these institutions are our students.

II. Synod's Past Concern for Higher Education and its Institutions

Long committed to higher education in its many and diverse manifestations, the Synod of North Carolina reaffirms that the enterprise in its public, private, and church-related forms is worthy of the full and active support of churchmen, to the end that our society may be enriched by those persons and institutions committed to the search for truth, to teaching and learning, to the pushing back of the frontiers of knowledge and wisdom, to the discovery of new answers to the pressing problems of every age, and to the quest for a richer and more meaningful life for the citizenry.

Churchmen, as citizens, as well as the church as a major institution in our society, should be actively engaged in supporting the continuing development of higher education and in the maintaining and strengthening of its freedom as a means by which the life of mankind may be enriched.

Reformed Tradition

For Presbyterians, this reaffirmation has a strong theological basis. At its best, our Reformed tradition has always insisted that every person should be given the opportunity to become as profitable a member of society as he is capable. Man is meant to glorify and love the Lord God with his mind, as well as with his heart, strength, and soul.

The church is called to be servant in the world in the name and spirit and power of Jesus Christ. The support of higher education is one means by which this servant role may be exercised.

Synod's Colleges

A major focus of the engagement of North Carolina Presbyterians with higher education has been a relationship with three senior colleges: Davidson College, Queens College, and St. Andrews Presbyterian College.

Services Rendered

Practically every local church in our Synod has benefited from the leadership of competent ministers and dedicated lay persons educated in these colleges. Scattered across our state and across the nation are hundreds of graduates of these college who hold roles of leadership in every walk of life. These institutions continue to offer many ancillary and valuable services: they host meetings of church courts and conferences; they make available able resource persons to church and community committees and task forces; they offer new findings and responsible criticism to the church and society, and, most importantly, perhaps, they teach the youth of our nation in both secular and church-related colleges and universities.

Causes For Satisfaction

Presbyterians can be grateful for the fact that these three colleges enjoy at least regional acclaim in educational circles as institutions offering quality and innovative educational experience and that some programs and offerings have received national recognition.

We can also celebrate the excellent stewardship trustees, administrators, and faculty have exercised over the years with the gifts from churches, loyal churchmen, and other benefactors.

When we view the remarkable accomplishments in these colleges, there is a sense in which we may say that these seed, sown and nourished in large measure by the church and the faithful, have grown to maturity. Though, indeed, children of the church in an historical sense, they are now full members of the family, to be viewed and referred to proudly as adults.

III. Synod's Changing Role in Relation To Its Institutions

The Synod of North Carolina desires to continue a live, vital relationship with all three colleges. We affirm that our relationship with them offers the church an opportunity to embody the gospel in an important human service. Because Jesus Christ was a teacher and his teaching is addressed to the minds of men, education has always been one of the most natural forms for this Christian embodiment.

Change and Progress

Further, we affirm that the church needs to have the sort of direct confrontation with the academic world and with the frontiers of learning which these relationships afford. The church needs to live in the ferment of new ideas. It needs to have its own life examined regularly in the light of new knowledge and changing patterns of thought. While new knowledge is hardly the exclusive domain of colleges related to the church, it is under these circumstances that the church cannot ignore it.

Ownership and Control

Historically, our relationship with these colleges has had a stance which embodied varying degrees of the notion of church ownership and control. It should be pointed out that though our Synod and its presbyteries have had the capacity to flex ecclesiatical muscle in the life of these institutions by electing trustees who would be of a particular viewpoint, the Synod and its presbyteries have taken pains to find capable persons when asked to nominate and elect trustees, and have commissioned these persons to exercise their responsibilities as trustees in light of their personal understanding of what appears to be in the best interest of the college.

Partnership Preeminent

A successful partnership is dependent upon the competence, faith, trust, and common commitment of the participants to the purposes of the joint venture. The severing of formal, legal ties between the church and a college may increase the possibility of a live, meaningful relationship, and the probability of a college exhibiting serious commitment to the insights and perspectives of Christian faith for its educational program and its campus life.

Several colleges in our Presbyterian family have demonstrated this fact. For example, Agnes Scott College has enjoyed for years a meaningful relationship with the Presbyterian Church without legal ties. More recently, Austin College has been operating with a covenant model for church relationship, without legal ties, while internalizing serious Christian commitment in the college program, and establishing a more meaningful relationship with its synod.

Church and State Involvement

Recent federal and state court rulings make plain the fact that the capacity for ecclesiastical dominance and control of higher education institutions is sufficient grounds on which to exclude the institution from being able to participate in governmental support programs established to assist colleges which serve the public good. All these colleges are rightly in the business of serving the public good, and we believe that changes in patterns of church participation in the governance of them can be effected which will assure that they may successfully meet legal tests existing in cases already judicated in the civil court.

Governance Key to Progress

We convet a live and vital relationship with Davidson, Queens, and St. Andrews. We believe that the issue of the patterns of governance needs to be clarified with respect to whether the ultimate governance should reside in the colleges or in the Church. It is our conviction that the resolution of this might be the means for the colleges to expand the range and number of those who will become supporters of the enterprise.

While pledging our continuing support of these institutions, we covet and seek such new support as will make it possible for them to continue their development as stong non-public institutions, determined to continue to contribute to the setting of standards of what undergraduate education at its best may be. The Church can and should assist this effort in a relationship as servant and not as proprietor, without denying any of the distinctive features of church relationship.

The Synod desires to explore with each college an appropriate means by which there may be an ongoing conversation, exchange, and criticism between church and college.

IV. Synod's Invitation To Its Institutions To Partnership

As a consequence of the above, the Synod desires that the Board of Trustees of each of these colleges takes the initiative which the Synod hopes will result in an affirmation of the college's intent for a continuing, live, vital relationship with the Church. The Synod would find it helpful for each college to spell out:

1. A clear delineation of the educational mission to which the college is committed.
2. Its commitment to serious engagement with the Judeo-Christian tradition as this tradition may inform both the educational program and the institutional life in all of its aspects.
3. A statement which establishes with clarity the focal point of governance.
4. A means through which there may be ongoing conversation, exchange, and criticism between church and college.
5. Ways of expanding mutual relationships of trust between the institutions and the judicatories which appoint the trustees.

COMMITTEE:

J. Paul Reynolds

E. Report of the Executive Committee on Homes

The Rev. J. V. C. Summerell, Chairman

This committee seeks to serve Synod by being sensitive to the needs of people, especially children and the elderly, and guiding Synod responsibly in an ever changing ministry to these people in a changing society. The committee composition is governed by Standing Rule 23 which sets the membership at 16, including the chairman-at-large, the chairmen of the corresponding committees in the several presbyteries, and six members at-large of three classes of two members each.

The committee functions as directed by Synod to include cooperation "with the Official Board and Directors of the several Homes of the Synod; to promote the program and work of these institutions within the bounds of Synod; to receive the reports of these institutions, studying all of the problems involved in their work; and to report upon them to Synod making necessary recommendations."

The membership of the Committee may be found on page 13 of the 1969 Minutes of Synod. The following changes should be noted: (C) Villard Blevins for the Rev. Norman M. MacDowell, resigned; (KM) the Rev. Harold V. Wright, successor to the Rev. Alan B. Wells; and (M) Rev. J. E. Wayland, successor to Rev. Fred J. Harmon.

Synod instructed the Committee to "make a study of the program of work of the Homes under Synod control, using the resources of the Board of National Ministries to assist in the program study." The approach by the Committee in keeping with these instructions as reported to Synod last year has been unsuccessful due to circumstances beyond our control. This has led us to undertake a study on our own and to do this we have enlisted the services of Dr. Alan Keith-Lucas, of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. His study is now complete and his report has been made. The Committee is considering the report with recommendations. We trust that this study will be of great benefit to Synod in the work of our Homes in the years ahead. Oral reference to this study will be made at the meeting of Synod since there was insufficient time for this to be made a part of our written report.

The Committee officially requested the Chairmen of the Board of Barium Springs and the Board of the Presbyterian Home to invite the Chairman of the Executive Committee on Homes to attend meetings of the Executive Committees of the respective Boards. This request was graciously met and the chairman and vice-chairman of this Committee have met several times with the Executive Directors, the Executive Committees, and the Trustees of the Homes.

The Committee met in Synod's Office at 10:00 a.m. on May 7, 1970 with twelve members present. Also meeting with the Committee were Dr. Nat K. Reiney, R. A. Short, and Dr. R. H. Stone. The Chairman presented a progress report on the study being made by Dr. Alan Keith-Lucas. A member of this Committee, Mr. Silas Vaughn, has assisted in the financial aspects of the study.

The Committee heard representatives of the three Homes of Synod: Dr. Reiney, Mr. Short, and Dr. Stone. (These reports appear as a part of this report on the following pages.) We would call to your attention that according to the Reports the Children's Home operated again at a deficit during its last fiscal year and that operating costs of the Home increase at about 10% per year. The deficit was $17,171.01, slightly larger than the deficit for the previous year. The Presbyterian Home at High Point ended its last fiscal year with an excess of income over expenditures of $7,499.06 before depreciation, compared with a deficit of $4,902.15 the previous year.

Dr. Stone reported that the William Black Home at Montreat continues to operate in the black.

Finances

The 1969 Budget Askings of Synod for Barium Springs Children's Home and the Presbyterian Home at High Point and the actual Contributions were as follows:

	Budget Asked	Amount Given
Children's Home	$ 160,000	$ 149,215
Presbyterian Home	104,800	97,818
	$ 264,800	$ 247,033

Synod gave in 1969 to all Budgeted Benevolent Causes 93.2%. For 1970 Presbyteries have accepted only 91.3% for 1970, which means that of the $278,000 asked of the Churches for Homes, not more than $253,818 may be expected since Presbyteries have a habit of paying about 2% less than they accept, which would be, not 93.2% but 89.3%.

The Children's Home asked for $185,000 support from Synod in 1971; the Presbyterian Home, $163,375; a total of $348,375. The William Black Home is self-sustaining. The Council is recommending for approval by Synod for 1971, $289,103.

Recommendations:

1. That Synod express appreciation to the Boards of Trustees of the several Homes and the Executive Directors and staffs for their continued dedication and service.
2. That Synod authorize a campaign for funds for the Homes of Synod, to be conducted during the five year period 1970-1975, details to be worked out by this Committee, fund-raising counsel, and the institutions involved.
3. That pending the adoption of this report, Synod hear representatives of the Homes.

1. Study of the Program and Operations of the Homes Under the Control of the Synod of North Carolina and Their Relationship to Social Service Needs in the Synod

By Alan Keith-Lucas

Summary and Conclusions

1. Both of Synod's Homes are fulfilling an important need.
2. Both are doing so far above the level of mere custodial care. They are, in fact, leading examples of Homes of their type.
3. Synod's support in both cases is what makes the difference between custodial care and a witnessing, quality service.
4. The future role of the church in social service is likely to center around counselling and personal service as government confines itself more and more to community problems and financial support.
5. Needs in the State are seen to be counselling services, particularly for families and youth, recreation, community understanding, and local services for the elderly.
6. Neither Home is more than marginally equipped financially for the task it should be undertaking. The statement that Barium is "well-off" and Presbyterian Home "poor" cannot be supported.
7. Local churches are turning more and more to local community service, with no clear pattern of type of service developing, although day care (usually integrated) is predominant. Some churches are however researching community needs.
8. There is some evidence of an increasing need for technical consultation to local churches on counselling, program and study programs.
9. Barium Springs has already officially recognized this need and begun to supply it; Presbyterian Home, or at least its Director, sees its value.
10. There is a need for more local facilities for the elderly, but with increased federal and state care and medical problems running expenses probably could be self-supporting. Local communities should provide capital funds. A centralized administration would seem advisable.
11. Barium will need Synod support to increase church and community service, but should increase resident support through partial payment-for-care grants.
12. Both Homes, but particularly Barium, need to become more visible to the local congregations, and to have their roles better understood.

2. BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

George W. Williams, Jr., President Board of Regents

April, 1970

Following the meeting of Synod 1970, I begin my sixth and last year of two terms of service on the Board of Regents. These years have been most interesting and exciting because of my opportunity to work and serve with others of our Church in one of the great ministries we all love and support. I cherish such an opportunity for all ruling and teaching elders.

During my years I have been privileged to see this Agency move from what was primarily a program of custodial care of children to one of multiple services to children and families. In making the changes which have been made, I want to assure the church that the planning committee of the Board and the total Board of Regents have sought the best advice available. While we think we have moved decisively, we have also been careful to move cautiously and always with the best interest of the needs of children and families uppermost in our minds.

Some of the criteria for today and the future that we are using to guide the development of the program are worth your consideration also. They are:

1. The need for services will increase in our society.
2. Children coming into care will be more damaged, more disturbed.
3. There will be greater emphasis on working with families.
4. Church Homes will become more professional.
5. Homes will develop a large range of auxiliary programs centered around their group-care campus, and will use both them and it in new and more flexible ways.
6. With the trend toward more congregational missions, there will be great opportunity to help the local church and its community to develop much needed services to children and families where they are.
7. There will be greater cooperation between church and government.
8. There will be greater participation both of youngsters and their families.
9. Church Homes will become more Christian rather than less so, but in a different way.
10. There will be need to establish more demonstration projects both in the area of caring for children and in the prevention of family breakdown.

Currently the one big project is the establishment of a FAMILY AND CHILD DEVELOPMENT and CHRISTIAN EDUCATION CENTER. Maybe this just sounds like a building to you. It is a building, but far more. The program, now in advanced planning stage, envisions many new concepts in both helping the local church provide services to children and families during week-days and also to up-date many teaching methods of the Church School. It will become, we think, a central demonstration for these all important areas of child and family nurture. Properly applied in local communities it could help in preventing family breakdown.

Barium Springs is already being called on by a goodly number of local churches to help them with action oriented programs. To these we are now providing consultation services by trained and skilled personnel from the Home's staff. We are ready and willing to extend this service to any and all churches wishing to use it. We even see the possibility of establishing a Division of Community Services geared toward serving children and families through the local church.

Along with the consultation services we now have operating several demonstration projects where we can actually show how a program would operate. One of these, in particular, is directed to the young family with preschool children. Through this avenue we and the local church working together can help many children not now receiving sufficient aid in their growth and development.

In the estimation of many leaders of today in child care services, this area of the preschool child offers opportunity for more real achievement than any other.

Most of our church people know that Barium Springs has cared for and really given life to thousands of boys and girls over the years. But, not too many realize that in only one year this program now serves in excess of a thousand children and members of their families. This should say to all of us that there is yet much need. It should be further emphasized that with all the new services, none of the on-going program is being neglected. In fact it continues each year to be improved and refined.

We are grateful for the generous financial support of the church. The cuts in our budget for the years 1968 and 1969 did cause us to operate with a deficit. The increase of $8000 for the year 1970 will help. We do need to remind you of a fact that all are familiar with and this is that costs are continuing to increase, ours at about 10% per year. With the growing need and the tremendous opportunity presented by this Christian ministry to children and families, we urge all of you to further examine this program and consider our financial obligation to such a ministry.

ANNUAL REPORT

The Board of Trustees respectfully reports the major activities of the Home for the past year.

The Board met for two regular sessions and the Executive Committee met nine times for the transaction of business during 1969.

There were 20 new admissions, three withdrawals and 25 deaths and a total of 235 served during 1969.

The books were audited by A. M. Pullen and Company (Certified Public Accountants), Greensboro, N. C., and the audit shows capital assets of $2,172,070.00 after recognizing reduction of fixed assets for $850,607.00 of accumulated depreciation as of December 31, 1969. This report shows a a gain in capital assets of $35,654.00 for the year.

The audit also shows:

(1) Capital fund contributions of $118,187.00 which included apartment and cottage gifts of $27,000.00

(2) Operating fund income was $7,499.00 more than expenses before depreciation. The operating fund expenditures included $42,105.00 for financial expenses (debt service). Contributions and gifts to operation were $33,144.00 more than the previous year.

Operating income from residents and/or patients was increased by $35,971.00 over the previous year. The monthly charge was increased by $25.00 to $240.00 on July 1, 1969, and 133 or 62% of the residents were able to pay this rate. The actual cost was $314.32 including depreciation. On January 1, 1970 the rate was increased to $250.00 per month. It is quite likely that the rate will have to be increased before the end of 1970 because of spiraling cost. To meet the Federal minimum wage requirements, salaries and wages increased 15% in 1969.

An addition to the main dining room was completed in early December and relieves the crowded condition which had prevailed. This addition was made possible through the generosity of friends and is completely paid for.

May we take this opportunity to express our appreciation and deep gratitude to those wonderful friends who have responded to the Home's need during this past year. We also are most grateful to Synod for its increasing support of the Home. This ministry of our Church needs your prayers, your help in increasing the support for operation, and an ever-increasing interest and concern for those who make The Presbyterian Home, Inc. their home.

4. THE WILLIAM BLACK HOME, INCORPORATED

R. H. Stone, President

The Board of Trustees of the William Black Home at Montreat is glad to report that the operation of the Home during the 1969 season was a success in all its phases: financial, acceptability of food and dining room service, and the helpful spiritual atmosphere that was in evidence.

Under the splendid management of Mrs. W. C. Copeland and her daughter, Miss Nancy Copeland, of Davidson, the treasurer of the Board received from the summer operation $2,886.07.

Mrs. Vernon Moore Lewis, of Nashville, Tennessee, spent ten days as a guest last summer. In her travels she has been from Maine to California, and in Europe she has been a guest in hotels in London, Paris, Florence and other cities. In appreciation of the Home and its service she wrote: "Never anywhere have I been more comfortable than in the William Black Home in Montreat . . . above all else is the Christ-like spirit of love and concern for every guest who registers there. I've tried to think of some one thing that would improve the William Black Home. As I review the splendid beds; the beautiful view from the porch; the most delicious food one ever tasted, it seems just about perfect. The only possible thing might be a wall-to-wall carpet".

Mrs. Lewis sent a check for $50.00, to which was added a sizable amount from our savings and the carpet has been installed in the halls, lobby, office, and a covering for the steps of the two stairways.

In spite of inflation and the higher cost of food and services the cost of Board and Lodging has not increased for Presbyterians of the Synod of North Carolina. It remains $35.00 per week. The reservations for the 1970 season have been coming to our reservationist since early January. The indications are that the coming season – June 5 – late August – will be a sell-out for several of the conferences.

The Board has directed that a number of improvements be made before the opening.

V. REPORTS OF PERMANENT COMMITTEES

A. Report of The Committee on Annuities and Relief

Reverend M. Bland Dudley, Chairman

Your Synod Committee has held two stated meetings at the Synod's Office within the past twelve months. Each Presbytery has been represented in the preparation of the reports. This Committee has as its major task the distribution of the funds for Aged Ministers of the Synod from the Kate B. Reynolds Trust.

The total distribution since the last meeting of Synod was as follows:

September 1969 - - - - - - - - - -	$ 50,335.64
March 1970 - - - - - - - - - - - -	41,916.77

In the September distribution, there were 105 annuitants who shared in the Fund. In March 110 participated. The average amount received from both distributions was $852.02.

Recommendations:

1. That Churches be encouraged to seek gifts, legacies, and trusts from interested individuals to supplement the existing trusts for Retired Ministers throughout the Synod.
2. That Synod look again at the problem of finding ways of providing some additional funds to aid widows of ministers of the Synod.
3. That synod recognize with gratitude the ministers of the Synod who have retired since the last meeting of the Synod. They are: D. A. McRight (C); Harry Bryan (M); Joseph Garrison (O); Neil McGeachy (C); Henry L. Willis (W); E. D. Witherspoon (KM); T. A. Guiton (O); W. C. Cooper (O); Thomas H. Spence (C); F. Crossley Morgan (C); Joseph Kovach (KM);

B. Report of Committee on Attendance

Reverend Thomas M. Davis, Chairman

Your Committee rejoices in the record attendance of ministers and elders at this meeting of Synod. Enrollment indicates an attendance of 384 ministers and 333 ruling elders, and 26 guests for a total attendance of 743.

Recommendations:

1. That Synod grant excuses to those ministers and ruling elders who have requested that they be excused from attendance of a part of this meeting of Synod.
2. That the requests of 233 ministers and 92 ruling elders to be excused from attending this meeting of Synod be granted.

3. That the 226 Churches having no ruling elder in attendance, and having made no request for excuse, be listed in the minutes of Synod as unexcused.

4. That the 72 ministers who were not present and made no request to be excused, be listed in the minutes of Synod as unexcused.

C. Report of Permanent Committee on Bequests and Deferred Gifts

Archie W. McLean, Chairman

At the time the Blue Book went to press, your Committee had not met, but was scheduled to meet on June 12. The reason for the delay in meeting was that the instrument of incorporation of the North Carolina Presbyterian Synod Foundation had not been ratified by all of the Agencies and Institutions of Synod, nor by the Committee on Bequests and Deferred Gifts.

Last year Synod instructed our Committee to proceed with incorporation of the Foundation, contingent on "acceptance of the plan by the agencies and institutions of Synod involved".

After the meeting of Synod, we called a meeting of Representatives of all Agencies and Institutions of Synod who have an interest in the matter of obtaining the charter and the establishment of a Foundation Facility. All representatives either responded favorably or were present for the meeting which was held in Synod's Office on June 12, 1969. Pursuant to that meeting, your Chairman and the General Secretary of Synod contacted attorneys Thomas L. Young and Charles T. Lane of Rocky Mount, both members of the Presbyterian Church, who drew up a set of "Articles of Incorporation" and "By-laws", which were distributed to all interested parties for evaluation. Subsequently thereto, a meeting was held in Raleigh on May 15, 1970, at which representatives of the Bequests Committee, Queens College, St. Andrews Presbyterian College, Presbyterian Home, and Synod's Office were present.* Communications were presented to the group present from absent representatives, either endorsing the Proposed Articles and By-laws, or proposing amendments.

The group present for the meeting, with the advice of James K. Dorsett, Raleigh, Attorney for Synod's Office, carefully examined the documents in hand, including the communications, and drew up a series of proposed amendments which were transmitted to Mr. Young, with the suggestion that he and Mr. Joseph W. Grier, Charlotte, Chairman of Synod's Trustees, complete the revised documents, first for presentation to all interested parties, and secondly for consideration and approval by the Permanent Committee on Bequests and Deferred Gifts, which Committee was scheduled to meet on June 12, 1970, Synod's Office.

At the time of this writing, we are encouraged that the Agencies and Institutions of Synod involved in this project seem to be moving in the direction of a "meeting of minds", and it is anticipated that when Synod convenes, June 23-24, we will be ready to report that the Charter and By-laws have been endorsed by all interested parties and either are in the hands of the Secretary of State, or under final revision for making application to the Secretary of State for a Charter.

Contingent on actions of the Bequests Committee, recommendations will be presented to Synod on June 24, apart from this Report.

*Those present: Wm. H. Neal, Winston-Salem; Dr. John E. Smylie, Queens College; Dr. Donald J. Hart, St. Andrews College; R. A. Short, Presbyterian Home; James K. Dorsett, Raleigh; Harold J. Dudley, General Secretary, Raleigh.

E. Report of Committee on Christianity and Health

Hervey B. Kornegay, M.D., Chairman

Your Committee is anxious to acquaint the members of Synod with the tremendously increasing problem of drugs, and therefore has prepared a booth for display material. It is hoped that members of Synod will take the opportunity of acquainting themselves with the information on display.

Recommendations:

1. That ministers be encouraged to have a physical examination every two years prior to age forty and annually thereafter.
2. That Presbytery committees on candidates be urged to require psychiatric and physical examinations of all candidates.
3. That Presbyteries and the Synod of North Carolina through this committee be encouraged to invite speakers on Christianity and Health to meetings of the courts.
4. That Synod hear the Chairman of the Committee on the subject of "Drugs".

F. Report of the Committee on Church and Society

Rev. Robert H. Ramey, Jr., Chairman

Your Church and Society Committee continually attempts to relate the gospel to the world in which we live. The more pressing concerns which we discussed this year were poverty, hunger, school desegregation, drug abuse, and pollution. Obviously, we could not consider each question in depth; instead, we concentrated our attention on hunger in North Carolina.

In regard to poverty, however, we are making available a limited number of copies of an address by Dr. Joseph T. Drake, Professor and Chairman of the Department of Sociology at Davidson College, on the subject: Poverty and Hunger. We encourage you to give careful attention to the presentation on drug abuse by Synod's Christianity and Health Committee. Due to the continuing legal confusion surrounding school desegregation, we ask each Presbytery to give counsel to its members in light of its specific situation. Pollution, though very crucial, will hopefully be dealt with at a later date.

The following report deals only with hunger in Appalachia. Thus the report should be completed in the future by examining hunger in other parts of our state. The first part of our report is audio-visual in nature and was prepared by the Rev. Robert L. Combs.

The second part of our report is a brief paper written by Dr. Olson Huff, Charlotte pediatrician and member of Forest Hill Presbyterian Church.

1. HUNGER

By Olsen Huff, M. D.

The reflection of poverty's cruel effects should be fully evident on the faces of its victims. These faces stare back at our inquiring glance with a multitude of expressions. Despair, failure and fear are mixed with animosity and a departed pride. Those of the adults are often blank, having been finally divested of all ability to respond, while those of the children are seen to still reflect something of the dreamlike abundance which life supposedly holds for us all.

But of all these expressions, none is as cruel, none as despairing and none as indicting as the face of hunger.

That there is hunger in this affluent nation of ours, and that hunger exists in alarming proportions in our state has been graphically shown in recent months. (See: Hunger in Our Midst, a reprint from The Charlotte Observer, available as an Office of Economic Opportunity Pamphlet, 1405–6, Washington, D. C.) One need only look in any direction to find it. Our cities harbor it and the mountains engulf it. Children in the inner city with black faces, as well as the blond blue-eyed offspring of the mountaineer, more often than not carry the common emptiness of their stomachs to bed each night.

From this tragic lack there has grown up a pattern of intense cultural deprivation and social waste. This may be visualized from several angles. To begin with, there is an absolute lack of protein, vital to the body's maturation; this lack of protein occurs even before the child is born and as a consequence severely affects his eventual intelligence. Then too, there is the ravaging effect of disease, both acute and chronic, which sweeps over these emaciated bodies with ease. Parasites are prevalent and these sap the body further of its energy and add to the misery of existence. Like a circle with no end the struggle for mere survival revolves around and is governed by these elemental forces of hunger, disease, filth, and cold to the extent that individuals lose their identity, children lose their hope, and society is deprived of a portion of its members.

This deprivation, this carnal waste, this living death, exists in the coves, valleys, and along the streams of Appalachia – once the proud vanguard of a nation being born, these people are now desperately attempting to stay alive on "commodity" and charity. While government efforts to help are needed to minister, the Church also needs to be part of this ministry. Those who hunger should be aware of our concern for them as persons, so that they may respond with the dignity of a person to those attempts being made to help them.

Here, as in so many areas of our socially bereft country, the Church must stand as a rallying point. Through its concern, through its desire to be an Agent of Reconciliation, and through its intimate knowledge of the nature of man, the Church is compelled to act in this crisis. For crisis it is. One single approach, one area of concern is not enough. We cannot focus on the disease and sickness without attacking its source; we cannot tackle the filth and parasites without providing the incentive to keep these elements out, and we cannot provide incentive on empty stomachs.

So ultimately the return is to the knowledge that the yoke of hunger must be lifted. Then with it we may lift away the high death rate, the high index of illness, the pall of ignorance, and the sinful waste of persons. In its place there may enter that one element which draws them to take their stand in those rugged mountains and which must lie buried beneath the growing pangs of hunger – hope. And the Church should be the incarnation of such hope.

Recommendations:

1. That Synod hear an audio-visual presentation entitled: "Hunger in the Hills."
2. That Synod adopt the paper on "Poverty and Hunger", and order that it be sent to all Sessions, for study and action, along with such of the other following recommendations as may be adopted.
3. That Synod inform its churches that the "Parson in the Hills Foundation" is working to meet the needs of deprived people in the area covered by the previous report. (Write: Parson in the Hills Foundation, Hickory, N. C., to discover ways of becoming involved.)
4. That Synod inform its churches that the North Carolina Council of Churches works with the Migrant Council of Hendersonville, N. C. (Write: W. H. Sipes, Project Director for Migrant Project of North Carolina Council of Churches, 723 W. Johnson Street, Raleigh, N. C.)
5. That Synod inform its churches of the significant work being done in Appalachia by the Commission on Religion in Appalachia, Inc. (Write: Max E. Glenn, Executive Director, 1114 W. Clinch Avenue, Knoxville, Tenn.)
6. That Synod remind its churches that the General Assembly priority, "Hunger," will be the theme of the 1971 Witness Season.
7. That Synod urge each Presbytery to send representatives to the Conference on World Hunger, meeting at Montreat, August 6-8, 1970.

G. Report of the Committee on Historical Matters

Dr. Durward T. Stokes, Chairman

The Committee on Historical Matters met in Synod's Office on April 3, 1970, with eleven members present.

The General Secretary of Synod reported on matters of historical interest, which included the accession of additional books and documents received in Synod's Office; and also that the records of Synod are constantly being used as sources for references of various kinds.

It was further pointed out that there are twenty-four churches celebrating anniversaries, ranging from twenty-five years to two hundred years. A list of these churches appears below. In addition, Orange Presbytery is celebrating its 200th anniversary this year, having been organized September 6, 1770. Two churches are observing their bi-centennial anniversaries, to wit, the New Hope Church near Chapel Hill and the Philadelphia Church, Charlotte.

The North Carolina Presbyterian Historical Society held its annual meeting in Raleigh on April 17 with approximately seventy-five persons present. The speaker was the Rev. William E. Thompson, minister of the Calvary Presbyterian Church, Alexandria, Virginia, who brought an address on "Alfred M. Scales – The Forgotten Hero". Mr. Thompson is a member of the Society and the son of the late Rev. Earl F. Thompson, former Stated Clerk of Concord Presbytery, and Mrs. Thompson, who is currently the Area Christian Education worker in Winston-Salem Presbytery.

Alfred M. Scales, Governor of North Carolina from 1885 to 1889, was a Ruling Elder in the Presbyterian Church. He served as a Colonel under General D. H. Hill, also a Presbyterian, throughout the War Between the States. Governor Scales was elected Moderator of the Synod of North Carolina in 1888, the first layman to hold this office. Mr. Thompson points out that he was probably the most influential Presbyterian layman during most of his adult life, when he served prominently as a politician, soldier, businessman, and churchman.

The North Carolina Presbyterian Historical Society reports a membership of 374. Last summer the Society sponsored a tour of the British Isles and in the fall a tour of old churches in the area of Fayetteville. October 7-8, 1970 the Society will sponsor a tour of old churches in the area of Salisbury. During the coming summer, a second tour of the British Isles will be conducted, July 30 – August 20, and will include a visit to Oberammergau to see "The Passion Play".

Last year North Carolina Synod Day was observed on October 12 and approximately 18,000 bulletins were ordered by the churches, to be used on that occasion.

Your Committee has already made available the following papers: "Suggestions and Aids for Local Church Historians" and "Helps for Churches Celebrating Anniversaries". At our recent meeting, the Committee took actions which, when implemented, will provide the additional following papers: "Procedures on the Care and Preservation of Cemeteries" and "Suggestions for Establishing Heritage Rooms".

The Society has sponsored the publication of two books which are available on purchase from Synod's Office, to wit, William Henry Foote's Sketches of North Carolina and John K. Fleming's Historic Third Creek Presbyterian Church.

During the past year the Rev. James D. MacKenzie published privately a book, Colorful Heritage, which is the history of the Barbecue and Bluff Churches. Dr. R. Hamlin Stone a member of the Society, has completed the manuscript on the History of Orange Presbytery, which is sponsored by that Presbytery, and which will be available in book form in June, 1970.

For several years a member of Synod's Office staff (Mrs. Sally Schurrer) has been assigned the task of indexing the Presbyterian News, from its incipiency. This has been a "fill-in" job, and a tedius one; nevertheless, the task has been completed through a part of 1960.

Your Committee was quite concerned that lay representatives to Synod, as well as all Sessions of churches, should take seriously recommendation No. 4, which deals with properly sponsoring the subject of church history at the local level; in fact, the Committee instructed that the attention of the ruling elders, attending Synod, be particularly directed to the recommendations since most of them deal with the local church.

Recommendations:

1. That ministers be urged to file photographs and life sketches in Synod's office.
2. That ministers be requested to record a sermon on tape at 7½ rps, to be filed in Synod's office.
3. That persons who possess photographs of former ministers of the Synod of North Carolina be requested to file them in Synod's office.
4. That Synod urge every church to create a committee on church history, whose responsibility will be to: (1) collect and preserve all historical materials; (2) recommend at an appropriate time to the Session a person who is competent to research and write the history of the church; (3) express critical judgment on moot matters, including the invitation to other competent persons to critically proofread copy before final approval of documents for release to the public. (Copies of the paper "Suggestions and Aids for Local Church Historians" may be obtained from Synod's office.); (4) locate and mark graves of deceased ministers, especially those of historical significance; (5) in churches having cemeteries, record inscriptions on all markers and furnish copies to the Historical Foundation, Montreat, Synod's office, and other appropriate institutions and individuals.
5. That all churches which have not already done so, be requested to have histories written, distributed to members of their churches, and copies filed in the Synod's office.
6. That local churches take advantage of the offer of the State Department of Archives and History to microfilm church records for security and without charge.
7. That churches be encouraged to collect and display artifacts, pictures, and documents of historical interest, in a "Heritage Room" or other appropriate place.

8. That Synod again be reminded that anyone needing advice in implementing any of the foregoing recommendations may apply to members of the Committee on Historical Matters for assistance.

9. That Synod takes note of the churches which are celebrating anniversaries in 1970 ranging from the 25th to the 200th, and commends them for their faithfulness and loyalty in espousing the cause of Jesus Christ and for their observance of anniversaries, at the same time urging that past records prove to be an inspiration for greater involvement and service both currently and in the future.

10. That Synod hereby takes note of the Bi-Centennial Celebration of Orange Presbytery, the oldest presbytery of the Synod and second only to presbyteries to the north of the Synod of North Carolina. The Synod gladly joins with Orange Presbytery in celebrating this important anniversary of the organization of that presbytery on September 5, 1970, in the Hawfields Presbyterian Church; furthermore, Synod gladly relinquishes its usual observance of North Carolina Presbyterian Synod Day, ordinarily observed the first Sunday in October, in favor of the celebration of Orange Presbytery Day on the first Sunday in September, 1970.

H. Report of Committee on Inter-Church Relations

Rev. Charles L. Kirby, Chairman

Your Inter-Church Relations Committee has met twice in the past year. Committee members have been active participants in Inter-Church activities, both locally and at the state level. You were represented last fall at a seminar on the Consultation on Church Union, sponsored by the North Carolina Council of Churches. Dr. Paul Crow, Executive Director of COCU, in a series of lectures, pointed out that 46 negotiations and dialogues are in process throughout the major denominations in the world. He outlined "Structures For Mission" and dealt with "Fears With Regard to COCU". He also considered "The Future of the Ecumenical World", noting the mood in the world of reassessment and change.

The Plan of Union has been drafted and is to be distributed to constituents of the participating denominations for reflection and evaluation. Your committee sees its role as one of interpretation and encouragement of conversation with representatives of other persuasions. We invite others to investigate the alternatives that are before us in the last quarter of this century.

You were represented at the recent annual Assembly of the North Carolina Council of Churches, at which resolutions were passed dealing with Capital Punishment, Therapeutic Abortion, the Prison System in N. C., Justice, Law, Order and Freedom, Observance of Martin Luther King's Birthday, and the N. C. Population Center.

The N.C.C.C. is a viable Inter-Church Agent in the State, engaged in extensive activities. The Executive Director, who is a member of this Synod, and his staff, have been commended by your committee for their effective labors.

The Council of Churches has purchased six acres, adjacent to the Research Triangle and the Synod of North Carolina has been asked to contribute $7,975 toward its cost. This is to be accomplished through a "quiet campaign". We would call to the attention of Synod that additional funds will be needed in the future when construction is undertaken. The target date for this will be the mid-70's.

You are encouraged to read the Council report which appears after this report.

Your Committee is happy to report on signs of ecumenicity at the grass roots level. Some examples include the Resort Ministry in which several churches join together as a Task Force to witness to vacationers; the Migrant Ministry where there are expressions of inter-faith activity; and Inner-city projects and programs in the larger towns and cities, supported on an inter-denominational basis.

In Winston-Salem individuals by voluntary service "man" a Telephone ministry in Crisis, assisting people in distress to receive immediate relief as well as follow-up assistance. In Charlotte five churches, representing an inter-faith involvement, opened their doors to the public and explained their teachings and practices during a "Tour of Understanding", one Sunday afternoon between the hours of 3:00 and 8:00 P.M. The churches were Temple Israel, St. Patricks Roman Catholic, First Church of Christ Scientist, The Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox, and Covenant Presbyterian Church.

Your committee requests churches engaged in such inter-church activities to apprise the chairman of them, and to publicize these endeavors in the columns of The Presbyterian News.

Several communities have recently established local councils of churches. They include the Greater Hickory Cooperative Christian Ministry; the Statesville Area Churches in Cooperation; the Laymen's Christian Council of Lexington; Wendell Council of Churches; and Wilson Council of Churches. We commend such to other localities.

We believe that there are indications that Christ's High Priestly prayer in John 17 for unity of the spirit is being realized. The Spirit seems to be at work, and He is finding expression through various channels. Your committee urges every Christian to be a channel through which Christ's grace may find expression to the end that "they may be one as we are one".

Recommendations:

1. That Presbyteries, through Presbytery Councils and committees on Nominations, be urged to activate inter-church committees, and that they endeavor to initiate cooperative efforts at the grass roots level.
2. That Presbyteries be urged to invite official representatives of other judicatories, or of independent churches within the confines of their boundaries, to send fraternal delegates to their meetings.
3. That Synod sponsor a conference for the purpose of disseminating information in regard to the draft of the Plan of Union of the Consultation on Church Union, October 15, 1970, with Dr. W. A. Benfield, Jr. as the guest speaker, and that the expenses of the conference be met by charging those who attend a registration fee.

3. REPORT OF THE NORTH CAROLINA COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

(For the program year ending April 30, 1970)

Rev. Samuel S. Wiley, Executive Director

Christian concepts of the Incarnation of God in Jesus Christ and the unity of man's nature lead us away from a dichotomy between the spiritual and the physical. "The Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us." Man is a unity, so that a construction which depicts a soul dwelling in a body is an artificial model which masks the reality of his organic oneness.

For this reason, it can be said that ecumenism is the whole Church responding to the whole need of man. The program of the North Carolina Council of Churches therefore chooses its priorities from the broad range of individual and social dynamics. In this period of change, which is often so swift as to be revolutionary, it has been necessary to have an updating of the Council's work.

A year ago this "Renewal of the Council" was described as a process relating to three phases: (1) staff, (2) program, and (3) site. The Executive Director's report will concern itself with those phases.

I. STAFF

On September 2, 1969 the Rev. S. Collins Kilburn became Director of Christian Social Ministries, succeeding the Rev. J. H. Crum who had served until November 1968. Mr. Kilburn has his office in the IGO Building on the Airport Road near the Raleigh-Durham Airport. He has brought his considerable creative powers to bear upon the social concerns of the Council.

W. H. Shipes has been on the staff of the Migrant Project since its inception in 1965. In 1968 he became its Director. He continues to give dynamic leadership to this important phase of the Council's Migrant Ministry. The latter includes aid to local migrant councils at Elizabeth City, Morehead City, and Hendersonville. The Migrant Project has been funded by OEO for $298,342 for the present fiscal year and operates in Johnston, Greene, Hyde, Tyrrell, Washington, and Carteret Counties, with prospects of expansion into others. A measure of its success is found in the fact that OEO has asked the North Carolina Council of Churches Migrant Project to administer an additional grant of $150,000 for an Emergency Food and Medical Services Program for the states east of the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers. The offices of the Migrant Project are at 723 West Johnson Street in Raleigh. There are eight persons on the staff with many more in the field during the migrant season.

II. PROGRAM

Under the leadership of James D. Riddle the Council has effected a thorough-going revision of its organizational structure which became final at the Greensboro Assembly at the end of April. Instead of three program commissions and twenty-six program committees we now have three commissions which will operate through task groups and ad hoc committees. Great hope is held for the new plan whereby through "shared staff" the judicatory heads will be asked to take the lead in selecting program priorities for interdenominational work, with judicatory staffs forming the core of task groups and committees, to be supplemented by other churchmen.

Under the head of program, mention must first be made of the inspired activities of Church Women United in North Carolina. Their calendar for 1970 has its foci in three annual celebrations: World Day of Prayer, March 6, which had the theme, "Take Courage!"; May Fellowship Day, May 1, "Dissolve the Distance Between. . ."; and World Community Day, November 6, "Use a Key for Tomorrow: Education."

Church Women United is a national movement. In North Carolina its special project, now having reached its culmination, is the Samarkand Chapel Fund drive for over $50,000, headed by Mrs. Ira C. Shelley with Mrs. Robert W. Scott as sponsor. Mrs. Sam Arrington Dunn of Enfield is State President of CWU. As such she is on the Council's Executive Board as head of its Department of Church Women United, and a member of its Administrative Committee. She is a splendid example of the right kind of "woman power," being herself a child of the North Carolina Governor's Mansion, daughter of former Governor Kitchen.

The Department of Youth has a Duke Divinity School middler, Harmon L. Wray, as Minister with Youth. He has planned "Task Force for Youth 1970," building on the experience of a model worked out for last summer. This will include "internships" in service agencies, business, industry, etc. for high-school juniors, seniors, and post-grads, with a period at the end of the summer for evaluation and contrasting experience.

The Commission on Christian Social Ministries under Mr. Kilburn's leadership has – launched a series of Engagement/Reflection Seminars at Central Prison at Raleigh to sensitize participants to the need for reform in the prison system.

– held Conflict Management Workshops for church and community leaders to develop skills in understanding and resolving conflict in the direction of reconciliation.

– begun a series of conferences on the ethical and theological issues relating to therapeutic abortion.

– engaged in conferences for church leaders on "The Church and the New City" in cooperation with Research Triangle COMPLEX, Inc., using urban simulation games.

The Commission on Christian Nurture has centered its program in family life education. Under the leadership of Dr. William F. Eastman of Chapel Hill a series of discussion opportunities focused on the family life of the clergyman has been planned. Also work continues in the areas of Scouting, evaluation by a group of high-school seniors of the new Through-the-Week Curriculum, and a series of conferences to introduce the new Trainable Series for the Mentally Retarded.

The Commission on Christian Unity will focus upon the encouragement of local ecumenicity. It will also continue the Council's efforts to make available information concerning movements toward organic union, following the Council's Conference on COCU held in High Point last October under the leadership of Dr. Paul A. Crow, Jr. These efforts are informational and not promotional.

The Durham office of the Council is still located at 208 East Duke Building on the East Campus of Duke University. Activities in that office include – publication of the Church Council Bulletin six times a year. This goes to 5,600 churchmen across the State.

– working with Billy E. Barnes, Chairman of the General Committee on Public Relations, and its sub-committee on Television, Radio, and Audio-visuals. Dr. Raymond A. Horn has begun the new Encounter series on TV. Two special programs seen on prime time have been "The Now Generation in Chapel Hill High School" and "A Century at Central Prison." News of the Church continues on TV and The Week in Religion on radio, the latter announced by John W. Cobb of Raleigh. Dr. Horn's work is funded by the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina.

– assumption of primary responsibility now for the Church World Service Clothing Program in North Carolina.

– direction of the Migrant Ministry.

– cooperation with the Resort Area Ministry.

– close liaison with the Commission on Religion in Appalachia and the programs on Medicine and Religion of the AMA and the Medical Society of the State of North Carolina.

– planning and promotion of the annual Seminar on Church and Community, held at N. C. State University in Raleigh. The 1970 theme was "The Church as Initiator of Change."

– planning and promotion of the Council's Annual Meeting, which usually includes the Assembly of Church Women United, the Council's Assembly, and the Pastors' Conference. The 1970 Pastors' Conference in Greensboro on "Tradition and Innovation in the Church" was led by Harold R. Martin, Robert A. Raines, and Mrs. Robert N. Rodenmayer. Dates of the Annual Meeting in 1971 will likely be April 26 and 27.

– liaison with the North Carolina Chaplains Association.

– coordination of the Richard Shelton Communications Awards program and the Distinguished Service Award. Honored this year were the High Point Enterprise, the Carolina Times of Durham, WTVD Channel 11 Durham, WKIX Radio of Raleigh, and a personal citation to Clayton B. Weaver of WRDU Channel 28 Durham. The DSA went to Dr. George R. Whittecar, President of the North Carolina Synod of the Lutheran Church in America.

III. SITE

The 33rd Assembly of the Council ratified the action of the Executive Board in entering into a purchase agreement for 6.07 acres of land in the Nelson Community at the southeast corner of Research Triangle Park, with a view to ultimate construction there of an Ecumenical Center for North Carolina. The tract lies alongside the right-of-way of the new four-lane N. C. 54 connecting Raleigh and Chapel Hill with the Park. This is slated to be I-40. The Council's property is between two interchanges and thus has good accessibility and high visibility. RDU Airport is a little over three miles away. The purchase price is $15,000 to be paid out by 1976. Dr. James H. Lightbourne, Jr., Conference Minister of the Southern Conference, United Church of Christ, was asked to head the fund drive. Dr. Lightbourne, at the Greensboro Assembly, was elected President of the Council for the coming year, succeeding Dr. Thomas A. Collins of Rocky Mount.

I. Report of the Committee on the Minister and His Work

Reverend James E. Fogartie, Chairman

The Permanent Committee on the Minister and His Work of the Synod of North Carolina has met twice during the year. The sessions were conducted in Roanoke, Virginia, as a part of Regional Meetings of similar Committees from the Synods of Appalachia, Virginia, and West Virginia. Attending these meetings were the members of your Committee and the Executive Secretaries of the Presbyteries. Mr. R. Graham White, Executive Secretary of the Assembly's Committee, and Mr. Charles M. Harris, Assistant to the Executive Secretary, were present on each occasion and rendered valuable counsel.

Your Committee engaged in periods of confidential exchange of information with respect to both ministers and Churches within the bounds of Synod. Such exchanges are valuable in providing pertinent information and problems involved in pastoral changes.

With the Committees of the other Synods your Committee engaged in discussions relative to broadening the base for pastoral changes. Position papers by Synod representatives on "Secular Problems of Ministers" were presented. Of particular significance was the paper, "Change in the Order of Ministry", presented by the Reverend Will H. Terry. Dr. James Appleby of the faculty of Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, represented the Seminary and was of real assistance in discussing with those present the question of candidates for the ministry and the role of the Seminary in this regard. Further Regional Meetings are planned for the ensuing year.

Your Committee has no formal recommendations to bring to the Synod.

J. Report of the Committee on Nominations

Reverend Russell M. Kerr, Chairman

Your Committee met on June 3, 1970, Synod's Office, Raleigh, N. C.

We submit to Synod the following recommendations:

1. That the vacancies occurring at this meeting of Synod on the Agencies, Committees, and Boards of Synod by virtue of the creation of new committees or offices, or because of the expiration of terms of office, or by resignation, death, moving from Synod, or otherwise, be filled as follows: (All changes are reflected in the GENERAL DIRECTORY.)

2. That interim appointments made by the Moderator be approved.

3. That Synod express appreciation to those who have served faithfully as members of Boards, Committees, etc., especially those whose terms of office expire with this meeting of Synod.

L. Report of Committee on Women's Work

Reverend Graham C. McChesney, Chairman

The Work in the Churches of the Synod of North Carolina by the women – their leadership, service and inspiration – is reason for much thanksgiving to God.

Your Committee on Women's Work met with the Council of the Women of the Synod for their Annual Winter Meeting. This meeting was mutually profitable to both groups. The Chairman also attended the Annual Meeting of the Women of the Synod held at Montreat last June during the Synodical Training School, and also served as Chaplain for the School.

The Committee is pleased to commend those in places of leadership on the Council, Women of the Synod, for their dedication to their work, and for the effectiveness in their programming.

Attention is called to the fact that the Women of the Synod are sponsoring a new opportunity for inspiration, leadership training, fellowship, and information this year in "The Week-end Conference", scheduled for Montreat June 20-21.

There is an increasing spirit of cooperation and awareness of the "Church as a whole" in her program, ministry, and service.

More and more women are being elected to the offices of elder and deacon as churches are tapping the talents of their total membership.

Recommendations:

1. That Sessions consider using more of the trained women of their Churches in helping with the evangelistic, educational, and stewardship programs of their churches.
2. That Synod commend the Women of the Synod of North Carolina for their promotion of and participation in the many facets of the total program of the church.
3. That Synod commend the Women for enlarging the opportunities for training, inspiration, etc. by sponsoring the "Week-end Conference".
4. That, pending the adoption of this report, Synod hear Mrs. A. R. Craig of Rutherfordton, Retiring President of the Women of the Church, Synod of North Carolina, and have the opportunity of meeting the new President who was elected and installed at the Annual Meeting in June.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE WOMEN-OF-THE-CHURCH SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA

Mrs. A. R. Craig, President

The Women of the Church, Synod of North Carolina, worked under the Assembly's Theme for the year 1969-70. The Theme: "Call to Decision", Theme Verse Joshua 25:5 – "And if you be unwilling to serve the Lord, Choose this day whom you will serve, – as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord."

The 56,165 women of the North Carolina Synod gave $67,204.00 to the Birthday Offering of 1969. This is their largest gift and the largest in the Assembly.

The nine Presbyterials had their largest attendance in their Spring Meetings. Approximately 40,000 women attended, to listen to reports, presentation of the 1970 Birthday Objective, Inspirational addresses, and Bible Study. They contributed liberally to the various causes of the church. They gave about $26,000.00 to various scholarships for worthy students. The Synodical gives the income from $100,000 to students in St. Andrews College, four other scholarships to students attending other schools.

The Women of the Synod give a project each year of $5,000.00. This year this amount was added to the Scholarship fund invested by the Presbyterian Foundation Inc.

The "Decision to Serve the Lord" has been carried out in many ways.

Using the Laubach method of "each one teach one". Many women have had the training for this and are now participating in it. Women establishing and working in Day Care Centers; operating thrift shops; Supplying Clothes for the Needy; Materials; Magazine subscriptions and medicines are sent to Missionaries; Nursing Home residents and retirement homes are served in various ways; "Meals on Wheels" are served; "Operation House–hi" to keep in touch with the young people away in College and Arm Services; they give many hours of work in Mental Health Centers; working with the Blind; participate in the "Prayer and Lost Coin Fellowship". Women made possible the "Christmas Holiday House" by serving meals; also giving of their time and extending Christian Fellowship to Foreign Students; Two of our Presbyterials, Winston-Salem and Orange, help support with their gifts of Time, Money and Clothing the Glade Valley High School.

Each Presbyterial holds a retreat for their numbers in late Summer or Fall. These nine retreats reach several thousand Women with Bible Study and Christian Fellowship and discussions of the issues of the day.

The Women are aware of the problems facing our society and are studying ways to meet these problems: the Alcoholic. Drugs in our schools and reaching our young people; striving to give to people of all ages the Christian leadership which is needed.

Each year the Women of the Synod meet a large quota of White Cross supplies which goes to our hospital in Korea. This response represents many hours of loving labor and a larger sum of money for transportation and to buy the supplies.

The Synodical Training School had 430 in attendance in June 1969. We are looking forward to the first Week-end Conference in addition to this school in June 1970. This is the 25th year of our Synodical Training School.

The Women of the Synod of North Carolina make this report in humble recognition and belief that we are instruments of the Holy Spirit and acknowledge our complete dependence upon him for His strength and guidance. We acknowledge we have not done all we should have done and pledge ourselves to put forth greater effort in the days ahead.

M. Report of Permanent Committee on World Missions

The Reverend Wilkes Macaulay, Chairman

Synod's World Missions Committee met in its annual meeting March 17, 1970, at Synod's office with seven Presbytery chairmen present and representatives of the Women of the Church. The committee also attended the World Missions Seminar at Union Theological Seminary in Richmond on April 21 - 22, 1970.

One of the significant and distressing facts about our church's overseas mission outreach in 1969 is what could not be done, the result of a retrenchment made necessary because of increasing costs and decreasing resources. During 1969 the number of missionaries was reduced by 38. The number of overseas lands in which these missionaries serve was reduced from 9 to 7. The reduction in number of missionaries and fields was directly related to the fact that income from our church in 1969 was far less than in 1968 (less even than was received in 1964) while costs (with runaway inflation in some overseas lands) were greatly increased.

The over-all effect of this decrease in benevolences and increase in inflation is seen in the fact that three years ago there were 565 missionaries serving in the overseas ministry of our church while now the number has been reduced to 466. It is predicted, that unless steps are taken to reverse this trend in our giving the missionary force by the end of 1970 will be 420 and by the end of 1971, 353.

The following missionaries were assigned by the Assembly World Missions Committee to the Synod for itineration in the Synod: The Rev. Frederic R. Dinkins (Brazil), the Rev. David B. Lehman (Brazil), and the Rev. Wendell Ligon (Indonesia). In addition, the Rev. Elmer T. Boyer, retired missionary from Korea, itinerated in several points in four Presbyteries.

The faithful work of these who worked within our Synod is certainly commended. It was evident that they were very busy meeting the requests for missionaries to appear in churches of the Synod. We extend to them our heartfelt thanks, and commend them for their willingness to be so generously used.

The forthcoming World Missions Conference to be held at Montreat, July 30 - August 6, promises to be an outstanding opportunity for both young people and adults to become better acquainted with the opportunities in our church's overseas ministry. All Presbyteries are urged to send their chairmen and to encourage churches to send representatives, including young people.

Recommendations:

1. That the attention of our people be called to the facts outlined in the body of this report with regard to the cut-backs being made necessary overseas because of insufficient funds, and that the churches be urged to be faithful and generous in their prayers for and financial support of the overseas ministry of our church.
2. That appreciation be expressed to the missionaries who worked so faithfully in this Synod for their time and service and that this appreciation be communicated to each of them.
3. That the Board of World Missions be thanked for its diligent and faithful service of administration, planning, and counsel.

4. That Presbyteries and local congregations be encouraged to investigate the feasibility of securing acceptable furlough homes for missionaries in our Synod, and that they make such arrangements known to the Synod's Committee.
5. That ministers and local Witness Chairmen be encouraged to put our World Missions concern on a year-round basis and that they be reminded of the availability of missionaries to visit the local churches during the months of September, November, and April as well as during the Witness Season.
6. That as a part of our ministry of relief, congregations continue to collect used clothing, blankets, etc. for distribution through Church World Service.
7. That missionaries and other mission-interested persons be invited to take part in the Presbytery camps and conferences of the Presbyteries.
8. That our young people and adults be encouraged to attend the World Mission Conference at Montreat, July 30 - August 6, and that Presbyteries and local congregations be requested to underwrite part of their expense.
9. That every congregation be reminded of the necessity to live Christian lives here at home in order that they do not hinder the Christian Witness abroad.
10. That due to the current shortage of missionary speakers, our churches be reminded of the availability in our Synod of exchange students, retired missionaries, and persons who have recently visited the missions fields of our church.
11. That we remind the churches of Synod of the current stewardship policy in effect, namely, that when a local church is meeting its fair share of benevolences, the church, or any individual member of the church, can designate its gifts without their being subject to equalization.

Most of the exceptions noted were of minor consequence and could be easily avoided by careful attention to the wording of actions as outlined in the Book of Church Order and by careful proofreading before final printing.

The following presbyteries submitted Minutes without exception:

Concord
Granville
Mecklenburg
Orange
Winston-Salem (No Minutes have been received since 1–28–69)

MINUTES OF THE SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA

The Minutes of the 156th Annual Sessions of the Synod of North Carolina have been examined and found to be in good order. The constitution of the Presbyterian Church, U.S. was observed and lawful injunctions of the higher court obeyed.

THE MINUTES OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

The Minutes of the 109th General Assembly have been examined and no exceptions in form or order noted. It appears that all major programs and directives of the General Assembly have been considered and properly handled by the Synod.

Recommendations:

1. That the Synod of North Carolina express its appreciation to the General Secretary and Stated Clerk, Dr. Harold J. Dudley; the Permanent Clerk, Rev. C. Linwood Cheshire, Jr.; and the Assistant Clerk, Rev. I. M. Bagnal, for their diligent and superior work in preparing and preserving the records of the Synod of North Carolina.
2. That the Stated, Permanent and Assistant Clerks of the nine presbyteries be thanked and commended for their good work in preparing and preserving the minutes of their respective presbyteries.
3. That clerks of the presbyteries of the Synod be reminded of the deadline date of 30 days prior to the up-coming meeting of Synod for reporting on minutes received; and that the clerks be urged to more diligence in sending to Synod's office the printed minutes (2 copies) as soon as available for distribution.

D. Report of the Ad Interim Committee To Study Presbyteries' Boundaries

Reverend John Mack Walker, Chairman

A year ago this Committee's report concluded with two promises. Synod would be asked to make a decision on the realignment of presbyteries' boundaries at this meeting, and each presbytery would have the opportunity of a thorough discussion of the proposed plan with members of our Committee. Both promises have been kept. This report will recommend a plan for adoption which will reduce the present nine presbyteries to six. Representatives of our Committee have appeared on the docket of each presbytery in the rough-and-tumble of informal debate.

At the 1966 meeting of Synod, through the instrumentality of referring to committee the request of Mecklenburg Presbytery that it be allowed "to divide itself into two parts," Synod gave us the instruction, "to make a thorough study of all the boundaries of all the presbyteries within the Synod of North Carolina." Throughout the four years of our study we have attempted to keep Synod informed, not only through our annual report, but also through many contacts with presbyteries, sessions, and individuals. The plan we are presenting has been before the Synod in its present form for two years for study and discussion. The only significant change is the moving of Chapel Hill Township of Orange County from Presbytery IV to Presbytery V. This was done to put the Research Triangle in one presbytery. The map inclosed with our report carries our recommendation for presbyteries' boundaries. The size of the new presbyteries would be as follows. The figures are taken from the 1969 Minutes of the General Assembly.

	Number of Churches	Communicant Membership
Presbytery I	70	14,250
	57*	10,644*
(Possible total for new presbytery)	127	24,894
Presbytery II	78	16,799
Presbytery III	102	38,827
Presbytery IV	125	31,200
Presbytery V	112	25,588
Presbytery VI	157	27,950

*Area in western North Carolina including Asheville Presbytery and part of Holston Presbytery.

Present Size of the Nine Presbyteries of Synod

Albemarle	54	10,020
Concord	74	16,908
Fayetteville	97	18,858
Granville	55	14,525
Kings Mountain	45	9,262
Mecklenburg	109	37,176
Orange	87	25,762
Wilmington	78	12,442
Winston-Salem	44	8,719

In order to emphasize certain population and potential growth factors we want to show you slides prepared by our Committee. A good many Ruling Elders at Synod will not have had the opportunity to see these at presbytery or at last year's meeting of Synod.

In 1964 the Committee of the General Assembly on Institutional Forms began the work which produced the significant "Wineskins" study for the Church. When its report was adopted by the 1967 Assembly an important recommendation called for an Assembly-wide Conference on Restructuring Synods and Presbyteries, which took place in April of 1968. The 1968 Assembly, acting on the advice of this Conference, set up the present Assembly Committee on Restructuring Presbyteries and Synods. Our own Synod's Committee has kept in close touch with this study and we have found ourselves in agreement with the principles which have been highlighted in each of the studies mentioned above. On the Assembly level the result is a recommendation to the Assembly, which will meet just prior to our Synod. Our Presbyterian Church will be asked to reduce the number of its synods from fifteen to eight and the number of its presbyteries from seventy-four to forty-eight. Quite plainly the result of serious and responsible studies says that we should have fewer and larger synods and fewer and larger presbyteries. Whether this tendency or its opposite is for the best interest of the Presbyterian Church in North Carolina is for this court to decide.

However tempting it might be to interpret this as a desire for bigness for the mere sake of bigness, the facts are that the realities of modern economic, political, and social grouping, combined with the new ease of rapid transportation, point in this direction whenever people have to get together for joint action. There are reasons of efficiency of administration which should not be overlooked, but the dominant reason is to be found in the need to have the presbytery of sufficient size to carry out the increasing demands which will be made on the mission of the Church in its area. It is easy to use vague and impressive words just here, but this is the area where the whole Church needs to do its hardest and most concrete thinking. To provide the essential base for this kind of ministry there must be a strong presbytery, which is not blocked out by past geography from areas of potential growth. At the same time the presbytery must not be too large to give effective pastoral care to its individual congregations. It is also important to stress the opportunity for variety in the kind of claims an area will make on its presbytery. It would seem to be a mistake to try to organize a presbytery around one dominant economic, social, or cultural situation. As one lay member of our Committee remarked, "No longer is homogeneousness a virtue in Church work." The plan we present to Synod comes as near meeting these requirements for the whole Synod as we can make it.

As a result of our consultation with presbyteries, two alternate plans were presented to the Committee. One, officially adopted by Wilmington Presbytery, calls for the reduction of the nine present presbyteries to seven. The other suggested by individuals would have the Synod composed of only three presbyteries centering around Charlotte; the Greensboro, High Point, Winston-Salem triangle; and the Raleigh–Durham area. Both were considered by our Committee and were not accepted because they did not conform to the principles which have guided our study.

In fulfilling the task given to this Committee by Synod we are aware that of no possible redrawing of presbytery lines can one say with absolute assurance that this or that restructuring will produce the best opportunity for Christ's Church. As with so many matters of organization the heart of the Church lies elsewhere. The cure that can come from redrawn maps is not radical but palliative. Nevertheless, badly drawn boundaries, or boundaries well drawn in the past but becoming unreal in the light of today's Church, can make the work of the Church more difficult. With these necessary disclaimers our Committee is now asking Synod, in the light of previous considerations and subsequent debate, to render its verdict on this proposal for the realignment of its presbyteries.

Recommendations:

1. That Synod adopt a realignment of its presbyteries according to the alternate plan. (See map, page 218.)
2. That the plan be implemented as soon as possible, but not later than December 31, 1971.
3. That the Moderator of Synod be authorized to appoint a commission to work out all related problems concerning property, presbytery institutions, and presbytery boundaries.
4. That this commission appoint a moderator and clerk pro tem of each new presbytery and empower them to call a meeting to organize the presbytery.
5. That each existing presbytery appoint a commission to work out the problems of organization and implementation of these recommendations.
6. That the Synod's Council be charged to suggest ways and means to encourage the spiritual unity within each of the new Presbyteries.

[1]Unfortunately, this cannot be correctly ascertained before 1953 (short year), due to the fact that one column in the statistical lists of the Assembly combines benevolence gifts with Synod's and Presbyteries' Causes, and another includes all miscellaneous gifts. This column includes all contributions, budgeted and non-budgeted: gifts which passed through Synod's Treasury and those sent directly by churches to agencies and institutions, as reported by the 643 churches of Synod.

[2]Includes Negro Work Campaign–$48,942.

[2] Spiritual Birthrate is determined by dividing the membership at the beginning of the Church Year into accessions on professions of faith during the year and is measured in percentage, the higher the percentage, the better the standing. Soul-winning ratio is determined by dividing the number of accessions on profession of faith during the year into the total membership at the beginning of the year and represents the number of church members required to win one person to Christ. The lower the number, the better the standing.

SEAL OF THE SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES

The official Seal of the Synod of North Carolina, Presbyterian Church in the United States, was adopted by the Synod, meeting in the Ginter Park Presbyterian Church, Richmond, Virginia, May 26, 1965. The design and artwork were by the collaboration of the Reverend Harold J. Dudley, D.D., Stated Clerk of Synod, with The Graphic Press, Inc., Raleigh, North Carolina, Mr. Braxton Flye, President, and a ruling elder in the White Memorial Presbyterian Church, Raleigh. The artist was Mr. Floyd Harness. Valuable suggestions were made by Dr. James E. Bear, Professor Emeritus in Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Virginia; the Reverend J. Raymond Lord, Duke University, Durham, N. C.; the Reverend Richard S. Watts, Greensboro, N. C.; Dr. Henry M. Brimm, Librarian, Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Virginia; and Dr. Thomas H. Spence, Jr., Executive Director, Historical Foundation, Presbyterian Church in the United States.

The word "synod" comes from the Latin and the Greek. The English word is taken from the Latin, synodus. The corresponding Greek word is σύνοδος, meaning "a meeting". Root words from which the Greek noun is derived, roughly translated, might mean "together" and "way".

The Greek noun for synod, while not appearing in the New Testament, is used in classical Greek, sometimes for persons assembling for deliberation.

The root verb, found in the Septuagint, and once in the New Testament, is συνοδεύω and means "to journey with". The word συνοδεύωμεν on the Seal of the Synod of North Carolina is in the plural form, and translated means, "We travel together".

In view of the fact that the Synod, as a Court, comes between the Presbyteries and the General Assembly, the Minutes of the Commission to Implement Action of Synod Relating to Restructuring Presbyteries October 14, 1970

The Commission to implement action of Synod pertaining to Presbyteries' boundaries convened in the office of Synod at 10:40 A.M. on October 14, 1970. The following members appointed by the Moderator, Dr. Joseph M. Garrison, were present:

The Revs. Lee Adkins, J. Murphy Smith, R. F. Sloop, E. J. Agsten, J. Cecil Lawrence, J. E. Fogartie, Kay Misenheimer

Messrs. Fielding Clark, John Friday, John G. Ormsby, Lester Stallings, C. Reid Ross, William A. Sherrill, and Dr. Malcolm Williams

The meeting was opened with prayer by the convener appointed by the Moderator, namely, The Reverend Lee Adkins.

The following officers were elected by the Commission: the Rev. Lee Adkins, Chairman; Dr. Malcolm Williams, Vice Chairman; The Rev. E. J. Agsten, Secretary.

It was decided to adjourn the first session by 1:00 P.M.

The Commission then heard a statement by Synod's General Secretary, Dr. Harold J. Dudley, giving the history, previous actions and general information relating to Synod's action regarding "Restructuring."

By motion it was decided that all private meetings of the Commission be held in "executive session."

A full discussion followed concerning clarification and interpretation of recommendations as shown on Page 217 of Synod's Minutes regarding the work of the Commission. The following guidelines were adopted:

A. Implementation is our task (not proposing new plans)

(a) Bound in general to boundaries (churches, yes; counties, no) of alternate map.
(b) Need information and statistics on new Presbyteries as well as existing Presbyteries.

B. Define Implementation
(a) Property, camps, wills, legal matters, funds, etc.
(b) Advise, not direct, Presbytery Commissions.
(c) Encourage use of legal advice for Presbytery Commissions.

Chairman Adkins was requested to write all nine Commissions, inviting them to meet with Synod's Commission at Synod's Building in Raleigh on Tuesday, November 17 to share with it their problems in light of recommendations adopted by Synod, indicating amount of time for said conferences needed. The Chairman was requested to schedule the hour they were to appear after hearing how many Presbyteries' Commissions wished to come.

Action was taken to invite our Synod's General Secretary, Dr. Harold J. Dudley, to sit with the Commission as a resource person.

Adjournment followed at 1:00 P.M. Prayer was offered by the Rev. Kay Misenheimer.

November 17, 1970

The Commission on changes in Presbytery Boundaries met at Synod's Office Tuesday, November 17, 1970 at 10:30 a.m.

Prayer was offered by Chairman Lee Adkins.

Minutes of the October 14, 1970 meeting were approved and admitted to record.

The following members were present: The Revs. Lee W. Adkins, Chairman; E. J. Agsten, Secy.; R. F. Sloop; J. Murphy Smith; Kay Misenheimer; and J. Cecil Lawrence; Messrs. W. A. Sherrill, Fielding Clark, Lester Stallings, Paul G. Boone, Malcolm Williams, C. Reid Ross, John C. Ormsby, and John Friday.

Guidelines were adopted as an aid to Presbytery Commissions appearing before us.

Recess was taken from 10:50 to 11:00 A.M.

The Commission reconvened at 11 A.M. At this time the following representatives of Mecklenburg Presbytery's Commission appeared before Synod's Commission: Rev. Robert Turner, Chairman; Rev. Frank H. Caldwell, and Mr. S. B. McGuirt. They related the following:

1. They had met with Fayetteville Presbytery's Commission.
2. They pointed out the difficulty with timing and advised a uniform date throughout the Synod for implementing all phases of reorganization.
3. Rapport needs to be established with churches in Cabarrus County.
4. Direction is needed in solving problems with assets, liabilities, etc.
5. Direction is also needed on formation, organization, etc. on new Presbytery.
6. Suggestion was made that we contact Synods where restructuring has occurred.
7. There is need for reviewing and changing bequests in wills, etc. in view of new Presbyteries.
8. Sentiment was expressed that Kings Mountain, Concord, and Winston-Salem Presbyteries be merged into one.

A five-minute recess was taken at 11:55.

The Commission reconvened at 12:00 to hear Granville Presbytery's Commission, represented by Dr. Wm. H. McCorkle, Chairman; Rev. Charles Norwood; Dr. I. M. Bagnal, Executive Secretary of the Presbytery; Mr. George Elliott; Mr. F. I. Fansler, Jr.; Dr. Richard Borie, Jr.; and Mrs. L. A. Buffaloe.

The concerns of this Commission were:

1. The new plan does not meet the requirements set forth by Synod for equal distribution of resources of all kinds. In fact, they feel it defeats the very thing we set out to accomplish.
2. There are grave reservations that the plan can be implemented in Granville.
3. Albemarle Presbytery will be receiving sixteen additional churches, fourteen of which are aid-receiving, thus adding a burden to Albemarle to sustain the load without jeopardizing their over-all benevolence program.

4. Feeling was expressed that we would be uniting two already strong Presbyteries (Granville and Orange) and leaving Albemarle weaker.
5. Urgency was expressed to set dates (if plan is implemented) as soon as possible for the transition on programs of stewardship, woman's work, committees, personnel, etc.
6. Opinion was expressed that action by Synod was hasty and that many commissions did not realize what was being voted upon.

Recess for lunch was taken at 1:00 P.M.

Upon reconvening at 2 P.M., the Commissions of Concord and Kings Mountain Presbyteries appeared jointly. They were represented as follows: From Concord: The Revs. Louis H. Zbinden, Chairman; Kenneth I. Newman, Robert L. Forbis, Jr., and L. A. Colquitt, Jr., Executive Secretary, and Messrs. John Bleynat, A. J. Gillespie, and Dr. Joseph P. Drake; From Kings Mountain: The Revs. James G. Stuart, Robert A. Wilson, William Leist, John Kimbirl, Marion Boozer, and Mr. W. A. Hambright.

1. The dominant idea expressed by this group was their belief in the feasibility of the merging of the above-named and Winston-Salem Presbyteries into one strong Presbytery. (cf. "Proposition Paper" on file).
2. This would greatly solve problems of administrative staff, costs, benevolences, etc.
3. Feeling was expressed that these three need each other.

At 3 P.M. Albemarle Presbytery was represented by the Revs. Thomas H. Hamilton, Chairman; J. Murphy Smith, and Larry W. Avent, and Messrs. Sterling Wooten and D. L. Stallings.

1. Their problem would be that of inheriting so many weak churches (16, only two of which are self-supporting). This would create a problem of finding an additional $11,000 (approximately) to finance work.
2. They feel the morale, already "not too good" in Presbytery would be lowered.

At 4:10 Wilmington Presbytery's Commission was represented by: The Revs. Joseph G. Morrison and Thomas W. Currie.

1. They have "no major problems".

At 4:40 the Commission held a discussion relating to the day's proceedings to this point. Recess was taken at 4:45 and reconvening came at 5 P.M.

By unanimous vote it was decided to meet Monday, November 30, 1970 at 10:30 a.m. in Synod's Building.

At 5 P.M., the Rev. Gurney P. Whiteley, Chairman, appeared representing Winston-Salem Presbytery. He reported:

1. No problems.

Recess for dinner was taken at 5:40 and prayer was offered by Rev. Kay Misenheimer.

By motion it was decided to hear Rev. John M. Walker, Chairman of Synod's Committee on Restructuring, at our meeting on November 30.

At about 7 P.M., Fayetteville Presbytery's Commission was heard. They were represented by the Revs. Messrs. Howard W. Gilkeson and Francis O. Alston, and Mrs. John H. Nance, and Mrs. Frank McNeill.

1. The only major problem concerns the four churches to be transferred to Fayetteville Presbytery who desire to remain in their present Presbytery.

At 7:45 P.M., the Commission heard from Orange Presbytery, represented by: Rev. Tom B. Anderson and Mr. H. G. McLean.

1. There were no major difficulties foreseen.

The Commission briefly reviewed the day's activities. Some discussion followed centering about keeping the sixteen churches in Granville, rather than transferring them to Albemarle.

Adjournment came at 8:40 p.m. with prayer by E. J. Agsten.

E. J. Agsten, Secretary

November 30, 1970

Synod's Commission on Changes in Presbytery Boundaries met in Synod's Office Building on Monday, November 30, 1970. The meeting was convened at 10:45 A.M. by Chairman, Lee Adkins, and was led in prayer by him.

The following members were present: The Revs. Messrs. R. F. Sloop, J. Cecil Lawrence, James E. Fogartie, J. Murphy Smith, Lee W. Adkins, E. J. Agsten; Messrs. W. A. Sherrill, Fielding Clark, Paul G. Boone, Lester Stallings, John G. Ormsby, and Dr. Malcolm Williams. Upon invitation to sit with the Commission, Dr. Harold J. Dudley, the Reverend David H. Burr and the Reverend John M. Walker were also present. Excused were the Reverend Kay M. Misenheimer and Judge John Friday.

The Commission heard from Mr. Walker, Chairman of the original study committee on boundaries. In his opinion, the so-called "Wilmington Plan" did not give "balanced" Presbyteries. It also left Wilmington and Albemarle Presbyteries weak as far as growth and mission were concerned. If Asheville Presbytery were to become a part of the Synod of North Carolina under the proposed Assembly Plan, it would leave Asheville Presbytery weak. He said, also, he was not here advocating reviving the plan his committee had proposed. His concern was that no area be left out of the pattern for potential growth.

At this point, the group entered into a discussion of the proposed Assembly Plan for restructuring in relation to our present problem. Appreciation was expressed to Mr. Walker for his presence and helpful suggestions.

It was decided that the Commission would recess for lunch at 12:30 P.M. and adjourn not later than 3:00 P.M.

Mr. David Burr, Chairman of Synod's Council, was invited to speak. His main point dealt with the merging of the three western Presbyteries into one (Concord, Kings Mountain, and Winston-Salem). He "looks with favor" on such a move.

Following discussion concerning the work of the Commission, recess for lunch was taken at 12:35 with prayer by Chairman Adkins.

The Commission was reconvened at 1:35 P.M.

The following motion, offered by Mr. Fielding Clark and seconded by the Reverend James E. Fogartie, was adopted:

That the Commission hereby implements Synod's plan for restructuring the Presbyteries of Synod as follows:

I. Boundaries (according to the map adopted by Synod, June 23-24, 1970).
   A. Combine Presbyteries I and II and Cabarrus County into one Presbytery.
   B. Presbytery III to remain as shown excluding Cabarrus County.
   C. Presbytery IV remain as drawn with the addition of all churches originally in Granville Presbytery.
   D. Presbytery V remain as drawn with addition of four churches in Johnston County: Providence, Berea, Benson, and Unity.
   E. Presbytery VI as drawn excepting the churches of Granville Presbytery.
   F. Presbytery VII as drawn excepting four churches in Johnston County.

II. The uniform effective date of reorganization of the Presbyteries of Synod shall be December 31, 1971. The Commission stands ready to assist any Presbytery with implementation.

III. The following persons be appointed Moderators and Clerks, pro tem, respectively:

#1-2 - Rev. Louis H. Zbinden and Rev. G. P. Whiteley
#3 - Rev. Russell M. Kerr and Rev. J. Cecil Lawrence
#4 - Rev. Tom M. Anderson and Dr. I. M. Bagnal
#5 - Rev. Leighton B. McKeithen and Rev. Cheves K. Ligon
#6 - Rev. James M. McChesney and Rev. Tom M. Davis
#7 - Rev. Edward G. Connette, Jr. and Rev. James B. Tubbs

By motion, the Commission directed that the appointed Moderators, pro tem, respectively be directed and are empowered to call meetings not later than March 31, 1971 for the purpose of organizing new Presbyteries.

By common consent, the Commission authorized its Chairman, Rev. Lee W. Adkins, to appoint replacement(s) in the event any of the Moderators or Clerks, pro tem, move out of the bounds of his Presbytery.

Synod's Clerk, Dr. Harold J. Dudley, was instructed to release the information relating to actions of the Commission simultaneously to the ministers and Clerks of Sessions of vacant churches of the Synod and to the news media.

The Chairman was empowered to call future meetings of the Commission as may be necessary.

The Commission adjourned about 2:45 P.M. with prayer by the Reverend David H. Burr.

E. J. Agsten, Secretary.

Harold J. Dudley, Stated Clerk

Reports of the Council, the Executive Committee on Campus Christian Life, Church Extension, Educational Institutions, and Homes, including Financial Statements; and the Report of Permanent Committees, including a Financial Statement for Inter-Church Relations, appear elsewhere in this volume, and reflect in part the work of Synod's Office. Additional Reports and/or Financial Statements on Campaigns, the Executive Committee on Christian Education, the Guidance Program, and other agencies of the Synod, together, fairly well summarized the total program of the work of Synod.

Annual Statistics (Vital, on Education, Evangelism, and Stewardship) have been prepared in Synod's Office and may be found by reference to the index.

STEWARDSHIP

The estimated income of Presbyterians of the Synod for 1970 was not less than $694,006,500, a considerable increase over the previous year. It has been estimated that the Presbyterians of North Carolina have total assets of several billions of dollars.

Budgeting Giving

Total receipts from churches and Presbyteries for Synod's causes increased in 1970 over 1969 by $6,242. The presbyteries have accepted $994,437 of Askings for Synod's causes for 1971. The percentage of acceptance is 86.68%, in contrast to 91.3% for 1969; but including special offerings for the Children's Home and the Presbyterian Home, slightly more.

Budgets

Synod decreased its total benevolence giving (budgeted and non-budgeted) by $117,040 in 1970; budgeted decreased by $15,029 and non-budgeted increased by $102,011.

Audits

In their proper places may be found approved summaries of Audited financial statements of all accounts which are handled in Synod's Office. See "Auditor's Report" and also the Report of Synod's Council, as well as "Audits" and "Financial Statements."

All office accounts have been audited by the firm of A. T. Allen & Company, Certified Public Accountants, Raleigh, N. C., and have been officially approved by Synod's Council. Copies of the audits are available for perusal. Also, there have been placed in your hands financial statements of other agencies of Synod, and the Council through its Committee on Audits and Finance has examined these. Copies of audits are available. These are as follows:

III. REPORT OF SYNOD'S COUNCIL

Rev. David H. Burr, Chairman

Meetings

The Council and/or its Committees convened on February 25-26, and May 6-7, 1971. Minutes of the meetings have been recorded.

Synod is scheduled to meet at Queen's College, Charlotte in 1972, and at Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Virginia in 1973.

Publicity

The Presbyterian News is mailed into nearly 65,000 homes. The cost of publishing the paper remains approximately the same as it has for the past two years.

In 1970 Synod's Office distributed a total of 49,592 copies of "The Work Presbyterians Do Together", an increase of about 5,000 over 1969. The first year the brochure was published in 1961, only 5,110 copies were distributed. Distribution was made in all nine Presbyteries last year to a total of 361 churches.

We would urge the churches of Synod to constantly furnish Synod's Office up-to-date rolls of membership.

The radio and television program of Synod (TRAV) is the function of the Executive Committee of Church Extension and is reported on separately by that Committee.

Numerous releases for the press, radio, and television emanate from Synod's Office.

During the past year the office of Synod edited and published the 1970 Blue Book of Synod and the Minutes of Synod; and in addition, numerous books for the Council and Committees of Synod.

Stewardship

The year 1970 was the fifth under the new Stewardship program, projected by the General Assembly. The oft-repeated prediction that if the agencies and institutions of Synod would go on a realistic budget, the churches and presbyteries would cooperate and favorably respond has not been fulfilled. Whereas, prior to the introduction of the "new Stewardship program", Synod's churches and Presbyteries increased their giving by 5% every year for a period of a number of years, during the past five years the average increase has been no better than approximately 1%, some years even lower.

Budgets of agencies and institutions are carefully prepared, thoroughly scrutinized, and adopted as realistic, with the expectation that all Presbyteries and churches will so regard them, and thus honor their pledges and meet them.

The results of benevolent giving for 1970 indicate that the Synod contributed to both budgeted and non-budgeted causes of the General Assembly a total of $1,618,698, which was $132,008 in excess of the Budget Asking. The Budgeted Giving to the General Assembly was $1,397,279.

Synod asked the churches and Presbyteries for $1,099,831 in 1970. The Presbyteries accepted $1,004,352 which was $95,479 less than the budget. (Previous year $53,342 under). Presbyteries and churches contributed to Synod's Benevolent Causes in 1970, $981,501, which was $118,330 less than Askings and $22,851 less than Acceptances (respectively $70,208 and $16,866 the previous year). Income for 1970 to Synod's causes was only $6,242 over 1969, or .78%. Last year it was 2.53% over 1968 or $24,151.

This represents 98% paid of the Acceptances but only 89.24% of Askings. A three years' study of comparative ratios of benevolent budget Askings, Acceptances and Giving to Synod's Benevolent Causes shows an average of 94.40% Acceptance (95.5% last year); 98.05% average in receipts as related to Acceptances (100.12% last year); but only 92.95% in relation to Askings (95.96% last year).

For a number of years prior to 1966, the year of the change to the "realistic budget", Synod had a record of a 5% increase per annum to Synod's benevolent causes. The average increase for the past three years is 1.12% (3.73% last year).

1971 Acceptances by Presbyteries:

In regard to Synod's Askings and Presbytery Acceptances for 1971, it will be noted that for Synod's causes only, the Presbyteries have accepted $994,437 of the $1,147,233 asked, or 86.68%. (Last year the Presbyteries accepted $1,004,352 which was 91.3%.) Experience shows that Presbyteries have paid 2% less than they accept; therefore, though 86.68% will produce in 1972, $994,437, 84.68% is more practical, other things being equal, and will produce only $971,477.

It should be emphasized, though, that the Presbyteries are retrograding in their acceptance for 1971.

The Presbyteries rank in the following order for a three-year average in percent of Receipts to Askings for Synod's Causes:

1. (F)	102.64%	6. (G)	97.40%
2. (KM)	102.59%	7. (A)	97.11%
3. (WS)	101.42%	8. (O)	91.80%
4. (C)	99.07%	9. (M)	91.62%
5. (W)	98.05%

It is rather significant that the two most affluent areas of the Synod rank at the bottom in relative support of Synod's agencies and causes. Note that the average for all of the Presbyteries of Synod for three years is 92.95%, a drop from 95.6% last year.

Last year only Kings Mountain Presbytery exceeded the Askings of Synod. This year only Fayetteville Presbytery has done so, 103.01%; nevertheless, Kings Mountain reflects 99.92%.

Other Presbyteries follow thus: Granville, 89.12%; Concord 88.91%; Mecklenburg, 88.22%; Winston-Salem, 87.06%; Albemarle, 85.69%; Wilmington, 83.42%; and Orange, 81.39%.

As already indicated, the causes of Synod received in 1970 89.24% of Askings, in contrast to 93.2% in 1969 and 96% in 1968.

The Report of Giving to Synod's Causes in 1970, reflected in the Minutes of the General Assembly indicate for budgeted benevolences, $958,806; and for non-budgeted benevolences, $511,400; or a total of $1,470,206. The total amount which was audited through the books of Synod's Office for Synod's Causes was $981,501.

Each of the agencies and institutions of Synod received its proportionate part of the income, or 89.24% of Askings, in contrast to 93.2% in 1969 and 96% in 1968.

(For detailed information on 1970 Stewardship, consult the Stewardship Tables in the back of this volume).

1971 Acceptances

Acceptances by Presbyteries for 1971 for Synod's Causes alone are reflected in the following Table:

(A)	$ 62,764
(C)	131,129
(F)	102,792
(G)	85,953
(KM)	105,660
(M)	252,700
(O)	137,443
(W)	53,273
(WS)	62,723
	$994,437

Finances

The books have been audited by the firm of A. T. Allen and Company, Certified Public Accountants, Raleigh. They indicate that more than twenty different accounts are handled in Synod's Office; that assets as of December 31, 1970, total $1,699,793.82, and liabilities only $1,754.09.

During 1970, by careful management, Synod's Office earned on investments, over and above loans, $12,227.37

1972 Benevolence Program

Assembly

The General Council of the General Assembly is recommending to the General Assembly a 1972 budget objective of $9,047,000, an increase of 6.44% over the 1971 budget.

The Synod of North Carolina will be asked to accept $1,593,222.

Synod

The Synod Program for 1972 is reflected in the Recommendations. We commend for your perusal the studies which appear in the various Tables under "Statistics" in the Index; particularly "Stewardship" and "Vital Statistics" which will reveal Presbytery comparisons, including total giving, per capita giving, growth, etc., and comparisons of the Synods of the General Assembly.

Staff

There have been two changes in personnel during the year. Mrs. Carrie Scogin, Secretary to the General Secretary, moved from Raleigh a year ago and was replaced last Fall by Mrs. Sandra Mantych. Mr. Darrell Monroe was employed in January on a temporary basis to fill the vacancy created by the loss of the Rev. Raymond A. Horn.

Miscellaneous

Campaigns: In December the final payment on pledges made during the 1956 and 1958 campaigns was paid, thus closing out both of those campaigns.

Synod's Office continues to serve all of the agencies and institutions of Synod, directly or indirectly. Including income and outgo, more than $2 million are received and/or disbursed during a twelve-months period.

Recommendations:

1. That Synod accept the apportionment recommended by the General Assembly for the 1972 budget for the Causes of the General Assembly in the amount of $1,593,222, an increase of 2.73%.
2. That the General Assembly Apportionments to Presbyteries for 1972 be based on average giving of the Presbyteries to Budgeted Assembly Causes for the previous five years.
3. That Synod accept for Synod's 1972 Benevolent Budget Askings $1,090,000, based on an increase of 5% per annum (1971 and 1972) above 1970 benevolent income ($981,501), a decrease in Askings of $57,233, −5.2%. (page 106.)
4. That the 1972 Apportionments of Synod's Causes to Presbyteries be based on the formula of a 10% above receipts of 1970, or 5% above 1971 Acceptances by Presbyteries, whichever is greater. (See Table on page 107.)
5. That the total benevolence budget for Assembly and Synod causes for 1972 be approved in the amount of $2,683,222, and that the apportionments of same to the several Presbyteries be made according to the Table on page 107.
6. That the budget for Synod's Office and Program of Work for 1972 in the amount of $89,600 be approved. (Page 108.)

13. That churches which are already cooperating be commended and that all other churches be urged to furnish Synod's Office with an up-to-date roll and that these rolls be kept current by means of periodic reports of changes of address to Synod's Office.
14. That, in view of the recommendation of the Executive Committee on Educational Institutions, based on the Tamblyn and Brown Feasibility Study discouraging a capital gifts campaign for Synod's four educational institutions in 1972, Synod rescind the action of 1970 in reference to a joint campaign by the four institutions. (See Recommendation #10 of Synod's Council, 1970 Minutes of Synod, p. 83; and Recommendation #2 of the Report of the Executive Committee on Educational Institutions, page 153.)

A. Report of Auditor, Including Financial Statements

Committee on Finance and Auditing
Synod of North Carolina
Presbyterian Church in the United States
Raleigh, North Carolina

Gentlemen:

We have examined the balance sheet of the Synod of North Carolina, Presbyterian Church in the United States, Raleigh, North Carolina, as of December 31, 1970, and the related statements of income, changes in fund balances and statements of cash receipts and disbursements for the year then ended and have audited the following funds maintained by Dr. Harold J. Dudley, General Secretary and Treasurer:

Synod's Office General Fund
Church Extension Fund
Educational Institutions Fund
Synod's Office Fund
Public Relations Fund
Inter-Church Relations Fund
Permanent Reserve Fund
Campus Christian Life Fund
Contingent Salary Fund
Synod's Office Reserve Fund
Christian Higher Education Campaign Fund
Presbyterian Campus Christian Life Campaign Fund
Synod Secretary's Discretionary Fund
Foote's Sketches of North Carolina Book Fund
Christian Education Fund
Fleming's Historic Third Creek Church Book Fund
Presbyterian Office Building Expansion Fund
Presbyterian Guidance Program Fund Synod Foundation Facility Fund

Scope of Examination

We tested the recorded transactions to the extent of tracing the receipts to the depositories and verifying the amounts recorded by appropriate transmittal papers and correspondence, and verifying the contributions from the Presbyteries by direct confirmation. Church loans were also verified directly. Expenditures were supported by endorsed cancelled checks and invoices or signed receipts. These were found to be authorized in the minutes of committees and Synod's Council. Bank balances, which were confirmed by correspondence, were reconciled with balances shown on the books. We also ascertained from our analyses that disbursements were properly allocated.

Our examination included such tests of the accounting records and other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances, the books having been maintained on a cash basis. Our audit of the records of the Christian Higher Education Campaign Fund and the Presbyterian Campus Christian Life Campaign Fund, was limited to the recorded receipts and disbursements.

Opinion

In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheet and statements of income and changes in fund balances present fairly the financial position of the Synod of North Carolina, Presbyterian Church in the United States at December 31, 1970, and the results of the various funds' operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applicable to such organizations, maintaining the books and records on a cash basis, excluding the Assets and Fund Balance of the Kate B. Reynolds Trust Fund for Retired Presbyterian Ministers, which are shown at October 2, 1970, as taken from a statement prepared by Wachovia Bank and Trust Company, Winston-Salem, North Carolina, without audit or verification.

Exhibits and Schedules

In presenting to you our findings, as the result of the audit, we have prepared twenty-three Exhibits and twelve Schedules, as enumerated in the Index, which are attached as a part of this report.

General Comments

In Exhibit "A" - Assets and Liabilities - All Funds Combined - we show a combination of all assets and liabilities as we determined them on December 31, 1970. Inter-fund accounts have been eliminated. Assets totaled $1,699,793.82. Liabilities amounted to $1,754.09. The excess of assets over liabilities results in a surplus of $1,698,039.73. This is composed of $422,890.23 which was invested in fixed assets, $469,079.95 in Synod's fund balances, the Kate B. Reynold's trust balance of $546,128.05, and the A. T. McCallum Trust Fund principal of $259,941.50. The changes in fund balances are explained in the supporting Exhibits and Schedules referred to on Exhibit "A".

Synod's Office General Fund received and disbursed funds for Synod's various causes and funds administered by the General Secretary and Treasurer. All cash balances in the various funds are combined within the General Fund Cash Account except for $439.74 in the Educational Institutions Fund, and $1,036.26 in the Christian Education Fund, as shown in Exhibit "A". Cash and Savings and Loan Certificates totaled $176,644.78, of which $63,007.15 was available for support of Synod's causes. The balance of $113,637.63 is held for the various designated funds.

Following Exhibit "A", we have prepared statements for each fund showing the financial position or cash balance at December 31, 1970 and statement of income or statements of cash receipts and disbursements for the year then ended. In addition, we offer the following comments:

Investments represent securities which are part of the Presbyterian Office Building Expansion Fund, the Permanent Reserve Fund, and the Church Extension Committee Loan Fund. The securities and the dividends received are shown in detail on Exhibits "F" and "Q", and Schedule - 12.

Loans to churches and others total $279,888.73, as shown on Exhibit "A". Schedule - 7 shows the various funds which made the loans. The total of the unpaid balance of these loans includes accrued interest to December 31, 1970. This balance does not include a loan from the Permanent Reserve Fund to Synod's Office Fund. The original amount was $50,000.00. The balance was $22,866.81 at the close of 1970. Included in the loans from the Wharton Estate Fund is a loan to Presbyterian Home, Inc., in the original amount of $12,000.00.

Notes receivable from sale of Sadie Duncan Wharton Estate Property - $2,744.76 - represents the balance of two notes taken for the sale of houses in Raleigh, North Carolina, which were a bequest received from the Wharton Estate.

Synod's property and equipment are shown as General Fixed Assets totaling $422,890.23. This represents the cost of the various assets. Details and the changes made during the year 1970 are shown in Schedule - 8.

Included in the Assets of the Synod are assets of a trust fund administered by Wachovia Bank & Trust Company, Winston-Salem, North Carolina, John C. Whitaker and L. D. Long, Trustees, under the will of Kate B. Reynolds for Retired Ministers in the Synod of North Carolina. The Assets are shown as reported by the Trust Department of Wachovia Bank & Trust Company as of October 2, 1970.

Assets of the A. T. McCallum Trust Fund have been included in Synod's assets as of December 31, 1970. The assets are shown as reported in the Trust Fund's audit report, prepared by Archibald K. Lovin, C. P. A., for the year then ended.

In addition to the funds included in our audit, Synod also received memberships for the North Carolina Presbyterian Historical Society. Memberships received in 1970 totaled $625.00. Interest of $77.38 was earned on deposits, and miscellaneous income of $377.38 was received. Expenses amounted to $811.87. At December 31, 1970, there was $1,754.09 in the fund which is shown as a liability on the combined balance sheet.

A Permanent Advisory Committee on Higher Education was established by the Synod of 1955. The Committee's share of funds available in 1958 was $2,873.78. Interest on the funds deposited in a savings account has amounted to $384.48. Committee expenses have totaled $2,104.81, leaving a balance of $1,153.45.

Budgeted benevolences from the Presbyteries amounted to $947,661.07. Funds sent directly to Presbyterian Children's Home amounted to $25,399.47. Presbyterian Home, Inc., received $8,440.71 in direct gifts. These totaled $981,501.22. Distributions to the Synod's agencies were made according to the adopted budget.

Presbytery tax assessments for the support of Synod's office amounted to $74,085.52.

Synod's Office General Fund received and disbursed designated receipts for Presbyterian Children's Home, Presbyterian Guidance Program, Presbyterian Home, Inc., and Catechism awards. The details of these transactions are shown on Schedules -1, -2, - 3, and - 4, respectively.

Support of the Synod's Educational Institutions and other Higher Education agencies was based on a net of $450,558.80 for distribution after expenses of the fund. The amounts and percentages are shown on Exhibit "I".

Synod's support of the North Carolina Council of Churches was disbursed from Presbytery benevolence receipts. These funds were received and disbursed by the Inter-Church Relations Fund - Exhibit "N".

Synod's Office Reserve Fund has been supported by surplus funds from Synod's Office Account, profits realized on printing and services rendered churches, and interest on deposits. Interest earned on general funds during the year amounted to $432.16. Expenses disbursed from this fund for the year totaled $1,877.95. Cash balance at December 31, 1970, was $7,364.31. Cash transactions during the year are shown in detail in Exhibit "T".

The Contingent Salary Fund had a cash balance of $14,404.04 at the end of the year. During 1970, $466.27 was transferred to Inter-Church Relations Fund to offset a 1969 deficit, and $25.00 was disbursed for audit expense. All transactions are shown in detail in Exhibit "S".

The Synod's Office Building, located at 1015 Wade Avenue, Raleigh, North Carolina, was completed in 1960. Purchase of land, and construction, necessitated borrowing $50,000.00 from the Permanent Reserve Fund. The following funds are currently budgeting for retirement of this loan:

Synod's Office Fund	$1,500.00 per annum
Church Extension Fund	1,500.00 per annum
Campus Christian Life Fund	600.00 per annum
Educational Institutional Fund	900.00 per annum

The liability is being carried in the Synod Office Operating Fund and the unpaid balance at December 31, 1970 was $22,866.81.

The Christian Higher Education Campaign was begun in 1956 and the records have been maintained in Synod's Office. On Schedule - 5, the current year's receipts and disbursements are shown and the totals to December 31, 1970. Our audit of receipts was made from summaries of subscriptions and payments. The subscriptions through December 31, 1970, after cancellations, totaled $1,618,585.79 and had been collected at December 31, 1970, thus, closing the campaign. 1970 net receipts were transferred to St. Andrews Presbyterian College Fund, Inc., and the Campus Christian Life Campaign Fund.

Synod allowed the Campus Christian Life Committee to conduct a campaign in 1958 to raise $300,000.00 which was the amount unpledged in the Christian Higher Education Campaign and needed to implement the program of work initiated by the Committee. The campaign was supervised by the firm of Ward, Dreshman and Reinhardt, New York, New York. Campaign receipts have totaled $273,139.74. Campus Christian Life's share of the Christian Higher Education Campaign gifts was $186,543.75 to December 31, 1970. Interest earned on savings had totaled $12,626.26. The Board of Christian Education contributed $23,000.00 from its challenge funds. The disbursements include 1958 campaign expenses of $40,450.89. Capital expenditures in college areas totaled $426,931.85. The fund's balance of cash at December 31, 1970, was $18,237.55. Details of the year's transactions are shown on Schedule - 6.

Synod's office published a reprint of Foote's Sketches of North Carolina during 1964 and 1965. Receipts have totaled $13,144.20 through 1970 and expenses were $10,972.89, resulting in a surplus of $2,171.31. Schedule - 10 has been prepared to show the receipts and disbursements.

Synod's office published John K. Fleming's "Historic Third Creek Presbyterian Church". Schedule - 11 shows the receipts and disbursements through December 31, 1970.

Funds to finance an expansion of Synod's office building were received in the Presbyterian Office Building Expansion Fund. Cash received during the year to apply on pledges receivable totaled $3,778.30. Securities in this Fund in the form of 160 shares of Waccamaw Corporation common stock, with a $5.00 per share par value, are carried on Synod's books at a total value of $5,040.00, which was the fair market value, at date of receipt, of Waccamaw Bank and Trust Company stock exchanged for this stock. All transactions for the year are detailed in Schedule - 12.

Distribution from the A. T. McCallum Trust Fund amounted to $11,401.98 in 1970 and $2,977.20 was distributed from the L. Richardson, Sr. Trust Fund. These funds were distributed according to the treasurer of the fund.

Income and budgeted expenses of Synod's Christian Education Fund are shown on Exhibit "V". The Office of Christian Education is located in Charlotte, North Carolina. Expenses of the office and the committee on Christian Education, except for salaries and payroll related items, are paid by Synod's office on an imprest basis, refunding the Charlotte office for expenses incurred. Our audit covered the request for funds and expenses paid by Synod's office. The supporting documents for the expenditures made from the Charlotte office were audited by the committee's independent certified public accountant. These were found to be fairly stated in all material respects and are accepted by us without taking exception to our opinion on the fund's statements.

A study to determine the feasibility of establishing a Foundation Facility for the Synod was started in 1968. The study resulted in the incorporation of Synod of North Carolina Presbyterian Foundation, Inc. on June 22, 1970. Funds remaining at December 31, 1969 in the Fund for Foundation Feasibility Study became part of the Synod Foundation Facility Fund. Exhibit "W" shows in detail the other receipts of the fund and disbursements for the year 1970. At December 31, 1970 the assets consisting of cash totaled $10,451.90

Synod's records are maintained on a cash basis. The books were not closed until all funds for the year were received from the Presbyteries in order that all receipts for the year January 1, 1970 to December 31, 1970, could be included. Likewise, some expenses for the year were paid after December 31, 1970, and the cash balances shown herein are after including these in the disbursements.

We found a depositor's forgery bond in force for $10,000.00; fire insurance on contents of the office $42,000.00; blanket position bond for $25,000.00; open stock safe burglary; and fire insurance on the office building for $87,500.00. Synod's office and Campus Christian Life Centers are covered by a multi-peril policy totaling $200,000.00 on buildings and personal property and $300,000.00 general liability. Policies on buildings and personal property at Durham, North Carolina, Greensboro, North Carolina, and Greenville, North Carolina, carry a 90% co-insurance clause. We also found a fire insurance policy covering buildings and personal property of the Guidance Center, Laurinburg, North Carolina in the amount of $80,000.00, with an 80% co-insurance clause, and a multi-peril policy in the total amount of $129,500.00

The books and records were in balance and accurately kept.

We wish to express our appreciation for the courtesies extended us and the assistance and cooperation rendered by the entire personnel, which greatly facilitated our work.

We examined the minutes of the Secretary and found the approved procedures currently adhered to.

Very truly yours,

A. T. ALLEN & COMPANY

IV. REPORT OF DIRECTORS, SYNOD PRESBYTERIAN FOUNDATION, INC.

Judge William E. Graham, President

In 1970 Synod adopted the Articles of Incorporation of the Synod of North Carolina Presbyterian Foundation, Inc. and the Bylaws.

On September 1, 1970 the Board of Directors met in Synod's Office, Raleigh, for the purpose of organizing according to the Articles and Bylaws. The following Directors were present: Archie W. McLean, J. Lyman Kiser, Murphy Evans, James Morgan, William H. Neal, Thomas L. Young, Alex Urquhart, R. D. Grier, Mrs. Leonard Ascough, Mrs. J. C. Childers, and Rev. Harold J. Dudley.

The following members were excused from attendance: M. C. Benton, Gene A. Cathey, and Willis C. Smith.

Clifton A. Poole of Hickory advised that he would be unable to serve as a Director and the Directors proceeded to elect Joseph W. Grier of Charlotte to replace him.

The permanent organization of the Board was delayed in order that a Nominating Committee, composed of Murphy Evans, Chairman, Mrs. Leonard Ascough, and James Morgan might meet, consider the field, and bring in nominations at a subsequent meeting.

Archie W. McLean was elected President, pro tem, and the Rev. Harold J. Dudley, Executive Secretary-Treasurer, until the next meeting of the Board.

Appreciation was expressed to Attorney Thomas L. Young of Rocky Mount for services, rendered gratis, in drawing up the Articles and Bylaws; and to Mr. McLean and Dr. Dudley for services in bringing the Foundation into existence.

The Board convened again on February 27, 1971, and heard a report from the Committee on Nominations. The name of Judge William E. Graham, Jr., of Raleigh, was presented in nomination for President of the Board. Judge Graham was unanimously elected President, pending the resignation from the Board later in the meeting of Mr. McLean, whose resignation in due time was accepted with regret, following which Judge Graham was elected to fill the vacancy created by Mr. McLean's resignation.

On nomination the Rev. Harold J. Dudley was elected Secretary-Treasurer until the next annual meeting.

Procedural matters were approved.

Recommendations:

1. That the Bylaws be amended in the following places as indicated:

   (a) That in Article II:3, the last sentence appearing below be deleted:

   "Such slate shall present at least two names for every seat to be filled and the persons who shall receive a plurality of votes cast on a single ballot for each seat to be filled shall be elected director".

(b) That Article III:1 in reference to "regular meetings" be amended to read "Regular annual Meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held within ninety days subsequently to the annual meeting of the Synod of North Carolina, at the Principal Office. In addition, the Board of Directors may provide by resolution for the holding of additional regular meetings".

2. That the following be elected directors:

Class of 1972: Joseph W. Grier, to succeed Clifton A. Poole, resigned; and Vernol Robert Jansen to succeed William H. Neal, resigned.

Class of 1974: J. Lyman Kiser and Murphy Evans to succeed themselves; Judge William E. Graham to succeed Archie W. McLean, resigned; and Charles R. Huntington, Winston-Salem, and Harry F. Wolfe, Jr., Charlotte, to replace M. C. Benton and Gene A. Cathey.

V. REPORTS OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEES

A. Report of Executive Committee on Campus Christian Life

Reverend Will H. Terry, Chairman

Never before has the college campus needed Christian presence as it does today. In a morass of meaninglessness, hopelessness, boredom, and antinomianism, coupled with students of great potential, the best of training, a strong sense of justice, and a great desire for world peace, we find the context for our ministry.

It is in this setting that your Campus Christian Life Committee is called to plan a ministry. There is no ministry more elusive than that on the college campus, yet none more needed. There is no ministry more frustrating, yet none more rewarding, no ministry more fraught with despair, yet none more thrilling. The campus ministry cannot be measured by statistics; students of this generation are not joiners. The campus ministry cannot be measured by elaborate programs, for this is a generation which lives spontaneously. The low profile of Campus Christian Life makes its appeal to the Synod difficult, but no less important to the mission of the church, evangelistically and socially.

Our campus ministry is richly blessed with fine ministers, good intellectual gifts, pastoral concerns, and creative capacities to attract and serve students. This year's work of Synod's committee has fallen chiefly on the shoulders of a long-range planning committee appointed by Synod's Executive Committee. This Committee was composed of Dr. R. A. Schrimper (North Carolina State), Chairman, Dr. Doralyn Hickey (Duke), Dean Roger Decker (St. Andrews), and the Reverend Milton Carothers (Duke Campus Minister). The Committee sought to look at the work of Presbyterian campus ministry in the context of the ministry being done by other denominations on the campuses of our Synod.

Their charge was as follows: 1) to consider the orders of priority and financial expenditures for campus ministry in the Synod of North Carolina; 2) to work on a salary policy for campus ministers in our Synod; 3) to study the composition of the CCL Committee; 4) to suggest ways of improving the job the committee does in its apology for campus ministry to the church at large.

The Committee, in line with this charge, affirms its belief in the need for an inter-denominational strategy in the allocation of personnel and moneys on North Carolina campuses. The decisions about employment or replacement of campus ministers, for example, must not be made along exclusively denominational lines. The Presbyterian Church in the United States' priority should be established only in cooperation with other Christian ministries. In the matters of salary policies for campus ministers, and the composition of the Executive Committee of the Campus Christian Life Committee of the Synod, the Long-Range Planning Committee made its recommendation to enhance the professionalism of Presbyterian campus ministries, and to increase the representativeness and effectiveness of the Synod's committee.

Specific recommendations of the Committee were as follows:

First, procedures for filling vacancies when they occur:

1) When a vacancy occurs, the local Campus Christian Life Committee, together with a representative of Synod's Committee, is to determine whether it is possible to enter into a joint ministry with other denominations to provide mutual support and structure for the ministry.

2) Where it is feasible to form a joint ministry, a joint committee is to study and evaluate the situation, using the resources available in the regional offices of the United Ministries of Higher Education and Synod's Campus Christian Life Committee.

3) If a joint ministry is not possible, then the local Presbyterian Campus Christian Life Committee is to consult Synod's committee before searching for and securing the services of a new campus minister.

Second, the Long-Range Planning Committee, in considering the membership of the Campus Christian Life Committee, ought to solve three problems - 1) the lack of any significant student input into the Committee's deliberation; 2) the need to clarify the role of Presbytery's Campus Christian Life Chairmen in the structure of the campus ministry; and 3) the need to guard against the self-perpetuation of the committee membership. (The results of their efforts may be found in recommendation #2 to the Synod at the end of this report.) The Committee's report was received and adopted by the Executive Committee with gratitude.

New Work - The Executive Committee on Campus Christian Life has joined with the Methodists to inaugurate a campus ministry at the University of North Carolina-Charlotte. The Reverend David Frye will be the minister. This is the first year that the Charlotte campus has had resident students, and therefore this will be the first full-time campus minister of any denomination on the Charlotte campus.

Presbyterians in Wilmington are working with several denominations to form a united campus ministry. It is their hope, in conjunction with these denominations, to call a campus minister in 1972.

The First Presbyterian Church in Boone is seeking to begin a campus ministry for Appalachian, using the format of an assistant minister who would also work with youth at the First Church and preach at a neighboring home mission church.

Campus Ministers - The roster of campus ministers has remained fairly constant this year. The Reverend Carl Culberson is the minister at the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill, Dr. Z. N. Holler at N. C. State, the Reverend Milton S. Carothers at Duke University, the Reverend John Miller at East Carolina University, the Reverend William E. Kercheval at Winston-Salem. The Reverend Lloyd Dies came to the North Carolina A&T University as the united campus minister there. The Reverend Laura Buzard was ordained and installed as the Minister to Nursing Students at Presbyterian Hospital in Charlotte.

The Reverend Robert Massey resigned as the minister to students at Fayetteville State College to accept a new work in Winston-Salem. The Reverend James Allen has become the Dean of Students at the University of North Carolina-Greensboro and has resigned as the Campus Minister on that campus.

Finances - Finances are still the number one problem facing the campus ministry in North Carolina. Rising costs not matched by available funds are the bind in which we find ourselves. The local Campus Christian Life Committee presents us with realistic budgets to do the work they feel called to do in their particular location; Synod's Committee has to trim, and then due to a lack of available funds, the Council cannot meet the budget. The plain fact is that year by year Synod will have fewer centers in operation or a united ministry with other denominations, which will take the place of Presbyterian work there. Financial necessity will make ecumenicity a reality.

Recommendations:

1) That Synod express appreciation to the Reverend Robert Massey for his faithful service at Fayetteville State University and the Reverend James Allen for his excellent services to the students at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

2) That Synod approve the request of the Executive Committee on Campus Christian Life to change the method of election and composition of the Committee as follows:

Membership: The Committee shall be composed of members as follows: a) The Chairman of each Presbytery's Campus Christian Life Committee, or a duly elected representative of the Presbytery; b) six students, representative of the areas where full-time campus ministries are currently being supported by the Synod; c) three full-time campus ministers sponsored by Synod; d) nine members-at-large from Synod; e) the Synodical President (Ex Officio); and f) a Chairman-at-large. The former shall be arranged in classes whose terms of service shall be for three years. Members shall be chosen for their knowledge of and interest in the program of Christian Higher Education. Each Presbytery's representative shall endeavor to promote the cause in his Presbytery.

3) That the 1972 budget of the Synod of North Carolina for Campus Christian Life be approved at $107,000.

B. Report of the Executive Committee of Christian Education

Reverend H. Edwin Pickard, Chairman

As the Synod of North Carolina has moved into the '70s, the Executive Committee of Christian Education has attempted to redefine its norms and objectives and to establish priorities for its educational mission. Considerable time has been spent by the entire committee and by special ad hoc committees in this process.

In view of declining church school enrollments and church-wide participation in all denominations, including our own, the committee is projecting new and innovative possibilities for Christian education in this decade. Through our Synod Christian education staff and Area Directors we are seeking to provide assistance and resources as close to the particular church as possible, recognizing that this is where the primary job in Christian education has to be done. These staff persons will be sharing the results of pilot projects with particular churches and with the Presbytery Christian education committees of Synod.

The Committee of Christian Education has felt hampered in its task during this interim period. While awaiting the final decision on Presbytery boundaries, it has not wished to employ replacement Area Directors as various persons have resigned. The Committee is planning to provide the services of Area Directors to each of the Presbyteries as Synod's resources permit under emerging structures. Because of the financial stress experienced by the Board of Christian Education, beginning in 1972 the Synod through its Committee of Christian Education will assume responsibility for the full support of our Regional Director. Presbyteries, in turn, will need to share in providing adequate Christian education staff for Presbyteries.

The members of the Christian Education Committee have been diligent in attendance at committee and council meetings, and in fulfilling their assigned tasks. We continue to be grateful for the wise and helpful guidance of our Regional Director, the Reverend Robert Turner. He, in turn, has been ably assisted by Miss Beatrice Kiser, Assistant to the Regional Director, and the Area Directors: Mrs. John F. Cheney, Jr., Fayetteville; Miss Sarah K. Wilson, Kings Mountain; Mrs. Frank S. Jones, Mecklenburg; Miss Sara McNeill, Orange; Miss Donna Cook, Wilmington; and Mrs. Earl F. Thompson, Winston-Salem. Mrs. Edward Hyatt has served as Interim Office Coordinator for Granville Presbytery, and the above Area Directors have sought to provide services to Presbyteries where other Area Directors have resigned, during the interim period while restructuring of bounds of Presbyteries is proceeding. Their devotion and their professional competence offer constant inspiration.

The work done by your committee is reflected in the reports of the Councils, Cabinets, and Ad Hoc Committees.

CABINET ON ADULT WORK

Mrs. Joseph C. Estes, Jr., Chairman

The chairman of the Adult Cabinet served as a leader in the Adult CLC Lab section at the North Carolina Christian Education Conference at Montreat in June, 1970. She attended the November meeting of Synod's C. E. Committee, the staff meeting which planned for the 1971 North Carolina Christian Education Conference and the workshop at St. Andrews Presbyterian College in February of 1971.

The Adult Cabinet met in Asheboro in December 1970 with members from five Presbyteries and the minister representative of the Men of the Church Council.

Most Presbyteries sent a team of 3 persons to the Regional Curriculum Building Workshop held in Charlotte, N. C. sponsored by the Board of Christian Education. All of the leaders, with the exception of those from the Board, came from this Synod.

In Winston-Salem Presbytery a task force worked with three selected churches as a pilot program for development of curriculum building.

Amity Church of Charlotte was invited by the Board of Christian Education to be a key church in local curriculum planning and is currently serving in this capacity.

Several adults participated in the Discovery Learning Workshop sponsored by the Synod.

In most Presbyteries workshops and previews were held for teachers and leaders of adults.

CABINET ON YOUTH WORK

Rev. James T. Frazier, Chairman

During the past year Synod's Youth Cabinet met two times. Each meeting was held in the First Presbyterian Church, Asheboro, N. C.

At the December 3, 1970 meeting the cabinet, following Bill Peterson's suggestion, used the day for training presbytery chairmen. Mr. Bill Peters met with us and shared Orange Presbytery's experience in Summer Camping. Mr. Lee Atkins was also present to share his experience with Youth-Adult groups that meet to bridge the communication gap.

At the April 20, 1971 meeting the cabinet, again following Bill Peterson's suggestions of a year ago, used the day to exchange resources and what's happening in the presbyteries. Some very good resources were shared with those few who were present. A list of these resources was mailed to all cabinet members.

Rev. Bob Turner, Miss Donna Cook and Mr. Bill Favor reported that they attended the Regional Youth consultation (UPUSA and US) in Atlanta at Camp Calvin on February 5, 6, and 7, 1971.

Mr. Ken Doxey attended a Training Workshop for the Youth Club Movement at Massanetta Springs in Virginia.

Synod's Youth Cabinet has only one recommendation:

"That Synod's Christian Education Committee arrange through Synod's Program Committee to have a room set up at the June 8-9, 1971 Synod Meeting to display resources in all areas of the Christian Education Committee's work and that Miss Donna Cook co-ordinate the collection and showing of the resources."

CABINET ON CHILDREN'S WORK

Mrs. William McCorkle, Chairman

The Cabinet on Children's Work, through its annual meeting in Asheboro, provided opportunity for Presbytery Chairmen of Children's Work to come to a better understanding of their responsibility through sharing materials and resources, special needs and concerns, plans for training events, and through receiving information about new emphases and trends in Christian Education. Special features of the meeting this year were a presentation of the materials on Hunger as it relates to children and as discussion of the Through the Week series led by Dr. Samuel S. Wiley, Executive Director of the N. C. Council of Churches.

Training offered to leaders throughout the Synod included many creative and innovative events such as workshops for Discovery-Learning, Curriculum Building, Creative Teaching Skills, Summer Activities. Other workshops for week-day kindergarten teachers offered a better understanding of "the usual and the unusual child" and use of the Winter-Haven Testing for reading readiness.

Presbytery Activities included;

(1) Helped sponsor a kindergarten in rural church which has moved to complete self support this year.

(2) Sent one person to Instroteach Workshop, Louisville, Ky.

(3) Provided skills workshop.

(4) Sponsored persons to N. C. Christian Education Conference.

(5) Sponsored persons to Discovery-Learning Workshop (Synod).

(6) Engaged in planning Discovery-Learning Workshops in Presbytery.

(7) Appeared before legislature to support AFDC.

(8) Local church consultations studying the total ministry of the church to children.

(9) Demonstration teaching, observation with follow-up conference.

(10) Training for consultants in children's work

(11) Helping with establishment, observing, giving aid in securing equipment.

COUNCIL ON HOME AND FAMILY MINISTRY

Rev. Paul H. Felker, Chairman

The Home and Family Ministry is not dead within our church! It has been going through a period of transition but it is as vitally important to the life of the church today as when it first began.

A joint home and family ministry shall be an attempt to help our congregations minister to households and families in their varying needs by study, experimentation, development and brokering of resources. Thus in the local churches we must ascertain the needs of our families and offer help to them as they wrestle with various problems, issues and concerns. The possibilities of ministry are limited only to the creativity of the responsible committee.

The Leader's Almanac in the Presbyterian Survey of December 7, 1970 contains a wealth of information on what various churches and presbyteries are doing in the Home and Family. Study this to get good ideas for your church, but seek to creatively meet the existing needs.

A wealth of excellent Home and Family materials are available through the secular press as well as those produced by our church. Study your Presbyterian curriculum catalogue and see that Home and Family materials are suggested for use in church school classes, vacation church school women's circles, family groups, youth groups, etc. There are many possibilities of studies which will aid the growth of families in your congregation. Attempt something for the families of God and He will bless your efforts. Then having had success write a simple report to the Family Life Division of the Board of Christian Education; it will be reported in the subsequent issues of the Leader's Almanac to assist others.

The N. C. Christian Education Conference will not have a Family Life Workshop this year. However, you may be interested in attending Family Life Conference in Charlotte on October 1 and 2 which is sponsored by the N. C. Family Life Council. For information write:

Fall Rally: "Family Communication" Charlie Shedd to speak to youth and adults

Weekend Family Camping

Encouraged use of "Image of the Christian Family" for Vacation Church Schools.

Several churches had weekend camp retreats with emphasis on Home and Family ecology.

MEN'S WORK

Edgar Wells, Chairman

The Synod Men's Council continues to promote the involvement of men in the Mission of the Church through the training of its own members to assist in this endeavor in Presbyteries and local churches.

For the first time the Men's Council of the Synod and the Women of the Synodical are cooperating to sponsor a "Men-Women" Conference in Montreat, June 11 - 13. A successful conference involving more than 450 men was held in Montreat last year. It is anticipated that this number will be surpassed this summer.

All Presbyteries, except Albemarle, have an active Men's Council which sponsors rallies for men and promotes the involvement of men in the life and work of the Church, both on Presbytery and local church level.

Plans are being firmed up, both on Synod and Presbytery level to support and promote the "Church Convention" to be held in Atlanta, Ga., October 14 - 17, 1971.

Recommendations to Synod:

1. That the Synod authorize the Synod Men's Conference and the North Carolina Christian Education Conference to hold a communion service during their conferences.
2. That the Synod adopt the Budget of the Christian Education Committee for 1972 in the amount $80,000.00 from Budgeted Benevolences.
3. That the Synod adopt the Budget of the Presbyterian Guidance Program for 1972 in the amount of $38,000.00 from Budgeted Benevolences.
4. That the report of the Christian Education Committee including the report of the Presbyterian Guidance Program be adopted.

SYSTEMATIC STUDY COUNCIL

Rev. Lee W. Adkins, Chairman

INTERPERSONAL RELATIONS AD HOC COMMITTEE

Pursuant to the action of the Christian Education Committee, "That an Ad Hoc Committee of three persons be appointed, responsible to the Systematic Study Council . . . . . ", the following persons have been invited and have agreed to serve as members of the Ad Hoc Committee: Rev. John A. Wilkerson, Jr., Hickory; Rev. S. R. Tippens, Jr., Chapel Hill; and the Rev. John Laughlin, Charlotte.

The Ad Hoc Committee will be responsible to recommend programs personnel and for the conducting of Interpersonal Relations learning experience.

CAMPING AD HOC COMMITTEE

As directed by the C. E. Committee, the Camp Directors and other persons concerned with camping have held two meetings called and chaired by Rev. James S. R. Tippens, Jr., Camp Director, Camp New Hope, Chapel Hill, N. C.

Upon recommendation of this ad hoc group, the Christian Education Committee has formed a Cabinet of Outdoor Christian Education under the Systematic Study Council. This Cabinet will consist of a chairman appointed by the Council and the chairman of each Presbytery Camping Committee plus one person representing each camp facility. The purpose and function of the Cabinet will be: a. Coordinate synod camping activities in the future – for example: 1. central purchasing, 2. opportunity for campers to take advantage of special programs in whole synod; b. Be instrument of communication between camps; c. Keep abreast of trends and directions in camping and keep Presbyteries informed. The Committee has also approved the employment of the consultant team of Bone and Brittan of Philadelphia to assist in a comprehensive study of camping program and facilities across the Synod. The expense of this is being borne by voluntary commitments from Presbyteries.

2. COUNCIL ON PRESBYTERIAN GUIDANCE PROGRAM

Rev. Tom B. Anderson, Chairman

Rev. Alfred E. Thomas, Director

I. Program

The Presbyterian Guidance Program is dedicated to (1) enhancing ones understanding of the vocation of a Christian, (2) increasing self-understanding as to ones interests, values, abilities and personality as these affect career considerations, and (3) affording an opportunity for educational and occupational exploration.

The Progarm is an example of local church leaders working closely and effectively with a Synod Program in behalf of young people, college students and adults.

With a competent staff and adequate facilities the Presbyterian Guidance Center at Laurinburg is the focal point for an intensive two-day experience in career exploration. Young people spend several months of pre-counseling preparation with a vocational aide in the local church before coming to the Center. Appointments are made for adults at any time, within schedule limitations, without prior preparation.

II. Staff

Dr. Alfred Thomas became Director of the Program in June 1970. Under a joint appointment with St. Andrews he serves part-time as Associate Professor of Psychology and teaches one course each term. He succeeded Dr. Logan Cockrum who is now an Associate Professor at the University of Virginia.

Mr. Elbert Patton began a year's leave of absence in September to meet residency requirements at Duke in a doctoral program in counseling. During the summer he taught a course at the College and assisted in the Academic Enrichment Workshop in addition to his regular duties.

Mrs. Lucylle Keylon succeeded Mr. Rowland New as Counselor, coming to this position from that of Assistant Dean of Students at St. Andrews. Mr. New resigned to accept a position with a community college in Maryland.

III. Public Relations

Questions regarding the Program have come from industries, private schools, public schools, college and graduate students, in addition to the many requests from churches.

The Presbytery Chairmen and committees have served as the main liason between the Center and local churches. A workshop was held in Asheboro for Chairmen. Other workshops have been held for vocational aides in several Presbyteries. The Director, in addition, presented the Program at meetings of Presbyteries, leadership schools, and in local churches.

IV. New Materials

All materials and forms used in the Program are undergoing a complete revision. A Guidance Section in the Christian Education Conference at Montreat, June 18 - 24, will serve to give an orientation to the new materials, although they will not be available for use by churches before late fall.

Recommendations:

1. That each Presbytery Christian Education Committee be urged to establish a Presbyterian Guidance Program Sub-Committee.
2. To encourage local churches to secure the new materials for use in the Presbyterian Guidance Program (Materials available in the fall).
3. That Synod express appreciation for the services of Dr. Robert Davidson, retiring Dean of St. Andrews Presbyterian College, as a member of the Presbyterian Guidance Program Committee.
4. That the fees for the Presbyterian Guidance Program be increased as follows:

High School - Presbyterian	$30.00
High School - Non Presbyterian	$45.00
Adult - Presbyterian	$45.00
Adult - Non-Presbyterian	$60.00

C. Report of the Executive Committee of Church Extension – 1970

Reverend J. Murphy Smith, Chairman

PREAMBLE

The Executive Committee of Church Extension has the responsibility for administering certain bequests to Synod, loan funds, and the permanent reserve fund; direction of the office of TRAV; oversight of special ministries conducted by Synod; and reporting to Synod on evangelistic and home mission activities in the Presbyteries. We would call your attention to the apparent renewed interest in evangelism in some areas of our Synod, and increased efforts in some of the Presbyteries to serve and reach some special groups in the communities in which some of our Churches are located. Some comments on the work of this committee by Synod's Executive Secretary, Dr. Harold Dudley, deserve your special attention.

REPORT OF GENERAL SECRETARY

Harold J. Dudley

Since my retirement is immiment, it is incumbent upon me to present a final Report, summarizing the financial status of the Committee, and to offer some pertinent observations for your perusal, immediately or remotely.

The total assets in loan funds, securities, and investments, delivered to me by my predecessor in 1951 were $154,864.66. Today, not including the A. T. McCallum Trust Fund, these approximate $350,000. Had the interest rate on loans to churches been higher than 4%, the figure would have been nearer to $400,000 available for loans and investments. The returns from these funds may be used for increasing the loan funds; or in some specific cases for purposes designated in bequests; or in regard to undesignated funds as the Committee may designate.

The total amount specifically available for loans as of December 31, 1970 follows:

Church and Manse Loan Fund -	$223,849.09
Permanent Reserve Fund -	87,399.63
TOTAL LOAN AND RESERVE FUNDS	$311,248.72

Other assets include the following:

Wharton Bequest	$ 22,868.91
A. T. McCallum Bequest	272,981.23
Sarah J. Hutchison Bequest	4,500.00
Thomas L. Wilson, Sr., Bequest	?
	$ 300,350.14
Total Loan and Reserve Funds	311,248.72
TOTAL LOAN & INVESTMENT FUNDS	$ 611,598.86

In addition, the Committee has additional assets in furniture and equipment, held by the Departments of Special Ministries and TRAV, the exact value of which has not been determined.

The Certificate of Incorporation of the Committee on Home Missions, papers relating to loans, including notes, insurance policies, deeds of trusts, copies of wills, et al. are filed in appropriate places in Synod's Office.

The functions of this Committee have changed rather extensively during the past twenty years. In 1951, the Committee on Home Missions had under its aegis concern for supplementary salary sustentation of Home Missions Ministers (called "field workers") in five Presbyteries to the extent of $25,940. Today the Committee has no responsibility in this area. The same Committee at that time appropriated each year up to as much as $20,000 for "grants in aid". This service has also disappeared.

Then, there was a Department of Church and Manse Erection, with a full-time director in charge of counseling churches in reference to building programs. The Department of Evangelism was quite active, and at one time, Synod employed a full-time evangelist. Nine years before employing a Director of TRAV, a Department of Radio was maintained, and your Secretary promoted regular radio programs over more than forty stations.

There was a Department of Negro Work which was limited in its effectiveness by virture of the fact that opportunities themselves were limited within the Synod.

The Committee employed a full-time Sunday School Extension Worker, whose responsibility was surveying for extension through the establishment of Sunday Schools.

Today, the four main activities of your Committee are promoted through TRAV, the Presbyterian News, Special Ministries, and the Department of Loans. The latter is the equivalent of a small business since the amount available for loans as has been indicated above, approximates $350,000 with a constant number of loans exceeding twenty-five. In view of the various funds related to the Committee, the loan funds and others, there is no inconsiderable amount of business, including banking, negotiating loans, investing, et al.

1. Finance: Presbyteries paid 89.3% of Askings in 1970, or $47,504.66 of the Budget Asking, which was $53,190. The deficit of income from presbyteries was $5,685.34. Other income included $625.00 from the Board of National Ministries designated for the Butner Ministry; $144.09 from the Richardson Trust Fund; and $2,792.49 from the Reserve Funds for support of the Butner Ministry, a total of $51,066.24 against a budget total of $58,690, $7,623.76 under the budget.

The total expenses were $53,309.53, or $2,243.29 in excess of income but $5,380.47 less than the budget. Fortunately, we had a surplus at the end of 1970 which made it possible to operate without a deficit, and as a matter of fact with a balance at the end of 1970 of $4,218.05.

We were not able to retain $10,000 in the budget at the end of the year, as was ordered by the Committee some years ago for the purpose of assuring salaries for the first quarter of the year.

2. Acceptances by Presbyteries, 1971: The presbyteries have accepted 1971 Askings of 86.68%. For Church Extension this means $49,423 of the Budget-Askings of $57,017. Anticipated income for 1971 follows:

From Presbyteries	$49,423
From Reserve Funds	2,500
From Richardson Trust	120
	$52,043

The actual budget for Church Extension for 1971 is $60,686, thus we have an anticipated deficit of $8,643. To meet this in part there are two sources: (1) A balance as of December 31, 1970 of $606.62; (2) TRAV Reserve of $3,617.43.

3. Loan Funds: At the end of 1970 there were 31 loans (34 last year) ranging up to approximately $40,000. Loans are made at 4% interest and are properly secured. Income from the Church and Manse Loan Fund is returned to the corpus.

The Church and Manse Loan Fund, as of December 31, 1970, was valued at $223,849.09 in contrast to $211,187.05 the year before.

The Permanent Reserve Fund, as of December 31, 1970 was valued at $87,399.63, an increase of $8,037.27. In this account are the following bequests: Mrs. A. T. McCallum Bequest; A. T. McCallum Bequest; Mrs. Elizabeth Osborn Bequest; Mrs. Sarah J. Hutchison Bequest; Samuel Andrews Grier Bequest; and securities valued at $5,940.

4. Bequests:

(1) Wharton Bequest: The Wharton Bequest was received in 1958 and 1959 from the estate of the late Mrs. Sadie Duncan Wharton, widow of the late C. P. Wharton of Raleigh. As of December 31, 1970 the bequest had a value of $22,868.91. For a full report, see "Auditor's Report".

(2) A. T. McCallum Bequest: Synod came into possession of the A. T. McCallum Estate in 1961, when it was valued at approximately $250,000. The latest audit represents the value at $272,981.23 and in 1970 Synod received for distribution in accordance with Item VI (G) of the will a total of $11,401.98 representing earnings for 1969. This amount was distributed according to the terms of the will. Of the amount earned, Synod received a total of $6,967.88 ($3,800.66 to Barium Springs Children's Home; $1,266.89 to Glade Valley School; and $1,900.33 to Synod's Home Missions).

(3) Mrs. Elizabeth C. Osborn Bequest: The original bequest was in the amount of $1,000.00. Mrs. Osborn who resided in Greensboro, died in 1957, leaving 10 shares of paid up stock in Gate City Savings and Loan Association, shares having a constant value of $1,000. Bequest received in full and invested.

(4) Samuel Andrew Grier Bequest: In May, 1963, Synod received a Bequest in the amount of $1,468.95 from the Estate of Samuel Andrew Grier of Barium Springs to be used for Evangelistic work. (See Synod Minutes of 1963, page 118). This is invested, and the income is used in the manner stipulated in the will.

(5) Sarah J. Hutchison Bequest: In November, 1963, A. Walton Litz, Associate Director of the Presbyterian Foundation, Inc. advised the General Secretary that under a legacy left to the Presbyterian Foundation in 1926 by Mrs. Sarah J. Hutchison of Charlotte, the "Home Missions Work" of the Synod of North Carolina would receive the income from the legacy of $4,500. In 1970, Synod received $267.79 from the bequest.

(6) Thomas L. Wilson, Sr. Memorial Fund: In October, 1953, the American Trust Company, Charlotte, N. C. advised that Thomas Lee Wilson, Sr. of Gastonia had left a bequest in his will [IX, (c), (2)] to be known as the "Memorial Fund bearing the name of Thomas Lee Wilson, Senior, Gastonia, North Carolina". This provides that 2½% of the residue of the Estate be designated for the "Home Missions Committee of the Synod of North Carolina in connection with the Presbyterian Church, United States, with the principal office presently located in Greensboro, North Carolina." In 1970, Synod received from the bequest $209.55.

(7) Mrs. A. T. McCallum Bequest: This Bequest was originally for $5,924.42. The bequest is invested, and the income is either used to support Special Ministries or accrues.

(8) Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Robinson, Sr. and Children Fund: In 1970, Mr. Ralph S. Robinson, Jr. advised the General Secretary that it was the intention of his family to reactivate the "Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Robinson, Sr. and Children Fund", and he was advised that the Fund had a value as of December 31, 1969 of $35,553.69. During 1970 the family increased the Fund by stocks at a total value of $1,024.75. In addition, during 1970, the Fund was increased from earnings at 4% in the amount of $1,422.15, giving the Fund a value as of December 31, 1970 of $38,000.59.

Recommendations:

1. That Synod endorse, and promote the attendance of, the Celebration on Evangelism in Cincinnati, Ohio, September 20-24, 1971, in which our denomination will cooperate with the United Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., Cumberland, Reformed, and the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Churches in its sponsorship.
2. That Synod endorse, and promote the attendance of, the Presbyterian Convention in Atlanta, Ga., October 14-17, 1971.
3. That Synod commend Rev. James N. Grubb for his work as Chaplain of the John Umstead Hospital for nervous and mentally disturbed, the blind center, the alcoholic rehabilitation center, the youth center for young first offenders, and the C. A. Dillon Correctional center, all at Butner, N. C.
4. That Synod approve the employment of Mr. Darrell Monroe on a temporary basis as director of TRAV.
6. That Synod approve the budget of the Church Extension Committee for 1971, amounting to $61,598.00
6. That pending the adoption of this report Synod hear Rev. John C. Ropp on the plans for the Celebration of Evangelism in Cincinnati.

SUB–COMMITTEE ON HOME MISSIONS

Reverend Donald A. Campbell, Chairman

It is the task of the Home Missions Committee of the Church Extension Committee of the Synod to coordinate by report to the Executive Committee and to Synod the work of Home Missions in the nine presbyteries. Here is a summary of those reports:

Albemarle Presbytery, Reverend Lawrence W. Avent, Chairman

There are ten aid receiving churches in the Presbytery and one summer Chapel, located at Kill Devil Hill, on the Outer Banks. This ministry is conducted by a seminary student through a summer Chapel which was placed there three years ago. Our worker also participates in an inter-denominational work which is designed for young people and families.

Efforts are being made to relocate two churches to provide a better opportunity for growth and mission. Special help is being provided for one church with problems to assist it in carrying out a more effective mission.

In response to the Laymen's Committee on Ministers' Salaries, this Committee has cooperated with the Presbytery in raising the minimum salary for ministers by 10% for 1971.

The Committee is encouraging lay renewal gatherings and has helped to promote this through participation in one pilot project in the Presbytery.

Concord Presbytery, Fielding Clark, Chairman

During the year 1970 the Committee found itself more or less in a holding position situation because of the recommendations coming from the Committee on Restructure to the Synod and later the action taken by Synod on June 24 which in effect dissolved the Presbytery. The Committee did not then and still does not believe that this was an equitable decision for the Presbytery of Conford, the fourth Presbytery of the Synod in size and one that ranks third in its giving. This has created some lethargy in our spirit and our efforts to plan anything for the future.

About all that was done in 1970 was to continue our efforts to strengthen the work in our aid-receiving churches and to challenge some of our churches to become involved in community projects which the Committee would help fund.

The Committee in co-operation with the Committee on World Missions sponsored a Presbytery-wide rally dealing with the problems of hunger and the needs in the western part of North Carolina, which was well presented and attended.

Fayetteville Presbytery, Reverend Charles E. Kirkpatrick, Chairman

During the past year, Fayetteville Presbytery has had the opportunity to have five (5) of its smaller churches served by a student intern under the oversight of Dr. Ben L. Rose and our executive secretary. This has helped these churches considerably. Several of these churches otherwise would been grouped with other churches. The work these young men have done is great and the experience gained very helpful. One of the churches was served with a "tentmaker" ministry. The student intern taught in the public schools and served with the church in off hours. This church has made very definite progress.

Two of our rural churches have worked in an Ecumenical Youth Fellowship to enable the youth of that area to have a larger and more meaningful program and recreation. These churches individually could have provided little in this way of help, but together more than thirty young people were served.

Fayetteville Presbytery approved a recommendation of its National Ministries Committee to investigate the establishment of a Juvenile Home for youth who have left home, but are not necessarily violators of law. We have received help from Barium Springs in this project.

During the past year, our Barnabas Fellowship Fund helped two churches. Mt. Pelier Presbyterian Church built an educational building, and the Priest Hill Presbyterian Church built a new sanctuary. Also, the Cameron Hill Presbyterian Church completely remodeled its facilities.

There are four chapels in our Presbytery under the supervision of local churches. These chapels are in Lumberton, Dunn, Laurel Hill, and Pinehurst.

The Presbytery is seeking to finish a complete survey of the churches in hopes of better serving the Presbyterians of this area.

Granville Presbytery, Reverend E. G. Agsten, Chairman

Constant study is being made in this committee to encourage aid-receiving churches and/or fields to: 1. Increase their level of stewardship and self support; 2. Feel themselves a real part of the entire work of the Presbytery, Synod and General Assembly; and 3. Study ways and means of merging with other churches.

Of special interest we note the following work and activities:

1. Eleven ministers and eleven churches and/or fields are receiving aid from the Presbytery of Granville.
2. Five churches and/or fields have loans from the committee to aid in building programs.
3. Ministers from aid-receiving churches were dinner guests of the committee after which a roundtable discussion followed during which there was a splendid exchange of ideas.
4. Teams from the committee visited each field twice during the year.
5. A Convocation for ministers and officers of aid-receiving churches with a helpful program was held prior to the fall stewardship season.
6. The chairman, Rev. Charles Norwood, along with the Executive Secretary, Rev. I. M. Bagnal, attended the Home Mission Association meeting in Atlanta in December.
7. In an effort to express appreciation for the fine work done by our aid-receiving ministers, the committee took two actions, namely:
   (a) granted a $100 Christmas bonus to each and
   (b) made a strong recommendation to all aid-receiving churches that their pastor's salary be increased by $25 per month beginning January 1, 1971, over and above any remuneration being received at the present time.

Kings Mountain Presbytery, Reverend John E. Kimbirl, Chairman

A brief summary of what we have done with Home Mission churches in the Presbytery would go as follows: During the year 1970 two churches became self-supporting and one aid receiving church merged with a self-supporting church. This means that at the beginning of this year we have four aid receiving churches. Of these four, plans have been in the making since last year for one of them to merge with a self-supporting church. This is anticipated to take place during the first half of this year. We have conducted two surveys, and have a third in the planning stages, to look at several of our situations with regard to the possibility of the realignment of churches and/or clusterings, in order to be able to challenge capable ministerial leadership for our situations. We continue to have contact people from our committee relating directly to each aid receiving church, so that we assist them, not only in money, but also in developing and maintaining program and leadership.

Orange Presbytery, Charles S. Wilkins, Chairman

The Church Extension Committee of Orange Presbytery strives toward the goal of enabling the churches of Presbytery to accomplish the mission of the church - not so much through authoritative oversight as by enabling, encouraging and supporting the work done by sessions, local congregations, pastors and others.

The Commission on the Minister and His Work and the Church Extension Committee, recognizing their common responsibilities, have had several joint meetings and now have two subcommittees working toward joint efforts in affording opportunities for several congregations, sessions and pastors in a geographical area working cooperatively.

Cooperative work between churches in adjoining territory continues to be promoted by Church Extension workers who have special skills. This work is currently being done by Miss Frances Pritchett in Orange County and Mr. Vernon Grimes in Rockingham and Caswell counties.

The Church Extension Committee is also participating in the Greensboro Inner-City Ministry which is an ecumenical ministry of Methodists and Presbyterians in the Greensboro area. This ministry presently includes a crisis ministry to low income families, a telephone "crisis control" ministry, a drug abuse ministry, a senior citizen ministry and a summer day camp ministry.

A second inner-city ministry, in Burlington, is encouraged and supported by the Church Extension Committee. The work emphasises religious instruction, recreation, and a ministry to the needy.

The Church Extension Committee has a special interest in and affords support and encouragement to the Presbyterian Church of the Cross in Greensboro. This congregation, which serves in a racially changing neighborhood, continues as a strong active church with its ministry to the neighborhood consisting of day care, kindergarten, recreation and by providing a center for community activities including a group known as "The Northeast Association".

Sustentation grants and grants for building repairs and construction continue to be made up to the resources afforded the committee by the churches of the Presbytery.

Wilmington Presbytery, Reverend James B. Tubbs, Executive Secretary

The Committee has sought to up-grade the Pastors' salaries of small Churches and consolidate the existing fields in order to challenge and retain pastoral leadership. All salaries supported by Presbytery are either equal to or above the minimum required as of January 1, 1971 ($6900 plus $200 for each additional Church served). There were ten aid receiving Churches in 1970. In 1971 there will be seven. Four Churches have become self supporting.

Windermere Presbyterian Church, under the capable leadership of Dr. Graham McChesney, was completed and organized March 15, 1970 with approximately 225 members, at a total cost of $202,000.00 The Committee has purchased three acres of prime property for the re-location of Myrtle Grove on Hwy. 132.

A most effective Pilot Stewardship Program was conducted by Paul F. Warren, Assoc., among five churches in the Wallace area. Dramatic increases in pledging and giving and commitment were registered. The prospectus on the subject is available upon request.

A seamen's Service Center, under the leadership of Rev. E. G. Connette, has been established and a Ministry installed by Feb. 1971. Chaplains visit each vessel entering the State Ports and a cordial invitation extended to all hands to visit the Service Center. Volunteer host and hostesses from Wilmington Churches manned the Service Center, and enjoy their contacts. It is hoped that arrangements can be made for visits by the seamen into the homes, and the showing of movies, escorting seamen to points of interest in Wilmington. The Committee continues to support the Bogue Banks Ministry To Youth in cooperation with other denominations at Morehead City and Atlantic Beach, during the summer months.

Primary interest in further development centers in the suburban growth of Jacksonville on six acres of prime property, and in the re-location of Myrtle Grove in Wilmington. Other areas of concern are inner-city work in downtown Wilmington to reach run-aways; the military complex at Cherry Point and Camp Lejeune and the U. S. Air Force Base in Wilmington and the U. S. Coast Guard Cutters stationed there. Migrant farm ministries in several rural counties present a challenge.

Winston-Salem Presbytery, Reverend E. Perry Mobley, Chairman

Generally, we have been involved in the work normally associated with Church Extension. We have provided sustentation for ten aid-receiving churches, we have sought to assure that churches without ministers have had regular worship services and we have administered special loan funds entrusted to the Witness Committee.

In conjunction with the Service Committee of Winston-Salem Presbytery, we have reviewed and provided funds for the operation of a Child Care and Development Center. This is a "day care" program for disadvantaged children in Winston-Salem.

We have provided funds and some direction to the Campus Ministry at Wake Forest University and other institutions of higher education in Winston-Salem, which is under the control of the Synod of North Carolina's Campus Christian Life Committee.

We have been involved in a special ministry, jointly sponsored by Winston-Salem Presbytery and the Board of National Ministries, in Northwest Ashe County. This is one of the deep poverty areas located in Winston-Salem Presbytery. In addition to the normal services of worship and church school, we have supervised a week day kindergarten, a clothes distribution center, community youth activities, and a dental program. Most of the activities are being conducted by people in the community. A group of dentists from Winston-Salem and surrounding areas are giving their time and skills in operating the dental clinic which is primarily for children who would not otherwise have access to a dentist. This is our third year in this special ministry, a ministry in which we seek to minister to the whole man, physically and spiritually. This ministry has proven to be greatly needed and the response has been outstanding. This has been a three year program which ends this year. The committee is making plans to continue this ministry beyond the three year projection, when the support of the Board of National Ministries will discontinue.

SUB–COMMITTEE ON SPECIAL MINISTRIES

George Elliott, Chairman

Reverend James N. Grubb is Chaplain at Butner for the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina. Butner consists of the John Umstead Hospital for nervous and mentally disturbed; the Blind Center; the Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center; the Youth Center for young first offenders; the C. A. Dillon Correctional Center.

The Butner Ministry includes individual conseling, group counseling, camp directing, preaching and leading worship services, pastoral visitation and arranging educational seminars for fellow ministers.

During the months of June, July, and August of this year Mr. Grubb will supervise Field Work for Robert Dunham, a rising middler at Union Seminary, Richmond.

In addition to the activities mentioned, Mr. Grubb took a clinical course of thirty hours in marriage counseling at the University of North Carolina. He is very much interested in this area of service and expects to devote some time to this type of counseling and marriage therapy.

Please inform Mr. Grubb when a member of your congregation is a patient at Butner. He will minister to him and keep you informed about the progress of the patient.

SUB–COMMITTEE ON TRAV

B. Humphey Marshall, Chairman

The position of the director of TRAV was vacant from June 30, 1970 until February 1, 1971, at which time Mr. Darrell Monroe was employed to work under the direction of the Executive Secretary of Synod. In order that the new General Secretary may make suggestions about the conduct of this office, and since there is the possibility that Synod may decide to make some changes in its oversight, Mr. Monroe was employed on a temporary basis. He is a graduate of Clemson University and Columbia Theological Seminary in Decatur, Ga., and has had special training in the field of communications. He was ordained by Granville Presbytery in May 1971.

SUB–COMMITTEE ON WITNESS

Reverend Joseph G. Morrison, Chairman

Your Synod's Church Extension Sub-Committee on Witness feels that it can best serve as an instrument for exchanging ideas on ways and techniques of witness which have produced gratifying results. Your committee encourages pastors and church sessions to communicate with churches which have experienced a Lay Renewal Program or a Lay Renewal Workshop. This type of program has been very effective in some of our churches. We are aware of Evangelism Workshops that have been conducted in specific areas in some of our Presbyteries. These workshops were designed to meet specific needs, such as: training in person-to-person evangelism, campus ministry, planning for evangelistic services, evangelism through the church school, youth witness. Your committee wishes to share with the other Presbyteries a significant concept still in the development stage in Wilmington Presbytery. The specialized Witness Committee of Wilmington Presbytery's Church Extension Committee is developing the concept of a Presbytery Evangelist. Because there is demand within our church for evangelists but no provision is made within any of our church courts for an evangelist, and since many churches must turn to The Presbyterian Evangelistic Fellowship to secure the services of an evangelist, Presbyteries might make provision for an evangelist to serve the Presbytery as a whole and individual churches within the Presbytery. Such an evangelist would be available to conduct area workshops and training in the Presbytery. He would be available to conduct evangelistic services in local churches and assist local churches develop a program of witness, person-to-person evangelism and other viable forms of evangelism. Such an office could give depth and emphasize the dimension of personal commitment in Presbytery's Stewardship development and the evangelist could assist the Stewardship Committees in the local churches to include the dimension of evangelism, witness and commitment in planning for the stewardship development of the local congragation.

Your committee encourages all Presbytery Witness Committees to appoint a Chairman of Evangelism who will be responsible for relating the Presbytery and local church sessions to the Celebration of Evangelism in Cincinnati, September 20-24, 1971.

All church sessions which have developed an effective program of witness or executed some specific program of significance are requested to send to the Office of Synod a description of the program with an evaluation of its effectiveness.

D. Report of the Executive Committee on Educational Institutions

Dr. William M. Roberts, Chairman

Since Synod last met, this Executive Committee has convened twice in addition to a conference call. Meetings were held on November 13, 1970 at Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Virginia; in Synod's Office on May 5, 1971; and a conference call on March 23.

The meeting in Richmond was highlighted by two panels made up respectively of students, who addressed the Committee in the morning, and of faculty and administration who addressed the Committee in the afternoon.

President Stair of Union Seminary addressed the Committee and emphasized the crises in reference to (1) religion and theology; (2) money and business management; and (3) relationships with the church, the ministry, the university, and society. He pointed out a budget deficit of $375,000 and indicated the trend today, because of money pressures, is toward "cluster and merger".

Ad Hoc Study Report

As of this date, Davidson and St. Andrews Colleges have responded to the report which was adopted by Synod in 1970. Your Ad Hoc Committee has postponed meeting for the purpose of evaluating these responses until all three institutions have responded. Queens College reports that the matter is being thoroughly studied and evaluated.

1956 Campaign

The Committee will be interested to learn that the final payment on the last pledge made to the Capital Gifts Campaign on Higher Education in 1956 was made by the St. Andrews-Covenant Church, Wilmington, last December. On page 96 is a financial statement of income and disbursements from January 1, 1956 through December 31, 1970, indicating that total income received in Synod's Office on the Campaign was $1,619,296.60. Of this amount $1,255,060.62 was distributed to St. Andrews Presbyterian College; $1,200 to Peace College; $195.00 to the Lucy Steele Memorial Fund; and $186,543.75 to Campus Christian Life. Total cost of the Campaign was $176,297.23.

Reserve Funds

Three separate Funds make up the Reserve Funds:

(1) The W. Z. Stultz Reserve Fund, which was an original bequest of $24,000 (1955). One-half of the value of this Fund belongs to the Executive Committee on Campus Christian Life, since, when the Fund was established, Campus Christian Life and Educational Institutions were respectively sub-committees of an Executive Committee on Higher Education. As of December 31, 1970, the Fund had a value of $36,382.40.

(2) Also in the Reserve Funds is the Eva and Bessie McKay Scholarship Fund, which represents an original bequest, made by the late Miss Eva McKay in 1966 in the amount of $5,000, and designated for "ministerial scholarship known as the Eva and Bessie McKay Scholarship". As of December 31, 1970, the Fund had a value of $5,825.44.

During the current scholastic year, Miss Elaine Rhodes of Davidson, N. C., a Junior in Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Virginia, has been recipient of the fund in the amount of $800.

(3) Permanent Advisory Committee on Higher Education: We are still holding as a balance in this Fund, $1,153.45.

As of December 31, 1970, the Reserve Funds after receipts and disbursements, totaled $43,361.29.

Last year this Committee recommened for its four Institutions that Synod give $550,000 in 1971; however, Synod approved of the recommendation of Synod's Council in the amount of $527,498. Two years ago you recommended $527,000 and Synod approved of $507,062.

The approximately 154,000 Presbyterians of Synod gave last year as indicated above, a total of $452,472.07 to its Educational Institutions. This represents a per capita gift to Higher Education of $2.93 (including the Richardson Trust Fund, $2.94), or after deducting expenses, a per capita gift of $2.92. The per capita gift to the three colleges of Synod was $2.29 (St. Andrews, $1.47; Queens and Davidson each, $ .42); and to Union Theological Seminary, $ .62. The per capita gift in 1969 was $2.91.

Miscellaneous

Going to College Handbook: Last year we distributed approximately 408 copies of the "Going to College Handbook", published by the Presbyterian Outlook, to high schools in the State of North Carolina.

Recommendations:

1. That the action of Synod in 1970, authorizing a capital gifts campaign in 1972 for the four educational institutions of Synod, be rescinded.
2. That Synod approve of a join capital gifts campaign in 1972 for Davidson and Queens Colleges.
3. That the Tamblyn and Brown Feasibility Study Report be received for further study and consideration.
4. That Synod requests Presbyterian pastors in North Carolina to urge their young people to apply for enrollment in Church-related colleges for their baccalaureate education.
5. That, pending adoption of this report, Synod hear (1) J. Maryon Saunders, a member of Synod's Executive Committee who served as Chairman of the ad hoc committee to study the feasibility of a capital gifts campaign in 1972; and (2) Mr. A. C. Podesta, executive vice president of the firm of Tamblyn and Brown, New York, in reference to the feasibility study report.

I. MONOGRAPHS OF INSTITUTIONS

SENIOR COLLEGES

DAVIDSON COLLEGE, Davidson, North Carolina Samuel R. Spencer, Jr., President. John M. Bevan, Vice President for Academic Affairs. C. David Cornell, Vice President for Finance and Development. The college is owned and controlled by the Trustees of Davidson College who are elected by Presbyteries in the Synod of North Carolina, Suwanee and Everglades Presbyteries in Florida and by Asheville Presbytery in Appalachian Synod, and by the Alumni Association. Founded in 1837; 1,000 men.

Academic standing: Davidson is fully accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. The Davidson chapter of Phi Beta Kappa was one of the first in North Carolina. It is a member of the Association of American Colleges, the Southern University Conference.

Academic Program: A new curriculum and new calendar became a part of Davidson College in 1968, bringing about the greatest changes in the college program in nearly 50 years. While the basic elements of the three-term year and the 32-course requirement for graduation were quickly embraced, other facets proposed and adopted by the faculty are still being made a part of the total educational program. A thorough review of the program will be made by the faculty this coming year.

Davidson College continues to maintain a fine liberal arts program, preparing young men for careers of dedicated service to mankind and to the church. Increasingly its graduates seek lifetimes of service in ever broadening fields of concern for man.

The new educational approach at Davidson places greater responsibility upon each student for his own education, and with the advent of the Honors College in 1970, some students were given almost complete freedom from the usual academic requirements to pursue their education under faculty guidance but without required class attendance or other usual aspects of academic life. Additionally, many students are being encouraged to pursue some kind of "extended studies" program. This program stresses community involvement. During the past year students have been off-campus working on projects in legal aid centers, city planning offices, hospitals, business offices, the courts, state conservation laboratories, and child development centers.

The development of an Asian Studies program is another aspect of the new curricular thrust, one which requires of the faculty a large measure of effort in building insights and expertise in new areas of the world and in cross-fertilizing the various disciplines.

Finally, independent study for most students in all departments is being advocated. This curricular direction is a modification of tutorial programs for the elect few which have been sponsored by faculty members in several departments since the mid-1940s.

Finance and Campus Planning: Davidson College has completed the first phase of its major fund raising effort for the new E. H. Little Library, having met the original challenge of Mr. Little. However, changes in curriculum have dictated new demands upon the library plans, turning it into a versatile Academic Center for which additional funds will be necessary.

During the past three years two detailed studies of various aspects of the college have been made. One major study was instigated by President Samuel R. Spencer, Jr., under five commissions made up of faculty, students and alumni, charged with a careful investigation of various areas and reporting back to the president.

These studies were, in turn, made a part of the complete college study by the Academy for Educational Development, which included all phases of the college. Much of this material is being carefully studied by Trustees, the administrative staff, the faculty and the students as guidelines for future developments of the college are established.

On June 30, 1970 Davidson College had total assets of $37,387,412. During the preceding year it operated on a budget of $4,638,196.

QUEENS COLLEGE, Charlotte, North Carolina – Dr. John E. Smylie, President. The college is owned and controlled by the Board of Trustees of Queens College, ten of whom represent the Synod of North Carolina and eight the Synod of South Carolina. A liberal arts college for women founded in 1857, it offers bachelor of arts and bachelor of music degrees, and in 1970 enrolled 658 students from 26 states.

Administrative Leadership: During 1970-71 the college attracted two outstanding Presbyterian educators: Dr. Alfred O. Canon, dean of the college, and Dr. Raymond B. Hoxeng, director of development.

Curriculum Revisions: During the year the faculty adopted a revised 4-1-4 calendar to be implemented in 1971-72 with other curriculum revisions permitting more flexibility for individualized programs. It also entered into cooperative arrangements which open a number of international educational opportunities to Queens students, and a Junior Year Exchange Program with Davidson College.

Development Program: Queens furthered its efforts to liquidate indebtedness on recent construction, became a member of the North Carolina Foundation of Church-Related Colleges, and broadened its Annual Fund appeal among alumnae, parents and the Charlotte community.

Self-Study: In early April Queens hosted a visiting committee from the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools in anticipation of reaccreditation following its self-study.

State Aid: Queens has actively participated in efforts to secure programs of state aid for North Carolinians attending private colleges and universities. With favorable specific recommendations from the Legislative Study Commission and the State Board of Higher Education, there is reason to believe that some action will be taken during the 1971 session of the General Assembly.

Finances: As of June 30, 1970, Queens' assets total $13,074,518, including a plant value of $9,428,191, and endowment funds of $3,195,430. Current fund expenditures for the year total $2,655,325.

Queens College looks forward with great anticipation to the meeting of the Synod of North Carolina at Queens in 1972.

ST. ANDREWS PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE, Laurinburg, North Carolina. Dr. Donald J. Hart, President – Supported by the Synod of North Carolina, Presbyterian Church, U. S., St. Andrews opened its doors on a new campus in Laurinburg, September 17, 1961. It is a coeducational, four-year, liberal arts, senior college.

Academic Standing: Accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. It is also an institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Music and holds a membership in the North Carolina College Conference, the Association of American Colleges, the North Carolina Foundation of Church-Related Colleges, the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, and the Piedmont University Center of North Carolina.

Curriculum: At the heart of the St. Andrews' academic offerings is the interdisciplinary Christianity and Culture Program. This four-year program is required of all students and provides eight courses in history, religion, philosophy, literature, and the humanities. It is taught by five teams of professors who make use of the lecture-preceptorial method.

Three degrees are offered at St. Andrews - bachelor of arts, bachelor of science, and bachelor of music. Majors include religion, philosophy, English biology, chemistry, economics, mathematics, history, foreign languages, education, psychology, business administration, art and theatre, music, politics, and sociology-anthropology. A cooperative program in medical technology has been worked out with Bowman-Grey Medical School.

Physical Plant: Eighteen buildings are used at the present time, sixteen of them new as follows: the liberal arts building, the science building, the teaching auditorium, the library, the student center, eight dormitories, music building, physical education building, and the heating plant. Urgently needed are the chapel, the administration building, residence hall, student center addition, and an infirmary.

Student Enrollment: A total of 850 persons were enrolled at St. Andrews Presbyterian College during the first term of the academic year 1970-71--447 men and 463 women.

Faculty and Staff: There are 65 full-time members of the St. Andrews faculty holding degrees from some 40 first-class graduate schools. Thirty people are listed in administrative positions. A faculty member at St. Andrews must have at least the Master's degree. Fifty-four percent of the faculty now hold earned doctorates.

Financial Picture: Book value of property, $11,991,863. General and Scholarship Endowment, $1,719,557. Total operating budget, $3,811,463.

A new science building, constructed with the aid of a $779,000 Federal grant, and the Avinger Teaching Auditorium have been occupied within the past year.

The $5 million Forward Campaign authorized and supported by the Synod has been completed, with final gifts and commitments reaching a total of $5.5 million. The Forward Campaign was the initial effort in a long-range plan adopted by the Trustees for $30 million over a twelve-year period anticipating an enrollment of 1600 students. The need for physical facilities will be cared for early in this plan, with later efforts devoted to undergirding the college with adequate endowment.

The continuing and increasing support of the Synod of North Carolina, its churches and its members is vitally needed in order that St. Andrews may truly serve the purpose envisioned by her founders.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

Annual Report

for the academic year 1970-71

UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY IN VIRGINIA

How does a theological seminary educate men and women in the seventies for effective service as ordained ministers of the Church?

Questions like this have engaged members of the faculty and administration this year as they are reviewing and redesigning degree and curricular offerings. When we realize that graduates of the class of 1971 will probably be in active ministerial service well into the year 2000 and beyond, the impact of these matters becomes very sobering and significant.

In June, 1970, at the biennial meeting of the American Association of Theological Schools, recommendations were adopted that member seminaries phase out the Bachelor of Divinity degree and begin to offer as standard theological degrees the Master of Divinity and Doctor of Ministry. Union Seminary has taken this counsel seriously. The Board of Trustees last November voted to begin awarding this June the Master of Divinity degree and to begin immediately the exchange of B. D. degrees held by alumni for the M. Div.

Doctor of Ministry Degree

The recommendation of a new Doctor of Ministry degree has prompted the Faculty of Union to consider anew the educative process of professional training for ministry. While the new doctor's degree will not be officially offered until academic year 1972-73 (as recommended by AATS), the design of this new program now occupies the Faculty. Members of the Synod will be informed of the details of the Doctor of Ministry degree program as soon as the design has been tested and is determined to be feasible.

Student Enrollment

Union Seminary began the 159th year with 234 persons enrolled. Of this number, 42 are members of the junior class, 42 are in the middle class, and 42 are seniors. Twenty-seven students – more than any other Reformed seminary in America – are engaged in special intern year programs serving as assistants in congregations or in some other certified endeavors such as the Church and Society program co-sponsored by Union in conjunction with Virginia Episcopal Seminary and Duke Divinity School. Union strongly encourages this intern experience of 12 to 15 months between the second and third years of theological education and anticipates that this off-campus experience will become a required element of the new Doctor of Ministry program.

New Seminary Organization

The Seminary Faculty at a September workshop prior to the beginning of school adopted a new internal organizational plan which provides for several students to serve as full voting members of all major Faculty committees of the Seminary. During the year the students have accepted these new responsibilities in capable fashion and have contributed helpfully. The new plan has been well received and has contributed to better communication and more efficiency.

Student Body leaders who have participated in Faculty meetings this year are: J. Richard Short, President of Student Body (Hammond, Louisiana); James M. Collie, Secretary-Treasurer of Student Body (Midland, Texas); Charles D. Elliott, Senior Class President (Charlotte, North Carolina); D. Michael Meloy, Middle Class President (Arlington, Virginia); and M. Elaine Rhodes, Junior Class President (Davidson, North Carolina).

Friends of the Seminary Anniversary

The Friends of the Seminary, an organization numbering several thousand men and women who support UTS, observed its 25th anniversary in October. Present for the Silver Anniversary were nearly 400 visitors from five states and the District of Columbia. The Friends adopted as their Silver Anniversary project a new "Friends of the Seminary Fellowships" program for 1971. The Friends Fellowships will be awarded by the Faculty to a minimum of two and as many as five students in each of three categories: (1) to Seminary students desiring to engage in a year of intern training working with Presbyterian missionaries abroad; (2) to foreign students preparing for Christian ministry who wish to study at Union for one year; and (3) to certain outstanding college students and other college graduates who should be challenged to consider the christian ministry by spending a trial year of work and study at UTS.

Serving on the Executive Council of the Friends of the Seminary organization this year are: Mrs. Wilborn S. Swaim, General Chairman (Salisbury, North Carolina); Mrs. Carl Thompson, Member-at-Large (Front Royal, Virginia); Mrs. R. G. Gillespie, Key Friend, Synod of Appalachia (Tazewell, Virginia); Mrs. B. W. Alexander, Key Friend, Synod of North Carolina (Charlotte, North Carolina); Mrs. William J. Hudgins, Key Friend, Synod of Virginia (Lynchburg, Virginia); Mrs. L. S. Clark, Key Friend, Synod of West Virginia (Huntington, West Virginia).

Library Addition

Construction of additions to the Seminary Library costing $292,330 has been completed this year and the space is now being utilized. The project was financed by funds contributed to the Seminary ADVANCE compaign. The new addition has added two new floors to the top of the existing four levels, providing shelf capacity for an additional 60,000 books as well as 52 new study carrels for students, catalog room offices, research area, and reference room.

INTERPRETATION, a Journal of Bible and Theology

Another silver anniversary observed on campus this year recognized the 25th anniversary of the founding of INTERPRETATION, a quarterly journal of Bible and theology published by Union. Held February 1-3 in conjunction with the annual James Sprunt Lectures Week, the anniversary called for an INTERPRETATION Colloquium led by eight distinguished visiting theologians. More than 200 ministers and professors participated in the Colloquium forums and small-group study seminars. INTERPRETATION now stands in the forefront of similar journals published in its field and has reached a new peak in readers with just over 7,000 paid subscribers in 50 states and 85 foreign countries, including more than 1,000 libraries.

Weekend for Theological Inquiry

Each year this seminary plans a weekend conference especially for college students and other college graduates who are considering the ministry as a career. This year a record number of 239 representing 73 colleges and universities and 20 different occupations attended the conference which explored the theme: "Ministry in the 70's." Providing leadership for the outstanding weekend were members of the Seminary student body, faculty, and alumni. Student members of the General Steering Committee were: Margaret Ann Barnes, Davidson, North Carolina; Charles D. Elliott, Charlotte, North Carolina; Kraig L. Faust, Centre Hall, Pennsylvania; Charles J. Krohn, Winter Park, Florida; D. Scott Lindsay, Chapel Hill, North Carolina; Albert G. Peery, Jr., Tazewell, Virginia; Stephen C. Rettenmayer, Shippensburg, Pennsylvania; Gerald E. Schumm, Jr., Burlington, North Carolina. Convenor of this General Steering Committee was Kenneth B. Orr, Vice President of the Seminary.

Continuing Education Opportunities

For sixteen years, Union Seminary has sponsored programs of continuing education to assist ministers desiring to enlarge their skills and insights. This year more than 1,000 persons are making use of these resources. About 400 came to the campus for resident study in five-day and twelve-day programs. The others study by mail, using guides and library books on loan at no charge in non-credit courses. Again this summer Union will sponsor the summer Institute of Theology for ministers, and nearly 100 are expected to attend July 5-16. Other courses to be offered this summer are those leading to the Master of Sacred Theology degree (July 20-August 6) and Elements of New Testament Greek (July 19-August 27).

Financial Deficit

Union is operating under a financial deficit. We are taking aggressive steps to eliminate this deficit by prudent planning and budgeting and expect to operate the coming year with a balanced budget. At the same time, the Seminary is expected by the Church to continue providing quality training programs both for entering students and for ordained ministers. In order to meet the increasing demands for varieties of educational offerings, Union Seminary needs the faithful and generous support of the Church.

We are grateful for the interest and support we do receive, and we ask you to place the Seminary in your wills and to keep us in your prayers and giving for benevolences.

INFORMATION

The General Secretary endeavors to make his office a channel for distributing information about the institutions for which Synod has a responsibility. He is available for presenting the cause of Christian Education to Presbyteries, Presbyterials, local Churches, and Men's and Women's organizations.

Several schools have motion picture films which they make available to interested groups.

[1]The General Assembly figure is larger than the Synod for the reason that the former includes budgeted and non-budgeted giving, whereas the Synod figure is only for funds which passed through the books of the Treasurer of Synod. Gifts made directly to institutions, including campaign gifts, are not reflected in the Synod column.

[2]The General Assembly statistics have been reported differently since 1955, and the information on total gifts to Higher Education is not available.

5. BEQUESTS AND MEMORIALS

According to Webster, a memorial is anything intended to "preserve the memory" of a person or event. Granite preserves a name; influence preserves a memory. A memorial dedicated to the service of Christian Education is truly an everlasting memorial since it lives on generation after generation. This type of memorial is not only possible to people of large wealth but to the average man. Buildings and gifts for endowment are appropriate for people of means. Gifts of equipment for gymnasiums, offices, and music departments; audio-visual materials, furniture, and outdoor improvements are within the reach of average people. Information on specific needs will be furnished to interested persons.

FORM OF GENERAL BEQUEST

E. Report of the Executive Committee on Homes

The Reverend John M. Walker, Jr., Chairman

Those who most actively wish to carry out our Synod's ministry to older people and children, who are without a supportive family relationship, will be encouraged by the direction in which our institutions are moving. There is a natural tendency, in trying to make an estimate of our goals, to either stress some isolated but perhaps excellent institutional home, or to emphasize the role of the church as a vital part of the community's conscience urging society at large to do the job. The best and most acute thought in this matter indicates that we should do both with a much wider involvement on the part of local churches and groups of churches in programs of care and planning for families and the aging. The study carried out by our Committee last year, entitled "Study of the Program and Operations of the Homes Under the Control of the Synod of North Carolina and Their Relationship to the Social Service Needs of the Synod," has as its central recommendation that while continuing our present home care we should "encourage each (home) to develop a wider counselling and consultation service. Each should be a center of an expanding Synodical service to families and children, or to older people." Your Committee's work with our homes will be in the nature of cooperation in the implementation of this goal.

It is significant to report that when we measure the program of our homes by the understanding of this work in the Board of National Ministries of our General Assembly we are not only meeting their standards, but also showing the way in some pioneer and imaginative directions of our own. In early December a sub-committee from our Committee was on the Barium campus to complete a questionnaire from the Board of National Ministries on Performance Standards for Presbyterian Children's Homes and Agencies. The matter of fact part of their report to us was "The evaluation committee feels that the agency has met or is meeting the standards overall and generally." The warmth of their report was typical of what we confidently believe would be the reaction of any member of Synod after a visit to Barium Springs or High Point. On April 7 of this year, Mr. Gordon Hansen of the Board of National Ministries was at Presbyterian Home to present a certification that our agency has met the standards for Homes for the Aging set by the 1969 Assembly.

The Executive Committee on Homes has met twice during the year at Synod's Office, on November 17 and April 29. In addition to Dr. Reiney and Mr. Short other guests of the Committee have been Rev. James McDaniel, the new chaplain at Presbyterian Home, and Rev. Gower Crosswell from the Board of Trustees of The William Black Home. The Chairman of the Committee has attended meetings of each of the Boards of our Homes.

Last year Synod approved a Campaign for its Home to be conducted in 1975. Each Home has been asked to prepare a preliminary statement of long range needs and planning priorities as we prepare for this effort. Synod is reminded of the present challenge to help complete the $50,000 needed on the Family and Child Development and Christian Education Center now being constructed beside Little Joe's Church at Barium.

As an indication of a desirable direction in our ministry to older people your Committee wishes to commend the Raleigh Presbyterian Urban Council for their sponsorship of the Capital Towers Apartments to be constructed on Six Forks Road in Raleigh under the provisions of the 202/236 Program of Housing and Urban Development. These apartments will provide retirement housing for those with moderate incomes (currently $4,455 for a single person and $5,400 for a couple). This project will be a worthy complement to the now two-year-old Sharon Towers in Charlotte.

At the Spring Meetings of the Barium and High Point Boards the terms of their Chairmen were completed. Though appreciation will be expressed in a general resolution by Synod our Committee wishes to add its own appreciation to Mr. Tully Blair and Mr. George Williams for their devoted and able service, and to express our sense of satisfaction that men of the caliber of Mr. George B. Ivey, Jr. and Mr. W. H. Sullivan, Jr., have consented to become the new Chairmen of the Board at Barium Springs and High Point respectively.

William Black Home in Montreat is conducted by a Board of Trustees appointed by Synod as a self-supporting operation. The quality, courtesy, and thorough service, which characterize its summer program, make it a distinct asset to the life of our Synod.

Information on the financial operation of our homes is found in their appended reports. Admittedly one of the chief difficulties in breaching church apathy in the support of these programs lies in the budgeted benevolent giving of local churches. The crucial point is the responsibility with which we face the askings for the work we Presbyterians do together when they come to us from Presbytery. In 1970 we gave only 86.2% of our askings for the work of our Homes. For 1972 Barium Springs has asked $185,000 from Synod and Presbyterian Home $155,519.12. Synod's Council has approved a $271,000.00 budget for its homes for 1972.

Recommendations:

1. That Synod express appreciation to the Executive Directors and Staffs of our Homes and the members of the Board of Trustees for their loyalty and service.

2. That Presbyteries, and Women of the Church of Presbyteries, be urged to invite representatives of the Homes to meetings at an early date to hear first hand of the quality of service and the new programs of this phase of our Synod's ministry.

3. That pending the adoption of this report Synod hear representatives of the Homes.

1. BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

George W. Williams, Jr., President

Board of Regents

Since this is my last year of two terms on the Board, I think it would be appropriate to say a word about child care practices as well as indicate briefly some of the major objectives in the Barium Springs Agency that are set for the next few years.

Almost everyone in this country, and for that matter people all around the world, for untold generations has had compassion for children who were doomed to an early life in an "orphanage". This has been good. It is as it should have been and is in keeping with the teachings of Jesus and within the spirit of the Christian church.

"Orphanages", taken to mean largely and almost exclusively purely custodial care of children, are still in great need in certain parts of the world. Certainly, it is true in the underdeveloped countries such as India, Korea, most of Asia and Africa. Countries like Vietnam, torn by death due to war, require much custodial care of homeless children. In all these areas, death is the great cause for need.

However, in North America, most of Europe and certain parts of South America, we should have by now moved past the era of purely custodial care. The truth is that even here in North Carolina, we still have many situations where "orphanages" and "homes for children" are largely "dumping grounds" for many children. They, in effect and in practice, simply are staying in business by accepting placement of children without being adequately informed about the child and his family. This practice leads to only custodial care and very little or no effort to relate the child to his family.

Now, why do we say this to you. It is because:

WE ALL NEED TO BE REMINDED –

1. Of change;
2. That "today's orphans have parents";
3. That we treat "orphans who have parents" different from "orphans whose parents are dead";
4. That Barium Springs is a family service agency;
5. That today it is the troubled family that is the major concern of this agency;
6. That we accept the entire family and not just the child;
7. That we see every placement as an opportunity to strengthen a family, not just as a mere placement of a child;
8. That we do not see the agency accepting the responsibility of parents for the child, but we seek to help them meet their responsibility;
9. That we need to keep clearly before the agency, the Board, and the Church the direction needed and a policy that insures the right path will be followed;
10. That this agency of the church is a true ministry of love and compassion and we communicate, by what we do, the gospel to people who are troubled.

During the remainder of 1971 and certainly for most of 1972, we see the agency concentration in four major areas:

1. A continuing effort to refine and further develop services to families, with the major emphasis on families who have boys and girls in residential group care; along with this will be strong efforts to strengthen services to children who can remain at home;
2. To seek to get firmly established our efforts to help the local Presbyterian Church, through consultative services, to broaden its ministry as it seeks to help children and families;
3. To strengthen the public relations program as we seek to better inform the constituency of the church about this agency's ministry to children and families;
4. To put into action a sound financial development program to underwrite the cost of these services through annual support of individuals, corporations and foundations and through deferred giving.

To help interpret and to inform people, the following are some of the pieces of material that are available:

Pamphlets or Brochures -

1. "Dimensions in Child Care"
2. Questions and Answers pamphlet
3. "Today's Orphans Have Parents"
4. The Family and Child Development Center
5. The Emergency Shelter Care Home
6. An Announcement of the Department of Consultative Services
7. Information for Parents and Relatives
8. The Music School
9. The File Folder

The "BARIUM MESSENGER" - published monthly.

The film strip - "WHO CARES"

It is certainly the hope of the Board of Regents that what has been done in the way of keeping the constituency of the church informed about trends and directions in child care has borne fruit. We must acknowledge that solving the problems of the troubled family of the "Seventies" is a complicated process and requires much professional skill. The administration and the Board at Barium Springs eagerly seek the ear and the involvement of the church as it endeavors to make this ministry more communicative of the gospel to people.

I speak for the entire staff of the agency, for the boys and girls, as well as for all members of the Board of Regents, when I express appreciation for the genuine interest and the financial support of the membership of the church. We never get enough money to do all we need to do; but, with the grace of God and your prayers, we continue to move forward. Every day the needs of the troubled family increase and get more complicated. We urge you to examine the program and consider the church's obligation to such a ministry.

2. THE PRESBYTERIAN HOME, INC.

Tully D. Blair, President

Annual Report

The Board of Trustees respectfully reports the major activities of the Home for the past year.

The Board met for two regular sessions and the Executive Committee met ten times for the transaction of business during 1970.

There were 20 new admissions, one withdrawal and 16 deaths and a total of 227 served during 1970.

The books were audited by A. M. Pullen and Company (Certified Public Accountants), Greensboro, N. C., and the audit shows capital assets of $2,158,859.00 after recognizing reduction of fixed assets for $937,382.00 of accumulated depreciation as of December 31, 1970. This report shows a gain in capital assets of $66,594.00 for the year.

The audit also shows:

(a) Capital fund contributions of $106,876.00 which included apartment and cottage gifts of $58,587.00

(b) Operating fund income was $30,233.00 less than expenses not including depreciation. The operating fund expenditures included $35,375.00 for financial expenses (debt service). Contributions and gifts to operation were $10,009.00 less than the previous year.

Operating income from residents and/or patients was increased by $99,481.00 over the previous year. The monthly charge was $250.00 and the actual cost was $366.18 including depreciation. On January 1, 1971, the rate was increased to $275.00 per month.

Contracts were awarded in December of 1970 for the installation of a generator to provide emergency lighting and power. This addition was made possible through some $15,000 (unused from the reserve for dining room addition) and the designation of some special bequests and wills.

Plans are being completed by the architects for the building of 18 additional apartments and two cottages. It is anticipated that all of these units will be under construction by early summer.

May we take this opportunity to express our appreciation and deep gratitude to those wonderful friends who have responded to the Home's need during this past year. We also are most grateful to Synod for its increasing support of the Home. This ministry of our Church needs your prayers, your help in increasing the support for operation, and an ever-increasing interest and concern for those who make The Presbyterian Home, Inc. their home.

3. THE WILLIAM BLACK HOME, INCORPORATED

R. H. Stone, President

Your Board of Trustees of The William Black Home at Montreat is pleased to report on the operation of the institution for 1970. In spite of the inflation that has been a plague to the nation your Trustees have fought it. In the face of rising costs of food and operation the weekly cost for a Presbyterian of the Synod has remained the same - $35.00 per week for room and board. From the summer's operation $4,145.33 has been received. This is due in large part to the splendid management of Mrs. W. C. Copeland, and her daughter, Miss Nancy Copeland, of Davidson, who will manage the Home for the 1971 season. Some of this gain is due to a larger number of registered guests.

Several improvements were made during the year to the two buildings, which are insured and made to conform to health and insurance regulations. The treasurer is bonded.

During the year Mrs. E. E. Gillespie resigned as a member of the Board. This removal takes from the list of Trustees a name that is highly valued by the administration. We are asking the Nominating Committee to elect Mrs. Julian B. Hutaff as her successor. Mrs. Hutaff during a prior trusteeship rendered an outstanding service.

The Women of the Synod have placed in their current budget a gift of $5,000.00, which will be used for internal improvements. They have been stalwarts in the construction, equipping, and maintenance of the Home. This is another magnificent evidence of their interest and liberality.

A splendid atmosphere of spirituality pervades in the Home. Guests speak of the belssings and accommodations that are rendered. The Board was pleased with an innovation in its Annual Meeting in the attendance of Rev. John Mack Walker, Chairman of Synod's Executive Committee on Homes.

The members of the Board are interested in and are faithful in attendance and in the execution of the duties assigned them. An Executive Committee attends to emergencies as they arise. Your Conference Home for Christian workers is rendering a splendid service for Kingdom interests.

VI. REPORTS OF PERMANENT COMMITTEES

A. Report of the Committee on Annuities and Relief

Reverend J. T. Young, Chairman

Your Synod Committee has held two stated meetings at the Synod's Office within the past twelve months. Each presbytery is represented in the work of the committee whose major task is the distribution of the funds for Aged Ministers of the Synod from the Kate B. Reynolds Trust.

The total distribution since the last meeting of Synod was as follows:

September, 1970	$47,268.77
March, 1971	$58,387.12
	$105,655.89

In the September distribution, there were 110 annuitants who shared in the fund. In March 113 participated. The total received by each minister from the March and September distribution amounted to $810.77.

Recommendations:

1. That Churches be encouraged to seek gifts, legacies, and trusts from interested individuals to supplement the existing trusts for Retired Ministers throughout the Synod.
2. That Churches and individuals also be encouraged to find ways of providing additional funds to aid widows of ministers of the Synod.
3. That Synod recognize with gratitude the ministers of the Synod who have retired since the last meeting of Synod. They are: Clarence I. Calcote (F); William A. Brown (G); Thomas C. Bryan (M); Fred R. McAllister, Sr. (M); William M. Currie (O); John A. Redhead (O); L. B. Schenck (O); I. M. Ellis (C); W. T. Smith (C); Ansley C. Moore (F); Hardin A. King (W-S).
4. That Article II-C-4 of the Reynolds Fund "Rules" be amended by adding after the words, North Carolina, in the second line, "prior to honorable retirement".
5. That ministers who have served the required time, prior to as well as after 1947 become eligible for participation in the fund.

B. Report of Committee on Attendance

Reverend Thomas M. Davis, Chairman

Your Committee on Attendance for this meeting of Synod reports an attendance of 388 ministers and 313 ruling elders, and 22 guests for a total attendance of 723.

Recommendations:

1. That Synod grant excuses for a part of this meeting of Synod to those ministers and ruling elders requesting excuses.
2. That the requests of 213 ministers and 98 churches for their ruling elders to be excused from attending this meeting of Synod be granted.
3. That the 233 Churches having no ruling elder in attendance, and having made no request for excuse, be listed in the minutes of Synod as unexcused.
4. That the 95 ministers who were not present and made no request to be excused, be listed in the minutes of Synod as unexcused.

C. Report of the Standing Committee on Bills and Overtures

Halbert M. Jones, Chairman

1. The Committee recommends that Synod answer the overtures questioning the legality of the actions of its Commission on Restructuring of its Presbytery Boundaries by ratifying and approving the actions of the Commission.
2. The Committee recommends that Synod answer the overtures relating to the work of its Commission by appointing an administrative Commission to realign the Boundaries of Presbytery I to form not more than two Presbyteries by January 1, 1972, and that the Moderator appoint the Commission. (See DIRECTORY)
3. The Committee recommends that Synod answer the overture relating to the boundaries of Presbytery III in the Negative.
4. The Committee recommends that Synod respond to the overture from the Rev. J. P. G. Moffett on Virtue and Morality in the Higher Education Program by referring the overture to the Trustees of St. Andrews Presbyterian College for their information.

D. Christianity and Health

H. B. Kornegay, M. D., Chairman

The committee would first of all call to your attention the recommendations made in the 1970 Synod Meeting. With regard to Recommendation #1, that ministers be urged to have annual physical examinations, by report of members of the committee, it has been learned that most of the Presbyteries have not yet implemented this recommendation. This recommendation is again submitted for your consideration.

With regard to Recommendation #2, that Presbytery Committees on candidates require psychiatric and physical examinations of each candidate, most of the Presbyteries have taken no action. It was encouraging to note that several of the Presbyteries do indeed require some type of vocational psychological testing. Again, it is hoped that the remaining Presbyteries will implement this action.

With regard to the polarization that has taken place within our church in recent years, the Committee on Christianity and Health would like to present the following statement based on an article by Dr. Robert D. Phillips, which appeared in the September 7, 1970 issue of the Presbyterian Outlook. "This Committee feels that the tension and controversy in our church cannot be explained primarily on the basis of differences in theological positions. The church is a sociological group and is subject to the same problems and difficulties as other human organizations. Early years of training and conditioning help determine our theological positions which, therefore, reflect more than just spiritual revelations. The Christian church reflects its true nature when it exemplies the spirit of reconciliation".

E. Report of the Committee on Church and Society

Rev. Robert H. Ramey, Jr., Chairman

The Church and Society Committee has held two meetings this year in Raleigh. Many different concerns were discussed. However, we agreed to focus our work and our report this year on prison reform and hunger. We wish to offer the following statements and recommendations:

I. Hunger and Christian Responsibility

The 1969 General Assembly adopted a paper on "Hunger" in which the following statement was made in regard to world hunger: "There is surely no need for more documentation of hunger as a problem before we act. The data are already available; the conclusions are drawn. Nor is there any need for Christians longer to ponder the Biblical justification and theological legitimacy of our clear duty. We have a prophetic mandate to warn the people."

Since the 1969 General Assembly the people have been repeatly warned. The 1970 General Assembly passed further resolutions outlining suggestions for meeting the hunger crisis. Thus, the priority given this crisis by the General Assembly, the clear Biblical and theological legitimacy of the task, and the emerging data about our own Synod, compel us to act.

At the 1970 meeting of Synod, the Church and Society Committee presented studies on hunger and poverty in North Carolina, with particular attention to Appalachia. At that time we indicated that other regions of the state would be covered in subsequent reports. In the meantime, a special committee appointed by Governor Scott to study hunger and malnutrition has completed its report. These findings have not been made public at the time of this report. Rather than to conduct further studies that would only duplicate the work of Governor Scott's committee we decided to make additional concrete suggestions to Presbyteries and congregations.

Recommendations:

1. That Synod urge Presbyteries to set up Task Forces on Hunger, or their equivalent, if they have not done so.
2. That Synod urge its churches to become involved now in the alleviation of world hunger.
3. That Synod urge Presbyteries and churches to consider, where applicable, the merits of the Food Stamp program for their counties as opposed to the Commodity Distribution program.
4. That Synod encourage churches to consider providing:

   (a) Transportation pools to help the needy secure food.
   (b) A summer program for low-income children which includes a feeding component.
   (c) Emergency relief funds at their Department of Social Service to help needy people meet the purchase price requirement of food stamps. (The emergency rate: 50¢ buys $28 worth of food stamps.)
   (d) "Food pantries" in addition to "clothes closets" to aid those in need.
   (e) Volunteers to work with their Department of Social Service in either the Food Stamp program or the Commodity Distribution program.

(f) Volunteers to serve wholesome meals to pre-school children of working mothers.

(g) Volunteers to serve breakfast to school age children who cannot eat at home.

(h) Volunteers to participate in the Meals on Wheels program to prepare food for the aged or handicapped.

(i) Volunteers to help low-income families learn how to prepare food and to budget their income.

5. That Synod request Presbytery Hunger Task Forces and church Service Committees to send reports and suggestions about combatting hunger to the Church and Society Committee.

II. Prison Reform and Christian Responsibility

Christ calls his people to regard with compassion the outcast, the stranger, the sojourner, the sinner, the criminal offender. The God of Jesus Christ is one who identifies with those who are rejected by society. In the New Testament Jesus says that his mission is to proclaim release to the captives and to set at liberty those who are oppressed. In the famous Parable of the Last Judgment he says that service to him includes ministering to the person in prison.

Furthermore, Christ teaches that men cannot be divided sharply into categories of good and bad, innocent and criminal. In the light of Christ the moral differences between people become relatively unimportant. All have fallen short, and none has the right to cast stones of rejection and contempt.

Christ teaches further that the Father seeks to help every man, regardless of his merits or demerits. In the Bible God is seen as one who has a special concern for lost sheep and lost sons. The ethical meaning of this is that Christian people cannot confine nay human being to the social trash heap and forget him.

With specific reference to criminal offenders and to the inmates of prisons, our desire for them is that they be helped, healed, and equipped to live in a useful and lawful way.

In the past two years a number of church groups and church leaders have been involved in a study of the North Carolina prison system. Along with others they have discovered that the prisons of our State tend to be schools of crime. They tend to be places where human personality is twisted and destroyed. There is much truth in the contention that the crimes which society commits against inmates of the prisons far exceed the crimes which those persons have committed against society.

This situation damages not only the inmate but society. Most inmates in prison go back into free society. Sixty-five percent of these commit other crimes and are returned to prison, thus demonstrating that the correctional system does not generally succeed in its function of modifying behaviour. Thus the case for reforming the penal system can be made from a pragmatic point of view as well as from a Christian point of view.

Therefore, this Synod expresses its urgent desire for positive changes in the prison system so that prisons might become centers of help and healing. We join our voices with those of Governor Scott, the North Carolina Bar Association, and others in asking the 1971 General Assembly of North Carolina to appropriate the necessary funds and to take whatever legislative action is necessary for the humanizing of our State's prison system. We express our support for the implementation of a philosophy which stresses the imporatnce of correction and rehabilitation in the prison system.

Some of the specific aspects of this kind of change in the prison system should include: 1) the provision for each prisoner of a quiet and safe place free from physical molestation at night; 2) the expansion and improvement of correctional treatment programs, including additional staff in this area; and 3) the elimination of the highway quota which requires 2400 inmates to work on public roads.

Finally, we call upon the churches of the Synod of North Carolina to become involved in this effort; to become sensitized themselves to the needs for change in the prison system; to express their convictions to their representatives in the General Assembly and to policy makers; to participate in educational programs relating to corrections; and to develop forms of direct ministry to inmates of the prisons.

Recommendations:

1. That Synod adopt the paper on "Prison Reform and Christian Responsibility" and send it to all Sessions for study and action.
2. That Synod send copies of the paper on "Prison Reform and Christian Responsibility" to appropriate committees and legislators in the North Carolina General Assembly.
3. That we commend the North Carolina General Assembly for its recent legislation to eliminate the highway work quota by July 1, 1973.

F. Report of the Committee on Historical Matters

by Durward T. Stokes, Chairman

The Committee on Historical Matters met in Synod's Office on April 6, 1971, with five members present.

The report of the General Secretary of the Synod called attention to the growing collection of historical material in the Synod's Office and the increasing use of the data. Twenty-five Presbyterian Churches in the Synod of North Carolina are celebrating anniversaries during 1971, ranging from the 25th to the 175th anniversary. A complete list of these churches follows later in this report. The Committee has assisted some of these churches already by furnishing guidelines for their consideration, and will continue to assist others during the year as requested.

The North Carolina Presbyterian Historical Society held its annual meeting on April 16, 1971 in Raleigh with more than forty-two persons present. The speaker for the program was Dr. Harold J. Dudley, who presented an address on "Religion in the American Colonies."

The current membership of the North Carolina Presbyterian Historical Society is 400. In the fall of 1970, a tour was sponsored by the Society of the old Presbyterian Churches in Rowan County. During the summer of the same year a tour was sponsored to European countries, and at Christmastime, a tour of the Hold Land, followed by another similar tour in March, 1971. Other tours are planned for 1971, including a wide world tour to Britain and Scandinaivia, July 29-August 20.

The Society has sponsored a book by John K. Fleming, The Cowans from County Down, and the book will be available by purchase from the Office of the Synod by early summer.

The Committee has completed two new papers, "On the Care and Preservation of Cemeteries," and "Suggestions for Establishing Heritage Rooms," both of which are available upon request at the Synod's Office. The attention of all churches of the Synod is called to these papers, together with "Suggestions and Aids for Local Church Historians," and "Helps for Churches Celebrating Anniversaries," which were completed last year. The use of this material is heartily urged as well as recommended.

Recommendations:

1. That ministers be urged to file photographs and life sketches in Synod's office.
2. That ministers be requested to record a sermon on tape at 7½ ips, to be filed in Synod's office.
3. That persons who possess photographs of former ministers of the Synod of North Carolina be requested to file them in Synod's office.

4. That Synod urge every church to create a committee on church history, whose responsibility will be to: (1) collect and preserve all historical materials; (2) recommend at an appropriate time to the Session a person who is competent to research and write the history of the church; (3) express critical judgment on moot matters, including the invitation to other competent persons to critically proofread copy before final approval of documents for release to the public. (Copies of the paper "Suggestions and Aids for Local Church Historians" may be obtained from Synod's office.); (4) locate and mark graves of deceased ministers, especially those of historical significance; (5) in churches having cemeteries, record inscriptions on all markers and furnish copies to the Historical Foundation, Montreat, Synod's office, and other appropriate institutions and individuals.

5. That all churches which have not already done so, be requested to have histories written, distributed to members of their churches, and copies filed in the Synod's office.

6. That local churches take advantage of the offer of the State Department of Archives and History to microfilm church records for security and without charge.

7. That churches be encouraged to collect and display artifacts, pictures, and documents of historical interest, in a "Heritage Room" or other appropriate place.

8. That Synod again be reminded that anyone needing advice in implementing any of the foregoing recommendations may apply to members of the Committee on Historical Matters for assistance.

9. That Synod takes note of the churches which are celebrating anniversaries in 1971 ranging from the 25th to the 200th, and commends them for their faithfulness and loyalty in espousing the cause of Jesus Christ and for their observance of anniversaries, at the same time urging that past records prove to be an inspiration for greater involvement and service both currently and in the future.

10. That Synod observe Annual North Carolina Presbyterian Synod Day on October 10, 1971.

11. That attention of the Synod be directed to the fact that the State Department of Archives and History will give serious consideration to placing highway markers by churches or other historic sites which qualify according to the standards laid down by the Department.

12. That the four papers available at the Synod's office, and previously mentioned in this report, be called to the attention of the Sessions of all churches for implementation.

13. RESOLUTION: To the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina: Your committee on Historical Matters, having witnessed the building of a sizeable collection on historical matters concerning the Synod, starting with the Synodical records, and now having increased to the extent that today it is of inestimable value to researchers and writers who are engaged in presenting Presbyterian history to the world; and in appreciation of the fact that Dr. Harold J. Dudley was mainly responsible for the collection of this material, in addition to inspiring and assisting many in the use of it in writing books and manuscripts which have added significantly to the story of Presbyterians and their influence in the history of North Carolina; and because Dr. Dudley will no longer be in the official position which he has formerly occupied so that he might continue to emphasize future additions to the collection as he formerly could do; the Committee hereby RESOLVES: That it is our desire and sincere wish that this collection of historical material in the Synod's office not only be preserved, but continue to receive emphasis in Synodical negotiations to the extent that it will be continuous and used.

G. Report of Inter–Church Relations Committee

Your Inter-Church Committee has met only once this year. Members on the committee continue to be involved in inter-church activities at the local level. During the year the Consultation on Church Union has received a good bit of attention. Dr. William A. Benfield met with approximately 130 people from across the Synod at Burlington on October 15, 1970. His presentation was well received by those in attendance. We are grateful to the ministers and members of the First Church for their hosting the hearing.

There has been established a state steering committee on COCU which held meetings with leaders from the denominations in the consultation. One was held in Goldsboro and the other at Statesville. Ten area conferences were held in the spring with representatives from most of the participating churches. This has afforded unprecedented opportunities for Christians from different backgrounds to come together and ask direct questions with regard to each other as well as about this Plan of Union.

We encourage local congregations to get together with congregations of other denominations, to study A Plan of Union. Copies (35¢) may be obtained from C. O. C. U. Distribution Center, P. O. Box 989, Philadelpha, Pa. 19105. Try to involve as many of the participating churches as possible. We have a recommendation with regard to the Presbyteries later in the report.

With regard to the Plan of Union of the United Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. and U. S. you have been represented on a consultation held in Charlotte last fall. This union will demand our utmost attention in the year before us. We encourage an open and prayerful consideration of this possibility, as well as all other issues that the Spirit presents to us. Your committee has a recommendation to make with regard to that.

Our most immediate participation with other denominations in the Synod finds expression through the N. C. Council of Churches. We again commend the staff members there under the directorship of Dr. Sam S. Wiley, a member of our Synod, for their expertise and dedication in their respective labors. We solicit your assistance in commending them to groups in your churches for engagements to share the work that is done through the Council of Churches. Dr. Wiley's report is printed and you are entreated to give it your first class attention.

We would especially like to call to your attention the fact that the Church Women United has determined to purchase another vehicle for the Ministry with Migrants which will require 1,200 books of savings stamps!

The quiet campaign to raise funds for a site for a future building has been all but silent. We need yet $1,300 this year from churches or individuals to pay our proportion on this property. Churches and individuals are encouraged to send contributions to the Synod's office ear-marked for this project.

We wish to call to your action the request made last year for each Presbytery to activate an inter-church committee. We would also encourage the extension of invitations to representatives of other denominations to meetings of our church courts.

Finally, we wish to share the fact that ecumenism at the grass roots is finding more and more expression at every level. Small communities and large are linking arms with Christians of other denominations to address themselves to situations and opportunities that are opened up to them. We urge each church who is so involved to forward your participating activities to your chairman and to the Presbyterian News that all of us may learn of our oneness in Christ.

We want to present an oral report to the Synod at this time from local experiences.

Recommendations:

1. Whereas A Plan of Union Commission of the Consultation on Church Union has requested study and response on the part of each participating denomination, we recommend that each Presbytery make a study of "A Plan of Union" of C. O. C. U. and forward the results and recommendations or resolutions to the office of C. O. C. U. in Princeton, N. J.

2. Pending the adoption of the Plan of Union between the P. C. U. S. and the U. P. C. U. S. A. by the General Assembly of P. C. U. S. that the Presbyteries take steps to provide for an objective study of the Plan for the benefit of all constituent members at the local level prior to the time of voting on the proposal

We suggest that the Councils of the Presbyteries or Inter-Church Relations Committees implement the above recommendations.

3. REPORT OF THE NORTH CAROLINA COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

For Year Ending April 30, 1971

Reverend Samuel S. Wiley, Executive Director

The 34th annual Assembly of the North Carolina Council of Churches was held in Laurinburg, April 26 & 27. The pre-Assembly Pastors' Conference, attended by 86 people, had as its theme, "The Vocational Quandary of the Parish Minister." The leaders were Dr. Dan Zeluff, Dr. J. Archie Hargraves, and Dr. John S. Brown. Bishop William R. Cannon opened the Assembly with an address on "The Future Outlook for the Ecumenical Movement." The Distinguished Service Award went to Dr. Charles W. Ward of Raleigh, and Richard Shelton Communications Awards were given to The Burlington Times-News, The Maiden Times (weekly), and WNCT-TV, Greenville, North Carolina, with a personal citation to Miss Virtie Stroup of The Winston-Salem Journal and Sentinel. Dr. Thelma Arnote of the State Department of Social Services spoke on "A Challenge to Churches for Child Care."

On the positive side, there were good responses to the opportunities before the Council in cooperative Christian action and honest debate on issues such as the war in Indo-China and the organization of farm workers. On the negative side, there was the perennially small attendance of official representatives from the member bodies, some of which had no delegation present, and the threatened budget shortage for 1971 amounting to $9,158 out of the total budget of $54,148. However, the Assembly acted to request the member bodies to have a special offering for the Council in their congregations on Pentecost Sunday or another suitable day. John R. B. Hawes, Jr. is the Council's Treasurer.

Dr. James H. Lightbourne, Jr., Conference Minister of the Southern Conference of the United Church of Christ, was re-elected President of the Council. New Executive Board members are the Reverend L. H. Whelchel, Mrs. Bernard Boyd, Kennett Cobb, The Reverend Charles L. Kirby, Alan Albright, and Miss Yvonne Hill.

Church Women United

The Council's department of women's work is Church Women United in North Carolina, headed by Mrs. Sam A. Dunn. Their program revolves around three annual observances, World Day of Prayer, May Fellowship Day, and World Community Day. Three new groups have been welcomed, and a fourth is forming. Having completed their drive for the new chapel at Samarkand Manor the women are now cooperating in a similar effort for Dobbs school at Kinston. During their State Assembly at Asheboro in March they voted to secure 1200 or more books of trading stamps with which to obtain a new "Harvester" vehicle for the Migrant Ministry, this being the eighth vehicle they will have provided. CWU in North Carolina was well represented at the national Ecumenical Assembly in Wichita, Kansas, in April.

Commission on Christian Social Ministeries

Following the 33rd Assembly in April 1970 the Council activated a new plan of organization with three program commissions. The Commission on Christian Social Ministries is chaired by the Reverend Otis L. Hairston; the Director of Social Ministries is the Reverend S. Collins Kilburn. (In early May he moved his office to 740 Nash Drive, Raleigh, North Carolina 27608.) As priorities, this commission selected five areas of concern; prison reform, the labor situation, the North Carolina General Assembly, the welfare system, and war and peace. The prison system task force has been the most active, with marked results. The Commission has defined its purposes as follows:

(1) to facilitate and coordinate united action of church groups in North Carolina in the field of social concerns;

(2) to be a structure through which they can relate to public policy at the state level;

(3) to help identify and call attention to social issues with which they should be concerned;

(4) to be a structure of interdenominational communication, consultation, and exchange of information with regard to social ministry; and

(5) to give encouragement, stimulation, and support to social action leaders of North Carolina churches.

The North Carolina Council of Churches Migrant Project relates to this Commission. The long-time Migrant Ministry, begun in 1950, continues in Henderson County, Carteret County, and the Elizabeth City area. In 1971 $2,185 (most of it from Church Women United) went to supplement local funds in these three areas. However, our Migrant Committee supervises the $1,000,000 Migrant Project, a CAP program funded by OEO. The Director of the Migrant Project is W. H. Shipes, who has offices at 723 West Johnson Street, Raleigh, North Carolina 27603. The project is active in Johnston, Greene, Hyde, Tyrrell, and Carteret Counties the year around, and in Washington and Henderson Counties during the migrant season. Programs include day care for children, production and marketing co-ops, skills and crafts, job-training and placement, self-help housing, and emergency food and medical services.

The Seminar on Church and Community in February was jointly sponsored with North Carolina State University, the subject being "The Church and Community Planning in the '70's." This was judged the best program this seminar has ever had. Leaders were Ross L. Purdy, Leo F. Hawkins, Howard N. Lee, James G. Maddox, James C. Wallace, and H. George Anderson.

Ministry with Youth

Rutledge Tufts, Jr., a senior at Duke Divinity School, has served since October 1 as Minister with Youth. He has centered upon development of a plan for a chain of church-related youth hostels in North Carolina in which wide interest is being shown, particularly on the part of directors of camps and conference grounds. Hosteling is a program where people forsake the automobile and luxurious accommodations for a much closer association with natural environment and fellow travelers, and is available to those with modest incomes (especially college students and young married couples).

Commission on Christian Nurture

The Reverend John W. Cobb is chairman of the Commission on Christian Nurture. Here the new concept of "shared staff" among the Council's member judicatories is becoming effective. Under the leadership of the Reverend James F. Reese a special program at the 34th Assembly presented Dr. Thelma Arnote of the State Department of Social Services, on "The Challenge to Churches for Child Care." This will be followed up. In March at Greensboro a Church School Seminar on Mental Retardation introduced and demonstrated the Trainable Series for the Mentally Retarded. Leaders were J. Harley Cecil and Wesley G. Brogan. Dr. William F. Eastman provided a full bibliography on family life education for The Church Council Bulletin (which now has a mailing list of 6250). Through the Executive Director this Commission relates to the Governor's Coordinating Council on Aging and its Task Force on Spiritual Well-Being, preparing for the national White House Conference on Aging next November. The Reverend K. Y. Huddle, pastor of Christ's Lutheran Church at Stanley, North Carolina is the new chairman of Scouting.

Commission on Christian Unity

The Commission on Christian Unity, headed by the Reverend James D. Riddle, has four functions:

(1) to discover and express the unity of Gospel and mission revealed through Jesus Christ;

(2) to promote, as funds and cooperative staff time are made available, local and area expressions of ecumenicity;

(3) to assist member communions and others in the areas of research, strategy, data development, comity, and church location in order that all may become better stewards of resources and more effective in performance of mission; and

(4) to explore the possibility of a statewide conference on faith and order for the spring of 1972.

Seventeen of the Council's judicatories have appointed members to the Commission, and there are Southern Baptist and Roman Catholic participants.

Church World Service

The North Carolina Council of Churches assumed responsibility for the Church World Service clothing Appeal in North Carolina in 1970. Through special promotion with our constituents we were gratified to see a great increase in the February collections over the year before: Clothing 60,837 lbs. compared with 15,529, and blanket money $2,309 compared with $383.

Conclusion

It is my conviction that the North Carolina Council of Churches has its best days before it. Mature Christianity must involve personal devotion to our Lord and vigorous action in His company to bring the changes in society that will make for true community. It is this mature balance of piety and social concern that we seek to express in the Council's program of work.

H. Report of the Committee on the Minister and His Work

Reverend James E. Fogartie, Chairman

The Permanent Committee on the Minister and His Work affords a channel of communication among the Commissions of the Presbyteries. There are relatively few actions taken by the Committee itself, nonetheless the Committee has regular meetings twice a year.

During 1970-71, these sessions were conducted in Roanoke, Virginia, as part of Regional Meetings of similar Committees from the Synods of Appalachia, Virginia, and West Virginia. Of special significance was a period of confidential exchange of information regarding ministers and churches within the bounds of Synod. Experience has indicated the merit of such an exchange in providing current data relative to ministers and churches.

The Regional Meetings have broadened the opportunity to discuss the question of pastoral changes. At the fall meeting representatives from Episcopal, Lutheran, and Methodist Churches were invited to present their own situations and to discuss candidly problems encountered in their systems. Further, a paper was presented dealing with the stresses related to the ministry.

Attending these meetings were the members of your Committee and the Executive Secretaries of the Presbyteries. Mr. R. Graham White, Executive Secretary of the Assembly's Committees, and Mr. Charles M. Harris, Assistant to the Executive Secretary were present, and rendered good counsel.

Your committee has been ably assisted by Synod's General Secretary, Dr. Harold J. Dudley.

There are no recommendations to be brought to the Synod.

I. Report of the Committee on Nominations

Reverend Russell M. Kerr, Chairman

Your Committee met on May 20, 1971 , Synod's Office, Raleigh, N. C.

We submit to Synod the following recommendations:

1. That the vacancies occurring at this meeting of Synod on the Agencies, Committees, and Boards of Synod by virtue of the creation of new committees or offices, or because of the expiration of terms of office, or by resignation, death, moving from Synod, or otherwise, be filled as follows: (All changes are reflected in the GENERAL DIRECTORY.)

2. That interim appointments made by the Moderator be approved.

3. That Synod express appreciation to those who have served faithfully as members of Boards, Committees, etc., especially those whose terms of office expire with this meeting of Synod.

J. Report of the Permanent Committee on Standing Rules

Reverend Harold J. Dudley, Chairman

1. That Rule 15:1a be amended by adding at the end of the Rule the words: "... for nomination to the Board of Directors", in order to bring Synod's Rule into conformity with the Constitution and By-laws of Union Theological Seminary
2. That Rule 27:2 be deleted for the reason that there is no longer a General Assembly's Council on Higher Education.

K. Report of Committee on Women's Work

Reverend J. Donald Glover, Chairman

The following is the report of the Committee on Women's Work of the Synod of North Carolina.

The inspiration, service, and leadership of the Women of the Synod of North Carolina provides reason to be thankful and grateful for their contribution to the life of the Church.

The Committee is pleased to commend those in places of leadership on the Council of the Women of Synod, for their dedication to their work, and for the effectiveness in their programming.

Attention is called to the fact that the Women of Synod are sponsoring an opportunity for inspiration, leadership training, fellowship, and information this year, for both men and women throughout our Synod, in the 1971 Men and Women Conference at Montreat, June 11-13.

Synod is asked to listen closely to the report of the Synodical President, Mrs. Walter Stone, so as to be informed in the ways God is working out his purposes through the Women of the Synod.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE WOMEN–OF–THE–CHURCH SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA

Mrs. W. S. Stone, President

Working under the Theme, "Living The Word" and making a Study of Words from the Book of Romans, the nearly 57,000 Women of the Church in North Carolina have sought this year to gain a deeper understanding of the Incarnation as God's Living Word to us all: "In the Beginning was the Word . . And the Word Became Flesh and dwelt among us."

Affirm the Fact that the Word continues to live in the World today . . . .
"For me to live is Christ".
Confront Women with their unique opportunity to live the Word in Today's World.
Recognize the Word as He Comes to us in new ways, through Science, the Arts, and Mass media, and to use these to Communicate Christ our Eternal Contemporary.

Let's take a look at ways in which the Women of the Synod of North Carolina have sought to Communicate Christ, Our Eternal Contemporary . . .

Some of the ways we communicate the Good News.

The District Conferences held last Fall were well attended, most of them offering training as well as fellowship. There were many special training opportunities in Week-end Conferences, Leadership Training, Work shops on Hunger and how it can be made meaningful to the Women. Many Scholarships are given, both on Presbyterial and Synodical level. Many young people benefit from these at our Schools and Hospitals. Some of the Presbyterials offer scholarships for their Women to Attend Synodical Training School who might not otherwise be able to attend.

The Wilson Leprosy Center in Korea was the recipient of the White Cross Supplies this year. Many and varied items were sent including the knitted bandages knitted by our Women and used only in Leprosy treatment. White Cross is a service of Love, and all of the Churches take part in this vital work.

Many and varied ways were used to promote Hunger Emphasis in the Churches, some interesting titles were given them such as Meager Meat, Poor Man's Supper, Two Out of Three supper, and many others. Women used Food Stamp Rations with their Families, in order that they might know the little given to our poor, and sought ways to make the food more attractive, and find more ways to serve and prepare it nutricionally. Many Women volunteered their time and knowledge to help lower-income people shop for food. Many are working with local Welfare agencies to help in a more meaningful way.

Several Churches continue to have International House at Christmas-time, extending Christian Hospitality to Internationals who are studying in our Country. This is an ever increasing field of interest.

Since becoming Synodical President, and visiting our Churches, I have become more aware of the wide and extensive measures used by our Women to show concern for the needs of others in their Community. Besides those already mentioned, there is extensive work being done by two Presbyterials in the Literacy Program, both in Adult Education and in the Child Tutoring Program; Visits and Coffees for New Comers in the Church; Meals on Wheels continues to be an effective service for the sick and shut-ins; Mental Health Clinics; Kindergartens for the Mentally Retarded; Camps for the Mentally Retarded; Day Care Centers and Camps for the Under-Provileged. Many groups are feeding and providing milk for those who need it in the Schools and Kindergartens.

Clothes Closets, Food Pantries, services to the old and blind, Volunteer Hospital services by both Young and Old, and many other services are almost as original as the Women themselves.

The Birthday offering is nearly $45,000 and will provide a Ministry of Service in Centers for training People in the Congo, Korea, and Taiwan. This is a self-help program, an investment in People, not buildings.

There has been continuing interest in Alcohol and Drug abuse and many have taken part in dialog between the Young and those who are experienced in counseling with drug addicts.

The Women of the Synod give $5000 each year to some agency or Home, and this year the recipient is the William Black Home at Montreat.

I have just finished visiting the nine Presbyterials in their Annual Spring meetings, and the theme most of them used was; "Come to the Fair". This was carried out with many clever ideas, and displays depicting the work of the Women in booths as in a Fair, with emphasis on things of interest to the Women. The attendance was extremely good.

We are looking forward to the 26th Annual Synodical Training School, June 7-11th, and the First Men-Women's Conference on June 12-13th.

Hannah Smith in her Book, "THE CHRISTIAN'S SECRET OF A HAPPY LIFE", says, "Wherever there has been a faithful following of the Lord in a Consecreted Soul, several things have inevitably followed . . . meekness and quietness of Spirit . . . Submissive acceptance of the will of God . . . Pliability in the Hands of God . . . Calmness in the Midst of turmoil . . . Absence of Worry and anxiety . . . and always some helpful Work for Others is Taken Up. God's Glory and the Welfare of His Creatures becomes the Absorbing Delight of the Soul". I feel the Women of North Carolina are reflecting God's Glory as they go about Communicating the Good News, for it seems they are continually Caring for the Welfare of God's Creatures, and what's more they radiate the Joy of their Christian Service.

L. Report of Permanent Committee on World Missions

The Reverend Wilkes D. Macauley, Chairman

Synod's World Missions Committee met in its annual meeting on April 19, 1971, at Synod's Office with five Presbytery chairmen present and representatives of the Women of the Church.

One of the concerns about which your committee feels deeply is the continued cutback in the number of missionaries on the field due both to rising costs and to limited funds. Early budget studies of projected income for 1971 indicated support of only 380 missionaries during the current calendar year (as compared to 565 four years ago). Your Assembly's Board voted in late 1970 to maintain 400 missionaries in 1971 even though this will mean a sizable deficit. The 400 missionaries will represent a reduction of 20 from the 1970 number of 420. The Board action reflects determination to halt the drastic reduction in missionary personnel caused by the financial crisis of Assembly's agencies. One of the most distressing factors with which we are all faced is the fact that we have trained missionaries who desire to return to their fields, but funds are not available. Word comes from one Korean missionary, "The consensus here among the missionaries is that we would rather take a cut in our salaries than a cut in personnel assigned to this station." This kind of message and the continuing cut-back that we have been witnessing should cause us all to examine the priorities in our local budgets.

Your committee shares the conviction of the Board that to witness to the grace of God in Christ is to manifest that grace by deed as well as by Word. We are mindful that from the very beginnings of the modern missionary movement, ministries of compassion in the face of human suffering and need have gone hand in hand with the ministries of proclamation. In the underdeveloped "third world" where most of our missionary activity is to be found, the depth and extent of human suffering and of elemental unmet human need exceeds all comparison with that known in America. Approximately one-third of our missionary force is directly engaged in ministries of service to human need, and slightly more than one-third of the budgetary resources of the Board are so engaged. As our Lord coupled the healing ministry with his preaching ministry, so also do our missionaries overseas as they are confronted with masses of people suffering with untreated disease and pain. Programs which attack hunger, exploitation, ignorance, and disease are many and varied. Our missionaries work in a many-faceted program including agricultural improvement, chemical reserach in development of nutritional foods, hospital care, training of hospital personnel, vocational training, as well as proclaiming the Good News of God through frontier evangelism, urban and industrial evangelism, and specialized evangelistic ministries. All of these things, and much more, are done through the regular budgeted program of the Board of World Missions in an effort to minister to the total man.

The coming World Missions Conference scheduled for Montreat during the dates of July 21-28 should be an exciting opportunity for all who participate. Short on speeches and long on personal simulated experiences, this international conference will make it possible in some measure to stand in the shoes of people from other nations. The conference theme is "Crisis and Hope, Challenge for Christians in the Global Community" with the Congo as the "geographical focus". All Presbyteries are urged to send their chairmen and to encourage churches to send representatives, both adult and young people.

Recommendations:

1. That the attention of the churches be called to the reduction in the number of missionaries that has been necessary this year due to increasing costs and decreasing resources available (see body of this report), and that the churches be urged to be diligent in their prayers for and in their financial support of the overseas mission of our church.
2. That local churches be encouraged to serve as hosts or to assist nearby churches serving as hosts in the International House ministry for students from overseas who are in this country. (Further information may be obtained by writing Mr. Tom F. Brown, Board of World Missions, Box 330, Nashville, Tennessee 37202.)
3. That appreciation be expressed to the missionaries who worked so faithfully in their itineration throughout our Synod: The Reverend and Mrs. Arthur Lindsay, Miss Lucile McElroy, and the Reverend and Mrs. David Miller.
4. That the Board of World Missions be thanked for its diligent and faithful service of administration, planning, counsel, and interpreting the work through its seminars and conferences.
5. That local congregations be reminded of:
   (a) The importance of putting our World Missions concerns on a year-round basis.
   (b) The opportunities for effective overseas ministry through the collection of used clothing, blankets, bandages and medical supplies for distribution through Church World Service.
   (c) The importance of living Christian lives here at home in order that they do not hinder the Christian witness abroad.
   (d) The availability in our Synod of exchange students, retired missionaries, and persons who have recently visited the mission fields of our church.
   (e) The current stewardship policy in effect, namely, that when a local church is meeting its fair share of benevolences, the church or any individual in that church can make designated gifts without their being subject to equalization.

(f) The new missionary support program in which every congragation, large or small, is encouraged to establish a relationship with one or more overseas missionaries.

(g) The important service they can render to missionaries on furlough by securing and making available to the missionaries acceptable furlough homes.

6. That missionaries and other mission interested persons be invited to take part in the Presbytery camps and conferences of the Presbyteries.

7. That our young people and adults be encouraged to attend the World Missions Conference at Montreat July 21-28, and that Presbyteries and local congregations be requested to underwrite part of their expense.

8. That, pending the adoption of this report, Synod hear Mr. Keith McCaffety, Executive Director of the Medical Benevolence Foundation, who will bring a brief visual presentation of the work of our church's overseas ministry.

9. That Synod recognize the ecumenical and international values of the Pan Africa-U.S.A. Track meet to be held at Duke University, July 16 and 17, 1971, at which Olympic–class track and field athletes will compete. Diplomats from 41 African nations are being invited in this connection. The churches will have an opportunity to be involved at local, state, and denominational levels in hosting these athletes and extending to them our hospitality. Support of the individuals and churches of Synod is strongly encouraged.

D. RESOLUTION TO REVEREND HAROLD JAMES DUDLEY

On the Occasion of Retirement as General Secretary of the Synod of North Carolina, Presbyterian Church in the United States; prepared and offered by the Reverend Joseph M. Garrison, Retiring Moderator of Synod, Tuesday evening, June 8, 1971, St. Andrews Presbyterian College, Laurinburg, North Carolina.

Some twenty years back, when Dr. Harold Dudley accepted the call to become Executive Secretary of the Synod of North Carolina, at a time when Dr. F. L. Jackson was a member of Synod's Council, Dr. Jackson said that "it was an impossible task." Later, however, as Chairman of the Council, Dr. Jackson said, "It has been done."

To list all that has been done under the leadership, initiative, and inspiration of Harold Dudley in the Synod of North Carolina over the past twenty years would lengthen Synod by another day. We are forced to resort to brevity and will attempt to list only a few of his major achievements.

His Administrative Work as measured in dollars and cents is a significant achievement. 1956 brought the Higher Education Campaign and including the Campus Ministry produced nearly two million dollars, resulting in a New College Campus at St. Andrews, where we are now met, and so graciously hosted; new buildings for campus ministries at Duke, Chapel Hill, Greensboro, Raleigh, and renovation of a building at Greenville. Synod's Office was completed and occupied November 11, 1960 resulting in a much used facility, and valued at $131,000 plus land considerablyabove $40,000 (today $84,000), Synod's fixed assets have accumulated up to $420,000. The assets of the Executive Committee on Church Extension have increased from $155,000 to more than $600,000.

Through Synod's Office he has managed some twenty financial accounts, leaving all solvent, some with reserve accumulations. All equipment is in excellent condition and unencumbered.

His Editorial Work has been time consuming but productive. The Presbyterian News has expanded from 12,000 mailings in 1951 to 65,000 today. The Synod's Blue Book, a necessity for Synod to work effectively, was introduced in 1957. Synod Minutes have increased from 139 pages to 265. Every year fifteen to twenty booklets have been published to assist various committees of the Synod in the prosecution of their work.

It is estimated that more than 800,000 mailings go out of Synod's office annually. Most of us have had our share of his effort at providing information and stimulating us into intelligent action.

His Historical Interest has resulted in the formation of the North Carolina Presbyterian Historical Society with 400 members. A valuable collection of documents and artifacts in the life of the Synod have been accumulated. A Third Edition of Foote's Sketches of North Carolina was edited and published by him in 1965.

His Ecumenical Contribution is found in his serving as President of the North Carolina Council of Churches and as Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Council, resulting in the Presbyterian Denomination being the strongest supporter of this work.

His Unfinished Work includes the re-establishment of Synod's Foundation, well organized to become an important part of Synod's Life, and the establishment of a Pension Fund for widows of Presbyterian ministers.

Fortunately he has been blessed with health, so that his record of attendance at Synod is perfect, and not one committee has been missed because of illness.

During my year as Moderator of Synod he has been of invaluable assistance, and furnished me with all the necessary information needed to try to perform this task. It has been my privilege to work with Dr. Dudley in numerous capacities, and he is always the same person, fully informed about the Synod, wise in his counsel, tireless in his efforts.

Some words said by our Lord Himself surely apply, "Well done good and faithful servant." The Synod of North Carolina's enviable record among the Presbyterian Synods is reflected in the work of Harold J. Dudley as General Secretary of the Synod of North Carolina over the past twenty years.

I pray you, Harold J. Dudley, let us inherit a double share of your spirit." – II Kings 1:9

25:3b. All actions and reports of all the sub-committees of Executive and Permanent Committees and of the Council are subject to the approval of the parent Committee of which they are a part, and ordinarily the Chairman, or some appointed member of the parent Committee, shall make the combined report to Synod of all approved actions of the sub-committees.

[1]Unfortunately, this cannot be correctly ascertained before 1953 (short year), due to the fact that one column in the statistical lists of the Assembly combines benevolence gifts with Synod's and Presbyteries' Causes, and another includes all miscellaneous gifts. This column includes all contributions, budgeted and non-budgeted: gifts which passed through Synod's Treasury and those sent directly by churches to agencies and institutions, as reported by the 641 churches of Synod.

[2]Includes Negro Work Campaign—$48,942.

THE REVEREND JOHN MACK WALKER, JR.

MODERATOR OF SYNOD 1972

The Reverend John Mack Walker, Jr., was born at Marlinton, West Virginia, August 5, 1915, the son of John Mack and Annie Muller English Walker. He received his B.A. degree from Davidson College and his B.D. and Th.M. degrees from Union Theological Seminary in Virginia. Mr. Walker was ordained on July 23, 1940, by Norfolk Presbytery and served as pastor of the Roxboro Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Walker was called to his present position as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Roanoke Rapids, North Carolina in 1942.

A self-taught sculptor whose medium is wood, Mr. Walker creates biblical characters and scenes that have vitality and meaning. He believes that good art can be a tremendous force in teaching the Revelation.

Mr. Walker is married to the former Catherine Amelia Clark of Clarkton and they have three children: John Mack, III, Daphne Clark, and Eric Clark.

Mr. Bluford Hestir, Executive Secretary, Division of TRAV, and his staff were presented as the authors and designers of the media presentation so that Synod could express its appreciation.

Mr. Smith presented the Reverend Charles M. Olsen and the Reverend John Robert Smith of the Board of National Ministries and Mrs. J. W. Witherspoon, Lexington, a member of the Evangelism Council, who described the three-year denominational effort by use of a film entitled "Together in Evangelism". The speakers also described the relationship of this effort to the Key 73 interdenominational program. Synod divided itself into small groups to discuss "where you see evangelism happening", and six listening teams reported for the small groups.

A reactor panel composed of the Reverend Leighton Ford, Charlotte; the Reverend Tom A. Cutting, Jr., San Antonio; and the Reverend Jerry A. Kirk, Cincinnati, responded to the small group reports by stating "what I hear you saying in light of where I am". A discussion of the driving and restraining forces at work in the church followed, and the panel emphasized the importance of diversity in the churches' implementation of this emphasis. The Reverend Jerry Kirk summarized the program in an inspirational address and the meeting was closed with prayer.

THE COMMITTEE ON THE MINISTER AND HIS WORK: At a time of rapid change and ferment in the church regarding the ordained ministry, the report of the Committee on the Minister and His Work is extremely important. The Standing Committee calls the attention of Synod to the report of the permanent committee, particularly to the sentence in the second paragraph of the report dealing with the ministers and social security. We suggest this information be distributed to sessions through available channels at Synod's office.

We concur with the recommendations of the committee and in addition make the following recommendations:

1. That Synod recommend to the Committee on Mission and Organization that all present committees dealing with the minister and his family, the exercise of his profession, his health and welfare, and his retirement be grouped together under one committee which may be called the Division of Professional Personnel, or some other name.
2. That Synod acknowledge that it is appropriate for ministers to initiate a change in location in accordance with the Consultation on the Ministry.
3. We recommend to Sessions the two booklets on the Church's Use of Her Ordained Ministry for reading and studying, "Resource Papers" and "Enabling the Enablers". These are available from the Reverend Kenneth B. Orr, Union Theological Seminary.

THE COMMITTEE ON CHRISTIANITY AND HEALTH: We concur with the recommendations of the permanent committee. The Standing Committee suggests that the permanent committee consider areas of concern that may overlap with the Committee on Church and Society, such as abortion, drug abuse, alcoholism, tobacco, transplants, and national health insurance.

The report was adopted as amended, the amendment being a committee sponsored substitute for the position paper "The War in Indo-China" and by the addition of a resolution on reconciliation, as follows:

This Standing Committee was requested to study and make recommendations for (1) Report of Executive Committee on Homes, and (2) Permanent Committee on Church and Society.

A. The Reverend Al Dimmock reported for the Reverend John Mack Walker regarding the Executive Committee on Homes. He introduced Dr. Nat K. Reiney who spoke and gave an audio-visual presentation. Dr. Richard Short was also introduced and spoke on behalf of Presbyterian Home, High Point.

2. That Synod take note of the new Family and Child Development and Christian Education Center now completed at our Barium Springs Home, and that we encourage all our churches to make use of this facility as a model in design and usefulness, and as a resource for consultants, and learning in future directions in child care, as well as in the continuing education of our ministers and other leaders in family relationships.

   b. That Synod send this paper to President Nixon and presidential candidates, gubernatorial candidates, national and state senators, congressmen, local school board chairmen, the State Department of Public Instruction, and the local working press; and the Synod communicate this action and forward a copy of this paper to the Presbyterian Church in the United States General Assembly. This paper is printed in the Appendix.

3. "The War in Indo-China". Your committee recommends that Synod substitute the following report concerning the war in Vietnam for the Permanent Committee's paper, and

   a. That Synod adopt this paper on "The War in Indo-China" and send it to its churches for study and action.

b. That copies of the paper be sent to the President of the United State, to North Carolina members of Congress, and to the representatives of both the Viet Cong and North Vietnam involved in the Paris Peace Talks.

"The War In Indo-China"

War is the ultimate madness of man. The Vietnam war stands as a prime example. As of January, 1972, the cost to the United States has been 45,000 young Americans dead, 100,000 wounded, and hundreds missing in action and taken as prisoners of war. The major economic costs of the war have been many billions of dollars each year, resulting in spiraling inflation. The social costs are well-known: The alienation of some youth from the government; a lowering of confidence in high-placed officials; and confusion about our national purposes. The cost to the Indo-Chinese has been the destruction of their towns, cities, churches, temples, schools, and hospitals. The Senate Sub-committee on Refugees estimates that since 1965 the war in Indo-China has resulted in the death of 150,000 civilians (some figures are as high as 300,000), the wounding of an additional 355,000 and the creation of 5,000,000 Vietnamese refugees (one-third of the population of South Vietnam), 1,500,000 refugees in Cambodia, and 1,000,000 refugees in Laos. The decline of American casualties must not desensitize the Church in this nation to the large-scale havoc and misery still being wrought on the Indo-Chinese peoples. Statistics are but a pale reflector of the actual suffering occurring in Indo-China.

The Synod of North Carolina of the Presbyterian Church in the United States deplores the carnage occurring in Indo-China, and calls out in the name of Almighty God for a cessation of hostile acts by all parties in that war. The Synod of North Carolina encourages and urges the President of the United States to use all reasonable means available to him to withdraw our military forces from Indo-China, insuring the safety and return of our prisoners of war. Further, we encourage the President of the United States to seek to implement ways and means of bringing relief from the suffering of the peoples of Indo-China which has resulted from the war.

The Synod of North Carolina assures the President of the United States, our Congress, and all those who work for peace in Indo-China, of our concern and our prayers as they seek to bring an end to the senseless suffering of the millions of people in Indo-China.

That Synod encourage its members and churches to give funds for the relief of all victims of the war in Indo-China as part of their Special Offering for Overseas Relief. (Funds may be earmarked for Indo-Chinese war victims and sent to the Board of World Missions.)

That Synod urge member churches to pray for peace at every service of worship; and, also, that Sessions be requested to open the doors of their churches for prayers for peace every day.

Synod adopted the resolution as an amendment to the report:

WHEREAS the task of reconciliation between people is a vital part of the mission of the Presbyterian Church in the United States and the Church of Jesus Christ as a whole; and

WHEREAS the unprecedented action of the President of the United States in visiting in their countries with the leadership of both China and the Soviet Union represents the most courageous and extensive political effort for the reconciliation of our people in recent history; and

WHEREAS the major efforts already made and the possibilities of continued negotiations and agreements hold exciting potentials for peace in the world in the years ahead.

NOW THEREFORE the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina assures the President of our prayers and our support for the momentous and continuing efforts to achieve better understanding and increasing reconciliation between our people and the peoples of China and Russia and thereby to achieve a more stable and peaceful world.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE V: Coach Clarence Stasavich, Greenville, presented the report of the standing committee which reviewed the work of the Executive Committee on Educational Institutions and North Carolina Presbyterian Foundation. 1. That the sum of $515,000 for the support of Educational Institutions through the 1973 budget of Synod be adopted and that the percentage allocation to institutions recommended by the Stewardship Committee be approved as follows: St. Andrews, 36%; Queens College, 24%; Davidson College, 16%; Union Theological Seminary, 24%.
2. That the report of the North Carolina Foundation, Inc. be approved.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE VI: Mr. Whit East, Winston-Salem, presented the report of the standing committee which reviewed the work of Synod's Permanent Committee on World Missions and Synod's Permanent Committee on Interchurch Relations. The reports reviewed by this committee are printed in the Appendix to these Minutes. The report of the Standing Committee was approved, with directions to print the recommendations adopted by the court. In connection with the report, Synod heard a presentation on "A Plan for Union" as a special order at 11:00 a.m. on Wednesday, June 7, 1972. The following recommendations were adopted:

Recommendations from Interchurch Relations Committee:

1. In order to promote stronger ties with sister denominations, we recommend that each presbytery investigate the feasibility of exchanging fraternal delegates with other churches of the Reformed tradition in their areas, i.e. Moravian, United Church of Christ, Associate Reformed Presbyterian, United Presbyterian, etc.
2. We recommend that the Council or Nominations Committee of each presbytery appoint an Interchurch Relations Committee for the present purpose of encouraging a study of "A Plan for Union" in each church. Copies of "A Plan for Union" may be obtained from the Office of the General Assembly, 341 Ponce de Leon Avenue. NE, Atlanta, Georgia 30308.

Recommendations from World Missions Committee:

1. That the Presbytery Chairman and the Ecumenical Missions and Relations Chairman be encouraged to attend the World Missions Conference at Montreat, July 28-August 4, 1972, and begin preparations now to do the same next year.
2. That Presbyteries be encouraged to send at least eight other persons, including youth and minority groups, to the Conference at Montreat, July 28-August 4, 1972, and begin preparation now to do the same next year.
3. That appreciation be expressed to the missionaries who worked so faithfully in this Synod for their time and service and that this appreciation be communicated to each of them.

4. That the Board of World Missions be thanked for its diligent and faithful service of administration, planning, counsel, and interpreting the work through its seminars and conferences.
5. The local congregations be encouraged to partially or fully support a missionary over and above their regular benevolence giving, by establishing a relationship with one or more overseas missionaries.
6. That local congregations be reminded of:
   (a) The importance of putting our World Missions concerns on a year-round basis.
   (b) The opportunities for effective overseas ministry through the collection of used clothing, blankets, bandages, and medical supplies for distribution through Church World Service. Information regarding collection points can be secured by writing Dr. Samuel S. Wiley, Box 6637, College Station, Durham, N. C. 27708.
   (c) The current stewardship policy in effect, namely, that when a local church is meeting its fair share of benevolences, the church or any individual in that church can make designated gifts without their being subject to equalization.
   (d) The important service they can render to missionaries on furlough by securing and making available to the missionaries acceptable furlough homes.
7. That agencies of the Synod of North Carolina and its presbyteries in filling staff positions, seek applications from Christians of other nations.

4. That the 1973 Apportionments of Synod's Causes to Presbyteries be based on the formula of 3.2% increase of 1972 Budget Askings.
5. That the total Benevolence Budget for Assembly and Synod causes for 1973 be approved in the amount of $2,718,222 and that the apportionments of same to the several Presbyteries be made.
6. That the budget for Synod's Office and program of work for 1973 in the amount of $93,571 be approved. We recommend that Synod commend Council for its effort to implement realistic salaries for Synod's staff and urge them to continue to lead the Church in demonstrating our stewardship to the employees of our Church.
7. That a per capita assessment of 55 cents for the support of Synod's Office and program of work in 1973 be approved.

8. That the recommendations of the General Council to the General Assembly be considered by all Presbytery Stewardship Committees and Councils for implementation in a vigorous year-round program of Stewardship development.

9. That the calendar of special days and seasons recommended by the General Assembly for observance by the church be adopted; and likewise, that the customary emphases for the Children's Home (Thanksgiving) and Presbyterian Home (Mother's Day), with offerings, be adopted.

10. We recommend to the Synod of North Carolina that the time and place of the 1973 meeting be June 5-6 at Union Theological Seminary in Virginia with Presbyterian School of Christian Education as co-host.

Standing Committee VII also considered the Report of the Permanent Committee on Standing Rules of Synod and we make the following recommendations:

A. The committee recommends that the following changes proposed to the 1971 regular sessions and approved by majority vote at that time be adopted:

   1. That Rule 15:1a be amended by adding at the end of the rule the words: ". . . for nomination to the Board of Directors", in order to bring Synod's Rule into conformity with the Constitution and By-laws of Union Theological Seminary.

   2. That Rule 27:2 be deleted for the reason that there is no longer a General Assembly's Council in Higher Education.

   3. That Rule 20:1a be amended to read as follows: Membership: The Committee shall be composed of members as follows: a) The chairman of each presbytery's Campus Christian Life Committee, or a duly elected representative of the presbytery; b) six students, representative of the areas where full-time campus ministers are currently being supported by the Synod; c) three full-time campus ministers sponsored by Synod; d) nine members-at-large from Synod; e) the Synodical President (ex-officio); and f) a chairman-at-large. The former shall be arranged in classes whose terms of service shall be for three years. Members shall be chosen for their knowledge of and interest in the program of Christian Higher Education. Each presbytery's representative shall endeavor to promote the cause in his presbytery.

B. Noting that on January 1, 1972, Synod's plan of presbytery restructure was fully implemented and that this reorganization resulted in a reduction in the number of presbyteries from nine to six new judicatories, the committee recommends that all references to presbytery representation on committees, councils, or boards be revised to conform to the new presbytery structure of this Synod. The committee recommends the following:

   1. That the last sentence of Rule 15:1b be amended to read "The Board shall be composed of 24 members, 18 of whom shall be presbytery representatives, three from each of the presbyteries, and six members-at-large."

   2. That Rule 17:1 be amended by causing the phrase "of each of the nine presbyteries" to read "of each of the presbyteries."

3. That Rule 19:1 be amended to read, "The Committee shall be composed of 19 members including the chairman, as follows: "The chairman of corresponding committees in presbyteries; twelve members at-large divided into three classes of four members each whose term of office shall be of three years. At least nine members shall be lay persons."

4. That Rule 23:1 be amended to read "The committee shall be composed of 16 members, including the chairman, the chairmen of the corresponding committees of the several presbyteries and nine members at-large whose terms of office shall be for three years, arranged in classes of three members each. Members shall be persons who are competent in fiscal matters, and who have a social concern for people, especially children and the elderly."

5. That Rule 24:10a be amended to read as follows: "The Committee shall be composed of eight members including the chairman, one member from each of the presbyteries, and the president of the Women of the Synod. The chairman and presbytery representatives shall be nominated by Synod's Council."

C. Recognizing the increasing involvement of women and youth in the work of the church at all levels, and particularly the changing roles of women in the life of the Church since amendment of BCO 9-2, the committee recommends that the Standing Rules of Synod be amended by adding the following:

1. Section 24:10f—In making nominations for membership to the several boards and committees, the Nominating Committee shall take care that representation on each such board and committee shall be broadly representative of the entire Church and shall include significant opportunities for participation by women, youth, and minorities as members at-large and as presbytery representatives.

2. That all rules fixing membership of committees be amended to delete special categories of membership based on sex.

THE REPORT OF THE ATTENDANCE COMMITTEE: The report of the Attendance Committee was read by the Permanent Clerk as follows:

The Attendance Committee is composed of the Stated Clerks of each presbytery. The attendance for this meeting is 414 ministers, and 271 ruling elders, 57 guests,—a total of 742.

The committee recommends:

1. That Synod excuse ministers and ruling elders who requested to be absent for a portion of the meeting.

2. That Synod grant the requests of 141 ministers, and 68 churches for their ruling elders to be excused.

3. That the 313 churches having no ruling elders in attendance, and having made no request for excuse, be listed in the Minutes of Synod as unexcused.

4. That the 92 ministers who did not attend and made no request to be excused, be listed in the Minutes of Synod as unexcused.

Respectfully submitted,
Cheves K. Ligon, Chairman

It was adopted.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON BILLS AND OVERTURES: The Reverend J. M. Garrison presented the report of the Committee on Bills and Overtures. The following actions were adopted:

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS the 111th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States adopted a plan for the reorganization of synods by replacing the fifteen existing structures with seven new regional courts, and

WHEREAS the Ad Interim Committee on Restructuring General Assembly's Boards and Agencies has proposed a plan of reorganization which assumes the existence of strong regional synods capable of resourcing the ministries of the church in terms of their unique needs and opportunities, and

WHEREAS the state boundaries of North Carolina form the boundaries of one of the seven regional structures, known as Synod "B", which is to become operational on July 1, 1973, and

WHEREAS this plan will reunite the churches of fourteen counties in the western part of the state with the other churches of this region, and

WHEREAS the resourcing system and the ministries of the Synod of North Carolina in their responsiveness to the needs of the church and the stewardship of human and material resources have placed the Synod of North Carolina in a unique position of leadership for the whole church, and

WHEREAS the concept of a new regionalism is a part of the American culture which reaches the communities of politics, economics, education, and religion, and this concept must be dealt with in a positive way, and

WHEREAS an overture has been sent to the 112th General Assembly meeting in Montreat, June 11, 1972, requesting the dissolving of synods or regional courts.

NOW THEREFORE the Synod of North Carolina in regular meeting assembled at Queens College, Charlotte, North Carolina, on June 7, 1972, hereby expresses its appreciation to the General Assembly for its vision and wisdom in establishing the new regional structures, and for reuniting the western counties of North Carolina with the courts of the church from whence they came.

NOW BE IT FURTHER RESOLVEO that the Synod of North Carolina hereby requests permission for its Moderator and such other representatives as may be designated by him to appear before the Bills and Overtures Committee of General Assembly for the purpose of describing the value and importance of regional courts, ministries, and resourcing systems and in support of the continuation of such regional structure.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS the 111th General Assembly created seven synods out of the existing fifteen and set the boundaries of each, including a new judicatory described as follows: Synod "B" consisting of the State of North Carolina, excepting the counties of Gates, Camden, Currituck, Pasquotank, Perquimans, and Chowan, and

WHEREAS the 111th General Assembly, as a part of this action empowered a Commission on New Synod Boundaries appointed by the General Assembly to readjust a particular boundary line of a proposed synod when requested by an existing synod, and

WHEREAS Cann Memorial Church of Elizabeth City and First Church of Edenton have expressed their preferences that the six counties in northeastern North Carolina scheduled to become a part of Synod "A" be transferred to Synod "B", and remain a part of the regional church community in North Carolina, and

WHEREAS the Presbytery of Albemarle has overtured the existing Synod of North Carolina to petition the General Assembly's Commission on New Synod Boundaries to adjust the boundary line between proposed Synod "A" and proposed Synod "B" to allow the six North Carolina counties to become a part of Synod "B", and to set the synod and presbytery lines to coincide with and follow the line existing between the Commonwealth of Virginia and the State of North Carolina, and

WHEREAS the convention of Synod "B" has endorsed this request and the convention of Synod "A" has taken note of the desires and intentions of the affected congregations, and has expressed its affectionate regards and good wishes, should they be included in other synods, and

WHEREAS Synod's Council has acted favorably on the requests of the congregations and presbytery named above and has petitioned the General Assembly Commission on New Synod Boundaries to readjust the particular boundary line of the proposed synods in the manner requested by the Presbytery of Albemarle and its member churches, and

WHEREAS the Commission on New Synod Boundaries, on February 9, 1972, granted the request contained in this petition, but requested that the Synod of North Carolina ratify the action of its Council by adopting a similar petition,

NOW THEREFORE be it resolved that the Synod of North Carolina in regular meeting assembled at Queens College, Charlotte, North Carolina, this 7th day of June, 1972, does hereby petition General Assembly's Commission of New Synod Boundaries to readjust that particular boundary line between proposed Synod "A" and proposed Synod "B" by causing said boundary to follow and be coincident with the line between the Commonwealth of Virginia and the State of North Carolina and expressly incorporating the North Carolina counties of Gates, Camden, Currituck, Pasquotank, Perquimans, and Chowan as a part of the proposed Synod "B".

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Moderator, Stated Clerk, and chairman of Synod's Council or either of them, are hereby authorized and directed to formalize this request to meet the requirements of the General Assembly Commission on New Synod Boundaries and to do all things needful in support of this petition.

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON NOMINATIONS: The Reverend James G. Stuart presented the report of the committee. Synod suspended its rules to permit the Reverend Will Terry to continue to serve as chairman of its Executive Committee on Campus Christian Life for one year. The report of the Nominations Committee was adopted and the nominees elected. (See Appendix, page 149.)

Praise Father, Son, and Holy Ghost.

For the use of all facilities at Queens College; and for being gracious hosts to the Synod of North Carolina, we thank the Board of Trustees. To the very many who saw to it that we were comfortable and saw to it that our stay was pleasurable, the faculty, staff, the dining room staff, the dormitory staff, we say Thank You. We thank Almighty God for Queens and her continuing service in the life of young people and the Church.

Our thanks to the Synod's Staff for their long work and dedication in preparing for this meeting of Synod. To Mr. Robert Jansen, we give our appreciation for his continuing dedication in his capacity as Stated Clerk of our Synod.

For the inspirational way in which we were led in our singing God's Praise, we thank James Dellert and the two organists who helped him.

For making available to members of Synod materials from the Bookstore, we thank the Board of Christian Education, Synod's Area DCE workers, and the entire Synod Staff.

We thank the News Media for their services and for the way they have presented the deliberations of Synod to the public.

We want to thank the Standing Committees for their work with the reports and the Permanent Committees for their diligence in presenting their work to the Synod.

For the fine manner in which our meeting has been conducted, for his concern that everyone be heard yet moving on about the business of Synod, for his dedication and life we want to thank our Moderator, Johnny Mack Walker, Jr.

We thank God for all our blessings, for being with us through His Holy Spirit, in leading us and inspiring us in these days,

THEREFORE be it resolved that the Synod of North Carolina show its appreciation by standing.

Respectfully submitted,
William E. Link, Chairman

B. MODERATOR'S REPORT

Reverend E. Lee Stoffel

As Moderator of the Synod of North Carolina, I report to the Synod that I appointed the membership of the Committee on Mission and Organization for Synod "B", as the Ad Interim Committee to review Synod's organization and function (Minutes, page 46). I also report the appointment of an Administrative Commission to realign the boundaries of Presbytery I (Minutes, page 177).

My principal work was as the appointed convenor of Synod "B". This consisted of work with a committee from across the state to plan for the organizational meeting of Synod "B". I am very grateful for the cooperation which I received from all areas of the state of North Carolina and for the spirit which has been in evidence from the beginning.

In February of this year, I moved to Jacksonville, Florida, having accepted a call to the Riverside Presbyterian Church. I left the state of North Carolina with much reluctance, having served nearly 22 years in the Synod of North Carolina. I will always remember with deep appreciation the fact that the Synod chose to confer on me the honor of being Moderator.

Please know of my prayers and continued interest in the work and mission of the new Synod. With the positive Christian commitment and great wealth of leadership across the entire state among both laymen and ministers, that witness in the future should be a great one indeed. Thank you for the honor you have given me, and may the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with you all.

C. MINUTES OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE COMMISSION TO REALIGN BOUNDARIES OF PRESBYTERY I

The Administrative Commission to realign the boundaries of Presbytery I convened at the office of the Synod of North Carolina on October 5, 1971, at 11:00 a.m. The meeting was called to order by the Reverend John Mack Walker, Jr., Chairman, and opened with prayer. The required two-thirds quorum was present and consisted of the Rev. John Mack Walker, Jr., Dr. Warner L. Hall, Rev. J. V. C. Summerell, Rev. Richard R. Gammon, Rev. Robert H. Ramey, Jr., Rev. William H. McCorkle, Mr. Leslie Boney, Jr., Mr. D. L. Stallings, and Mr. Voit Gilmore. Mr. Dail Holderness, Mr. George Elliott, and Dr. John Reynolds were excused from the meeting.

Upon motion Leslie Boney was elected Vice-chairman of the Commission and Robert H. Ramey, Jr., Secretary.

John Mack Walker briefed the Commission on the task ahead which was "to realign the boundaries of Presbytery I to form not more than two Presbyteries by January 1, 1972." He informed the Administrative Commission that the three Presbytery Commissions, which would have worked out Synod's first plan, had continued to meet. He further informed the Commission that on September 19, 1971, an open meeting for all interested persons from the three Presbyteries was held in the First Presbyterian Church of Hickory from 3:00-5:30 p.m. The meeting was attended by John Mack Walker and also by Vernol Robert Jansen, Jr., General Secretary of the Synod of North Carolina. Mr. Walker apprised the Administrative Commission of the nature and climate of the meeting in Hickory. He further informed the Commission of the General Assembly action of 1971 in bringing the fourteen counties of Asheville Presbytery into the Synod of North Carolina as a result of the Assembly's restructuring decision.

At 11:35 all interested members of Synod who were present were invited to come into the conference room for an open hearing before the Commission. The discussion which ensued lasted until the 1:15 lunch break.

The Rev. Neill McGeachy of Concord Presbytery reported that the Concord Commission unanimously favored the establishment of Presbytery I.

The Rev. James Stuart of Kings Mountain Presbytery reported that Kings Mountain Commission favored the establishment of Presbytery I by an 8 to 1 margin.

The Rev. Eugene Kirkman of Winston-Salem Presbytery reported that the Commission from Winston-Salem Presbytery unanimously favored the establishment of Presbytery I.

The Rev. Marion Boozer of Kings Mountain Presbytery then represented a minority from Kings Mountain Presbytery and spoke against the establishment of Presbytery I and in favor of establishing two Presbyteries. Also speaking against the establishment of one Presbytery were the Rev. Ted Smith, the Rev. Alfred Saleeby, and the Rev. Alan Wells, all of Kings Mountain Presbytery.

Mr. Fielding Clark, Mr. William Sherrill, Mr. A. J. Gillespie, the Rev. Paul Ausley, the Rev. Robert Wilson, the Rev. John Kimbirl, Mrs. Evelyn Downs, the Rev. Jack Robinson and others spoke in favor of the one Presbytery concept.

After lunch the chairman acknowledged receiving communications from various churches. A communication favoring the one Presbytery concept was received from the Waldensian Presbyterian Church. Letters opposing the one Presbytery concept were received from the Southminster Church, the Bostic Church, the New Hope Church, the Rutherfordton Church, the Flat Rock Church, and the First Church of Stanley. Letters were acknowledged from the Sessions of the Calvary Church and the Sherrill's Ford Church requesting that the field be divided at the end of 1971, with Calvary requesting to go with Mecklenburg Presbytery and Sherrill's Ford with the new Presbytery. The chairman reported receiving letters from the Rev. William Leist and the Rev. George Webb favoring the establishment of Presbytery I. He further reported receiving the minutes of some of the small groups which met at Hickory on September 19.

After more discussion a motion was unanimously adopted that in light of the action of the previous Synod Commission of 1970 relating to Presbytery boundaries which was ratified and approved by the Synod of 1971, in light of the communications that have been received, in light of the evidence presented by delegations from each of the three Presbyteries, and in light of our judgment as to what would be best to honor Christ and to further the work of the Synod of North Carolina, therefore we find that Presbytery I should be and remain a single Presbytery. This motion was made by the Rev. Richard Gammon and seconded by Mr. D. L. Stallings.

It was then agreed that the General Secretary would notify the Stated Clerk of each Presbytery involved and release the decision to the news media at the same time.

The meeting was adjourned at 3:05 p.m.

Robert H. Ramey, Jr.
Secretary

D. MEMORIALS TO DECEASED MINISTERS

(Complete Memorials appear in the Minutes of the Presbyteries of which ministers were members at the time of their decease; also see Ministerial Directories.)

The Reverend Joseph H. Carter was born in Mount Airy, North Carolina, August 12, 1886, and died in Statesville on March 2, 1972. His parents were William Franklin and Annie Hollingsworth Carter. His early education was received in the schools in Mount Airy and at Horner's Military School, Oxford, North Carolina. He graduated from Davidson College in 1909. From college he went to the University of North Carolina to study law. He attended Union Seminary in Richmond, Virginia, the session of 1911-1912, but returned home and for ten years practiced varied professions, seeking to learn God's will for his life.

In 1922 he returned to Union Seminary to resume his theological studies. On April 18, 1906, he had been received as a candidate under the care of Orange Presbytery; now, on May 14, 1923, he was licensed, and, on December 2, 1923, ordained and installed as pastor of the Elkin and Wilkesboro churches. For two years he was Superintendent of Home Missions for the Presbytery of Winston-Salem. In 1925-26, he was an Evangelist for the Synod, after which he became the pastor of the Taylorsville Church.

During 1929 he was called to the Central Presbyterian Church in Anderson, South Carolina, where he served for sixteen years. He was called by the First Presbyterian Church of Newton. When his pastoral relation was dissolved, he became Professor of Bible at Lees-McRae College. When the president resigned, he was elected to that office. Following his retirement, he became the Executive Secretary of the Mitchell College Foundation, which office he held at the time of his death.

His wife, the former Elizabeth Williams Bright, and two of their four children survive him.

EDWIN S. COATES, JR.

1899-1971

The Reverend Edwin S. Coates, Jr. was born on January 1, 1899, in Johnston County near Angier. He was educated in the local schools and at Union and Columbia Theological Seminaries.

Pee Dee Presbytery ordained him when he accepted a call to the Timmonsville, South Carolina Church in 1925. After four years he moved to McColl, South Carolina, where he served First Church and also the Blenheim, Dunbar, and Reedy Creek churches for fourteen years. He came from this pastorate to Farmville in 1943.

He came to Farmville as a vigorous man in his early forties and energetically led his people until his retirement, extending his ministry also to Ballards and Carraway Churches. An engaging sense of humor and humble faith won the hearts of his people.

Mr. Coates died on December 3, 1971 and is survived by his wife, the former Geneva Quinn of Wallace, North Carolina, and a daughter, Margaret Quinn (Mrs. C. H. Hale).

ROBERT ELMORE HUEY

1888-1971

The Reverend Robert Elmore Huey was born in Shelby County, Tennessee, on April 30, 1888, and died in Huntersville, North Carolina, on November 29, 1971. His parents were Samuel Orr Huey and Savannah Paratine Ellis Huey. He was married to Macie Knox on December 3, 1919, and to this union there was born no children.

He was a graduate of Erskine College and of the Erskine Theological Seminary in 1917. He was ordained in the Associated Reform Presbyterian Church on July 12, 1917, and continued a member of that denomination from 1917 until 1953, serving churches in North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Georgia, and Arkansas. In 1953 he was received by Montgomery Presbytery and served as pastor of the Mallow and Altamont Churches of Covington, Virginia, from 1953 to 1958. He served faithfully and fruitfully for forty years in the active ministry and was honorably retired by Montgomery Presbytery on September 1, 1958. He and his wife removed their residence to her paternal childhood home in Huntersville, North Carolina, and he was received into Mecklenburg Presbytery at that time.

Mr. Huey supplied a good many churches in the Mecklenburg area during his retirement years. All of his active ministry was filled with active and vigorous preaching, teaching, organizing, and building up new and small young churches.

NORMAN JOHNSON

The Reverend Norman Johnson died in a Richmond, Virginia, hospital on March 15, 1972, following a brief illness. He was only 45 days short of his eightieth birthday.

Dr. Johnson was born in Atlanta, Georgia, April 29, 1892, the son of James Monroe and Jessie Thomas Johnson. He was educated in the public schools of Atlanta. His higher education included an AB degree from Davidson College in 1915, and the BD degree from Union Theological Seminary in 1919. Throughout his educational career he excelled in scholarship, a distinguishing mark of his entire life. This trait was recognized by his alma mater, which institution conferred on him in 1952 the Doctor of Divinity degree.

On February 28, 1923, Dr. Johnson united in marriage with Miss Mary Mildred McClure of Augusta County, Virginia. To them were born two sons: Norman McClure and James Wallace.

He was ordained on July 13, 1919, by Atlanta Presbytery. During his ministry he served three churches: the Inman Park Church, Atlanta; the Presbyterian Church at Blacksburg, Virginia; and the First Presbyterian Church, Rocky Mount, North Carolina, from 1931 until his retirement in 1959.

MACK CARMICHAEL MacQUEEN

1904-1971

The Reverend Mack Carmichael MacQueen was born in Dillon, South Carolina, on May 1, 1904. He attended Davidson College, receiving his AB degree in 1929. He went from Davidson to Columbia Seminary to prepare for the ministry, being graduated in 1932 with the BD degree. He was licensed to preach by Pee Dee Presbytery and ordained by North Alabama Presbytery where he served until 1938.

The remainder of his ministry was exercised in Wilmington Presbytery. He came to Clinton in the spring of 1939, and served as pastor of the Graves Memorial and Holly Grove Churches until the time of his death on December 18, 1971.

Mr. MacQueen served as Moderator of Wilmington Presbytery and lent his exceptional talents for understanding and healing to every phase of Presbytery's work. He was elected Moderator of the Synod of North Carolina in 1966, a significant evidence of the honor and affection in which he was held throughout the Church.

Mr. MacQueen was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. MacQueen, and the husband of Memory Motes MacQueen, who, together with his son and daughter, Donald and Margaret (Mrs. R. J. Grason, Jr.) survive him.

CARL SAMUEL MILLER

The Reverend Carl Samuel Miller, age 72, passed away January 10, 1972, in the Presbyterian Hospital after a brief illness. He was born March 17, 1899, in Mecklenburg County, the son of the late Hugh and Mattie Kay Miller.

He grew up with and later married Grace Autin. They together travelled Life's journey and labored together in the ministry for almost 52 years. He attended the public schools of Charlotte and was graduated from Erskine College and Erskine Seminary. His first pastorate was in Huntersville serving both the Huntersville and the Gilead A. R. P. Churches. At that juncture in his ministry, he received a call to the First Presbyterian Church, Mullins, S. C., where he stayed for three years. He was then called to the Erwin Presbyterian Church, Erwin, Tennessee, where he stayed for sixteen years. For the next eleven years he served the First Presbyterian Church, Rockingham, North Carolina.

It had always been his dream to have the experience of being an organizing pastor in a new field, so he accepted the call to be the organizing pastor for the St. Giles Presbyterian Church in Charlotte. For six years the Millers were in this rapidly developing section of the city and the church under their leadership grew at the rate of about 100 new members a year. The last regular pastorate for Mr. Miller was the Mt. Gilead Presbyterian Church. After a three year stint, he was honorably retired from the pastorate. But soon after coming back to live in Charlotte he began serving as interim supply for the Westover Hills Presbyterian Church and remained there for two and one half years.

JAMES ROBERT PHIPPS

1899-1972

The Reverend James R. Phipps was born on March 27, 1899, the son of Wallace Gilmer and Mary Annie Gannon Phipps.

He was graduated from Davidson College and Union Theological Seminary. He was ordained by Granville Presbytery and served his first pastorate in Littleton.

Eastern and piedmont North Carolina were to feel the influence of this man as he served additional pastorates in McLeansville, Whiteville, Rowan County, Chinquapin, and Loray. He was instrumental in erecting several new buildings for services of worship.

After forty-five years of service in the pastorate, he felt it necessary to retire because of his health but he continued, when able, to serve as a supply in churches needing his services.

On Sunday, January 16, 1972, he died in his home in Salisbury. A funeral service was conducted at Thyatira Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Phipps is survived by his wife, the former Elizabeth Milliken and a daughter, Mary Frances (Mrs. H. E. Moffitt, Jr.) and a son, Joseph William.

WILLIAM MANSFIELD RICE

1901-1971

The Reverend William Mansfield Rice was born February 1, 1901, in Baxter, Tennessee. Educated at Carson-Newman College and Southwestern Theological Seminary at Fort Worth, Texas, he began his ministry among the mountains of Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia under the auspices of the American Sunday School Union. He organized sixty Sunday Schools out of which came thirteen organized churches.

He joined Knoxville Presbytery in the expanding Home Mission Work around Chattanooga, working with the officers of the First Presbyterian Church of Chattanooga. One of his outstanding monuments is the lovely stone church, Wayside, on Signal Mountain.

In 1952, Rice had a call from the Greenwood and Speedwell Churches in Rockingham County, Orange Presbytery. He resigned in 1954 after two years of fruitful service and moved his family to Greensboro. Confined to a wheel chair, the last seventeen years of his life saw the testing and trial of suffering and frustration.

He devoted himself to writing as a means of continuing his witness for his Lord. Two books, The Holy Spirit and Explorations in Grace are as now unpublished. Other writings include "Wheel of Prayer", "Seven Living Problems", "God's Formula for Life", and "The Unending Cycle of Life".

JOHN DAVID SMITH

John David Smith was born in Danbury, North Carolina, June 10, 1877, to Frederick Alford Smith and Mary Agnes Simmons Smith. He was licensed and ordained on April 24, 1923 by Winston-Salem Presbytery.

John David Smith's life can be characterized as one of mission. Before his ordination he was a teacher and lay missionary in western North Carolina. After ordination he served many small churches in Piedmont North Carolina: Dan River, Collinstown, Asbury, Pine Ridge, and Pilot Mountain. He also served as temporary supply in various other churches filling the pulpits as the need arose. He was instrumental in the building of churches having been very much involved in the organizing and building of the Pilot Mountain Church.

His interest in youth was very apparent because of expressions of concern and interest in the formulating of plans for and the building of Susan Barbour Jones Conference Center for Winston-Salem Presbytery.

He was an author having written poetry and many articles which were published in church papers. Three books that were published are: Poems from the Briarpatch, Berries from the Briarpatch, and Wit, Wisdom, and Women of the Bible.

Mr. Smith died on June 29, 1971.

WILLIAM THEODORE SMITH

1895-1971

The Reverend William Theodore Smith was born June 1, 1895, in Stanley County, North Carolina. He was called home to be with the Lord May 6, 1971.

Prior to his call into the ministry, Mr. Smith worked in Charlotte as an automotive mechanic. In humble obedience to the call of God, he resigned from his work, entered Clemson College to prepare himself for this high calling. In 1924, he graduated from Columbia Theological Seminary in Columbia, South Carolina.

Upon completion of his theological training, he was ordained as a minister in Mecklenburg Presbytery. He served pastorates in Mecklenburg, Kings Mountain and Concord Presbyteries.

For a number of years, he conducted evangelistic campaigns under his personal tent in addition to his pastoral responsibilities. His tent ministry continued until failing health forced him to give up this phase of activity.

After his retirement a few years ago, he continued to preach. A number of churches sought and used his services as a stated supply. Rarely indeed, even during his retirement, did he occupy a pew; rather in most cases he was found standing behind the sacred desk.

Mr. Smith was married to the former Lula Harris and is survived by three children, the Reverend W. Ted Smith, Jr., James Smith, and Dr. Miriam F. Smith.

E. REPORT OF SYNOD'S COUNCIL

Reverend David H. Burr, Chairman

The work of the Council during the 1971-72 year has dealt with change and restructure. The creation of new synod boundaries as a result of the action of the General Assembly has demanded the talent of synod leadership in every dimension. The Synod of North Carolina has been designated as Synod "B" in the plan of restructure.

In addition to synod boundaries being altered and changed, the church has also been confronted with the change of presbytery boundaries. This has required the assistance of the Synod office. A great debt of gratitude is extended to Vernol Robert Jansen, Jr., newly-elected General Secretary of the Synod. Mr. Jansen has pioneered for the entire Assembly models and structure for more effective operation of the church courts.

A milestone was achieved when the support of the work of Synod passed the one million dollar mark in 1971. The retiring chairman, David H. Burr of Winston-Salem, is to be succeeded by Ruling Elder J. Harvey Oliver of Fayetteville. The newly elected Vice-Chairman of the Council is the Reverend John M. Handley of Charlotte.

The Council has adopted recommendations for improved fiscal management. The income from all special funds (except the Church and Manse Loan Fund) is being applied to the operating income of the committees responsible for these designated causes. Also, fringe benefits of Synod's employees are being standardized and the practice of carrying forward operating account balances has been discontinued. Uniform budgeting and accounting are being introduced and the entire system is being simplified.

STEWARDSHIP

For the first time Presbytery and Synod Stewardship leaders were invited to Atlanta to sit in on the General Assembly budget-making process. The results of this experience were reflected in the Stewardship Conferences a short time later. The General Assembly level leadership people are anxious to draw in middle judicatory people in the making of budgets.

One thing becomes quite clear: budgets are made, but mean little until grass roots giving supports those budgets. The General Assembly and your Synod are dedicated to getting information to the grass roots on budgets. Also, there is a strong desire to be faithful stewards of what is given.

It should not be necessary to remind the Synod that budget increases are generally less than inflationary price rises. Our giving supports people in important work and institutions serving people. Therefore, our stewardship is primarily for people, those who are employed and those whom they serve.

We give not to cold budget figures but we give to the continuation of work that is the result of the vision of faithful people before us. We are partners in a good work and our budgets are expressions of that partnership.

1. That Synod accept the apportionment by the General Assembly for the 1973 budget for the causes of the General Assembly in the amount of $1,593,222.

2. That the General Assembly Apportionments to Presbyteries for 1973 be based on the same formula as in the 1972 budget.
3. That Synod accept for its 1973 Benevolent Budget Askings $1,125,000.
4. That the 1973 Apportionments of Synod's Causes to Presbyteries be based on the formula of 3.2% increase of 1972 Budget Askings.
5. That the total Benevolence Budget for Assembly and Synod causes for 1973 be approved in the amount of $2,718,222 and that the apportionments of same to the several Presbyteries be made.
6. That the budget for Synod's Office and program of work for 1973 in the amount of $93,571 be approved.
7. That a per capita assessment of 55 cents for the support of Synod's office and program of work in 1973 be approved.
8. That the recommendations of the General Council to the General Assembly be considered by all Presbytery Stewardship Committees and Councils for implementation in a vigorous year-round program of Stewardship development.
9. That the calendar of special days and seasons recommended by the General Assembly for observance by the church be adopted; and likewise, that the customary emphases for the Children's Home (Thanksgiving) and Presbyterian Home (Mother's Day), with offerings, be adopted.

F. REPORTS OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEES

1. REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF CHURCH EXTENSION

Reverend J. Murphy Smith, Chairman

The Executive Committee of Church Extension has the responsibility of administering certain bequests to Synod and its loan funds; reporting to Synod on home mission and evangelistic activities within the Synod; giving direction to the office of TRAV, and Special Ministeries. Its sub-committee on Witness has planned the program on evangelism, which is a part of the program of Synod for this meeting, in the hope that it will be both inspiring and informative.

SUB-COMMITTEE ON HOME MISSIONS

Albemarle Presbytery, Reverend Lawrence W. Avent, Chairman

Due to the planning management process now underway in the presbytery, the membership of the Church Extension Committee has been frozen (as have all committees) until long-range goals and new structures can be established.

Of special interest in the committee's work we note the following:

1. Continuation of chapel ministry on Dare Beach and cooperation in the inter-denominational circus tent ministry in the area.
2. Dissolution of the Chicod Church and the merger of its membership with the Hollywood Church with funds from the sale of property going to the Hollywood Church.
3. Sub-committees on Evangelism and Christian Education working with some of the smaller aid-receiving churches.
4. Sharing in cost of Migrant Work Ministry in Eastern North Carolina.
5. The laymen's Committee on Minister's Salaries cooperated with the Presbytery in increasing the minimum salary for ministers again in 1972.
6. The Committee cooperated in sponsoring a Lay-Renewal gathering for the Presbytery.
7. Assisted with funds and other efforts in instigating a planning management process for the Presbytery.
8. Sent representatives to the Celebration of Evangelism in Cincinnati.

Concord Presbytery

The year 1971 was to be a year of uncertainty for the Presbytery of Concord as far as program was concerned. No one knew what the Synod of North Carolina would do in regard to restructure of presbytery's boundaries. Therefore the Committee on National Ministries was faced with a decision as to what would be its approach in 1971. At its annual meeting in December of 1970 it decided to continue the projects it had already approved and engage in no new ventures for 1971.

It approved support to fifteen churches for 1971 for a total amount of $24,585.75. During 1971 most of these churches had regular pastoral oversight.

The committee completed its commitment to the First Presbyterian Church, Lenoir for $10,000 for special ministries; it made grants to the First Presbyterian Church, Concord and the First Presbyterian Church, Newton for support of special ministries; it made a three-year commitment to the Burke County Day Care and Development Center. In all, these three amounted to another $10,000.

The Committee sent nine persons to the Celebration at Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1971. It also participated to a limited extent in the Renewal Program conducted by the Reverend Charles Olsen in the First Presbyterian Church, Lenoir.

Fayetteville Presbytery, Reverend Charles E. Kirkpatrick, Chmn.

Again this year we have had the benefit of several "interim" students who have served in our smaller churches for a fifteen-month period under the guidance of one of the professors from Union Seminary. We feel that each of these has made a very definite contribution to the life of his church as well as receive invaluable experience in the ministry.

During the past year, our most significant project has been the opening of the Emergency Youth Home of Fayetteville Presbytery. This home is located in Fayetteville. It seeks to minister as a place where children who have left home for personal or family reasons can find Christian love and care for a time while their problems personally and at home are being worked out. The Reverend and Mrs. James Hicks are operating the home. In addition, Mr. Hicks is pastor for one-half his time at the Church of the Covenant. We feel that this home is supplying a very real need in the Presbytery and will be something that others may want to investigate.

Granville Presbytery, Reverend Edward J. Agsten, Chairman

Since reporting to the Synod one year ago, the Presbytery of Granville no longer exists as such. As you know, it has been merged with old Orange to form the new Orange Presbytery. The Home Missions Committee as such, therefore, is no longer in existence. It has been merged with its counterpart to become a portion of the Committee of Education and Mission. This report covers the time from June through December 31, 1971.

During the time mentioned above, we were in somewhat of a "holding operation," not sure how we would fit into the new organization. In the meantime, the work of sustentation, growth in stewardship and self-support and a continuing effort toward unification of fields and churches were all a part of the program. We have every reason to feel that this will not be lost as the work becomes integrated into the mission program of our new presbytery.

Kings Mountain Presbytery, Reverend John E. Kimbirl, Chairman

During the year 1971, much of the time and energy of Kings Mountain Presbytery was put into preparing for the merger of Concord, Kings Mountain, and Winston-Salem Presbyteries as of January 1, 1972. Anticipating the merger, a joint meeting of the three presbyteries was held in February, 1971. At this time a temporary structure was adopted, and a Committee on Christian Witness was formed. A part of the responsibility of the Committee was to insure that the level of work in Home Missions that was being done by the three presbyteries would be maintained and to prepare for an orderly transition period. Representatives from the corresponding committees in the three presbyteries were appointed to this committee. Needless to say, most of our activity was stabilization and preparation for the merger.

At the same time, the Kings Mountain Committee did not abandon its work. The number of aid receiving churches in the presbytery was reduced to three during the year. We also consulted with and made loans to several churches for building, renovation, and/or program. The committee made a concerted effort to tie together any loose ends with regard to our work and to have everything ready to move into the merger. With both excitement and apprehension, we move through 1971 into 1972, joining hands and purposes with our brethren to the north of us in the western part of the Synod.

Mecklenburg Presbytery, Reverend Robert S. Owens, Jr., Chairman

Mecklenburg Presbytery's new structure is designed to provide a framework within which a total strategy for mission can be developed. The responsibilities of the former Church Extension Committee of presbytery have been divided between two new committees: Research and Strategy and Sustentation and Deployment.

The Research and Strategy Committee is the strategy unit of Mecklenburg Presbytery with these basic areas of concern: (1) Development of effective strategy for new church development; dissolution of churches; relocation of churches; merging of churches, etc. (2) Provide scholarships for training and leadership development opportunities being offered for both clergy and laity. (3) Planning events and learning situations on presbytery level, designed to equip ministers, Ruling Elders, presbytery leadership and other key leaders in local churches for more effective mission development and action. (4) Use of specialized resource persons trained in team building techniques, strategic planning, assessment of resources, motivation and organization development.

The Research and Strategy Committee has retained the services of consultants in the process of group development, researching methods, strategic planning for action, etc. The focus during recent months has been on development of skills and good working relationships within the committee, the development of effective research methods and working policies, and the establishment of priorities in terms of immediate objectives and long-range goals.

The Committee is striving to develop a close working relationship with local churches in strategic planning, enabling the churches to determine specific goals, locate strengths and weaknesses, develop action plans—not so much through authoritative oversight as by enabling, encouraging, and reviewing the work done by sessions, pastors, and local congregations. The committee is not creating mission strategy in a vacuum, but is working very closely with particular churches having particular needs. "Guidelines for Research" were developed by the committee and are being used in an analysis of churches and neighborhoods served by the churches of Mecklenburg Presbytery.

The Research and Strategy Committee is seeking to maintain open lines of communication and a sharing network with the other committees of presbytery responsible for implementing any mission strategy that is developed. The need for unified planning and action has become most obvious, and the committee is seeking to coordinate mission concern throughout the presbytery and avoid duplication of effort.

The committee has already assisted in the merging of four congregations and is presently working with four other churches considering merges or a joint ministry. The Research and Strategy Committee is also working both with ecumenical and denominational groups to determine the need for cooperative mission efforts. The committee is presently working in task groups to determine mission priorities and identify total resources for mission within Mecklenburg Presbytery. It should perhaps be noted that this committee has a special interest in those churches no longer able to supply the resources for ministry in terms of money and manpower, churches considering relocation or clustering, and churches serving changing neighborhoods. However, the Research and Strategy Committee has responsibility for all the churches of Mecklenburg Presbytery in the development of more effective mission strategy and action.

Wilmington Presbytery, Reverend John R. Dail, Chairman

The Home Missions Committee of Wilmington Presbytery has counselled and worked with twelve churches as they sought a better regrouping. There are now six two-church fields, each group either having an installed minister or stated or interim supplies.

One church is being given help by the committee as it considers relocation to a new site purchased by Presbytery in the Wilmington area.

There are six churches receiving sustentation and all of these have worked out a five year plan toward becoming self-supporting.

The Seamen's Ministry at Morehead City and Wilmington is growing in its effectiveness and both have the support of several denominations.

The committee has recently made a study of the immediate needs within the Presbytery. Included are a ministry to the military in the Cherry Point and Camp Lejeune areas, ministry to vacationers on the coast from Cedar Island to Sunset Beach and ministry to migrant workers in Carteret, Duplin, and Pender counties. The committee has recommended to the Council of Presbytery that Presbytery undertake a capital fund campaign to raise the financial resources to meet the needs in these areas.

Winston-Salem Presbytery, Reverend E. Perry Mobley, Chairman

The Home Missions Committee of Winston-Salem Presbytery was involved in a number of areas in the life of the church during 1971. The work has centered around financial support for ministers' salaries and the mission of the church, oversight of the special work in Ashe County which has been in operation for three years, in conjunction with the Service Committee reviewing and providing funds for the operation of a Child Care and Development Center, providing funds for the Campus Ministry at Wake Forest University and other institutions of higher education in Winston-Salem, and making plans for becoming a part of the new presbytery which is composed of former Concord, Kings Mountain and Winston-Salem Presbyteries. It has been a year of great joy and occasionally frustration. We look forward, with much anticipation, to the new Presbytery and its work.

SUB-COMMITTEE ON TRAV

TRAV-NC has continued to produce the "Sunday School of the Air" a 15-minute weekly radio series heard on 31 North Carolina radio stations and 5 stations in Virginia. The "Sunday School of the Air" is a study based on the Uniform Lesson Series.

In addition to the regular production of the "Sunday School of the Air", TRAV-NC has also engaged in special audio-visual projects. A multi-media presentation, "Concerns in the Ministry", was produced by TRAV-NC for the Ad Interim Committee on the Church's Use of Her Ordained Ministry and was used during the opening session of the Consultation on Ministry sponsored by the committee in Montreat, March 2-4.

TRAV-NC is presently involved in the production of a filmstrip for use during the 1972 Stewardship Season. The production, tentatively entitled "A Bold Partnership", will visually portray the work of the Church in the Synod of North Carolina and will be presented to Synod in June.

Another area of the communications program of Synod is in promotion of the work of the Church, both denominationally and ecumenically. An example of this work of TRAV-NC can be seen in the effort given to the promotion of the October, 1971, Presbyterian Convention in Atlanta. A film promoting attendance to the Convention was distributed in the Synod by TRAV-NC and was shown approximately 50 times.

TRAV-NC serves as an advisor to the North Carolina Council of Churches in media as the liaison for the Council with the Broadcast and Film Commission of the National Council of Churches. In this capacity, TRAV has assisted in the placement and promotion of a large number of radio and television spot announcements and has assisted a number of North Carolina broadcast facilities in selecting and locating religious programming.

Another important function of the TRAV-NC is resourcing local churches, groups of churches, and presbyteries. TRAV is prepared to assist local congregations and presbyteries in the selection and purchase of audio-visual equipment and in training leaders in the uses of audio-visuals in the church. Consultation services are available through TRAV-NC in planning and using the various media in the total life of the church. Direction in developing creative uses of audio-visual materials, specific production needs (i.e. making slides, filmstrips, films and audio-tapes), and workshops on media are among the kinds of services available.

SUB-COMMITTEE ON WITNESS

Someone has defined evangelism as "one poor beggar telling another poor beggar where 'the bread of life' is to be found". To be sure, this is not the whole story of evangelism, but certainly the "telling" is important if we are to communicate our faith to the world.

The committee on Witness would encourage local churches to study the materials on evangelism that the Board of National Ministries will be sending out in its effort to promote the three year emphasis on evangelism, and to adapt and use them in some kind of evangelistic program within the churches. The many conferences and schools on evangelism, such as the conference and the school on evangelism that are being held in Montreat this summer, that are being conducted across the country shows a renewed interest in, and awareness of the need of more effort in this area of our church's work.

SUB-COMMITTEE ON SPECIAL MINISTRIES

Your committee is more than pleased to report the fine work being done by our chaplain, the Reverend James N. Grubb. The work at Butner under his ministry continues to bear fruit. We feel this is due not only to his training and ability, but also because he works beyond the call of duty.

Mr. Grubb's ministry takes him to the C. A. Dillon Correctional Center, the Youth Center for young first offenders, the Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center, the Blind Center and to the John Umstead Hospital for the nervous and mentally disturbed. In addition, the regular activities of a minister is shared by him such as preaching, helping in camps and conferences, leading in worship and various other duties.

During the past year, Mr. Robert Dunham, a student at Union Seminary in Richmond, spent a summer in the program. This turned out to be a fine experience for all concerned.

Being completed in May is a seminar attended by our chaplain along with a goodly number of others on "Marriage and Family Therapy." This is led by Dr. Phillip Cook of the UNC-Chapel Hill faculty.

On Tuesday nights there is a continuing group meeting held in co-operation with the Butner Church for first offenders. This is proving to be most helpful.

Other pieces of work too numerous to mention are being done such as: short and long term counselling, lectures on "Spiritual Aspects of Alcoholism," a seminar on suicide with about 100 ministers in attendance (about 40 Presbyterians), and a planned seminar on alcoholism.

We all are requested to report to Mr. Grubb any individual from any of our churches in any part of the Butner complex.

The Board of National Ministries and Holston Presbytery have been involved in an Experimental Ministry in the resort areas around Banner Elk, N. C. for the past two and a half years. This experiment will officially end June 30, 1972. The directors of this ministry have appealed to the Church Extension Committee to help with this project from July 1, 1972 until July 1, 1973, until such time as Synod "B" is formed and operating, and it is determined whether special leisure ministries are a part of the new Synod's mission. This committee has endorsed this program for this specified period of time, and has agreed to support it in the amount of $5,700 on a matching basis with Holston Presbytery which will furnish its camping facilities as headquarters for the program and $4,175 in funds.

The program will consist of a ministry to ski groups in Camp Holston during the winter; a Resort Ministry course in conjunction with the Presbyterian School of Christian Education this summer; assisting with a HELP ministry in Avery County; a Puppetry Ministry at the Land of Oz this summer to provide instruction for any one who may wish to learn this form of teaching for use in Church Schools and other groups; a study of the effects the leisure revolution is having on churches in terms of attendance, program, and sense of mission; and an effort to provide a book of vacation/leisure meditations that would be relevant to a variety of situations encountered in leisure pursuits.

Recommendations:

1. That presbytery and local church session Witness Committees in the Synod offer limited scholarship funds (five per Presbytery) for key people to attend the School of Evangelism, Montreat, August 13-17, 1972, to run concurrently with the Bible Conference.
2. That presbytery Witness Committees search out capable Christian young people to attend the Youth Ministries Conference, Montreat, August 5-11, 1972. The enrollment is limited to 450 youth from throughout the General Assembly.
3. That presbyteries and local sessions study the materials available for the witness season, eg. a three session witness training cassette tape program, a nine session cassette tape resource for small groups, developed by our Board; Models for Ministry Handbook, a product of the Celebration of Evangelism; "Together in Evangelism" a 13-minute film outlining the three-year emphasis in evangelism.

4. That each Presbytery in the Synod have several area-wide meetings, eg. Saturday evening, Sunday afternoon or Sunday evening, for the purpose of stimulating programs on lay-renewal and evangelism in the local church.
5. That there be an exchange of pulpits during the witness season or in connection with area-wide meetings above.
6. We recommend that all presbytery Witness Committees give careful consideration to the possible employment of a full-time evangelist for the Synod of North Carolina.
7. That the Rules of Synod be amended to read:
   Rule 19:1. Membership: The Committee shall be composed of 19 members (including the chairman), as follows: Six Chairmen of the corresponding committees in the Presbyteries; six who are members of corresponding committees in the Presbyteries; and six at large. At least seven members shall be lay-persons, including women. There shall be three classes of four members each whose term of office shall be for three years.
8. That the budget asking of the Church Extension Committee in the amount of $58,000 be approved.

2. REPORT OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ON CAMPUS CHRISTIAN LIFE

Reverend William H. Terry, Chairman

Nathan Pusey has said, "The educated man is the man who can speak of God without embarrassment." In a sense the former President of Harvard has defined the task and goal of campus ministry for the Synod of North Carolina. Our ministry seeks to enable men to speak of God not just without embarrassment, but with intelligence and integrity. This ministry also seeks to communicate the care of God to students and faculty in their troubles, sorrows, and perplexities. There are probably no places that need to experience the caring presence of the Christian faith, beset as students are with loneliness, meaninglessness, hostility, and the need for community. Campus ministry seeks to maintain a value dialogue in a day when all human values are up for grabs. The ways in which our campus ministers seek to do these tasks are as multiple and varied as a rich mosaic. Their strategies are as different as their personalities and the personalities of their campuses.

There is a growing spirit of cooperation among the various denominations, both on campus and among those responsible for campus ministry on the denominational level. Several times your CCL Chairman and the Synod's Executive Secretary have met with our counterparts in the Episcopal and Methodist churches to seek ways to best facilitate the use of personnel and money. Our ministry at Duke and at UNC-Charlotte are the best examples of this kind of approach. Charlotte is fully integrated with the Methodists; and the program, governance, and personnel are responsible to one-board composed of representatives of the two denominations. At Duke the ministry is united under a joint committee, a Presbyterian and a Methodist working together but still responsible to their respective committees and state judicatories.

While we are well aware that different campuses must function in different ways depending on their history and condition, the Campus Christian Life Committee believes that cooperative and ecumenical ministries are in the best interests of the future of campus ministries.

The CCL Committee at UNC-Greensboro has called to this campus as the campus minister, the Reverend Joseph Flora. Mr. Flora began his work in January of 1972. We believe that his maturity, experience, and thorough knowledge of Greensboro and the University adds great strength to our campus ministry there and to the whole campus ministry across the state.

The Reverend Carl Culberson of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has resigned effective May 20, 1972, in order to pursue graduate study. Mr. Culberson has been a wise counselor to many students on that campus. His integrity, dedication, and remarkable compassion have been extremely effective in witnessing to the Christian faith and its care and concern for the people of God. The CCL Committee is grateful for his ministry. We believe he has greatly enriched the life of that great university.

The local CCL Committee of the University of North Carolina-Wilmington has worked effectively within the guidelines of the Synod CCL Committee and in cooperation with other denominations to establish an ecumenical ministry on that campus. We anticipate an early completion of their work and the beginnings of an effective ministry on the Wilmington Campus.

By far the most serious problem facing this committee is financial. Each year the committee struggles to find funds available to meet the needs and demands of campus ministry amidst growing inflation and without concurrent increases in appropriations from the Synod. The Synod has given us a large and important task, but the financial resources to meet the challenge have not grown proportionately. We are seeking to do in campus ministry what you have told us to do. The state university system is expanding yearly and the number of students is growing. We believe that there must be a Christian presence exhibiting the concern and the compassion of the body of Christ to the world. We are convinced that this is what Synod wants also. It is, however, impossible to fulfill this mission with a staff that is constantly demoralized by inadequate support from the church. We do not wish to eliminate any of the ministries at any of our campuses, because we believe they all have constructive contributions to make to the life of those campuses and to students. We are however, face to face with the reality that we shall be forced to do so unless sizeable help is forthcoming from the Synod. The irony is that there is clear evidence across the Synod of growing revival of interest by students in the Christian faith. The seeds of spiritual awakening on the campus are sprouting. The Synod of North Carolina needs to appropriate a larger percentage of its budget to campus ministry if that ministry is to continue at its present level, and if there is any chance of meeting new opportunities.

Recommendations:

1. That the Synod give serious consideration to increasing the percentage of its budget to the Campus Christian Life program, beginning in 1974.
2. That sessions and congregations invite campus ministers and students to their churches, in order that the people of the Synod may be better educated about this work on campus.
3. That the Synod by a standing vote express its appreciation to the Reverend Carl Culberson for his ministry to the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.
4. That the budget asking of the Campus Christian Life Committee in the amount of $123,000 be approved.

3. REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ON EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

Dr. William M. Roberts, Chairman

The Executive Committee has convened twice since the last meeting of Synod. The fall meeting was held on November 17, 1971 at Davidson College. Mr. David Cornell and his associates presented a very stimulating program about the activities at Davidson. The spring meeting was held at Synod's Office on April 11, 1972.

The Presidents of Davidson, St. Andrews and Queens Colleges and the Vice President of Union Theological Seminary gave reports at the spring meeting. Dr. Samuel Spencer of Davidson College reported on plans to add 500-600 women students in phased stages over the next ten years. He spoke with pride of the Class of 1972 because of the large number of scholarships and fellowships that had been received by its members. A larger number of this class also seemed interested in the Christian ministry. Dr. Donald Hart of St. Andrews spoke of the sound health and improved performance of several programs. In his judgment, the academic performance and personal conduct of the student body is greatly improved. Enrollment is expected to be up about 3.5 percent. Dr. John Smylie of Queens stated that Queens had been re-accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. Several curriculum changes have been made and are working well. He spoke of the strong commitment of Queens to provide education for women.

Dr. Kenneth Orr of UTS spoke of several accomplishments and indicated accreditation by the Southern Association. Union will begin instruction in September looking toward the granting of the professional degree "Doctor of Ministry".

All of the institutions continue to have increasing financial problems. Management has been tightened but the costs of education are subject to pressures that are similar to those in society at large. Queens and St. Andrews have annual efforts in which each feels that it must raise about $300,000. While Synod has been generous in sharing its income with its educational institutions, each year Synod contributes a smaller percentage of their total costs of operation.

Dr. H. Edwin Pickard, chairman of the Sub-committee on Educational Institutions of the Committee on Institutional Relationships and Legal Titles of Synod "B" made an oral report to the Executive Committee. It appears that at least two educational institutions will be added when the new synod is established. It will be appropriate for some committee within Synod to make a very thorough study of the role of Synod in providing financial assistance to its educational institutions. Perhaps it would also be appropriate for Synod to determine with the colleges what their relationships should be. There is considerable variation in the charters of each of the colleges and the ways by which they relate to Synod. Each Board of Trustees is elected differently. This statement is not intended to infer that anything is wrong but rather to recommend that Synod seek in a more aggressive manner ways by which it can provide more assistance to its related institutions.

Dr. John Smylie gave a brief report on the actions of the North Carolina General Assembly relating to a state scholarship program for needy North Carolinians as well as for contract programs with private colleges. The Executive Committee took note of this action and expressed its appreciation.

The Executive Committee requested the sum of $550,000 for support of educational institutions through the 1973 budget of Synod. The percentage allocations recommended for the division of the 1973 appropriations shall be:

St. Andrews	36%
Queens College	24%
Davidson College	16%
Union Theological Seminary	24%

A report on the joint capital campaign by Davidson and Queens will be presented during a special program at Synod's annual meeting. This committee solicits support of all Presbyterians on behalf of these colleges.

a. MONOGRAPHS OF INSTITUTIONS

DAVIDSON COLLEGE

DAVIDSON COLLEGE, Davidson, North Carolina—Samuel R. Spencer, Jr., President. John M. Brevan, Vice President for Academic Affairs. C. David Cornell, Vice President for Finance and Development. The college is owned and controlled by the Trustees of Davidson College, twenty-six of whom are elected by Presbyteries in the Synod of North Carolina, Suwanee and Everglades Presbyteries in Florida; eight by the Davidson College Alumni Association; eight by the Board itself—four of whom must be alumni. The college was founded in 1837 and currently enrolls 1,050 men.

Academic Standing: Davidson is fully accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. The Davidson chapter of Phi Beta Kappa was one of the first three in North Carolina. Davidson is a member of the Association of American Colleges and the Southern University Conference.

Academic Program: Davidson College continues to modify and intensify her academic program, seeking to bring to each student an educational experience that will best fit him for a life of challenge, achievement and service to his fellow man. In seeking to open new horizons to each student, the college has developed a program of Extended Studies, which offers opportunities for diverse patterns of the pursuit of knowledge both on and off the campus, each individually tailored to the student's particular needs and interests.

As a further development of the curricular patterns instituted in 1967, the college is now moving into a Career/Service program in which students may take time from their campus academic work to investigate occupational opportunities through employment for limited periods in business, government, health services and other areas.

The new curriculum actively encourages many students to assume greater responsibility for their education. Additionally, the academic program has been strengthened by the creation of a Honors College, which provides highly motivated and carefully selected students an opportunity to pursue an undergraduate degree through individually designed programs of study. Working with a special faculty under the guidance of Dean Frontis W. Johnston, the Honors College this year has involved more than 30 students in an intensive, educational experience.

Three veteran faculty members retired during the year; John Bailey, professor of classics; Dr. W. Olin Pucket, professor of biology, and Dr. Thomas Logan, professor of chemistry.

This year the first woman student (a student wife) in the history of the college was admitted to Davidson as a degree candidate. Under new regulations passed by the Board of Trustees, student and faculty wives and faculty daughters are eligible to study for Davidson degrees. A recent majority vote by faculty and staff, students, alumni reflects a desire to increase the number of women.

In a study by leading national foundation, Davidson College was rated 13th in the nation among 206 liberal arts colleges with enrollment of over 1,000. The rating was determined by excellence in four areas: faculty compenstaion, endowment per student, Scholastic Aptitude Test scores, and educational expenditure per student.

The Army ROTC unit at the college was ranked second nationally among 286 volunteer units in percentage of eligible male students enrolled in the program. Almost 30% of the student body are voluntarily enrolled in ROTC. In June 1971, 42% of the graduating seniors received commissions.

Finance and Campus Planning: During the year ended June 30, 1971 expenditures for current operations amounted to $5,230,247. Funds provided for these expenditures came from the following sources—student fees $1,927,342; endowment income $793,755; trusts $526,165; gifts $643,927; church support $65,218; auxiliary enterprises $1,088,615; other $185,225. The current operating budget for the year ended June 30, 1972 amounts to $5,731,214.

Work drawings are being completed on the new E. H. Little Library, and construction is scheduled to begin in the summer of 1972. The new library will replace the present College Union on a site east of Chambers Building. A close relationship of the two major academic elements on the campus—Chambers and the E. H. Little Library—will be insured. The building is expected to be ready for occupancy in 1974.

During the year an office of deferred giving was established in the development area. Ronald Nordeen, a national authority in this area, was employed to head this new program whose objective is to provide long-range support for the college through bequests and life income agreements. A special deferred giving committee under the direction of William Neal of Winston-Salem, is assisting in the direction of the program.

On June 30, 1971, total assets of the college were $32,191,006. During 1970-71 the Annual Fund ("Living Endowment") and the Wildcat Athletic Fund raised $286,000 for the College's current operating budget.

Philanthropic and Eumenean Halls built in 1851, have been nominated for the National Registry of Historic Places.

In athletics Davidson College won Southern Conference titles in basketball, tennis, and soccer.

QUEENS COLLEGE

QUEENS COLLEGE, Charlotte, North Carolina, Dr. John E. Smylie, President. A four-year liberal arts college for women founded in 1857, owned and controlled by the Board of Trustees, and related to the Presbyterian Synods of North and South Carolina which support it and elect members of the board (North Carolina 10, South Carolina 8). Queens is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, and its music department by the National Association of Schools of Music. It is a member of the Association of American Colleges, the North Carolina Association of Independent Colleges and Universities, the North Carolina Foundation of Church-Related Colleges, and the Piedmont University Center.

The college welcomes the 1972 meeting of the North Carolina Synod to its campus on June 6-7.

Academic Program: Queens offers Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Music degrees, and a curriculum designed for maximum flexibility and individualization. During 1971-72, it adopted the 4-1-4 calendar with innovative courses and intern programs during the January term, initiated a nursing education program with Presbyterian Hospital in Charlotte, and broadened its exchange programs to include a Junior year at Davidson and the Gulf Coast Marine Biology Program. Queens has a full-time faculty of fifty-four, of whom seventy-five percent hold doctoral degrees in the academic disciplines, and it stresses personalized education with close rapport between students and faculty.

Student Life: In 1971-72 Queens enrolled 678 students from twenty-two states and three foreign countries. Under the leadership of the newly appointed Dean of Students, Miss Diane Del Pizzo, the college has reorganized its residence hall programs and disciplinary procedures, and increased the number and variety of co-curricular programs.

Plant and Equipment: The campus is located in Charlotte's Myers Park residential area, and has easy access to all parts of the city for purposes of research, interns, and recreation, as well as exchange programs with other colleges and universities. Master plans are being prepared for the development of Lake Norman campus for recreation and an enlarged physical education program.

Development Program: Special emphasis has been placed on the development of alumnae and parent programs to support Queens' admissions and fund-raising efforts, and in anticipation of the Queens/Davidson Fund which will be seeking support from North Carolina Presbyterians in 1972 and 1973. The Fund is headed by distinguished Presbyterians and is chaired by Mr. Graeme Keith.

Women's Education: Queens asserts the continuing value of women's colleges in American higher education to provide variety and special attention to the current needs of young women, and has taken leadership in interpreting them to young women.

Finances: On June 30, 1971, Queens' assets totaled $13,159,286, with $3,330,223 in endowment and $9,470,392 in plant value. Current fund expenditures for the year totaled $2,590,790.

ST. ANDREWS PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE

ST. ANDREWS PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE, Laurinburg, North Carolina. Donald J. Hart, President. All 36 trustees elected by the Synod of North Carolina, Presbyterian Church, U. S., which established and supports the college. St. Andrews opened its doors on a new campus in Laurinburg, September 16, 1961, as a coeducational, four-year, liberal arts college. Fall enrollment in 1971-72 was 892 (461 men and 431 women).

Academic Standing: Fully accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. St. Andrews also is an institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Music, the Association of American Colleges, the North Carolina Foundation of Church-Related Colleges, the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, and the Piedmont University Center of North Carolina.

Curriculum: At the heart of the St. Andrews academic offerings is the interdisciplinary Christianity and Culture Program. This four-year program is required of all students and provides eight courses encompassing history, religion, philosophy, literature, and the humanities. It is taught by five teams of professors who make use of the lecture-preceptorial method.

A one-year science requirement is included in the degree program. This also is an interdisciplinary, team-taught course that has served as a model for many institutions throughout the nation.

A third interdisciplinary area currently is being developed. A pilot course was offered in 1971-72 embracing the fields of psychology, sociology, political science, economics, and business organization. It is anticipated that this course will be regularly scheduled, beginning in 1972-73.

Faculty: Dr. Victor C. Arnold joined the staff as Dean of the College in 1971-72, and heads a faculty of 70. In the past two years, the college has moved from 40% of the faculty possessing earned doctorates to 60%. The competence of the faculty is evident not only in this measure, but also in the high quality of instruction, the level of professional achievement in publications, and in research-grant support that has been attracted to St. Andrews.

Finance and Development: Book value of property is $12,111,251. General and Scholarship Endowments total $1,951,355. Total operating budget for 1971-72 is $3,744,823.

Construction of Belk Chapel is expected to begin during the next year. Other facilities still needed to complete the full development of the campus include a learning resources center and library addition, a student center addition, a health center, a fine arts center, an administration building, additional residential space, and utilities expansion.

An Annual Funds Program has been initiated to help fill the gap between income received from students and the costs of sustaining a high quality educational program. The continuing support of the Synod of North Carolina, its churches, and its members is vitally needed to enable St. Andrews to truly serve the purposes envisioned by the Synod in founding and developing the college.

UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY IN VIRGINIA

"Let us be diligent to witness faithfully both by word and deed to the grave and love of God that is in Christ and then we can let Christ himself worry about the state of the church."

These words from an address by Dr. Ben Lacy Rose, a distinguished and well-known member of the Union Seminary faculty since 1956 and currently the Moderator of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., suggest something of the attitude we hold at Union Seminary. We are seeking to be diligent in our witness as Christian educators; we oppose any schismatic actions which divide the denomination; and we have faith that God in Christ will lead the Church forward into the future.

In our labors we are encouraged and sustained by many loyal members of our supporting synods and gratefully make this annual report outlining some of the more outstanding activities of this academic year.

Student Enrollment: Two hundred and forty-four students are enrolled at Union Seminary this year, an increase of ten over the previous year. Seventy students were in the new entering class last September beginning work on the first professional degree of theology, the Master of Divinity.

Accreditation by the Southern Association: On December 1, 1971, Union Seminary was voted full regional accreditation by the Southern Association of Schools and Colleges. For many years, Union has enjoyed full professional accreditation from the national American Association of Theological Schools. By also holding regional accreditation, Union is further demonstrating the strength of its educational offerings and is enlarging the usefulness of the degrees it awards to graduates. We are proud to note further that Union Seminary is one of only a few theological seminaries in the country now holding both professional and regional accreditation.

Doctor of Ministry Degree: Union Seminary has already announced its intention to begin offering in the fall of 1972 a new curriculum which will lead to the earning of a Doctor of Ministry degree. The new curriculum will become the core of future academic offerings at UTS. It is based upon an extensive "Competence Paper" prepared over a two-year period by a task force of alumni, faculty, students, and trustees. Itemized in the Competence Paper are skills and knowledge deemed to be necessary to perform the role of Christian minister today. The new curriculum will bring a new calendar composed of five terms plus the summer. Three of the terms will be three weeks in length and two will last ten weeks. The faculty is now involved in defining admission to the new Doctor of Ministry program for those already holding the Bachelor of Divinity degree or its equivalent and expect to announce these terms later.

Professor Appleby Retires: Professor James Appleby, who has faithfully served the faculty of Union Seminary since 1946, retired at the end of the summer of 1971. As Professor of Evangelism and Director of Field Work, Dr. Appleby has given strong, effective leadership and has been a pioneer in developing an extensive program of supervised field work and internships.

Several Large Gifts Received: Three large gifts have been received by Union during the academic year: $500,000 from the will of Mrs. T. William Pemberton of Richmond; a gift of over $350,000 in memory of Walter W. Moore, first President of Union Seminary. A 465-acre country estate, "Thorncliff", was received in early January from Mrs. Richard S. Reynolds, Sr.

Fiscal Affairs: Not unlike many institutions of higher learning, Union Seminary has found it difficult in recent years to operate within a balanced budget. In the 1968-69 fiscal year the operating cost at the Seminary was $3,684.32 per day, or $153.51 per hour. In the 1970-71 year, the per day cost has risen to $4,124.35 or $171.85 per hour. This 11.9 percent increase is primarily the result of inflation.

We are pleased to report that through firm budgetary controls we have operated for the first nine months of the current fiscal year with a balanced budget. We hope that at the end of this fiscal year we shall continue to have operated with a balanced budget.

4. REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

Reverend H. Edwin Pichard, Chairman

The Christian Education Committee continues to make every effort to strengthen the program of Christian education across the Synod. Changes in Presbytery bounds have altered old patterns in many areas. Through a new partnership arrangement, Area Directors have been employed in five of the six new Presbyteries. A joint committee from Albemarle Presbytery and Synod's Committee have been seeking a sixth worker for that area. The geographical size of new Orange Presbytery (a combination of old Orange and Granville) and of new Concord Presbytery (a combination of old Concord, Kings Mountain and Winston-Salem) has suggested the need of two area workers for each of these combined Presbyteries. Thus the committee is proposing a budget to make this possible in 1973. The advent of Synod "B" will precipitate further changes in which we anticipate additional opportunities for broadening ministry.

The Committee of Christian Education has continued to coordinate educational work throughout the presbyteries, sharing information and expertise, and experimenting with pilot projects across the Synod. Staff persons will be sharing the results of pilot projects with particular churches and with the Presbytery Christian Education Committees (or counterparts) of Synod.

Churches considering employing educational personnel should know about the services of the Office of Church Personnel Services located at the Board of Christian Education in Richmond. This service helps particular churches to identify their particular needs and puts them in touch with persons to meet these needs through a central data bank. The Regional Director, Area DCEs and other persons across the Synod have been especially trained as consultants. Churches may obtain further information by contacting the Regional Director, Area DCEs, or the OCPS office directly.

The Board of Christian Education has now established an Annual Planning Council for Board-Middle Judicatory linkage. This council is composed of representatives of the Christian Education Committees of synods, seminaries and the Presbyterian School of Christian Education, Board membership and staff, and the Black Presbyterian Leadership Caucus. The Regional Director and the Chairman of the Synod's Committee represented North Carolina at the first APC meeting, February 8-10, 1972.

The members of the Christian Education Committee have been diligent in attendance at committee and council meetings and in fulfilling their assigned tasks. We continue to be grateful for the wise and helpful guidance of our Regional Director, the Reverend Robert Turner. He, in turn, has been ably assisted by Miss Beatrice Kiser, Assistant to the Regional Director, and the Area Directors: Mrs. John F. Cheney, Jr., Fayetteville; Mrs. Frank S. Jones, Mecklenburg; Miss Sara McNeill, Orange; Miss Donna Cook, Wilmington; and Mrs. Earl F. Thompson, Concord. Their devotion and their professional competence offer constant inspiration.

The Committee joins the Council on Career and Professional Counseling Service in expressing appreciation to Dr. Tom B. Anderson, who has served as Chairman of that Council for some years, as he completes his term of service.

It also expresses its appreciation to Mrs. William H. McCorkle who has served most effectively as a member of the committee, especially in the area of Children's Work, as she completes her term of service.

The work done by your committee is reflected in the reports of the Councils, Cabinets and Ad Hoc Committees.

AUDIO-VISUAL LIBRARY

Miss Beatrice Kiser, Director

Thirty-five hundred filmstrips were used by churches during 1971; one hundred new filmstrips were added during the year. Cassette tapes are being added to the library.

One hundred fifty churches are members of the library. Membership fee is $15.00 per year.

A new catalogue is being prepared for distribution early in September. The Director of the Audio-Visual Library is available to conduct workshops on Audio-Visual Education in the presbyteries and local churches.

CABINET ON ADULT WORK

Reverend Paul H. Felker, Chairman

The Adult Cabinet met in December, 1971, in Asheboro with members from five presbyteries. Primary emphasis was placed on the wide variety of adult curriculum materials available and being used with success. Secondary emphasis was on:

1. Service type projects being used by Church School Classes and
2. The use of Home and Family materials

It was discovered that many churches are engaged in curriculum planning. The Sardis Church of Charlotte, for example, is engaged in an outstanding program of curriculum planning and the study of current local issues and concerns. Other churches may wish to write the Sardis Church for additional information.

Most presbyteries held workshops on CLC and Uniform Lesson materials. Training was also provided for those interested in team teaching and evaluating it. Several presbyteries held Resource Days in which Christian education leaders shared resource information.

During the past year the Home and Family Ministry was placed under the Cabinet of Adult Work. The chairman has served on the Assembly's Work Group for the Division of Family Life. This group is charged with evaluating the work of the division and establishing goals and priorities for the future.

Several presbyteries are providing week-end family camping experiences in presbytery camps. Many local churches are conducting family retreats using family life themes and materials. Local churches are also engaged in ecumenical workshop on family life.

All presbyteries provide scholarships for leaders of adults to enable them to attend the Christian Education Conference in Montreat. Members of the Adult Cabinet served as staff at the 1971 Conference.

CABINET ON YOUTH MINISTRY

Reverend James T. Frazier, Chairman

During the past year Synod's Youth Cabinet met once on December 2, 1972, at the Asheboro Workshop which was held in the First Presbyterian Church, Asheboro, North Carolina.

At the Asheboro meeting the cabinet was led in a Community Building Process by the Reverend Lee Adkins. Members were involved in some community building exercises which we felt were much more helpful than our just talking about it. We came away from this experience certain that it had been worthwhile for us as a cabinet and for us as presbytery leaders. In addition to the Presbytery Youth Cabinet chairman, one other person from each presbytery was in attendance in order to assure the return of this process to the presbytery and local level.

In the spring of 1972, in lieu of a Cabinet meeting, the chairman sent a list of new youth ministry resources to all the presbytery chairmen. Resources were also shared, as members of the cabinet, with each other at various kinds of Christian education activities.

On April 24-25, 1972, the chairman of this cabinet was invited to lead the Greater Greensboro Presbyterian Churches in what was called a "Youth Exchange". Some nine churches represented by 75 youth and adults came together at Buffalo Presbyterian Church to "show and tell" their most meaningful and significant program. The varied ideas and resources such as multi-media, presentation on ecology, etc. were heard and shared, making the whole experience most worthwhile.

Encouragement was given to the presbyteries to send youth representatives to the meeting of the General Assembly. This was done in 1971 and continued in 1972.

Some other kinds of youth ministry happenings across the Synod suggest the many varied forms of youth activities in the churches.

—Some churches are conducting their Communicant's Classes with overnight week-end retreats. In these experiences, Sessions are getting to know the young people in a different and deeper way than can be possible on Sunday mornings.

—One church spent the spring months in sensitivity training for its senior high youth group, using the Discovery and Serendipity books. There is anticipation of continuing the group during the summer where two college students will be hired to work with the group. Serendipity was also used, at least once, to train a Presbytery Youth Council in the spring as they got together to plan Senior High service events and a summer high school week-end.

—One church had Dennis Benson for a two day workshop. The young people went out over town and interviewed people, made slides and tapes of their conversations and reported back to the group.

—One church had Arts and Crafts for the whole church. Many young people brought in types of hand-work crafts, etc.

—One church wrote a contemporary worship service "Jonah—Man Jazz" based on the Every Member Bible Study. They presented it in their church at a morning service and at the meeting of the Women of the Church in Mecklenburg.

—In the fall of 1971, the young people of a Presbytery had a retreat with over 100 gathered for a time of worship, recreation and study on the theme of "What's Happening Now". A group of musicians from Wake Forest University provided a great time of singing as Dr. Fred Horton gave a provocative talk about the Church in Today's World. The Rev. William Kercheval, Campus Christian Life Minister at Wake Forest, spoke during a contemporary Worship Service on Sunday morning.

—One church has taken a group of young people to Atlanta for a "long week-end" to visit different types of ministry; downtown, biracial, etc. In their reflections they looked for scripture reference to match the types of ministry observed, and planned a worship service "back home" to help local congregations share some of their experiences and visions.

—One church took a five day field trip to New York City to see "Superstar" and "Godspell".

—Afternoon recreation programs have been begun in at least two churches.

—One presbytery had a rally featuring "Joseph and His Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat" which was a highlight of the year's work.

—The North Carolina Church Educator's Association held a youth workshop led by Miss Geogann Wilcoxson, attended by educators from six denominations, to explore and share models of youth ministry, April 17-19, 1972, in Raleigh.

Synod's attention is pointed to the North Carolina Christian Education Conference in Montreat where training for the leaders of/with youth is available in the Multiple Youth Ministry Workshop and to the Assembly's Youth Conference scheduled in Montreat in August.

REPORT OF THE CABINET ON CHILDREN'S WORK

Mrs. William H. McCorkle, Chairman

Each year, the Cabinet on Children's Work, through its annual meeting in Asheboro, provides an opportunity for Presbytery Chairmen of Children's Work to discuss together their responsibility to the leaders of children within each presbytery and to share ideas, plans, and materials that have proven helpful. The outstanding feature of the meeting this year was the leadership of Miss Mary Jean McFadyen of the Board of Christian Education as she presented emphases for the summer of 1972 and a forecast for 1973.

Training events provided by Synod included the North Carolina Christian Education Conference in Montreat and a pilot workshop at Camp New Hope on the Church's Ministry to Children and a Workshop at Asheboro.

Training events provided by Presbyteries for various areas, clusters of churches, or local churches, included more different types of events than ever before: Discovery-Learning Workshops; workshops on varied learning activities, using discovery-learning techniques; creative workshops and displays for learning activities; workshops for new teachers and for experienced teachers; many displays of resources (courses, books, audio-visuals, etc.) for Vacation Church School and other special studies; a seminar for consultants in children's work; a potpourri for pre-school teachers; a class on teaching creatively for teachers of elementary children; a class to give help to parents in sex education for children; a Creative Activity Workshop using simulation games such as Teacher Survival, the Planning Game, and Teaching Strategy; lab classes for nursery through elementary; demonstration classes and mini-labs with planning, team-teaching and evaluation; teams of consultants worked with teachers in many local churches that requested this help; orientation for Division Chairmen; How-to-Plan meetings for teachers; leading local churches in evaluation of the ministery to children.

In addition to these training events, financial aid was given to many leaders attending the North Carolina Christian Education Conference; $50.00 was given to a rural church kindergarten as a book fund; at least one new Day Care and Family Services Center was established and substantial support ($750.00) given; leaders attended the public hearing held by the North Carolina General Assembly's Joint Appropriation Sub-Committee on Health, Welfare, and Institutions to support proposed changes in Aid to Families with Dependent Children.

Plans are already well underway for late summer and fall workshops and other leadership opportunities.

The greatest need in children's work is for ministers and teachers in the local churches to request and participate in the excellent opportunities available to them.

REPORT OF CABINET ON OUTDOOR CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

Reverend James S. R. Tippens, Chairman

The Cabinet on Outdoor Christian Education has met with some exciting results. The consultant team of Bone, Britten and Wright have visited all presbytery camp properties of Synod. The report has been received by the Cabinet and serious study is underway.

The possible results point to closer cooperation across the Synod and wider utilization of all facilities.

REPORT OF MEN'S WORK

T. LaFontine Odom, President

The Synod's Men's Council, consisting of the Council officers and the Presbytery Presidents, met in Charlotte in September, 1971; in Atlanta, Georgia in October, 1971; at Barium Springs in January, 1972; and in Raleigh in April, 1972. The next Council meeting is scheduled in June, 1972, at Montreat, North Carolina.

The Council has worked with the respective Presbytery officers in encouraging and promoting the traditional Presbytery men's meetings or rallies with the objectives of continuing fellowship among Presbyterian men and disseminating information and inspiration through speakers.

The men in the respective Presbyteries have been encouraged to address themselves to timely topics that afford an opportunity for involvement. A good example of this is in Fayetteville Presbytery where more than 20 meetings throughout the presbytery have been held along the lines of informing them of the need for prison reform and encouraging a greater interest in Presbyterian men for prison conditions within their presbytery and in the state.

Another example would be in Concord Presbytery where the Presbyterian men's organization has involved itself with a number of meetings to assist in the formation of that new presbytery and to reexamine the role of men in that presbytery.

A substantial amount of the Council's work has been directed toward the annual Men's Conference which will be held this year June 16-18 in Montreat. The Council has felt that this annual event continues to hold one of the best possibilities to unite Presbyterians in this Synod in a reaffirmation of our unity in the essential belief in Jesus Christ amid an ideal setting of Montreat and a relaxed atmosphere of genuine fellowship.

Recommendations:

1. That Synod authorize the Synod's Men's Conference and the North Carolina Christian Education Conference to hold a Communion Service during their conferences.
2. That Synod encourage particular churches to share meaningful experiences with the Area DCEs so that they may be shared in turn with the church at large.
3. That Synod encourage particular churches considering employing educational personnel to utilize the Office of Church Personnel Services of the Board of Christian Education and its consultants in the Synod.
4. That Synod urge local churches and Presbyteries to take advantage of all training opportunities such as the North Carolina Christian Education Conference, June 23-29, 1972; and Church School Administrative Conference, July 7-9, 1972; and other Presbytery and ecumenical training events.
5. That Synod adopt the budget of the Career and Personal Counseling Service for 1973 in the amount of $43,000 from budgeted benevolences.
6. That Synod adopt the budget of the Christian Education Committee for 1973 in the amount of $80,000 from budgeted benevolences.
7. That the report of the Christian Education Committee, including the report of the Career and Personal Counseling Service, be adopted.

REPORT OF THE COUNCIL ON CAREER AND PERSONAL COUNSELING SERVICE

Reverend Tom B. Anderson, Chairman
Reverend Alfred E. Thomas, Director

I. Program

The Career and Personal Counseling Service of the Synod of North Carolina serves Presbyterians and others in the following ways:

A. A structured career guidance program for senior high young people, working closely with churches across the Synod. Other young people come upon self-referral by schools.

B. Academic and career guidance, as well as personal counseling, for college students. The largest number of college students presently served are at St. Andrews College under a contractural arrangement. Freshmen testing is also provided at St. Andrews as well as Queens College in Charlotte.

C. Career and personal counseling for adults. This service is available to any adult. There is, in addition, a special program for church professionals, provided on an ecumenical basis in affiliation with the Career Development Council.

D. Evaluation of ministerial candidates for presbyteries.

E. Evaluative services for school children relative to academic ability and functioning.

F. Special Testing—for example, the GED (High School Equivalency Examination).

G. Miscellaneous services, such as following:
   1. Testing for Neighborhood Youth Corps
   2. Summer Workshops
   3. Occasional testing for industrial screening

II. Staff

The program continues to operate with the same staff as in the past year. Mr. Elbert Patton, Associate Director, was on leave of absence during most of 1971, meeting residency requirements at Duke University in a doctoral program in Counseling. He is a candidate for the Ed. D. Degree, which should be awarded later this year.

III. New Dimensions

Career Development Council

Our program is accredited by the Career Development Council in offering services to church professionals. Dr. Thomas is a member of the Board of Directors of this Council, which has been organized as a consortium of denominations, and serves as a co-ordinating body for career counseling and development services.

The purposes of this service for church professionals are:
—to provide professional guidance in career evaluation and development.
—to provide professional counseling and guidance for those facing career or personal crisis.
—to provide professional assistance in enabling a person to use his capabilities more fully and effectively.

—to give guidance in developing a continuing education program to widen one's range of capabilities.
—to provide an assessment of abilities and help establish reasonable and meaningful career goals.
—to provide professional guidance for those considering leaving church occupations.
—to provide professional guidance for wives or husbands of clients.
—to provide guidance for candidates for church occupations.

A fee of $300.00 has been established for this service, with a $100.00 reduction in fees for church professionals who are members of the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina.

Workshop

A five-week workshop is being offered this summer (June 12-July 14) at the Counseling Center in the philosophy, administration, and delivery of counseling services. Participants are eight educators from Wyoming. Dr. Thomas is serving as a consultant to Presbyterians in Wyoming who are interested in providing services comparable to our own, and this workshop is a part of that process.

Other

Requests for services continue to come from new sources. These include the Neighborhood Youth Corps, probation officials, and direct referrals from schools.

IV. Second Counseling Center

In consideration of the enlarged geographical boundary of the Synod of North Carolina and continuing requests for expanded services, the establishment of a second counseling center is proposed. Such Center would be a part of the Career and Personal Counseling Service.

The Center would be located on the campus of Queens College in Charlotte. Under an arrangement similar to that at St. Andrews, the Center staff would provide counseling and testing services for students at Queens. The college would provide facilities and other supportive services, mutually agreed upon.

This Counseling Center would enable the Synod to provide the following actual and potential services:

A. Make available the services outlined above to churches and persons in the western part of the state, for whom distance from Laurinburg is a limiting factor.

B. Provide supportive services to other Synod agencies. Specifically, this has reference to Queens College. Potentially, it might include such agencies as Barium Springs, and non-Synod agencies such as the School of Nursing at Presbyterian Hospital. Requests for services have already been made by the latter.

C. Make available the services in the midst of a major metropolitan area, with the unique opportunities its affords for
   1. Serving many people on a local appointment basis
   2. Reaching larger numbers of underprivileged persons, who perhaps need the services most of all.

Recommendations

1. That Synod express its deep appreciation to Dr. Tom B. Anderson, who has served as Chairman of the Career and Personal Counseling Service Committee for some years, giving direction to expanded services and the construction of a modern facility for implementing these services.

2. That a second Counseling Center be established at Queens College under the agreement and conditions set forth in the report, including the proposed budget, and that $10,455.39 (funds on hand, January 1, 1972) be designated to help underwrite the initial cost of the Center.
3. That the Synod adopt the budget of the Career and Personal Counseling Service for 1973 in the amount of $39,529 from budgeted benevolences for the present program.
4. That the standing committee of Synod hear Dr. Alfred Thomas on the program and the recommendation for a second Counseling Center, pending the adopting of this report.

5. REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ON HOMES

Reverend John Mack Walker, Jr., Chairman

For the last several years, the ministry of our Synod to older adults and to children and families who need a stronger supportive relationship has expanded dramatically. The study carried out by this Committee in 1970 entitled "Study of the Program and Operations of the Homes Under the Control of the Synod of North Carolina and Their Relationship to the Social Service Needs of the Synod" encouraged the development of wider counseling and consultative service to individuals, families, churches and communities of our Synod. Your Committee has sought to implement this goal, and with enthusiasm records several significant steps in this direction on the part of our excellent institutions and through the program of our Synod. Our thesis is that our Synod agencies are seeking to develop greater facility for serving the needs of our entire Synod.

The Executive Committee on Homes held its spring meeting on April 27, in the new Family and Child Development and Christian Education Center at Barium Springs Home for Children. This new facility contains 12,000 square feet of floor space and about the same area outdoors for recreation and training. It has been built for approximately $255,000, entirely contributed over and above the regular budget of Synod—a tribute to the untiring efforts of Mr. George M. Ivey, Jr., Chairman of the Board of Regents, and to Dr. Nat K. Reiney, our director, and to others who contributed generous memorials to make this facility a reality. This new addition is the finest of its kind in the state, and enables our Home to offer a model for the guidance of churches in our Synod who are planning a serious ministry in Day Care and Child Services. A unique new feature is a closed circuit television and video tape system that will enable our Center to monitor the activities and development of children for evaluation and growth. Members of the Synod are urged to take advantage of this creative facility as they plan to broaden their own ministry.

The Barium Springs Home continues to expand the base of its consultative services. Mr. Meredith White, the trained consultant on the staff of our Agency, has been helpful in developing special institutions for children and youth in Shelby and Fayetteville. Dr. Reiney is serving as consultant to a group of city and county leaders in Raleigh in the establishment of a Shelter Care Home and a Haven House for the temporary residence of youth needing more therapeutic care. It is hoped that more communities will avail themselves of such fine services.

At the other end of the age scale, our ministry to the aging continues to expand. Our Presbyterian Home at High Point has expanded from a capacity of twenty-four persons in 1952 to 260 persons in May, 1972. The challenge before us is made more critical because of the increasing number of persons reaching the retirement age of 65, who are looking to us for help. The Board of Regents recently approved a long-range plan, calling for expanding the skilled nursing program in three stages to provide for some who must be turned away because they are beyond a reasonable state of health when they are approved for admission. Since there are more than 400 persons on the approved waiting list, and the average waiting time for an applicant to enter the Home at High Point is now more than six years for a room in our main building, and four years for an apartment, the Home and this Committee strongly recommend that other Homes be established within Synod under the control of the parent body rather than individual Presbytery sponsored Homes. The cost of separate operation, competition for residents, and the effects on Stewardship are some reasons for this recommendation. Communities considering this should contact our High Point Home for guidance in their planning.

Our Committee rejoiced to learn that legacies and trust funds have been received by the High Point Home enabling the Board to begin its Endowment program. It is hoped that churches and individuals will continue to provide for this endowment through their wills.

A major effort by the Committee on Homes this year was the development of a series of Seminars on Aging conducted in five centers in the Synod during the week of April 10-14. Meetings at Kinston, Raleigh, Greensboro, Charlotte and Hickory were designed to assist churches to help persons plan wisely for their future years of retirement, and to identify the unmet needs of elderly persons in their community and to devise a strategy to meet those needs. Mr. Gordon A. Hanson, Executive Secretary of the Division of Homes and Health, Presbyterian Board of National Ministries, Atlanta, Georgia, delivered the keynote address at each Seminar, "It Isn't Easy to Grow Old." A group of well-qualified leaders spoke in a panel, and later led discussions on Education and Training of the Elderly, Services to the Elderly in Their Own Homes, Services to the Elderly Away from Their Own Homes, Recreation and the Elderly, and Spiritual Well-Being and the Elderly. A brief summary of the insights and findings of these seminars has been prepared and is available to the members of the Synod.

Of foremost importance is the awareness on the part of all of us that there are twenty million persons in the United States who are over 65. This constitutes ten percent of our population. In addition, increased life span, lowering age of retirement, and affluency have expanded the leisure time available to older adults. Churches and communities must be more helpful in encouraging creative and imaginative preparation that later years may be characterized by satisfaction, some measure of self-fulfillment and useful service to God, to others and to ourselves.

Your Committee urges the Sessions of our local churches to set up a committee of responsible persons to examine the needs of the elderly in the local congregation and in the community and seek ways to meet their needs. This Committee will be happy to assist in offering suggestions and resources.

One result from the Seminars was a letter from Mr. Hanson expressing appreciation for the pioneer work in this field represented by these Seminars and the hope that other Synods in our church will follow the leadership of this Synod.

We continue to be grateful for the service rendered to our Synod by William Black Home in Montreat. This self-supporting Agency conducted its summer program with the same gracious courtesy and high standard of service as in the past.

At the April meeting of the Executive Committee on Homes we were privileged to meet and hear Reverend Edward Renegar of the Grandfather Home at Banner Elk, North Carolina, Mr. Harry Howell of Glade Valley School, Mr. John Baughman of the Alexander Home in Charlotte, and Mr. Donald McKenzie of the Presbyterian Home for Children at Black Mountain. We are encouraged that conversations are continuing in a productive manner with these leaders and Dr. Reiney of our Barium Springs Home.

Information on the program and financial operation of our Homes is found in appended reports. Admittedly we are concerned that these agencies as other agencies in the Synod do not receive the amount we budget for their program. Your committee is deeply aware of the desperate need encountered by our Homes in meeting critical responsibilities before them. We would urge our churches to take seriously the budget requests from the Presbytery that all causes may receive what we commit ourselves as a Synod to give them.

Recommendations:

1. That Synod express appreciation to the Executive Directors and Staffs of our Homes and to the members of the Board of Trustees for their loyalty and service.
2. That Synod take note of the new Family and Child Development and Christian Education Center now completed at our Barium Springs Home, and that we encourage all our churches to make use of this facility as a model in design and usefulness, and as a resource for consultants, and learning in future directions in child care, as well as in the continuing education of our ministers and other leaders in family relationships.
3. That Synod commend and encourage the Trustees of our Presbyterian Home in High Point for developing long-range plans for greater service to the Synod relating to the aging.
4. That Synod urge the Sessions and congregations to take note of the newly established endowment for our High Point Home, and to encourage members to contribute to it.
5. That Synod request each Session to consider establishing a special committee to plan ways and means to meet the needs and opportunities of the aging in the church and community.
6. That the budget request for our Presbyterian Home at High Point—$115,000 and our Barium Springs Home for Children—$160,000 and the work of this committee—$2,000 totaling $277,000 be approved.

BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

George M. Ivery, Jr., President

Board of Regents

As most of those reading this report know, the members of the Board of Regents are elected by the Synod at its annual meeting. They are divided into three classes of eight each. A Board member is elected for a term of three years and may succeed himself for one more term. Under the present by-laws of the Home two members are elected from each of the nine presbyteries, with six elected at large. They are composed of clergymen and laymen, men and women, who express an interest in this particular ministry of the church.

The officers of the Board of Regents are elected annually at the Spring meeting. Incidentally, the Board meets semi-annually, usually in November and April, on the campus at Barium Springs. The Board has an Executive Committee composed of the President, the Vice-President, the Secretary and the Chairmen of Committees. In addition to the Executive Committee there are four other regular committees plus a Long-Range Planning Committee of twelve members—half Board and half staff of the Home. Normally these committees meet twice each year but are subject to call whenever the necessity arises.

This is my fourth year on the Board, and I count it a privilege and honor to begin my second year as its President. I believe that all the members of this Board are dedicated to helping the church continue its fine tradition of ministry to children and families and to establishing such continuing policies to improve and refine its development over the years.

During the past year we have seen the erection of the Barnhardt Memorial Educational Building or, as its program may dictate, the Family and Child Development and Christian Education Center. This is the first new building erected on the campus since the dining hall was completed in 1965. Much publicity has been given to this facility, but we need to be reminded again that, in addition to it being the educational wing of Little Joe's Presbyterian Church, it is very much a Learning Center for all the churches in the Synod. In this facility pilot programs of a nature applicable to the local church are being operated. Learning opportunities such as the recent Family Life Institute for ministers are being made available.

Related to this new building is a good staff and the finest of equipment. The audio-visual section with full video tape facilities and closed circuit television made it truly a Learning Center with child development laboratory possibilities. In the field of day care it is already becoming headquarters for a large area as a place for training of staff.

This building was dedicated on April 30th, with Dr. Charles E. S. Kraemer, President of the Presbyterian School of Christian Education, delivering the dedicatory address.

On behalf of all the Board of Regents and the staff at Barium I want to express appreciation to all individuals, churches and businesses who have financially made this possible. A special word of thanks goes to Mrs. Charles E. Barnhardt who gave the initial $50,000 as a challenge gift in memory of her late husband.

A report like this is not intended to cover all the happenings in a large program like Barium, but I do need to remind you briefly about one other aspect of it.

The Board and Administration began two years ago to seek ways and means to help the local church deal with the problems of families in their own community. We believe that there needs to be much more done to help strengthen family life, thus hopefully preventing more children than absolutely necessary being placed away from their own homes.

This led to the establishment of the new Department of Consultative Services. Professionally trained staff people remain available at no charge to the local congregation to discuss with any group in the church such programs relating to children and families of particular interest to them. You simply need to write or call the office at Barium Springs.

I speak for the entire staff of the agency, for the boys and girls, as well as for all members of the Board of Regents, when I express gratitude for your continuing interest in this program. This appreciation certainly includes the fine financial support without which the agency would soon "dry up."

We urge you to visit the agency, examine its program, make suggestions, learn from the Board member nearest you and help us to always measure up to the needs for such a ministry of the church.

THE PRESBYTERIAN HOME, INC.

W. H. Sullivan, Jr., President

The Board of Trustees respectfully reports the major activities of the Home for the past year.

The Board met for two regular sessions and the Executive Committee met nine times for the transaction of business during 1971.

There were 27 new admissions, one withdrawal, and 17 deaths, with a total of 237 served during 1971.

The books were audited by A. M. Pullen and Company (Certified Public Accountants) Greensboro, North Carolina, and the audit shows Capital Assets of $2,622,722 after recognizing reduction of Fixed Assets for $1,029,283 of accumulated depreciation as of December 31, 1971. This report shows a gain in Capital Assets of $463,914 for the year, of which $327,827 represents construction in progress. The audit also shows:

(a) Capital Fund contributions of $223,660 which included apartment and cottage gifts of $145,266.

(b) Operating Fund Income was $6,999 more than expenses, not including depreciation. The Operating Fund Expenditures included $36,763 for financial expenses (interest on debt service). Contributions and gifts to operation were $63,938 more than the previous year.

Operating Income from residents and/or patients was increased by $67,294 over the previous year. The monthly charge was $275 and the actual cost, including depreciation, was $388. It is anticipated that the monthly charge will be increased to $300 pending approval by IRS.

Some highlights of 1971 are as follows:

1. The beginning of an Endowment Fund was initiated with contributions in the amount of $75,000 from two anonymous donors. Approximately $11,000 in contributions has been added during the first part of 1972.

2. The Home was beneficiary under the will of Katherine White. This will set up the "Mary White Trust" of some $323,000 to be managed by Wachovia Bank & Trust Company of Greensboro, North Carolina, for fifty years with income to be paid in semi-annual installments to the Home. At the termination of the fifty-year period of time, the prinicpal will be conveyed to the Home.

3. $92,631 was received from wills and bequests.

4. An emergency generator system and four fire hydrants were added for the safety and protection of residents.

5. Two cottages were built and occupied.

6. Contracts were let in the amount of $327,827 for the construction of 18 apartments which are scheduled for completion in April, 1972.

May we take this opportunity to express our appreciation and gratitude to the many wonderful friends who have responded to the Home's need during the past year. We are deeply grateful to Synod for its concern and financial support. This ministry of our church needs your prayers, increased interest, support and concern.

G. REPORTS OF PERMANENT COMMITTEES

1. REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON ANNUITIES AND RELIEF

Reverend J. Thomas Young, Chairman

Your Synod Committee held two stated meetings at the Synod's Office within the past year. Each presbytery is represented in the work of the committee whose major task is the distribution of the funds from the Kate Bitting Reynolds Fund to the retired ministers of the Synod.

The total distribution since the last meeting of Synod was as follows:

September, 1971	$ 50,296.13
March, 1972	46,247.51
	$ 96,543.64

In the September distribution, there were 117 annuitants who shared in the fund. In March, 119 participated. The total received by each minister from the two distributions amounted to $818.51.

Several inquiries regarding the fund for relief of widows of retired ministers have been received. This fund, which is managed by this committee, has a balance of less than $1,000.00 at the present time and no payments have been made. Under the present pension plan there is a great need for supplementary financial assistance after the death of the minister. See recommendation No. 2.

The final distribution of the Mittie Towles Wiley Fund has been made in the amount of $25,541.56 cash and 637 shares of the common stock. A stock dividend in the amount of $397.49 has been received and previously a partial distribution in the amount of $3,000 had been received. Recommendation No. 5 is made regarding the management of this fund.

Recommendations:

1. That churches be encouraged to seek gifts, legacies, and trusts from interested individuals to supplement the existing trusts from Retired Ministers throughout the Synod.
2. That churches and individuals also be encouraged to find ways of providing additional funds to aid widows of ministers of the Synod.
3. That Synod recognize with gratitude the ministers of the Synod who have retired since the last meeting of Synod. They are: Carl Walker McMurray (C), Malcomb P. Calhoun (F), Frank H. Caldwell (M), John E. Wayland (M), W. O. Nelson (WS), Isaac Moultrie Bagnal (G), William H. McCorkle (G), Harold J. Dudley (A)
4. That Article II, C. 5 be changed to read:
   "Any minister of the Synod of North Carolina who has reached 62 years of age shall be eligible for participation in the Fund, except as provided for elsewhere in these Rules." (Presently it reads "65 years of age".)
5. That all funds received from the Wiley Estate be invested by the General Secretary, pending the activation of Synod's Foundation and the implementation of the new structure for Synod "B".

2. CHRISTIANITY AND HEALTH

Dr. George M. Cooper, Chairman

The Committee met and discussed in some detail the various factors involved in pastor-physician relationships as they relate to the care of the parishioner-patient.

It was agreed that while much progress has been made in recent years, there are many areas where much is yet needed.

We concerned ourselves particularly with the problems involved in hospital visitations, and noted that a variety of approaches are necessary in setting up guidelines for differing situations.

Secondly, Christian sex education policies were discussed and while no special programs were evolved, it was felt that more attention should be paid to this particular problem.

Recommendations:

1. That presbyteries and churches plan presentations to increase communication between ministers and doctors. The committee further recommends that presbytery committees be asked to recommend to local ministerial associations that seminars and other opportunities for communication be planned on a community-wide basis. The committee further recommends that guidelines for hospital visitation be developed jointly by ministers and doctors in local situations and the hospital administrators be consulted in the formulation of these guidelines.
2. That Synod encourage churches to support programs of Christian sex education, utilizing resources of the Board of Christian Education of our denomination.

3. REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CHURCH AND SOCIETY

Reverend Robert H. Ramey, Jr., Chairman

The Church and Society Committee has held two meetings this past year, one over-night retreat at Davidson College, the second a one-day meeting at Covenant Presbyterian Church in Greensboro. We have agreed to confine our report this year to three major subjects which we think deserve special attention: welfare reform, the public school crisis, and the war in Indo-China.

It should be noted in passing that we have additional recommendations on hunger to offer Synod. However, we do remind you of our detailed recommendations made last year because that report is still valid. (See the 1971 Synod Minutes, pages 178, 179.) The priority given the hunger crisis by the General Assembly, the clear Biblical and theological legitimacy of the task, and previous Synod actions, compel us to continue the war against hunger. (See also the Minutes of the 1971 General Assembly, pages 167, 168, for further suggestions.)

I. Welfare Reform

We wish to note the efforts of the North Carolina Council of Churches in regard to welfare reform. Our committee has supported and been involved in their efforts which mainly consist of intensive leadership training seminars. These seminars are designed to sensitize persons to needs and issues and to equip them to become advocates for a more humane welfare system. At least three more seminars are scheduled in various sections of the state—there will already have been held by the time Synod meets.

Recommendation:

1. That the 1971 General Assembly social pronouncement, "A Call for Welfare Reform," be submitted to Synod for study and adoption.

"A Call for Welfare Reform"

The Presbyterian Church in the United States shares the wide spread conviction that the welfare system in our nation has failed miserably. Public assistance benefits are not sufficient to provide a decent standard of living for most recipients. Many needy persons receive no benefits at all. The system has built into it disincentives and inequities which tend to perpetuate the very poverty it is intended to alleviate. The need for reform is clear.

We confess that we have often accepted and taken comfort in common myths about the poor and those on welfare. We have believed along with many others misconceptions such as these:

—Most poor people are able-bodied but lazy loafers.
—Those on welfare could work but prefer to free-load off society.
—Welfare recipients waste their money on expensive cars and the like.

Believing such myths, we have done little to effect change.

Now we emphatically reject these myths as false. Moreover, our recognition that God calls us to seek justice for all men, our sense that justice demands that every man have the material conditions necessary for his physical and social existence, our awareness of the injustice suffered by the poor in the midst of our affluent society, and our sensitivity to the fact that half of the poor in our nation are in the region served by our church compel us to act. Therefore, the Presbyterian Church in the United States in this 111th General Assembly:

1. Urges the enactment of a national program which provides a basic and adequate minimum income or opportunity to earn such for all persons in the United States.

2. Declares its judgment that the adequacy of any proposed program of income maintenance should be measured by these criteria:

a. It treats the basic necessities of life as a universal human right, without reference to judgments as to who does or does not deserve them.

b. It contains strong incentives for work, but does not require acceptance of employment as a condition for receiving public assistance for mothers with pre-school or elementary school age children.

c. It grants an income large enough to provide for basic needs and to sustain every person's participation, with dignity, in society.

d. It provides job training and assistance, by the government if necessary, in obtaining jobs for all those desiring them.

e. It provides income primarily in money so that a social stigma will not be attached to the form of one's subsistence, though this does not exclude additional public provision of social services, facilities, and the education of welfare recipients in the best use of their resources.

f. It provides for grants in such a way that objective standards are established and maintained, and arbitrary judgments by public officials are minimized.

3. Urges church members, congregations, and middle judicatories to study the welfare system in their own localities and specific income maintenance proposals, and to help create a climate of national opinion supporting the earliest possible enactment of an adequate program of income maintenance.

4. Urges support of specific legislation which meets or moves significantly in the direction of the foregoing criteria.

5. Directs the Stated Clerk to inform the Administration and Congress of this social pronouncement, and directs the Office of Church and Society to seek implementation of the action called for herein.

II. The Schools, Desegregation and Busing

Recommendations:

1. That Synod adopt the "Position Paper on the Schools, Desegregation and Busing" as its official position and distribute it to the churches for study and action.

2. That Synod send this paper to President Nixon and presidential candidates, gubernatorial candidates, national and state senators, congressmen, local school board chairmen, the State Department of Public Instruction, and the local working press; and the Synod communicate this action and forward a copy of this paper to the Presbyterian Church in the United States General Assembly.

"Position Paper on the Schools, Desegregation and Busing"

Since the Supreme Court ruling on desegregation in 1954 a great deal has been accomplished in implementing the decision, but much remains to be done. It is quite true that the decision and attempts to implement it have caused a great deal of consternation and disruption in the schools, in the community, in the states, and in the nation. Yet it has been shown repeatedly that when officials have made adequate preparation for the desegregation of schools within a system and have not retreated in the face of angry protests from organized patrons, desegregation as a fact has not been as disruptive as it has been in mere prospect. In many, if not most, instances during the early period of desegregation (which was little more than token), most of the fighting and general disruption took place before the event in the face of a negative or vacillating official stance.

After more than half a generation there are still schools that are not desegregated. In more places than we like to contemplate, disruptions occur periodically; minor day-to-day instances of interracial conflict take place in the schools of this state as well as in other states. Disruptions even occur in schools where an effort has been made to adhere to the letter of the court rulings, because frequently the spirit of the law and the spirit of brotherhood have failed to make themselves felt.

Much rhetoric has been expended by both opponents and proponents of desegregation. Although lip service has been paid to the idea of quality education, it seems all too obvious that quality education was what we wanted for our own children. We have not been as interested in quality education for children of others, especially if they were not of our own race, religion and class. Few of us would have been willing to desegregate even one of our own schools if the courts had not ordered it. We were not concerned with the answer to the basic questions: What is the democratic course? What is the Christian way?

For the past eighteen years many school districts, both in North Carolina and in other states, have "retreated from one untenable position to the next" on this issue. It is not necessary to recount all of the maneuvers of the legislative and administrative bodies in and out of the South since the 1950's. Nor is it necessary to list the innumerable pressures brought to bear against blacks who wanted their children to have quality education. Pressures were often exerted also against any white person or group of whites who wanted to work with blacks to hasten the day of desegregated schools. Our church should not be proud of the fact that, with a few magnificent exceptions, it has failed to provide leadership in this struggle.

The Synod of North Carolina now goes on record as opposing the use of any tactics whatsoever to inhibit the fulfillment of the 1954 ruling of the Supreme Court and the actualization of free quality public education for all the children in this state.

We oppose any action on the part of any citizen groups to establish private schools or send their children to private schools for the purpose of evading the Court ruling. (See 1971 General Assembly Minutes, p. 151.) Such practice, in essence, sets up another dual system of education in the state. We believe the ultimate results of this procedure will be to dichotomize further the society: the privileged white in their own schools on the one hand, and the deprived whites and blacks on the other. The latter will be forced to attend the "free" public system which ultimately will receive less and less from the wealthier citizens of the community in the way of financial as well as public support. The affluent parents who send their children to expensive private schools may exert continuing efforts to curtail tax revenues which are sorely needed to maintain, much less improve, the public system.

We oppose hostile rhetoric which emanates from groups of white parents who have recently been introduced to some of the difficulties and unpleasantness of busing for their children. We agree that some of the complaints about the inconvenience of busing are justifiable; but we would reiterate that children in this state and nation have been bused for many years, some for greater distances.

Some hard statistics on the subject indicate that much busing is carried out for purposes other than integration. An article in New Republic of March, 1972, (p. 18) quotes Senator Monsdale as saying: "Twenty million elementary and secondary school children are bused. . . Forty percent of our children—65 percent when those riding public transportation are included—ride every day for reasons that have nothing at all to do with school desegregation." The Wall Street Journal of March 20, 1972, in a report about busing in Alabama stated that fewer miles were driven and fewer buses operated in 1970-71 than in 1969-70 because after widespread desegregation buses with blacks were no longer passing white schools. The situation in Charlotte-Mecklenburg is confusing because in 1970-71 when the "Finger Plan" was first started there was also a city-student transportation ruling by the state legislature. Both rulings put 11,000 more riders in buses than had ridden the year before. The School Board Feeder Plan employed in 1971-72 added another 7,500 passengers. Approximately 60 percent of the children in the system ride to school every day.

Black children on the average, in all probability, have been bused in larger percentages than white, and still are. Being bused past other, better schools is not a new experience for children of this state, but this phenomenon becomes our concern mainly when our own children are directly involved.

We oppose all legislative and administrative action designed to eliminate busing as one viable means of realizing the goal of desegregation and free quality public education for all. Therefore we concur in the 1971 Supreme Court ruling Swann vs. Charlotte-Mecklenburg case which finds "no basis for holding that the local authorities may not be required to employ bus transportation as one tool of school desegregation."

We oppose the expenditure of public money in a continuing first against desegregation in the courts. Especially are we disturbed by the fact that continued court appeals keep some white parents upset in the unrealistic hope that "it will all go away." Professional school personnel are kept in a state of turmoil, having to adjust to unsettled conditions in an atmosphere which is less than conducive to an efficient system.

We go on record as suggesting that church groups, ministers, officers, and lay people offer to help in PTA work or as members of task forces to patrol halls and toilets in schools where there have been disturbances. This should go hand in hand with workshops for parents, teachers, and appointed and elected school officials. These combined elements should give dissident parents and students an opportunity to voice their fears and frustrations, and should lead to constructive decisions that would aid the local situation.

Civic groups, church groups, et al should be aware that the school system is not improving fast enough to forestall the possibility of much worse disruptions than have been experienced in any section of the state. An effort must be made to improve the entire system and make the educational experience relevant for the children of today. We should ask: How can the system be altered to serve better the needs of today's children?

We believe that there should be a special and continuing effort by authorities at all levels to be scrupulously fair in handling school disturbances of any nature. We think that all whites should be trained to be sensitive to the fact that actions by white students which officials interpret as "non-violent" and not worthy of disciplinary action actually may be provocative to black students. Whites should be careful not to consider physical violence instituted by blacks as unprovoked merely because opposing whites have not first engaged in overt physical action against them. It is important for whites to recognize that all black children and parents know that many white children and parents are opposed to desegregation. Such knowledge is bound to cut deeply into the souls, minds, and lives of blacks and inevitably alter the behavior of parents and children alike. White parents must realize that antagonism which they transmit, wittingly or otherwise, to their children is transmitted to other white children, to teachers, and certainly to black children who return the antagonism. Antagonism begets antagonism, regardless of its source.

We plead with the officials of the state and nation and those in positions of leadership and power to lead the people in a firm commitment and determination to make desegregation work, and to regard safe and efficient busing as one tolerable means of implementing desegregation. We encourage our officials to develop an educational system in which all students, regardless of their place of residence, race, religion, or social class, may be offered the kind of educational opportunity which will be most beneficial to their individual needs in the broadest framework of the principles of Christianity, brotherhood and democracy.

When we align ourselves on the side of "neighborhood schools" in an effort to fend off desegregation by busing, we would well ask ourselves the question asked the Master: "And who is my neighbor?" (Luke 10:29) We should heed His response.

III. The War In Indo-China

Recommendations:

1. That Synod adopt the paper on "The War in Indo-China" and send it to its churches for study and action.
2. That copies of the paper be sent to the President of the United States and to North Carolina members of Congress.

"The War In Indo-China"

The majority of the American people now believe the Vietnam war was a mistake; yet, in spite of this, the war continues at an enormous cost. As of January, 1972, the cost to the United States had been 45,000 young Americans dead, 100,000 wounded, and hundreds missing in action and taken as prisoners of war. The major economic costs of the war have been many billions of dollars each year, resulting in spiraling inflation. The social costs are well-known: the alienation of youth from the government; a general loss of confidence in high-placed officials; widespread confusion about our national purpose; and the loss of our moral credibility as a people. The cost to the Indo-Chinese has been the destruction of their towns, cities, churches, temples, schools, and hospitals. The Senate Sub-Committee on Refugees estimates that since 1965 American action in Indo-China has resulted in the death of 150,000 civilians (some figures are as high as 300,000), the wounding of an additional 355,000 and the creation of 5,000,000 Vietnamese refugees (one-third of the population of South Vietnam), 1,500,000 refugees in Cambodia, and 1,000,000 refugees in Laos. The decline of American casualties must not desensitize the Church in this nation to the large-scale havoc and misery still being wrought in Indo-Chinese civilians by our air power.

The last administration went out of power partly because it escalated the war in Indo-China. Although the present administration has drastically reduced the American commitment of manpower in Vietnam, according to a study at Cornell University the military under the present administration has dropped more than 3,000,000 tons of bombs on Indo-China—more than the United States dropped in all theatres during World War II and the Korean War combined. As of January, 1972, about 76,000 tons of bombs were being dropped each month, 300 tons a day. The stated purpose of this destruction has been to protect our remaining ground troops, support the forces of the Thieu government, and according to the third-ranking Pentagon official, John T. McNaughton, to avoid a humiliating defeat and thus preserve our credibility as the guarantor of nations against subversion. The renewed heavy bombing of the North on April 2, 1972, was in direct response to the surprise invasion of South Vietnam.

Despite public opposition the war persisted due in part to "Vietnamization," which is the depersonalization of the war. Under the code name, "Igloo," the military has developed an electronic warfare system which relies on electronic sensors dropped from the air to pin-point targets, and on laser homing devices to guide the bombs. We even have planes that fly by remote control. Computerized, dehumanized warfare has arrived. Such destruction of people by impersonal, technological means raised some serious moral questions that we dare not ignore.

Until recently the war, as an issue, has been defused and we rejoiced in the withdrawal of American ground troops. However, as of this writing, the war is becoming an issue once more, with an invasion by the North Vietnamese and retaliatory bombing by the United States. In light of the total situation, the Synod of North Carolina of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., deplores the continuing U. S. presence in Indo-China. We have long since honored whatever commitments we may have originally had to South Vietnam. We insist now, as we did last year, that the only morally acceptable course for the United States is to pledge the immediate withdrawal of our entire military force, ceasing all air attacks and other military activities, and terminating the involvement of this nation in the internal affairs of Southeast Asia. We recognize again that this cessation of military activities must be carried out with due regard for the safety of American troops, our prisoners of war, and for those who have supported American policy. We would further reiterate our Synod statement last year to the effect that this nation should also begin serious consideration of those who have suffered from and borne the burden of this war both in the United States and in Indo-China.

4. REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON HISTORICAL MATTERS

Durward T. Stokes, Chairman

The Committee on Historical Matters met at Synod's Office on May 17, 1972, with five members present. The chairman, Durward T. Stokes, presided. The roll of the churches was reviewed and those celebrating anniversaries during the coming year, from 25th to 175th, were noted and a list of them included in this report.

The North Carolina Presbyterian Historical Society held its annual meeting on the same day at the Milner Memorial Presbyterian Church in Raleigh. There were 96 members present to hear an address by Dr. W. Stanford Reid on "John Knox: 400 Years After."

Reports were made to the Society of the tours to historical sites conducted during the year and plans for the future trips of similar nature.

In addition to its present program of publication, the Society agreed to sponsor a history of Elise Academy by Dr. Edwin A. West.

During the past year the membership of the Society has increased by 34 new members and now totals 430.

The committee voted to act as co-sponsor with the Society in the promotion of Dr. West's history, and to solicit the assistance of the Synodical Council of the Women of the Church in accenting and publicizing the aims of the historical program.

4. That Synod observe Annual North Carolina Presbyterian Synod Day on October 15, 1972.

5. REPORT OF INTER-CHURCH RELATIONS COMMITTEE

Your Inter-Church Relations Committee has met one time in the past year. Our primary concern on the occasion was to consider "A Plan for Union". We are fortunate to have one of the new members of the committee responsible for this document now serving First Church, Durham and a member of your Inter-Church Relations Committee. He was most helpful in our meeting and has agreed to address Synod in this regard.

We want to again commend Rev. Samuel S. Wiley, Executive Director of the North Carolina Council of Churches, and his staff for the superb way in which they bring together and promote the areas of Christian Nurture, Social Ministries, and Unity in the state among the sixteen denominations and several congregations that comprise the Council. We are compelled to state categorically that the North Carolina Council of Churches is independent of any other associations and functions solely in the state to direct attention and efforts in areas of our own choosing. The North Carolina Council of Churches merits our continued support. It is our primary vehicle for strong Inter-Church Relations across the state. We call to your continued attention the need for funds to pay for a site in "the Triangle" area for a future office for the Council.

We wish to commend those many churches and their pastors who are participating in local ecumenism. We continue to encourage others to work out ways in which we can share our witness in Christ with others. We entreat you to send news of such involvement to Darrell Monroe at the Synod's Office for inclusion in Presbyterian News.

Recommendations:

1. In order to promote stronger ties with sister denominations, we recommend that each presbytery investigate the feasibility of exchanging fraternal delegates with other churches of the Reformed tradition in their areas, i.e. Moravian, United Church of Christ, Associate Reformed Presbyterian, United Presbyterian, etc.
2. We recommend that we hear now a presentation on "A PLAN OF UNION".
3. We recommend that the Council and/or nominations committee of each presbytery appoint an Inter-Church Relations Committee for the present purpose of encouraging a study of "A Plan of Union" in each church.

a. REPORT OF THE NORTH CAROLINA COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

Reverend Samuel S. Wiley, Executive Director

The operation of the North Carolina Council of Churches could be called "Mission Impossible" had it not been for the help of God and some of His most mature and dedicated people during the past year. Ecumenical action gains either high priority or very low among churchmen and women. With a Gideon's band of a few the Council has been carrying the ecumenical banner in the struggle for faith, righteousness, and justice in North Carolina.

We have resisted the temptation, with the whole spectrum of challenges before us, to attempt too much. With a staff of four people one of whom is half-time (not including the Migrant Project) we necessarily have limited ourselves to timely priorities.

It is immensely heartening to see that the annual giving of the Council's member bodies has increased from $14,000 in 1963 to $35,000 in 1971, a rise of 150%. This very favorable development, however, has been more than matched by the demands of inflation and a growing program. The asking of the Council of each of its member bodies continues to be only 1/10 of 1% of each group's annual giving to current expenses and benevolences, excluding capital building funds. In 1971 such allocations should have produced over $61,000 instead of $35,000, thus requiring special efforts to raise $9,400 from individual churches and donors. The skeletal budget for 1972 will still require $7,900 from these special sources. There is a program of gift annuities developed by the National Council of Churches whereby an ecumenical agency such as our State Council may be beneficiary in a plan that provides continuing income for the donor. One or two generous gift annuities of this sort could make the difference for us in 1972.

As an economy and efficiency measure the nearly 7,000 names on the Council's mailing list have been put on a computer. By resulting reduction in office staff this will make it possible to come within the modest budget of $50,000 if individual contributions come in.

The reorganization of two years ago began to take effect in the summer of 1970. The concept of "shared staff" is very effective in the Commission on Christian Nurture and to a lesser degree in the other two commissions. The intention throughout is to involve in our work the key people from our member judicatories in each program area.

Collins Kilburn and Otis Hairston are doing great things in the area of social ministries. The recent Church and Community Seminar must be rated as excellent for program. Splendid responses are being made in the fields of corrections and criminal justice and of welfare reform. The Migrant Project is booming under William Shipe's direction.

John Cobb has given intelligent and faithful leadership to the Commission on Christian Nurture. Among the priorities there the chief ones are child care, youth hostels, aging, leadership training, and family life. The Task Force on Child Care, led by William McElveen, has drawn together more than thirty experts. The first federated youth hostel in North Carolina will be in operation this summer at Linville.

James Riddle is giving imaginative guidance to the Commission on Christian Unity in a time when some people in the churches challenge not only councils of churches but all organization of religion. I am urging that strong emphasis be put upon local ecumenism—it must be local in order to be real. This commission, in connection with its interest in Faith and Order, is projecting one or more local pilot conferences this year on polarization in church and community.

Other programs are finance, the Pastors' Conference and annual Assembly, the Richard Shelton Communications Awards, the Advisory Conference, The Church Council Bulletin, the Church World Service Clothing Appeal in North Carolina, and the Migrant Ministry.

We have called together evangelism people from the member judicatories to discuss Key 73, resulting in plans for continuing state-wide strategy in preparation for next year. This will be brought directly under the Executive Board as a particular concern of the Council through 1972 and '73, with the expectation that strong, varied, and continuing cooperative outreach will be in the churches' agenda at the beginning of 1974.

6. REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE MINISTER AND HIS WORK

Reverend David B. Jenkins, Chairman

The Permanent Committee on the Minister and His Work has met twice during the past year at Synod's Office. At the first meeting, President Fred R. Stair, Jr., of Union Theological Seminary was in attendance to speak on "Implications of Organizational Change for the Minister and His Work." A discussion of the background which led to the call for a Consultation on the Ministry followed. Synod's Executive Secretary, Vernol R. Jansen, Jr., reported on the proposed Restructure of Assembly's Boards and Agencies which is being formulated by an Assembly Committee of which he is a member.

The second meeting dealt with the matters referred by the Consultation on the Ministry to Synod Committees. Synod's Committee has requested each presbytery to select a church on a voluntary basis to be a part of a pilot project in goal setting, establishment of priorities, and evaluation. At the end of the year the committee will design a plan to be used in all churches of the Synod based upon the findings in this pilot project, and utilizing the information available from the Board of National Ministries. This pilot project will include non-parish ministries as well. The issue of establishment of a uniform base salary for all presbyteries in the Synod has been discussed, but no action has been taken. It is well that the brethren know that up to one half of the amount a minister pays for self employed social security may now be paid by his church or employing agency. A part of your present salary may be so designated this year and thereby be non taxable on this year's report. This information will be sent to each church later this year for instruction and encouragement as budgets for next year are being formulated.

This Synod is a participating member of a Regional Conference on Ministerial Exchange which includes twenty presbyteries from the Synods of West Virginia, Virginia, Appalachia, and North Carolina.

In two annual meetings, information about vacant churches and ministers who might consider a call to another work is exchanged in a confidential manner by presbytery Commission chairmen and Executive Secretaries. While this has not solved the problem in our church of difficulty and slowness in movement of ministers, it is an attempt to facilitate their movement. This conference has made other valuable contributions to your work. The overture to the General Assembly last year which called for the Consultation of the Church's Use of Her Ordained Ministry was formulated here. Dr. George H. Vick, Executive Secretary of the Assembly's Board of Annuities and Relief; Mr. Graham White, retiring Executive Secretary; and Mr. William A. Urch, Executive Secretary-elect, of the Assembly's Committee on the Minister and His Work; and Mr. Vernol R. Jansen, Jr., representing the plan for Restructure of Board and Agencies, have all met with this Regional Conference during the past year.

The Consultation of the Ministry referred to the synods a suggestion that seminars be conducted in appropriate regional sub-divisions dealing with such subjects as communication, ministerial morale, handling conflict, goal setting and evaluation. Since Synod's Christian Education Committee is planning to provide seminars dealing with goal setting we offer this recommendation:

Recommendation:

1. That Synod's Christian Education Committee be requested to enlarge the scope of the seminars being planned dealing with the goal-setting process, to include a study of inter-personal communications, ministerial morale, and how to handle conflict.

7. REPORT OF THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON STANDING RULES OF SYNOD

Vernol Robert Jansen, Jr., Chairman

A. The Committee recommends that the following changes proposed to the 1971 regular sessions and approved by majority vote at that time be adopted:

1. That Rule 15:1a be amended by adding at the end of the rule the words : ". . . for nomination to the Board of Directors", in order to bring Synod's Rule into conformity with the Constitution and By-laws of Union Theological Seminary.

2. That Rule 27:2 be deleted for the reason that there is no longer a General Assembly's Council on Higher Education.

3. That Rule 20:1a be amended to read as follows: Membership: The Committee shall be composed of members as follows: a) The chairman of each presbytery's Campus Christian Life Committee, or a duly elected representative of the presbytery; b) six students, representative of the areas where full-time campus ministries are currently being supported by the Synod; c) three full-time campus ministers sponsored by Synod; d) nine members-at-large from Synod; e) the Synodical President (ex-officio); and f) a chairman-at-large. The former shall be arranged in classes whose terms of service shall be for three years. Members shall be chosen for their knowledge of and interest in the program of Christian Higher Education. Each presbytery's representative shall endeavor to promote the cause in his presbytery.

B. Noting that on January 1, 1972, Synod's plan of presbytery restructure was fully implemented and that this reorganization resulted in a reduction in the number of presbyteries from nine to six new judicatories, the committee recommends that all references to presbytery representation on committees, councils, or boards be revised to conform to the new presbytery structure of this Synod. The committee recommends the following:

1. That the last sentence of Rule 15:1b be amended to read "The Board shall be composed of 24 members, 18 of whom shall be presbytery representatives, three from each of the presbyteries, and six members-at-large."

2. That Rule 17:1 be amended by causing the phrase "of each of the nine presbyteries" to read "of each of the presbyteries."

3. That Rule 19:1 be amended to read "The committee shall be composed of 22 members, including the chairman, as follows: The chairmen of corresponding committees in presbyteries twelve members-at-large divided into three classes of four members each whose term of office shall be for three years. At least eight members shall be lay persons."

4. That Rule 23:1 be amended to read "The committee shall be composed of 16 members, including the chairman, the chairmen of the corresponding committees of the several presbyteries and nine members-at-large whose terms of office shall be for three years, arranged in classes of three members each. Members shall be persons who are competent in fiscal matters, and who have a social concern for people, especially children and the elderly."

5. That Rule 24:10a be amended to read as follows: "The Committee shall be composed of eight members including the chairman, one member from each of the presbyteries, and the president of the Women of the Synod. The chairman and presbytery representatives shall be nominated by Synod's Council."

C. Recognizing the increasing involvement of women and youth in the work of the church at all levels, and particularly the changing roles of women in the life of the Church since amendment of BCO 9-2, the committee recommends that the Standing Rules of Synod be amended by adding the following:

1. Section 24:10f—In making nominations for membership to the several boards and committees, the Nominating Committee shall take care that representation on each such board and committee shall be broadly representative of the entire Church and shall include significant opportunities for participation by women, youth, and minorities as members at-large and as presbytery representatives.

2. That all rules fixing membership of committees be amended to delete special categories of membership based on sex.

8. REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON WOMEN'S WORK

Reverend J. Donald Glover, Chairman

The work and service of the Women of the Church in the Synod has been and continues to be aggressive and imaginative, and the leadership our women have provided at all levels of our church courts provides reason to be thankful and grateful for their contribution to the life of the church.

The Committee is pleased to commend those in places of leadership on the Council of the Women of Synod, for their dedication to the work of the Kingdom and for the effectiveness in their programming.

Synod is asked to study closely the report of the Synodical President, Mrs. Walter S. Stone, because it will inform us as to the ways God is working out his purposes through the Women of the Church, Synod of North Carolina.

a. ANNUAL REPORT OF THE WOMEN OF THE CHURCH SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA

Mrs. Walter S. Stone, President

God Rules, and the Women of the Church of North Carolina affirm this belief as they go about being God's People in the World today. In keeping with this thought, a large number of women avail themselves of many opportunities for study and leadership training. Over 350 women attended the 27th Annual Training School, June 7-11, 1971, and 225 women and 189 men also attended the first Men-Women Conference, June 12-13, 1971 at Montreat.

The District Conferences were held as usual in the fall, and reached many women, who came together for more information and Christian fellowship. Many training opportunities continue to be offered on both Presbyterial and District levels, as well as Spiritual Retreats.

The Birthday Offering of $52,700.00 was given to Taiwan, Korea, and the Congo, to train workers in each country to better serve their own people.

A special Synodical project of $5,000 each year is given some cause or agency in our Synod. This year it is being given to Lees-McRae College.

The White Cross supplies are being sent to the new African country of Zaire. The women enjoy the fellowship of sewing the many garments requested and rolling the bandages, which mean so much to the hospitals who receive them. The appeals from Church World Service have also been met.

The Joy Gift at Christmas time is always a special event, and churches respond to it with family night suppers that tend to bring the whole church together. The Witness Season is also a time of sharing what we have with others, and brings out the creative talents of the women as they seek to reach all the church in this time of renewal.

Hunger continues to concern our women, and most churches have initiated programs in this field to help those in their communities, as well as other places in the world. One church in Mecklenburg Presbytery serves one meal each day to the aged in their community. The food is prepared by young people from grade 6 to the second year college, and then it is taken to the people in the program, which provides food, and much needed fellowship. This has brought great happiness to all the group. Another church maintains a clothes closet, where the women meet, repair, clean and sort the clothes which are used by the Department of Social Service in that community.

Many churches take part in or operate day care centers; one church sponsors a "Mother's Day Out" nursery to give mothers of small children a free day. More and more churches participate in the International House at Christmas, where students of other countries come and stay in the churches and share with each other and the people of the church. This grows in popularity each year and creates better understanding between the groups.

The young people are encouraged to express themselves, as they work in areas of special concern, drugs, hunger, ecology, halfway houses, prayer groups and Bible study. One church has a "Love Group" made up of persons 70 years of age or older, who are shown special attention on birthdays and other special occasions. Another has a "Together" group, which is a racially mixed group, meeting together to discover mutual concerns and interests. Many have programs ministering to prisoners and young first offenders, to retarded child development centers in depressed areas; volunteer transportation for blind, handicapped and elderly was furnished for shopping, recreation, and visits to the doctor.

The women were confronted with the "Challenge to Commitment" based on the action of the 111th General Assembly, and have used their own creativeness and love of God and fellow human beings to fulfill these commitments.

"And they said: 'Lord, when did we see thee hungry, and feed thee, or thirsty and gave thee a drink, and naked and clothed thee, and when saw we a stranger, and took thee in, or saw thee sick or in prison and ministered to thee?' And Jesus said: 'In as much as ye did it to one of the least of these, my brothers, you did it unto me.' "

9. REPORT OF PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON WORLD MISSIONS

Reverend W. T. Perkins, Chairman

Synod's World Missions Committee did not hold its annual meeting in 1972, due to a misunderstanding on the part of the chairman. Thus, the following report is not a report of the committee but of the chairman.

Some great things have been happening to our Board of World Missions and we should be rejoicing. At the January meeting of the Board of World Missions, thirty-one appointments were made, the largest number of appointments ever made at one Board meeting. Appointments included twenty-four new missionaries, two new missionaries encouraged to expect appointment in October, and five reappointments.

In 1972, seventy-two missionaries, a record number, will be sent to the mission field. This has been made possible through the gifts from local churches and a large amount of money that has come through bequests and wills for the first time. As of April 1, 1972, the Special Offering for World Missions was $218,000 and this went directly to World Missions and was not equalized. Some great things are happening and we do rejoice as Presbyterians with the Board of World Missions.

The Board has decided that it will designate up to 5% of its annual personnel budget to (1) aid non-U. S. churches, mainly in the Third World, to send missionaries to other countries; and (2) to aid ecumenical agencies which are encouraging churches to send missionaries outside of their lands. The Board voted to use $565,000 of reserves in 1973, in order to carry out its decision to maintain a minimum of four hundred missionaries on a new salary scale.

The coming World Missions Conference scheduled for Montreat during the dates of July 28-August 4, should be an exciting opportunity for all who participate. The focus of the Conference this year will be on Evangelism and will have as its theme "Calling All Continents to Christ." There will be celebrating, sharing, discovering, and rejoicing at the World Missions Conference, and all Presbyteries are urged to send their chairman and to encourage churches to send representatives.

Recommendations:

1. That the Presbytery Chairman and the Ecumenical Missions and Relations Chairman be encouraged to attend the World Missions Conference at Montreat, July 28-August 4, 1972.
2. That Presbyteries be encouraged to send at least eight other persons, including youth and minority groups, to the Conference at Montreat, July 28-August 4, 1972.
3. That appreciation be expressed to the missionaries who worked so faithfully in this Synod for their time and service and that this appreciation be communicated to each of them.
4. That the Board of World Missions be thanked for its diligent and faithful service of administration, planning, counsel, and interpreting the work through its seminars and conferences.
5. The local congregations be encouraged to partially or fully support a missionary up and above their regular benevolence giving, by establishing a relationship with one or more overseas missionaries.

6. That local congregations be reminded of:
   (a) The importance of putting our World Missions concerns on a year-round basis.
   (b) The opportunities for effective overseas ministry through the collection of used clothing, blankets, bandages, and medical supplies for distribution through Church World Service.
   (c) The current stewardship policy in effect, namely, that when a local church is meeting its fair share of benevolences, the church can make designated gifts without their being subject to equalization.
   (d) The important service they can render to missionaries on furlough by securing and making available to the missionaries acceptable furlough homes.

H. ANNUAL REPORT SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA FOUNDATION, INC.

Judge William E. Graham, Jr., President

The Foundation had assets on hand, April 21, 1972, of $21,661.99. Pledges outstanding amount to $19,814.00. A portion of these pledges are contingent upon the Foundation's future program, including the employment of a full-time staff person.

The Executive Committee of the Board of Directors began last summer to obtain applications for a full-time staff employee. Response was received from several persons who appeared qualified. However, upon recommendation of the new General Secretary, the Board of Directors voted to delay a decision on employing a staff person until the design of the new Synod structure is better defined. The consensus of the Board of Directors was that it would be premature to employ a full-time staff person, or to embark upon an expensive advertising campaign, until reports and recommendations have been received from committees now studying the organizational structure of Synod "B".

The President of the Board of Directors and the General Secretary have conferred with representatives of a national consulting and planning firm with respect to a planned program of solicitation for Foundation gifts. It is hoped that an aggressive program can be developed and implemented within the new Synod as soon as its organization is completed.

The Committee found that generally the Minutes submitted for examination were in good order, well kept, and arranged in a manner easy to follow. A few exceptions were noted but it was apparent that the clerks of the respective presbyteries had done their jobs very well.

Minutes submitted by the following presbyteries were found to be without exception:

Granville
Wilmington

The following presbyteries submitted minutes with exceptions as noted:

Concord: Stated Meeting of July 20, 1971: The record does not indicate the time of the meeting (BCO 16:4)

Fayetteville: Called Meeting of July 11, 1971: The record does not indicate that the call of the meeting was issued in compliance with BCO 16:9.

The Committee calls to the attention of Synod that insofar as can be determined, no directives have been provided for the deposit and examination of official minutes of Organizational Meetings and subsequent meetings after organization of the restructured presbyteries. The only minutes of this nature received by this Committee were those of Presbytery IV (Fayetteville).

Minutes of the Synod of North Carolina

The Minutes of the 158th Annual Session of the Synod of North Carolina have been examined and found in good order. It appears that the Constitution of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., was observed and all lawful injunctions of the General Assembly carried out.

Minutes of the General Assembly

The Minutes of the 111th General Assembly have been examined and no exceptions in form or order noted. It appears that all major programs and directives for the synod have been considered and properly handled.

Recommendations:

1. That the Stated, Permanent and Assistant Clerks of the presbyteries of Synod be commended for their skill and diligence in preparing and preserving the minutes of their respective presbyteries.

K. THE WILLIAM BLACK HOME, INC.

R. H. Stone, President

The Board of Trustees of the William Black Home at Montreat is pleased to report that they have been able to continue to operate at the rate of $35.00 per week for room and board and this same rate is anticipated for the coming summer without increase. The Home continues to be the beneficiary of the generosity of the Women of the Synodical and several improvements have been completed as a result of this; the most significant of which is the remodeling and re-equipping of the kitchen. Your trustees have given attention to the normal maintenance of the Home looking not only to the comfort of the guests but the convenience and working conditions of the employees.

Mrs. W. C. Copeland and her daughter, Miss Nancy Copeland, will again be in charge of the operation of the Home during the 1972 season. We cannot adequately express our appreciation to the Copelands for their excellent operation of the Home. It is their efficiency and graciousness which has made it possible for our Home to rank as one of the most desirable places to stay in Montreat as well as being one of the most reasonably priced. The Home will open this year on June 3 and will continue to operate during the conference period. It was the pleasure of the Board to welcome to their meeting again this year the Reverend John Mack Walker, Chairman of the Synod's Executive Committee on Homes. Your Board is grateful for the privilege that you have given them of participating in this part of the work of the Kingdom.

L. FINANCIAL REPORTS

1. REPORT OF AUDITOR

A. T. ALLEN & COMPANY
Certified Public Accountants
Raleigh, N. C.

Committee on Finance and Auditing
Synod of North Carolina
Presbyterian Church in The United States
Raleigh, North Carolina

Gentlemen:

We have examined the balance sheets of the various funds of the Synod of North Carolina, Presbyterian Church in the United States, Raleigh, North Carolina, as of December 31, 1971, and the related statements of income, changes in fund balances, and statements of cash receipts and disbursements for the year then ended.

Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards for an organization of this type, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records, and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances, the books having been maintained on a cash basis. Our audit of the records of the Presbyterian Campus Christian Life Campaign Fund was limited to the recorded receipts and disbursements.

Synod's records are maintained on a cash basis. The books were not closed until all funds for the year were received from the Presbyteries in order that all receipts for the year January 1, 1971 to December 31, 1971, could be included. Likewise, some expenses for the year were paid after December 31, 1971, and the cash balances shown herein are after including these in the disbursements.

In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheets of the various funds, and the related statements of changes in fund balances and income and expenditures present fairly the financial positions of the various funds of Synod of North Carolina, Presbyterian Church in the United States at December 31, 1971, and the results of the funds' operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applicable to such organizations, maintaining the books and records on a cash basis.

Our audit observations and comments are presented in letter form under separate cover.

Balance sheets of the Kate B. Reynolds Trust Fund for Retired Presbyterian Ministers and the A. T. McCallum Trust Fund (Schedules 8 and 9) are presented herein for your information, as reported by the Trust Department of Wachovia Bank and Trust Company, and A. K. Lovin & Company, Certified Public Accountants, respectively.

Yours very truly,

A. T. ALLEN & COMPANY

N. REPORT TO SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA

Queens College
Charlotte, N.C.

June 6, 1972

Last November, Dr. Lee Stoffel preached a great sermon at the organizational meeting of Synod "B" in which he challenged the new Synod "B" to gird itself for more effective mission for Christ. In particular he said:

> "We here today are on the threshold of creating a strong new regional synod to provide the leadership and the material resources for one of the very strongest regions in the Presbyterian Church. There is the exciting possibility of creating some new thing, a new structure for mission, harnessing the Presbyterian resources of all this great state . . . the simple breath-taking fact is that we have now given to us an opportunity that will never come again in our lifetime."

The church is generally aware that the General Assembly last June created seven synods out of the existing fifteen and set July 1, 1973, as the effective legal date for the establishment of the new structures. The other six synods include two or more states within their bounds, but Synod "B" consists entirely of the area within the state of North Carolina. As it works out, fourteen counties in the western part of the state are being returned to the region from which they were taken in 1915 when the Synod of Appalachia was established.

Partly for this reason, it may be difficult for North Carolina churchmen to grasp the fact that this will be a new structure. Even if the boundaries remain essentially as they are now, the new synod must take action to create its own presbyteries. Even if we continue the same kind of program of institutional support and mission resourcing, the new organization must adopt its own statement of mission and design its own organization. We are, therefore, not simply adding fourteen counties to the present structure.

The procedure by which the new synod is to be organized was designed by the General Assembly. A convention was held in Charlotte last November 30th. Every church in the new region was asked to send representation and every minister who belongs to one of its presbyteries was invited to attend. Nearly 800 were registered. Six committees, each with stated purposes, were formed as follows:

1. Committee on Boundaries of Presbyteries
2. Committee on Mission and Organization
3. Committee on Institutional Relationships and Legal Titles
4. Committee on Name and Seal
5. Transition and Finance Committee
6. Nominating Committee

117 men and women were elected by the Synod to serve on these committees which will report to a second convention to be held after February 1 and before July 1, 1973. The organizational meeting of the new structure will be held next summer.

While departure of our Moderator from the Synod caused some delay, all committees are now functioning and some have held as many as three meetings. Each committee is now engaged in a period of study of the existing program, conferences with institutional and program directors, and data gathering from the constituency. By September or October, each committee will begin the draft of its report, and the product of each committee will be distributed to the church sixty days before the convention is held.

The Synod "B" committees are funded by per capita assessment for each congregation, collected by and remitted through the central treasurer of each existing presbytery. The availability of these resources will enable the committees to meet as required, to utilize consultant services for needed skills and to use all opportunities for sharing and testing the committees' findings with segments of the whole church.

Our clerk has frequently reminded the committees as well as the church at large of the dimensions of our responsibility. We are told that the work of this synod will be studied in the other regions of the denomination; that the process must be open and participation available to all who are interested; and that the final reports must offer the most effective instrument through which the church can fulfill its unchanging mission in a rapidly changing world. As a result of careful briefing, the committee members are fully aware of their large responsibilities and of their roles of leadership and stewardship.

The docket of the 112th General Assembly lists a number of proposals which will affect the work of the study committees of Synod "B". These range from requests for accelerated implementation of the new synod plan on the one hand to out-right abolition of synod as a court of the church on the other hand. The committee chairmen feel that their assignments can be completed in a responsible and creative manner on the present schedule, but would advise against a reduction of the time available for committee work now in progress. The Synod of North Carolina has the most comprehensive regional program in the church. It has developed a resourcing system for education, media, communication, campus ministry, and church extension. Further, its ministries for children, families, and the aged are models for the denomination, and the support of its educational and theological institutions is both substantial and responsive. Surely North Carolina has a responsibility to lead the church to a proper understanding of the role of the regional judicatory and to oppose the elimination of it.

The proposed plan for the reorganization of Assembly's boards and agencies assumes the existence of strong regional resourcing systems and it shifts many of the functions now being performed at the Assembly level to the new synods. Many report that the board and agencies could not continue these services very long because of their limited resources and the changing patterns of ministry in different areas of the denomination. Therefore, Synod "B" must be designed to meet these resourcing needs at Presbytery and congregation levels.

I want to stress that the committees and subcommittees engaged in this process are anxious to have all available information and assistance. You are urged to contact the clerk or one of the six committee chairmen if you have any suggestions or questions about this work.

Finally, Dr. Stoffel urged us to "build without walls . . . and to let the glory within our structure be God's." The committees have heard this challenge and with your help in the days ahead will do their utmost to respond to the great opportunities which are before us.

Halbert M. Jones, Chariman Committee on Mission and Organization, Synod "B"

(See Section 11, Item 1, Reorganization Plan 1951 Minutes of Synod.)

1. As Stated Clerk

6:2. It shall be the duty of the Stated Clerk, when he is elected and enters upon the duties of his office, at the opening of the Synod immediately succeeding that at which he is elected, to report to the Synod in writing and in full, whatever he has received from his predecessor, in the way of Books, Papers, Records, Documents, Furniture, etc., and the condition of the same when received.

6:3. The Stated Clerk shall conduct the correspondence of the Synod and shall publish a notice of the time and place of the meeting of the Synod at least once, a month before the appointed day. He shall sign all necessary certificates for the same, or for other official purposes of the Synod or its members.

6:4. He shall mail, in advance of Synod, copies of Reports, together with copies of the Program, to all Commissioners to Synod.

6:5. He shall have at each meeting of Synod accessible to the Moderator a sufficient number of copies of the printed reports of the Program Committee, a copy of the last printed Minutes of the General Assembly, and a copy of Alexander's Digest, Millard's Digest, (Gavel, Robert's Rules of Order, etc.).

(The word "edit" here is used to refer to corrections in spelling, punctuation, etc.) He shall cause to be published annually in pamphlet form, at least one thousand copies of the Minutes, as soon as practicable after adjournment, and distribute these among the members of the Synod and Church Sessions.

6:7. He shall cause to be published in the Appendix to the printed Minutes, the reports of the Presbyteries on Statistics, the reports of the Executive and Permanent Committees, and such reports of Trustees and Regents as may be required.

6:8. He shall forward a copy of the printed Minutes annually to the libraries of Union Seminary, Davidson College, the Presbyterian Historical Society of Philadelphia, and the Historical Foundation of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, and he shall file at least three copies in the archives of Synod.

6:9 He shall be charged with the further duty of reporting to the Moderator any vacancies to be filled by his appointment, and any deaths in the Ministry that may occur, and of reporting to the Synod the expiration of the term of service of its officers and members of its committees, according to the Standing Rules. He shall present to the Synod the Statistical Reports of the Presbyteries. He shall collect and cause to be preserved all historical matter relating to the life of the Synod.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS:

Report of Standing Committee I: Ruling Elder H. Gray Hutchison presented the report of Standing Committee I, reviewing the work of Synod's Council and the Permanent Committees on Rules, Presbyterian Foundation and Historical Matters. The reports of these committees are printed in the Appendix and the Standing Committee reported as follows:

I. After opening the meeting with prayer led by Rev. C. H. Reckard, the Standing Committee proceeded to hear the following reports:

A. The Permanent Committee on Historical Matters, delivered by Mrs. J. S. Evans, for Durward T. Stokes, Chairman;

B. The Council of the Synod of North Carolina, delivered by Rev. James H. McKinnon, for J. Harvey Oliver, Chairman;

C. The Permanent Committee on Standing Rules, delivered by Vernol R. Jansen, Chairman;

D. The Synod of North Carolina Foundation, Inc., delivered for Judge William E. Graham, President.

II. Emerging from the discussion of the above four reports were the following items of interest and information:

A. The report of the Committee on Historical Matters emphasized the importance of preserving the history, information, artifacts and memorabilia of our Presbyterian heritage in North Carolina as a basis for building soundly for the future. It was noted that membership of the Presbyterian Historical Society could be obtained through the offices of Synod of North Carolina in Raleigh. Evidence of the Standing Committee's interest was demonstrated by the spontaneous enrollment in the Historical Society of many of the commissioners present accompanied by cash payment on the spot of the required dues.

B. The report of the Council of the Synod of North Carolina was received and discussed with recognition that their operations since the last meeting of Synod have been oriented towards the organization of Synod "B".

Regarding Council's report on Stewardship, the Standing Committee felt strongly that individual Sessions should exert more effort to explain to their congregations the specific mission which their Synod apportionments support.

C. The report of the Permanent Committees on Standing Rules of Synod noted that any "proposed changes have been incorporated in the rules to be proposed to the emerging Synod by the Transition Committee and will be considered in connection with that report."

D. The Synod of North Carolina Foundation, Inc., reported that it was prepared to begin operation on July 1, 1973, under mandate from an earlier meeting of Synod. With initial assets in excess of $30,000, the Foundation will assume management responsibility for present funds exceeding $300,000, and will promote the entire stewardship program of the Church.

III. The Standing Committee makes the following recommendations:

A. That the report of the Committee on Historical Matters be received as information; and

That the Committee be commended for their work; and

That increased publicity be given to the Committee and its efforts;

B. That the reports from the Permanent Committee on Standing Rules, and the Synod of North Carolina Foundation, Inc., be received as information;

C. That the report of the Council of the Synod of North Carolina be received as information; and

That their recommendation be adopted.

The report was adopted.

Report of Standing Committee II: The report of the Standing Committee II was presented by Teaching Elder J. Gary Waller. The reports of the Permanent Committees on Annuities and Relief, Christianity and Health, and the Minister and His Work are printed in the Appendix; the report of the standing committee follows:

1. That the report of the Committee on Annuities and Relief be adopted.

2. That the report of the Committee on Christianity and Health be received as information.

3. That the report of the Committee on the Minister and His Work be adopted and the following additional recommendations be approved:

1. That the responsibilities now assigned to the Permanent Committees on the Minister and His Work, Annuities and Relief, and Christianity and Health; the responsibilities of the Career and Personal Counseling Service as it pertains to candidates for the ministry and also to those seeking career evaluation and development or changes in occupation, be combined in one committee under the heading of Professional Development.

2. That any actions of the Presbyteries of the Synod be consistent with the decisions and actions of the General Assembly, PCUS with regard to those who renounce the communion or authority of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.

The report of Standing Committee II was adopted.

Report of Standing Committee III: The report of Standing Committee III, which reviewed the work of Synod's Executive Committee on Christian Education and the Permanent Committee on Women's Work was presented by Teaching Elder Chalmers F. McCutchen.

The reports of these committees are printed in the Appendix to these Minutes. The report of the Standing Committee is as follows:

Your Standing Committee has had placed in its hand for consideration:

1. The Report of the Executive Committee on Christian Education
2. The Report of the Committee on Women's Work
3. We have also heard from the Chairman of the Permanent Committee on Christian Education, the Rev. H. Edwin Pickard, and Rev. G. C. McChesney for the Chairman of the Committee on Women's Work.

The Executive Committee on Christian Education has been under the able leadership of the Rev. H. Edwin Pickard. It has cooperated in furnishing information for the transition committee of the new Synod. It has also conducted pilot projects within particular churches and done experimentation in the traditional and new fields of service. The health of our regional director, the Rev. Robert Turner, has made him unable to function at full capacity in the year 1973. During his illness the assistance of Miss Beatrice Kiser has been valuable.

One new area director, Miss Marian Fisk, has been employed during the church year and is serving primarily in Albemarle Presbytery. The Area Directors have functioned with competence. The service of all subcommittee chairmen is acknowledged with gratitude together will all Presbytery representatives who have assisted.

Appreciation is expressed for the ministries of area D.C.E.'s: Sara McNeill (Orange), Marian Fisk (Albemarle), Ruth Cheney (Fayetteville), Virginia Jones (Mecklenburg), Sarah Francis Thompson (Concord), and Donna Cook (Wilmington).

Audio-Visual Library: As an indication of Audiovisual activity, 3,800 filmstrips were used by the Churches of the Synod in 1972. A new catalogue listing materials available in the library was published and sent to all Churches in the Synod. Additional copies may be purchased at $1.00 each at the Synod's Office. One hundred fifty-five churches participated in the membership plan which cost $15.00 per year for a church.

Two Audiovisual previews were arranged and several Audio Workshops were held during the year. It is requested that Miss Beatrice Kiser amplify information on cassettes tapes in the audiovisual library.

CABINET ON ADULT WORK: The activity in this department can best be demonstrated by an emphasis in each Presbytery. Wilmington Presbytery conducted three Musical Workshops. Mecklenburg Presbytery conducted a Young Adult Workshop. Orange Presbytery provided a three night training event for teachers of CLC materials and ULCS materials and Christians in Families. Albemarle Presbytery formed a Task Force on youth and young adult. Fayetteville Presbytery placed emphasis on Family Camps, Learning Opportunities for Adults, and Curriculum Planning. Family Camping was emphasized in Concord Presbytery with one Family Camp planned and directed by the Council on the Outdoor Christian Education Committee. A Training Retreat for elders was conducted at Montreat as a pilot program in cooperation with the Board of Christian Education Office of Laity Development. Each participating Church was required to have at least 60% of the elders, plus their minister, in attendance.

There were also many other activities in each Presbytery.

The Home and Family area of N.C.C.E. Conference has been cancelled due to lack of registration. Though the Conference was well planned, it is regretted that lack of registrations caused cancellation.

CABINET ON YOUTH WORK: One of the more interesting observations is that the Cabinet offers an exciting youth-planned, synod-wide Youth Conference for August 3-11, 1973. The theme is "Our World and Welcome to It — The People to People Conference." It is to be held at Peace College, Raleigh, N. C. During the past year each Presbytery has planned various training events for both youth and youth leaders, including Workshops on Youth Ministries, Curriculum Planning Workshops for Youth and Leaders, Discovery-Learning Workshops, etc.

An announcement in regard to the Youth Conference by the Rev. Burwell Shore (Concord) Chairman of the Task Force, has been requested by the Standing Committee.

Following a week-long training workshop in youth ministry at Dayton, Ohio, a yellow-page report will be distributd by the Board of Christian Education soon.

CHILDREN'S WORK CABINET: Much study has been given to the important learning experiences of young children. The work in the Presbyteries has been reflected in a variety of workshops and retreats, in a number of areas involving a display of materials, creative teaching, simultation games, learning day-centers, etc.

The Board of Christian Education conducted a pilot workshop in this area on HOW TO TEACH. This was a two and one-half day workshop in which the basic skills in teaching were learned.

These workshops trained people to go back into the Presbyteries to train others in the basic skills of teaching.

CABINET ON OUTDOOR CHRISTIAN EDUCATION: The interest in this area is developing along the following tracks; cooperative training opportunities, cooperative endeavors, Family recreation and support, cooperative business administration. The latter covering purchasing opportunties, business practices, insurance, etc.

Attention is called to the North Carolina Synodical Training School, June 18-22 and the North Carolina Women's Week-end Conference, June 16-17 at Montreat, under the direction of Mrs. June Jones. Opportunity will be given for learning, fellowship, and renewal. The Theme for both will be "ACCEPT PERSONHOOD." Appreciation is expressed for the leadership offered by the President of Synodical, Mrs. H. Cone McPherson.

Recommendations:

1. That Synod authorize the Synod Men's Conference, the North Carolina Christian Education Conference and the Synod Youth Conference to hold a Communion Service during these conferences.
2. That Synod encourage particular churches considering employing educational personnel to utilize the Office of Church Personnel Services of the General Executive Board and its consultants in the Synod.
3. That Synod urge local churches and Presbyteries to take advantage of all training opportunities such as the North Carolina Christian Education Conference, June 22-28, and the Church School Administration Conference, June 15-17, which are to be held in Montreat, and other Presbytery and ecumenical training events.
4. That Synod urge Sessions and Congregations to provide the time and supporting funds for continuing education for all members of the church's staff.
5. That the report of the Christian Education Committee, be adopted.
6. We recommend that the Executive Secretary of Synod write a letter to the Rev. Robert Turner assuring him of our Christian love and interest in his recuperation.
7. Your Standing Committee is recommending that we request Mrs. H. Cone McPherson to be granted the privilege of presenting the annual report of the Women of the Synod of North Carolina, and recommends that the report of the Committee on Women's Work be adopted.
8. That Synod of N.C. seriously consider the patterns set by the General Assembly as regards committee women representation.

The report of the subcommittee on Women's Work was adopted. The Synod heard Mrs. H. Cone McPherson, president of the North Carolina Synodical and presented her with a corsage.

SPECIAL ORDER: A progress report from the Queens-Davidson Campaign for capital funds was presented by Teaching Elder Douglas W. Oldenburg. Churches were encouraged to complete plans for responding to this appeal. Commissioners were reminded that this campaign will be coming to a close at the end of the month.

Report of Standing Committee VI: The report of Standing Committee VI was presented by Ruling Elder Robert Bankhead. The report of Synod's Executive Committee on Homes is printed in the Appendix of these Minutes, and the report of the standing committee is as follows:

The Standing Committee on Homes received

1. The printed report of the Executive Committee on Homes; and heard
2. The verbal report of the chairman of the Executive Committee, Mr. John Mack Walker, with general comments.
3. Mr. Richard Short, Executive Director of Presbyterian Home, Inc., in-

5. Mr. Gower Crosswell, Jr., presented the report of the William Black Home.

The Standing Committee recommends

1. That the printed report of the Executive Committee on Homes be received as information.

2. That Synod be informed of innovative programming of Barium Home for Children, in the following areas:

   a. The establishment of the Consultative Services Division, addressing itself to equipping the church to serve the family in changing times and to conducting Family Life Institutes for training pastors and other persons in communities; providing an umbrella of services around families;

   h. The development of models, including (1) Family Life Centers in cooperation with community churches, (2) a core of leadership couples to lead retreats in Family Enrichment, and (3) Cooperative courses with and through community colleges in the area of parent-child relationships. These reflect the approach of prevention before the problem gets out of hand.

3. That churches be encouraged to use the Audio-Visual (slides-tape) programs on Presbyterian Home.

4. That the Synod of North Carolina express sincere appreciation to the Board of Regents of Barium Springs Home for Children, and the Boards of Trustees of the Presbyterian Home, Inc., and the William Black Home, Inc.; and to Dr. Nat Reiney, Mr. Richard Short, and Mr. Gower Crosswell, Jr., and the staff and personnel of these homes, for their continued dedication and service.

The report with its recommendations was adopted.

The reports of the permanent committees are printed in the Appendix to these Minutes and the report of the standing committee is as follows:

The Chairman of this Permanent Committee, the Rev. Eugene Ensley, reported in this form of sharing three models of inter-church relations taking place in the Synod:

1. Dr. Samuel Wiley shared information concerning work being done by the North Carolina Council of Churches.
1. Rev. George Wehh, representing a group of North Carolina Preshyterians, who participated in a sharing session with the committee of 24 on Presbyterian, U.S.—United Preshyterian U.S.A. Union, reported on efforts to get grass roots feedback on the proposal Plan of Union.
3. Rev. William Stewart reported on plans for cooperative work between Orange Preshytery and U.P.U.S.A. churches located in the boundaries of that presbytery.

Recommendations regarding Inter-Church Relations:

1. That this report be received as information.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CHURCH AND SOCIETY

Rev. Robert Ramey reported for the permanent committee. This report consisted of a Preface and information and recommendations regarding three subjects.

I. Low Income Housing

Recommendations:

1. That Synod recognize and endorse the Caldwell Community Developments Corporation's ministry to low income people.
2. That Synod express this support to the Farmer's Home Administration and urge a positive response by this agency to the Caldwell Community Development Corporation's request for funding.
3. That Synod urge churches in areas where low income people suffer from inadequate housing to investigate the above mentioned ministry by contacting the First Presbyterian Church in Lenoir, North Carolina.

II. Problem Pregnancy

Recommendation:

That Synod hear the Rev. Laura Buzard for fifteen minutes concerning problem pregnancy.

Summary:

Out of intense awareness that one of the pressing issues of our time is problem pregnancy, the Church and Society Committee is attempting to offer some signposts toward help for you on the issue. Our presentation makes no attempt to settle the ever-present theological debate on the subject of abortion. The General Assembly of our Church is dealing with this issue and we point you to their conclusions.

We recognize that Churchmen are likely to be confronted with problem pregnancy situations. We recognize that this is a complex moral and legal issue. We recognize that there are several alternatives: keeping the child, adoption, and abortion. We recognize that women are involved daily in this struggle and when there is hurt and dilemma we need to be available to be of help or to point toward it.

Some special things we can do are:

1) Support and/or initiate responsible, meaningful sex education in our schools and in our churches.

2) Educate ourselves concerning the world we now live in which is so different in its standards than the one most of us grew up in.

3) We can be open and seek ways to communicate that openness to those who are struggling with these problems and the very complex emotions which accompany them.

Some sources of help are:

1) The Clergy Consultation Service.

From Robert Bluford and Robert Petres book entitled Unwanted Pregnancy, Harper & Row, 1973, pp. 84-85 "For information about the Clergy Consultation Service within your state call 212-477-0034. A 24-hour answering service will provide you with a recorded description of services available through CCS and a list of CCS phone numbers arranged alphabetically by state. CCS has its headquarters at 55 Washington Square South, New York, N. Y. 10012." The North Carolina number is 919-967-5335.

2) Planned Parenthood or Family and Children's Service in your community or nearby city. They are very eager to have ministers involved.

3) Local health clinics where pregnancy tests can be made anonymously and free.

4) At your own initiative, cultivate a relationship with a local doctor who will talk with you openly about problem pregnancy situations.

5) For information on financial assistance in abortion situations contact the Rev. Mr. Bob Busey, Asheville, N. C.

III. Position Paper on School Desegregation

Recommendation:

That Synod adopt the "Position Paper on School Desegregation" and reproduce it in quantity for distribution upon adoption with the following changes.

IV. Further recommendation on Peace in Viet Nam:

That Synod engage in a period of prayer recognizing the steps taken toward ending the war in Viet Nam and asking divine guidance that this peace be implemented.

The report was adopted.

Report of Standing Committee IV: The report of Standing Committee IV, which reviewed the work of Synod's Executive Committee on Campus Christian Life, was presented by Teaching Elder Joseph L. Pickard, as follows:

The reorganization of the Synod of North Carolina with additional communicants, territory and institutions had important consequences for campus ministry in North Carolina. No report to Synod in 1973 can ignore that fact.

Standing Committee IV makes the following recommendations to the Synod:

1) That the report of the Executive Committee on Campus Christian Life be received as information.

2) That the Synod express its appreciation to the campus ministers as listed in the report and to the Executive Committee on Campus Christian Life for the good work they have done in the past year.

3) That the Task Force on Higher Education continue where possible to increase its emphasis upon and financial support of the Campus Christian Life ministry in the Synod.

4) That the Synod instruct the Task Force on Higher Education to make a special project of interpreting the Campus Christian Life Ministry to Presbyterian of North Carolina.

The report was adopted.

Report of Standing Committee V: The report of Standing Committee V was presented by Teaching Elder Paul Felker as follows:

The committee numbering approximately 50 persons had a most interesting experience as it heard the messages brought by the resource persons present.

J. Murphy Smith, Chairman of Church Extension addressed the standing committee. He clarified the report of the handbook concerning the large cash deposits. The hooks were closed on December 31, 1972 when funds had heen approved but not distributed. At present less than $5,000 is in cash deposits.

Darrell Monroe, director of N.C. TRAV, reported the creative work being done in TV. We previewed two spot announcements being prepared for free use hy Television for Christmas and Easter. These elicited a favorable response.

James Gruhhs, Chaplain to six institutions at Butner reported on his varied work. He hopes to provide seminars for parish ministers to assist them in ministering to people with special needs if funds are available.

Ed Connette reported on the work of the subcommittee on Witness. He introduced John G. Viser, chaplain at Seamen's Center at Wilmington Port.

Recommendations:

1. That the report of the Executive Committee of Church Extension be adopted.
2. That John G. Viser be granted five minutes to address synod about the ecumenical work of Seamen's Center.

W. T. Perkins, chairman of World Missions Committee gave a stirring message. He urged greater interest in and support of world mission work. He encouraged more involvement by local churches and encouraged youth caravans and travel/study seminars to acquaint N. C. Presbyterians, in a personal manner, with the mission work of our church. He reported that General Assembly would permit missionaries to return to the states especially to report on their work. They would fly home at presbytery or local church expense.

Recommendations:

1. That the report of the permanent committee on World Missions be adopted as amended.
2. That each Presbytery designate a specific person within the structure of their Preshytery whose responsibility it will be to serve as a liason between the Division of International Mission and the Presbytery to promote World Missions.
3. That the Presbytery Chairman and the Ecumenical Mission and Relations Chairman be expected to attend the World Missions Conference at Montreat, August 1-7, at the expense of the Presbytery.
4. That Presbyteries be encouraged to send and fund at least eight other persons, including adults, youth and minority groups, to the conference at Montreat, August 1-7, and titled "For Such a Time As This."
5. That Synod's Office be directed to write letters of appreciation to the missionaries who worked so faithfully in this Synod giving their time and talent. These missionaries are:

   Rev. Louis A. Sandos
   Rev. Frank L. Arnold
   Rev. John N. Somerville
   Rev. Earle D. Roberts
   Dr. Hervey Ross
6. That local congregations be encouraged to support, partially or fully, a missionary over and above their regular benevolence giving, by establishing a relationship with one or more overseas missionaries, and that local pastors inform themselves of the work that is being done in World Missions.

The reports of the Permanent Committee on World Missions and the Executive Committee on Church Extension are printed in the Appendix to these Minutes. The report of the standing committee was adopted.

THE COMMITEE ON BILLS AND OVERTURES: The report of the Committee on Bills and Overtures was presented by Teaching Elder Malcolm Calhoun as follows:

Your Committee on Bills and Overtures has considered the two items referred to it by the Synod, and heard all those wishing to come before the Committee with recommendations or comment.

I. In regard to the Overture from the Presbytery of Fayetteville, we recommend that Synod adopt the following as its answer:

1. Whereas the structure and territory of the Synod are in process of transition and readjustment; and
2. Whereas this particular meeting of Synod is being held far enough away from much of its territory to reduce attendance at this Synod by many who would be directly affected by a change from an open to a limited Synod; and
3. Whereas many of those expressing an opinion to the Committee or to its members have stated that a move towards a limited Synod, if made, should be made later and only after further study by all parts of the new Synod; and
4. Whereas there are both merits and drawbacks in the proposal to limit attendance at Synod to perhaps one-fifth of those now eligible to attend:
5. THEREFORE, the existing Synod of North Carolina recommends that the new Synod of North Carolina docket for discussion at its first meeting in 1974 the following resolution for its consideration:

   RESOLVED, that the (new) Synod of North Carolina asks its Presbyteries to consider and comment on the advisability of Synod becoming a delegated body made up of elected representatives of its respective Presbyteries, along lines similar to those requested in the Overture of 1973 from the Presbytery of Fayetteville.

II. In regard to the proposed resolution from the Legal Committee, we recommend that the Synod adopt the following action:

RESOLUTION TO TRANSFER ALL PROPERTY OF THE EXISTING SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA TO THE NEW SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA AND TO REQUEST CONTINUITY IN SYNOD RECORDS

1) Whereas, the 111th General Assembly (1971) of the Presbyterian Church in the United States in realigning its existing Synods enlarged the boundaries of what had been known as the Synod of North Carolina to include a new Synod designated as Synod B all of the territory of the State of North Carolina (G.A. Min. 130); and

2) Whereas, Synod B has adopted as its name "the Synod of North Carolina"; and

3) Whereas, the previously existing Synod of North Carolina desires to transfer to the new Synod of North Carolina all of its properties (using that term in the broadest sense) of every sort and description which it now owns, has any interest in, or may hereafter acquire, subject to such conditions and liabilities as may be incident to any such property to the end that the new Synod of North Carolina shall succeed fully to all of the assets of the existing Synod; and

4) Whereas, there has been continuously for 160 years in this State a body known as the Synod of North Carolina — and by the action of Synod B there will continue to be such a body:

5. NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED:

That the existing Synod of North Carolina transfer and convey to the new Synod of North Carolina as of the effective date of the establishment of such Synod (July 1, 1973) all of the property of the existing Synod of North Carolina of every sort and description which it now owns or may hereafter acquire.

6) RESOLVED FURTHER:

That the Trustees of the existing Synod of North Carolina by written instrument in recordable form transfer and convey to the Trustees of the new Synod of North Carolina all right, title and interest in any property of the existing Synod of North Carolina.

7) RESOLVED FURTHER:

That all persons having possession, custody or control of any property of any sort or description of the existing Synod of North Carolina execute such instruments and take action as may be required to transfer the possession, custody and control of such property to the new Synod of North Carolina.

8) RESOLVED FURTHER:

That in the interests of continuity and the avoidance of confusion, the existing Synod of North Carolina urges the newly constituted Synod of North Carolina to continue numbering "The Minutes of the Synod of North Carolina" from Number 161 onwards.

The report with its recommendations was adopted.

THE REPORT OF THE ATTENDANCE COMMITTEE: Ms. Joyce P. Bauer presented the report of the Committee on Attendance as follows:

The Attendance Committee is composed of the Stated Clerks of each Presbytery. The attendance for this meeting is 298 ministers, and 172 ruling elders, 34 guests, — a total of 504, with 172 churches being represented.

The Committee Recommends:

1. That each request for an excused absence be accompanied by a reasonable statement of facts that would validate this request.
2. That the Standing Rules of Synod (paragraph 2:3) be amended to include military chaplains on active duty.
3. That Synod grant the requests of 306 Ministers, and 135 churches for their Ruling Elders to be excused.
4. That the 374 churches have no Ruling Elders in attendance, and having made no request for excuse, be listed in the Minutes of Synod as unexcused.
5. That the 174 Ministers who did not attend and made no request to be excused, be listed in the Minutes of Synod as unexcused.

The report with its recommendations was adopted.

THE REPORT OF THE McCALLUM FUND: The report of the McCallum Trust Fund was presented by Teaching Elder Robert Sloop and was received as information. (Appendix H). The Court directed that the clerk write to Mr. McMillan, expressing appreciation for his excellent service in this work.

THE COMMITTEE ON RECORDS: The report of the Committee on Records (see Appendix H) was adopted.

RESOLUTIONS AND THANKS: The following report of the Committee on Resolutions and Thanks was adopted.

The Committee on Resolutions and Thanks unanimously approved and adopted the following:

Our gratitude and deep appreciation of the splendid sermon delivered last evening in the Ginter Park Presbyterian Church, June 5, by the Reverend John Mack Walker, Jr., outgoing moderator of the 1972-73 Synod of North Carolina, which sermon proved to be an inspiration and spiritual blessing to us all.

We also want to commend Mr. Walker, and ask God's blessing on him, for his work and the work of his committee during many months in restructuring our synod, which has now become in reality, as well as in name, the Synod of North Carolina.

We, the committee, also wish to express our heartfelt thanks and gratefulness to Almighty God in directing us in the election of Dr. James Appleby as moderator of our synod for the ensuing year 1973-74. Dr. Appleby will perfect this important Christian duty with expert efficiency and following, as always, guidance in the steps of the Master.

Much appreciation and thanks go to our host, the Union Theological Seminary and sister institution, the Presbyterian School of Christian Education, and the Ginter Park Presbyterian Church, for their warm and gracious hospitality. This includes the officers and staff, those who fed us and gave us shelter, and every one in these fine institutions who served us during our stay in Richmond. We are especially indebted to these Presbyterian institutions for giving us a better understanding of the new plan of study to prepare our young men and women for effective Christian leadership.

In addition, we wish to express sincere appreciation to Mr. V. Robert Jansen, Jr. and his staff, for the preparation of the documents and Blue Book, which enabled the synod to conduct its business with dispatch. We look forward to his continued leadership and service in the coming years.

Therefore be it resolved that the Synod of North Carolina express its appreciation by a rising vote of thanks.

MINUTES APPROVED: The Minutes of the sessions of the annual meeting of the Synod of North Carolina were read and approved.

ADJOURNMENT: The meeting was closed with prayer led by Ruling Elder James Tubbs. Synod stood adjourned at 3:20 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

William E. Kercheval
Assistant Clerk

Attest:

Vernol Robert Jansen, Jr.

B. MEMORIALS TO DECEASED MINISTERS*

NORMAN JOHNSON

1892-1972

The Reverend Norman Johnson died in a Richmond, Virginia hospital on March 15, 1972, following a brief illness. He was only 45 days short of his eightieth birthday.

Dr. Johnson was born in Atlanta, Georgia, April 29, 1892, the son of James Monroe and Jessie Thomas Johnson. He was educated in the public schools of Atlanta. His higher education included the A.B. degree from Davidson College in 1915, and the B.D. degree from Union Theological Seminary in Virginia in 1919. Throughout his educational career he excelled in scholarship, a distinguishing mark of his entire life. This trait was recognized by his alma mater, Davidson College which institution conferred on him in 1952 the Doctor of Divinity degree.

On February 28, 1923, Dr. Johnson was united in marriage with Miss Mary Mildred McClure of Augusta County, Virginia. To them were born two sons: Norman McClure and James Wallace.

He was ordained July 13, 1919 by Atlanta Presbytery. During his distinguished ministry which followed, he served three churches: the Inman Park Church, Atlanta, from 1919 to 1922; the Presbyterian Church at Blacksburg, Virginia, from 1922 to 1931; and the First Presbyterian Church, Rocky Mount, from 1931 until his retirement in 1959. He made his residence in Richmond, Virginia following his retirement.

RICHARD THOMAS BAKER

On August 4, 1972, the Reverend Richard Thomas Baker, a member of Concord Presbytery, died at Penny Farms, Florida, where he and Mrs. Baker resided after their retirement several years ago. Mr. Baker was seventy-six years old.

A native of Georgia, he was married to the former Martha Hickman of Due West, South Carolina. The Bakers had two children, the Rev. J. Lewis Baker of Princeton; and Mrs. James L. Moss of Manning, South Carolina.

A graduate of the University of Georgia and of Columbia Seminary, Mr. Baker's ministry was spent chiefly in the Presbyteries of Kings Mountain, Mecklenburg and Albemarle. He was a punctual and faithful presbyter, a tender and sympathetic pastor and an ardent soul winner. Mr. Baker was quiet and unassuming, a devoted husband and father, a consecraeted and tireless worker. Mr. Baker was highly respected by the people of the communities in which he lived, and was universally loved by the members of his own congregations. Goldsmith's description of the village minister aptly describes his character:

"In his duty prompt at every call,
He watched and wept, he prayed and felt for all"

We express herewith our deep feeling of loss in the passing of our friend and brother Richard Baker, and also to convey to Mrs. Baker and her children our sincere sympathy and high esteem.

*(Complete Memorials appear in the Minutes of the Presbyteries of which ministers were members at the time of their decease; also see Ministerial Directories.)

The Reverend Joseph Hollingsworth Carter was born in Mt. Airy, North Carolina, August 12, 1886, and died in Statesville on March 2, 1972. His parents were William Franklin and Annie Hollingsworth Carter. His early education was received in the schools in Mt. Airy and at Horner's Military School, Oxford, North Carolina. He graduated from Davidson College in the class of 1909. From college he went to the University of North Carolina to study law. Feeling a renewed call to the ministry, he attended Union Seminary in Virginia the session of 1911-1912, but still unsure of the validity of his sense of call he returned home and, for ten years, practiced his varied professions, seeking to learn God's will for his life.

In 1922 he returned to Union Seminary to resume his theological studies. In 1906 Dr. Carter was received as a candidate under the care of the Presbytery of Orange. On May 14, 1923, he was licensed, and, on December 2, 1923, ordained and installed as pastor of the Elkin and Wilkesboro churches. He also served as Stated Supply of the Yadkinville Church. For two years he was Superintendent of Home Missions for the Presbytery of Winston-Salem. In 1925-26, Dr. Carter was an Evangelist for the Synod. In the latter part of 1926 he became the Pastor of the Taylorsville Church and Stated Supply of the New Salem Church, in the Presbytery of Concord.

During 1929 he was called as pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church in Anderson, South Carolina, and as Stated Supply of the Midway Church in the same city.

During his pastorate in Anderson, the Presbyterian College of South Carolina, in recognition of his qualities of life and his service to the Church, conferred on him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity.

After sixteen years in this parish, Dr. Carter was called by the First Presbyterian Church of Newton, North Carolina to be its pastor. Here he labored, again with great effectiveness, until 1956 when his pastoral relation was dissolved and he became Professor of Bible at Lees-McRae College, Banner Elk, North Carolina. Dr. Carter served two terms as a trustee of Davidson, his Alma Mater; the first; 1922-1926; the second 1953-1961. In 1961 he was honorably retired.

On the second of September, 1914, he was united in marriage with Miss Elizabeth Williams Bright, of Washington, North Carolina, who, with two of their four children, survives him.

EVERETT EUGENE KIRKMAN

1919-1973

On February 19, 1973, one of Concord Presbytery's most loyal and capable ministers passed from the Church Militant to the Church Triumphant. We sorrow in our loss; we rejoice in his victory. We share with his family the treasure of his memory, grateful that his life touched ours in so many meaningful ways.

The Reverend Everett Eugene Kirkman was born in Atlanta, Georgia, June 17, 1919, the son of Everett Eugene Kirkman and Emma Georgia Reeves. He earned his high school diploma by attending Atlanta's Central Night School and began his college work at the University of Georgia Evening College in Atlanta. During World War II he served in the Infantry and with the Fifth Army Headquarters in Italy as a staff sergeant. Following his discharge from military service he enrolled at Davidson College to begin his preparation for the ministry and graduated in 1948.

While a student at Union Theological Seminary in Virginia, Gene Kirkman helped to organize the Forest Hills Presbyterian Church of Martinsville, Virginia. In 1951, he became its first pastor.

On November 1, 1951, Gene Kirkman married Miss Cynthia Merrin, daughter of the Reverend and Mrs. James Frank Merrin at the Presbyterian Church in Rockmart, Georgia.

In October, 1956, he was called to the Highland Presbyterian Church of Winston-Salem, where he served most faithfully and effectively until his untimely death. Among his many responsibilities as a member of Winston-Salem Presbytery were: Moderator, Chairman of the Commission on the Minister and His Work, Commissioner to the General Assembly (1961), Chairman of the Committee on Evangelism, member of Presbytery's Council, the Committee on Church Extension, the Committee on Nominations; Trustee of Glade Valley School, and Trustee of Davidson College. He was a key person in organizing St. Andrews, Trinity, Old Town, and Clemmons Presbyterian Churches. His compassion and counsel were sought by young and old; he was a pastor to pastors of the presbytery.

Beyond the presbytery Gene Kirkman served on the Council of the Synod of North Carolina and on the Synod's Committee on Church Extension. He served as a Trustee of Union Theological Seminary in Virginia. In 1969 he was elected President of the Union Seminary Alumni Association. During the period of the realignment of the presbyteries of Concord, King's Mountain and Winston-Salem, Gene was chosen to serve as the Chairman of the Steering Council of the new presbytery.

Everett Eugene Kirkman is survived by his wife and five children.

ALBERT BONNER McCLURE

1905-1972

The Reverend Albert Bonner McClure, D.D., one of the Presbyterian Church's most effective servants, died of a heart attack at his home October 28, 1972. Dr. McClure was born June 14, 1905, at Toccoa, Georgia, son of the late William M. and Kate Heidt Bonner McClure. His early training was at Nacoochee Institute, Sautee, Georgia.

From the time of his entrance into Davidson College in the fall of 1927, he did not cease to serve the people of North Carolina — young and old, sick and well, rich and poor.

Upon graduation from Union Theological Seminary in Virginia in 1934, Alhert McClure returned to Davidson College where he served as Secretary of the YMCA until 1937. On June 14, 1935 he married the former Mary McGehee. In 1937 he was called to be pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Lincolnton where he stayed eight years. During that period he served as pastor of the Waldensian Presbyterian Church at Valdese, North Carolina.

In 1950 Alhert McClure was chosen to be Superintendent of the Preshyterian Home for Children at Barium Springs, a position he held with distinction for sixteen years. Dr. McClure's influence at Barium Springs will long he remembered, not only in the livès of the hundreds of children he touched hut on the face of the campus.

In 1966 Dr. McClure resigned as Superintendent at Barium Springs to become pastor of the Forest Park Presbyterian Church in Statesville. Upon his retirement from the ministry in June 1971, he became full-time Hospital Chaplain at the Davis Hospital in Statesville, a position he occupied at the time of his death.

Dr. McClure served twice as Moderator of the former Concord Presbytery, and in 1952 he was elected Moderator of the Synod of North Carolina. In 1965

Davidson College honored him with the award of a Doctor of Divinity degree. For fifteen years Dr. McClure served on the Board of Trustees of Davidson College. He also served as a trustee for Queens College. At the time of his death, he was a member of the Advisory Committee of Davidson College, a member of the Advisory Committee for the Iredell County Social Services, a member of the Leadership and Human Relations Center in Raleigh, and on the General Assembly's Nominating Committee and had served as president of the North Carolina Child Care Association, the Presbyterian Association of Children's Homes, and the Southern Child Care Association.

We thank God for Dr. Murchison's ministry among us. We remember especially his diligent devotion to his ordination vows. He loved his church and he loved his people. He demonstrated that love by his indefatigable pastoral labors and by his proclaiming of the Word of God in season and out.

ANSLEY CUNNINGHAM MOORE

1904-1973

Dr. Moore was active in higher education as a trustee of Agnes Scott and Muskingum colleges and of Columbia Theological Seminary. In 1944 he was awarded the Doctor of Divinity degree by Southwestern at Memphis, and in 1967 he was awarded the Doctor of Laws degree by Davidson College.

Surviving in addition to his wife are two daughters, four grandchildren, one brother, and five sisters.

Dr. Moore died March 25, 1973 at Duke Hospital following a brief illness.

Ansley Cunningham Moore was a man of faith. His faith in God was his source of energy, his faith in God was his source of inspiration, his faith in God was his source of strength. He projected that faith to a faith in people and plans, for he knew that all things work together for good.

He had a faith in the success of St. Andrews that was strong enough to leave a prosperous urban ministry for a college that existed only on paper and in the minds of men. He had faith in his colleagues, faith in his advisors, faith in his faculty, faith in his students.

WILLIAM JEROME HUNEYCUTT

CHARLES WILLIAM WORTH

1897-1973

The death of the Reverend Charles William Worth on April 4, 1973, brought to a close a life of dedicated and faithful service to our Lord and Savior. His faithful service to his Master reached from the Mission Field in China, the land of his birth, to Wilmington Presbytery, where he was first licensed and ordained and where he was in these later years both pastor and then in retirement.

He was born in Wusih, China, on April 11, 1897 to missionary parents and China was his home until he entered Davidson College. He graduated from Davidson College in 1919, Union Theological Seminary in 1922, and returned to China as a Missionary where he served until 1941. During World War II, he served as a Chaplain, with the full intention of returning to China at the war's end. He did return, but his return was brief for soon all foreign missionaries were expelled from that country. China was never far from his thoughts and as late as the summer of 1972, after President Nixon's historic visit to China, he made application to go there again "to visit the graves of my parents" and to travel in the two provinces where most of his work had been done.

With the possibility of continuing his work in China closed, Mr. Worth returned to North Carolina and served first as the pastor of the Bethesda Church in Aberdeen, 1947-1953; in 1954 he accepted the call of the First Presbyterian Church of Whiteville which he served until his retirement in 1967. He was loved and respected not only in the congregations which he served but also in the communities where he served and upon his retirement the town of Whiteville observed "Charles Worth Day" in his honor. After his retirement he and his family moved to Porter's Neck where he lived and continued to carry out a ministry to Wilmington Presbytery until his death.

His advice and counsel were much sought and, as a mark of the trust and esteem of his fellow ministers, he was asked to serve as the first Pastor to Pastors in Wilmington Presbytery. He will also be remembered for his contributions to Camp Kirkwod where until the time of his death he continued to serve as a counselor and friend to countless numbers of the sons and daughters of this Presbytery with energy and love that amazed those who tried to match his pace.

Charles Worth in his life and ministry has exemplified that soundness of faith, that sobriety and holiness of life, and that wisdom and discretion which are the mark of one who has answered the call to serve God.

C. THE MODERATOR'S REPORT

As instructed by the 1972 Synod in its endorsement of the mission of regional courts, I represented the Synod before the Standing Committee on Bills and Overtures of the General Assembly in Montreat. The good sense of the Assembly overwhelmingly supported this pattern of mission.

Vacancies on committees were filled when this action was requested. I have also made the appointments which are the responsibility of the office. Because Dr. Lee Stoffel moved to the Synod of Florida I have had to serve as Chairman of the Program Committee for both the Synod of 1972 and the Synod of 1973.

The Moderator serves as an official delegate to the North Carolina Council of Churches. I attended the Annual Meeting in High Point on April 30 — May 1. I also represented Synod at an interdenominational meeting on World Hunger and Rural Poverty for North Carolina and Virginia in South Boston, Virginia.

The major task of the Moderator was in the organizational work of the new Synod of North Carolina. I served as Chairman of the Committee on Presbytery Boundaries, Moderator of the Second Convention in Greensboro, March 13-14, and Governor of the Transitional Committee of the New Synod. I share the high hopes of many for the success of this new regional judicatory.

All of us who are involved in organizational and administrational affairs might well ponder these words of Evelyn Underhill: "The subalpine pastures of the Holy Mountain must inevitably be a chief centre of interest of the assembled shepherds of the Church. But how much more attractive those pastures might appear to those who still avoid them, did their exponents point out, beyond the haystacks and the cowsheds, the solumn beauty of holiness, the splendour of the everlasting snows."

RETIRING MODERATOR'S SERMON

OUR WELCOME

Text: "Welcome one another, then, as Christ has welcomed yourselves for the glory of God." Romans 15:7 (Moffatt)

Not to feel welcome is, on any showing, an unpleasant experience. It can be a temporary embarrassment. It can also be one of the desolating happenings of life. All of us are susceptible to the atmosphere around us, and to be forced to live in a hostile air would be more dangerous than the worst kind of smog.

In the summer of 1967 a party of us was walking the new western boundary of our Synod on the North Carolina-Tennessee line north of Asheville. Having enjoyed the great view from the grassy summit of Big Bald, we had crossed Little Bald, and were coming down the half mile descent to a place marked on the map as Whistling Gap. The Appalachian Trail here led through a beautiful stand of virgin timer. The day was lovely, and the hiking fellowhip very good indeed. The first hint of anything unpleasant came as we began to notice that several of the white Appalachian Trail blazes had been hacked off the tree trunks by ugly axe blows. This led to some yelling of inconclusive speculation among the strung-out party.

Probably because we were going down hill I got to the gap first, and noticed on my right, about 35 yards away on a side trail, what looked like a shelter cabin. Turning off to investigate I soon saw it was not one of the regular A. T. cabins. As I remember it I think it was windowless, but the windows might have been boarded up. It was certain whoever occupied it was a very poor housekeeper, for the space around the front door was littered with garbage.

I went up to the door and knocked, but got no response. The others came up, and immediately noticed what I had quite failed to see. Sticking straight out from the closed door at about the level of my heart was the 12 inch blade of a butcher knife. Its steel handle was firmly fixed in the door, so that the door, suddenly kicked open from within, would have become a nasty weapon. There was a prompt and unanimous decision to get out of there as quickly as possible. The further discovery of a rusty cross-cut saw saw blade camouflaged across the side trail just gave us an added push. Apparently the gap was deserted, but, as we pressed rapidly on, more than one apprehensive glance was turned back for what we came to think of as the mad axeman of Whistling Gap. Not even pleasant late afternoon sunshine on some basking cliffs where we rested above Spivey Gap could take away the acrid taste of hidden malice that had so unexpectedly appeared in this beautiful high country — a menace so completely untypical of the kindly people who live there.

That out of place filling of a fair world with an abrupt No Welcome sign has stuck in my memory. I am sure that many of you have had more intense and more prolonged experiences of not being welcome. And you know better than I how life can be spoiled by that kind of hostility. It is usually a bit more subtle than a knife point sticking out of a front door, but whatever the guise, it is brewed out of the same harsh, sour distillery. In a world where hatred is often just around the corner the Church must make its witness. Paul, in his passionate defense of the Unity of Christ's body, had to deal with this lack of welcome even in the Church itself. That sign board of "the blasted heath" was already posted in the Roman Church when he began our text, "Welcome one another."

In contrast it is a most refreshing experience for us in this new Synod to sense how well Paul's call for welcoming one another has been obeyed in the organizational steps we've been through. The two conventions prior to this evening, the patient committee work of so many of you, and the thought and prayer of Presbyterians all over the State, have yielded conspicuous examples of what this text can mean to a church at work. The Jerusalem Bible's translation of the text, "Treat each other in the same friendly way Christ treated you," does seem to be a fair description of what has gone on.

Now it is quite possible that an observer would find little to get excited about in what I have just said. Why on earth shouldn't a group of Christians with such similar backgrounds and traditions enjoy each other's company? We North Carolina Presbyterian Church in the United States folks are so much alike that there is often the real danger that our churches will be more like clubs than the true mixed multitude of the Christian Church. Still we know enough of the realities of living in close knit family groups to be at least half surprised with gratitude, when some 165,000 Presbyterians can plan their Synod organization in harmony.

Principal James Denney in one of his letters remarked, "I saw a portrait of Machiavelli which I coveted . . . He looked a sensible, straightforward, dependable man, the very model of the best kind of Presbyterian Elder." And I suppose, if the truth were told, most of us Fathers and Brethren have more than a touch of the wily old Machiavelli about us. And perhaps some Mothers and Sisters may tempt us to think on the less amiable traits of Catherine de Medici. The raw material of strife and no welcome is a distressingly familiar part of all of us. Fads in doctrine and petty competitions of individuals result in self-serving intrigues that do not hesitate to pit brother against brother, even if it means outright division in the Chruch. So our unity cannot depend on us. It is always the working of God's Grace.

And, lest we are tempted to rest on our moderate accomplishments, such welcoming as we have achieved needs to be pressed far beyond the satisfaction we feel tonight. The report of the Mission and Organization Committee to the Convention reminded us "of the presence of nearly 10,000 Presbyterians who live and labor within our geographical boundaries and have no organizational ties with this judicatory." Those of us who were at last year's Synod meeting at Queens College will not soon forget Joseph Spears, the Fraternal Delegate from this body, and his challenge to the quality of our welcome. The M & O report encourages us by saying that channels of communication are being opened up in counterpart mission groups in each denomination. But clearly much more remains to be done. Governor George Barrington reporting to the Bishop of London in March of 1731 on the Colony of North Carolina wrote, "There is one Presbyterian minister who has a mixed audience." These are queerly prophetic words that probably meant that he was preaching to people of several different denominations, but the message to us, who 242 years later are the spriitual heirs of that one unknown preacher, is to aim at the widest possible diversity in extending the welcome of Christ.

In the tense days of 1968 Sam Wiley, in an editorial in the Bulletin of the North Carolina Council of Churches, wrote, "Family solidarity has not entirely passed from the Southern scene, though we haven't had a corner on that. Other sections of the world have strong family ties. But we like to think that there is a special quality to it among us, and we find joy in the way it extends to the neighborhood. The only trouble is that we Southerners, knowing the worth of warm personal relationships and being able to practice humaneness, have practiced it in a limited way. We have been too selective in its application, especially of late when the latent racism in the best of us has gone into reaction against the strange things happening in American society. The point is we have much to offer the World Church if we are willing to share the family ideal with everyone in our community. After all that is the definition of the Kingdom of God. We have nurtured a concern for persons in a sort of seed-bed at home, and among people who are like us. It is time we did some transplanting of the idea — acknowledging people who are different from us as members of the family too."

Those gentle but rock-firm words are a clear underlining of the text, "Welcome one another." And that spreading welcome requires some hard gained and accurately analyzed historical knowledge for one thing. Above all, it most certainly requires more than occasional gestures in the direction of fellowship if we are in earnest about letting the Gospel work where people are really hurting, it demands the application of our full text: "Welcome one another, as Christ has welcomed yourselves for the glory of God."

Surely the point here is that our prior welcome by Christ is the determining factor in our welcome of other people. If that has never been experienced, or if the wonder of Christ's graciousness to us has been dulled by familiarity, the whole matter of welcome is reduced to the practice of good manners or the calculating policy of social expediency. Back in the Seventeenth Century Bishop Leslie of the Anglican Church in Ulster stormed at some of our Presbyterian ancestors for their stubborn refusal to kneel at Communion, in their insistence on what they called "The table gesture." "Why," cried the Bishop, "do you not keep on your hats as at other feasts, that so you may be Jacke-fellow-like with Christ?" We are not immune to the danger of taking the whole texture of Christ's redemption quite cooly, as if indeed we were "Jack fellow" with Christ. What then is the point of ever thinking whether we are welcome or not? We just naturally belong, and the Church is pretty much ours to do what we please with. But even to begin to talk about our welcome in this fashion is a travesty. We know our hearts too well for that kind of impudence.

When I was in the Seminary here a little book was published, written by a Princeton scholar, Paul Elmer More. It has meant a great deal to me ever since. Its title, "Pages From An Oxford Diary," refers to an experience of his own which dated back to 1925. One entry reads in part: "The whole dogma of redemption with its corollaries of pardon and vicarious atonement was one of the things that kept me long a rebel against Christianity. My philosophy or my pride repudiated the thought of suing for for forgiveness and of accepting grace. Redemption also seemed to introduce an unreasonable and sentimental element into Religion . . . I resented the notion that I was not competent to shape my own destiny . . . Well, age and experience, time that knoweth all things, have brought me to look on life with other eyes. I am impressed by the weakness of men and their dependence on help. I see my own humiliating limitations. I am impressed also by the fact that evil is something greater than our own personal concern . . . Like cowardly recruits we have deserted our place in the ranks. To fall on our knees and suplicate for that pardon and help seems to me not an abdication of our manhood but an acknowledgement of our sin, an act of wisdom and of an enlightened will." And he closes the entry, "O Lamb of God that takest away the sins of the world!"

The New English Bible translates Romans 15:7, "Accept one another as Christ has accepted us." The contemplation of our acceptance by Christ despite all our unworthiness is essential to our understanding of Christ's welcome. But the center of the text is not in us at all. It is in Chirst. It is what He endured in welcoming us that fills us with awe. If I should have to choose one word of Scripture to sum up what that welcome involved I would cite those mysterious and terrible words of Second Corinthians, "For He hath made Him to be sin for us who knew no sin." In order to make our responsibility for sin His own our Lord, who spent His life welcoming outsiders, came at last to that hour when, in all His Father's world, there was not one sign of welcome for Him. The hour when all things look upon Him with "a stare as blank and pitiless as the sun." But it was precisely there in that hideous darkness of utter rejection, that the love of God in Christ comes the tremendous fact of our welcome. The NEB renders II Corinthians 5:21, "Christ was innocent of sin and yet for our sakes God made him one with the sinfulness of men so that we might be one with the goodness of God himself." This is redemption alchemy. It is no kind of divine sleight-of-hand. It is Christ loving his own to the uttermost. Before this wondrous Love any reservation over another's welcome is prohibited absolutely — just as our Lord's story of the two debtors stands without the need of a single word of explanation.

It is this Welcomer who meets us, and is our Host at the supper to which we now come. He meets us beyond the Cross, in the awe and gladness of the Resurrection. When Rembrandt wanted to think most deeply about the welcome of Christ he would turn to the Supper, seen now in the Emmaus story of the Resurrection. Eighteen times he treated the moving story of that welcome, when our Lord was known beyond death in the breaking of the bread. The Nobel prize winning novelist, Francois Mauriac, under the spell of Rembrant's interpretation, wrote: "It seems to me there is one page of the Gospel for each one of us . . . For my part I have walked all my life with the two tired travellers who entered Emmaus in the evening. Christ was dead. They had lost everything. We followed a road, and Someone walked at our side. We were alone and yet we were not alone. It was evening. Here was an open door, the obscurity of a room where the flame from the fireplace lighted nothing but the trampled earth and made the shadows flicker . . . O Broken Bread. O Breaking of the Bread, consummated in spite of so much misery."

Come now to the glad inclusiveness of that Emmaus welcome.

When day is spent He turns
  Stone into bread.
One table gesture burns,
  And hearts are fed.

The mountain wall is cast
  Into the sea,
As dusk-camp frees the past
  With unguessed key.

Where cooking embers threw
  Delusive flare
The quiet best is true,
  While flame leaps clear.

Now stumbling trail succumbs
  To dazzled sight,
And supper hearth becomes Emmaus light.

And this welcome is extended, says our text, for the glory of God.

D. REPORT OF SYNOD'S COUNCIL

J. Harvey Oliver, Chairman

The work of the Council has been primarily concerned with efforts to meet the changes occurring in all levels of the Church through the restructure process. We have tried to anticipate the resourcing needs of North Carolina Presbyterians.

Our staff was assigned responsiblity for supporting the study committees, and arranging the two conventions of Synod "B". Each meeting attracted more than 700 participants, and required approximately the same planning as an annual meeting of Synod; the study process involved 125 persons over a period of 15 months in 26 meetings. Synod is indebted to the entire staff of Synod's Office for guiding this restructure to its successful conclusion.

In February, the Council sponsored a significant staff retreat for the twenty professional staff-persons of Synod and its committees. We are told that this was the first event of its kind; we were gratified by the positive and constructive results. Synod has an exceptionally fine group of dedicated staff-persons engaged in its ministries, and they have been very helpful in this transition period.

In September, the Council welcomed Mrs. Edward Hyatt to the staff of Synod's Office. With previous service as Synod's Area DCE assigned to Granville Presbytery, Mrs. Hyatt brings valuable skills in education and planning to the team.

In anticipation of increased space needs in Synod's Office, the Council has authorized an expansion of the facility in Raliegh, based on plans previously approved by Synod. Approximately, 1250 square feet of useable space will be added. The Council also approved the purchase of an automobile for use of personnel employed by the Synod.

PUBLICITY

The Presbyterian News is being mailed to more than 65,000 homes, including a good portion of the area in western North Carolina which will become a part of the new regional structure. The budget will have to be increased due to higher printing and mailing costs, but this remains one of our most effective services for the Church. Presbyteries and local churches are encouraged to make greater use of this communication channel.

The paper has received several commendations since we adopted the present format in the fall of 1971.

STEWARDSHIP

Actual dollar support of Synod's ministries declined in 1972 although four presbyteries increased their acceptances and giving. The decline which amounted to $59,109 is attributed to adjustments caused by reorganization in two new presbyteries. The condition is considered temporary and a restoration of these funds to prior levels in the current year is anticipated.

A special word of commendation and appreciation is in order for all presbyteries. All paid fully the per capita assessment which pays for the court functions of the Synod. Equally gratifying is the full response to the assessment to finance the organizational work in Synod "B" which was current on January 1, 1973.

The report of our auditors has been received and examined. The certificate of Beal & Eilers, Certified Public Accountants, follows.

Recommendations:

That Synod authorize and empower the new Synod of North Carolina at its 1974 annual sessions to receive, review and act on all 1973 reports and accounts of Synod's institutions, agencies and committees and that such institutions, agencies and committees be directed to report and account to the new judicatory for the period January 1 to July 1, 1973.

Committee on Finance and Audits
Council of the Synod of North Carolina
Presbyterian Church in the United States
Raleigh, North Carolina

Gentlemen:

We have examined the balance sheets of the various funds of the Synod of North Carolina, Presbyterian Church in the United States, Raleigh, North Carolina, as of December 31, 1972, and the related statements of income, changes in fund balances, and statements of cash receipts and disbursements for the year then ended.

Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards for an organization of this type, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records, and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances, the books having been maintained on a cash basis. Our audit of the records of the Presbyterian Campus Christian Life Campaign Fund was limited to the recorded receipts and disbursements.

In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheets of the various funds, and the related statements of changes in fund balances and income and expenditures present fairly the financial positions of the various funds of Synod of North Carolina, Presbyterian Church in the United States at December 31, 1972, and the results of the funds' operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applicable to such organizations, maintaining the books and records on a cash basis.

Balance sheets of the Kate B. Reynolds Trust Fund for Retired Presbyterian Ministers and the A. T. McCallum Trust Fund are presented herein for your information, as reported by the Trust Department of Wachovia Bank and Trust Company, and A. K. Lovin & Company, Certified Public Accountants, respectively.

Yours very truly,

E. REPORTS OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEES

1. REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF CHURCH EXTENSION

Reverend J. Murphy Smith, Chairman

Introduction: The Church Extension Committee is responsible for the administration of funds accumulated in former years for Home Mission work, and those funds left by individuals and estates for Home Missions and Evangelism; Special Ministries for which there is no specific Presbytery responsibility; TRAV; and Evangelism programs that seek to be resource for Presbyteries. The following is a report on each of these ministries.

SUB-COMMITTEE ON FINANCE

There are some permanent funds that accumulated in the years when the Church Extension Committee contributed to Home Mission projects throughout the Synod, for the most part in the form of sustention. This was in the late 40's and early 50's when new churches were being built. Loans are made to churches from this fund at the rate of 6% interest. The dividends from the investment of these funds are used for operating expenses of the committee. On December 31, 1972, the condition of each fund was as follows:

PERMANENT FUND OF CHURCH EXTENSION COMMITTEE:
Outstanding balance on loans payable	$ 52,627.31
Cash on deposit	27,935.85
Investment in Securities	5,940,00
	$ 86,503.16
WHARTON LOAN FUND:
Outstanding balance on loans payable	$ 14,646.47
Cash on deposit	9,093.67
	$ 23,740.14

The Church and Manse Loan Fund was established for the purpose of making loans to small churches at a low rate of interest, 4%. At present there are 35 churches to which outstanding loans have been made. These loans are guaranteed by the Presbyteries in which the borrowing churches are located. A schedule of repayment has been established for each loan. The earned interest is applied to the principal.

CHURCH AND MANSE LOAN FUND:
Outstanding balance on loans payable	$191,753.17
Cash on deposit	47,968.26
Investment in securities	3,284.38
	$243,005.81

In December of 1972 two bequests were received for "the Church Extension Committee of the Synod of North Carolina of the Presbyterian Church in the United States." Mr. Wilbur H. Currie of Carthage left $29,157.46; and his wife left $4,759.99 — both gifts to be used "solely for home Missions."

SUB-COMMITTEE ON TRAV

Since the last meeting of Synod, TRAV-NC has continued to produce the "Sunday School of the Air," a weekly fifteen-minute Sunday School lesson based on the Uniform Lesson Cooperative Series and taught by ministers from throughout the Synod.

"Sunday School of the Air" is presently aired on twenty-nine North Carolina radio stations and three radio stations in Virginia.

The 1972 Sunday School of the Air" speakers were as follows:

January	— James Grubb, Butner
February	— James McKinnon, Morehead City
March	— Donald Glover, Barium Springs
April	— David Jenkins, Goldsboro
May	— Gary Waller, Smithfield
June	— Angus McGregor, Greensboro
July	— Stewart Ellis, Raleigh
August	— James Black, Fayetteville
September	— Willard W. Olney, Hillsborough
October	— John Y. Todd, Wilmington
November	— Robert E. Burns, III, Tarboro
December	— Robert Ramey, Jr., Charlotte

A second fifteen-minute radio program is now in the pre-production stage and is scheduled to be released in the very near future. The new program, entitled "A Joyful Noise", is based on the great variety of musical expressions of faith and is designed to help listeners understand the heritage and tradition of music in Christian worship.

TRAV-NC is also producing two television public service announcements for the Christmas and Easter seasons. Using sculpture carved by the Rev. John Mack Walker, Jr., which depicts events in the life of Christ placed in Appalachian settings, the two television spots are designed to cause viewers to rethink the message of the two most important seasons in the Christian year.

In addition to the regular production responsibilities, TRAV-NC has also engaged in special audio-visual projects. A multi-media presentation, "A Bold Partnership," was produced by TRAV-NC for use during the 1972 stewardship season. The production is a visual portrayal of the numerous ministries of the church in the Synod of North Carolina.

TRAV-NC serves as an advisor to the North Carolina Council of Churches in medias as liaison for the Council with the Broadcast and Film Commission of the National Council of Churches. In this capacity, TRAV-NC has assisted in the placement and promotion of a large number of radio and television spot announcements and has assisted a number of North Carolina broadcast facilities in selecting and locating religious programs.

Another important function of TRAV-NC is resourcing local churches, groups of churches, and presbyteries. TRAV-NC is prepared to assist local congregations and presbyteries in the selection and purchase of audio-visual equipment and in training leaders in the uses of audio-visuals in the Church. Consultation services are available through TRAV-NC in planning and using the various media in the total life of the church. Direction in developing creative uses of audio-visual materials, specific production needs (i.e. making slides, filmstrips, films and audio tapes), and workshops on media are among the kinds of services available.

SUB-COMMITTEE ON HOME MISSIONS

Albemarle Presbytery, Reverend Lawrence W. Avent, Chairman

Our planning process has progressed to the point of establishing definite goals for Presbytery's work and these have now been assiged for implementation to various committees and task forces. Those related to Church Extension will have to do with the promotion of evangelism in the churches and the employment of two retired ministers to provided pastoral oversight to pastorless churches.

Of special interest in the Committee's work, we would call attention to the following:

1. Continuation of chapel ministry at Nags Head and cooperation in the interdenominational circus tent ministry in the area.
2. Noted the progress of the Hollywood Church in becoming self-supporting and calling a full-time minister.
3. Provided funds in the amount of $5,000 to assist with the renovation of the George Kirby Church.
4. Arranged for a study to be made of the need for an additional church in Goldsboro.
5. The progress in at least two aid receiving churches, Boyd Memorial and Englewood, in the improvement of the physical facilities at both and in the reduced amount of financial assistance requested by the latter.
6. Sent representatives to the School of Evangelism at Montreat.
7. Promoted the cause of evangelism with a special emphasis at the Fall meeting of Presbytery.
8. The Laymen's Committee on Ministers' Salaries cooperated with the Presbytery in increasing the minimum salary for ministers again in 1973.

Concord Presbytery, Reverend John E. Kimbirl, Chairman

The year 1972 was one of transition for the "new" Concord Presbytery, which came into being on January 1, as a result of the merger of Concord, Kings Mountain, and Winston-Salem Presbyteries. Operating under a temporary structure, much time and effort was put into developing a permanent structure. Also, the Committee worked hard at bringing together and solidifying all of the work being done by the three separate Presbyteries.

During the year support was provided for 35 churches. The primary thrust in this area of our work was to be supportive to these churches not only in terms of money, but also in terms of morale and programs during this time of transition.

As the year ended, the Committee looked forward to the beginning of the permanent structure as of May 1, 1973. In the new structure the work of this committee will be divided into several areas under a Division of Ministry. Enthusiasm runs high in the Presbytery as we look forward to this opportunity for a "fresh start" in the attempt to do our work more effectively.

Orange Presbytery, Reverend William A. Stewart, Jr., Chairman

Church extension responsibilities are now the task of the Division of Education and Mission. This has been a year of establishing and organizing this division and of the calling of the General Presbyter as its staff person. It is currently establishing its direction and priorities in accordance with the objectives established hy the Presbytery.

During this time much of the work which was begun in the past has continued. We have supported urban work done in Chapel Hill, Raleigh, High Point, Durham, Burlington, and Greensboro. This includes support of Child Development Programs, an Arts Program done in connection with the public schools, a playground ministry, and support of work done in communities experiencing racial change. We have continued sustentation for small churches and are changing the emphasis to one of developing these churches.

Most thought has been given to reviewing the tasks and activities as we now have them and defining the areas to which we need to give most attention. At present, we have developed several innovative ministries.

Wilmington Presbytery, Reverend Jack Dail, Chairman

For many years Wilmington Presbytery has considered conducting a Capital Funds Campaign. This year the Presbytery undertook such a campaign to raise $210,000.00. One half of this will be used to develop a ministry to military families in Onslow County, and to purchase land for new churches, and to establish a challenge fund for small churches and creative ministries.

A consultation for small churches will be held in the Presbytery in the near future at which representatives of the smaller churches can voice their concerns, hopes, and dreams concerning the often forgotten small church.

The Preshytery is beginning to become more involved in beach ministries. Such ministries during the summer months are now going on at four beaches along the coast.

SUB-COMMITTEE ON SPECIAL MINISTRIES

The ministry at Butner continues to take new forms as opportunities open. The Chaplain has heen instrumental in establishing a family counseling program at C. A. Dillon School of the State Department of Youth Development. The proposal for the program was written by him with the assistance of Mr. Art Lucas, a Duke Divinity School student. When the Director of the school approved the proposal, he indicated that the parents of every incoming child would be made aware of the availahility of the service.

Although the program has been in actual operation only a short period of time, the response has heen good. The whole family (including the resident at Dillon) is seen hy the Chaplain on visiting days. An attempt is made to assess and help the family correct communication problems and unhealthy interaction patterns. Some effort is heing made to refer the families to ministers and community agents for continued support and help when the residents return home.

In addition to the ahove, the Chaplain is assisting some adults from the Durham area who serve as Sunday School teachers at Dillon School. This includes an inservice training program and regularly scheduled meetings for discussion of prohlems, procedures, materials, etc.

Other work in the Butner complex includes ministry to residents of Umstead Youth Center in cooperation with the pastor and session of the Presbyterian Church. This is a group ministry with the pastor and Chaplain serving as co-leaders. The group meets each Tuesday night at the Preshyterian Church.

Other forms of ministry are as follows: Lecturing at the Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center dealing with the spiritual dimension of persons in relationship to problem drinking, leading worship service at C.A. Dillon School and John Umstead Hospital, and visitation and counseling on a one-to-one basis at five of the institutions.

The Ministry provides information on the types of problems dealt with in the institutions such as alcoholism, mental illness, mental retardation, etc. It also provides information about the institutions themselves such as admitting procedures and ways in which individuals and groups of the church can be of service to the people in the institutions.

Through seminars and workshops in the Butner complex, opportunities are offered to ministers to gain a better understanding of people with problems and special needs in order to enhance the effectiveness of their ministry to such people. These seminars and workshops are planned by the Chaplain in conjunction with the various institutions on subjects that are considered of interest and significance. Any person or group can request a program on a subject of special concern.

Program planning is a vital part of the Ministry at Butner. This involves individual planning on the part of the Chaplain and also with staff people of the various institutions.

SUB-COMMITTEE ON WITNESS

Last fall, the Subcommittee on Witness began organizing itself as a resourcing agency to undergird and resource the work of evangelism within our presbyteries and local churches. Convinced that evangelism is conducted predominately at the grass roots level, the committee attempted to create a structure that would enable presbyteries and local churches to share with one another innovative or significant ways in which evangelism is occurring. Since many of our churches are experiencing frustration in their attempts to engage in evangelism in the contemporary scene, the committee felt that an exchange of experiences, programs and identification of resources that have been found to be most helpful would stimulate renewed effort in the local churches. The committee proposed to build two visitation teams equipped with static visual displays. The teams would visit each presbytery, attempting to speak with freshness, interpret evangelism in a wholistic way and encourage participation in Key 73 through diverse programs. The efforts and plans of the committee failed to induce interest or create enthusiasm within our presbyteries. The committee concluded that in view of the lack of response to its first efforts, it must discover a more appropriate structure as a resourcing agency within our Synod. The committee is presently working on a model for such a resourcing ministry within the Synod and will submit the recommendations to Synod's Coordinating Council.

The committee encourages local churches to use the Evangelism Planning Kit offered by the Board of National Ministries. Many churches have found this planning kit to be exciting and productive in planning for evangelism. The conferences to be held at Montreat this summer should be helpful and local churches sending representatives will be enriched as those representatives return with renewed commitment and resources for evangelism.

2. REPORT OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ON CAMPUS CHRISTIAN LIFE

Reverend William H. Terry, Chairman

The reorganization of the Synod of North Carolina with additional communicants, territory and institutions had important consequences for campus ministry in North Carolina. No report to Synod in 1973 can ignore that fact. Soon a new structure will take over this ministry. Perhaps it is for these individuals these words are intended than for the rest of Synod, but it is important that all of you eavesdrop on this inventory of the present and suggestions for the future.

First, it is important to plead for the continued integrity of this ministry. Its continuation is made more imperative by increasing numbers of Presbyterian students who are going to public universities instead of private and church related ones. Campus ministry is the church's outpost, frontier fort, on the secular campus.

The Church "at home" can not expect the campus ministry to achieve more with their students than the home and hometown churches has been able to achieve in eighteen years. The campus ministry can nurture what has been planted. It can change student values occasionally, though in 1973 these values have been set long before college. It should be always prophetic pointing to individual and institutional mistakes. It must exercise a priestly role in times of trouble, distress and confusion. With students already committed to the faith it increases the appreciation of churchmanship. Hopefully, it is often the evangel to non profession persons.

In our day campus ministry deals with the phenomena of the simplistic and spectacular approaches to Christian faith from individuals who have trouble living in a highly ambiguous age.

To these conditions and challenges we have called a group of able and diverse men to do ministry on our campuses. The Rev. Milton Carothers has been called this spring to UNC-Chapel Hill leaving Duke University where he formerly served. Dr. Stephen Shoemaker has been called to N.C. State University. He has just completed his doctorate at Duke and has been serving the Pittsboro Church. The other campus ministry personnel remains unchanged from last year. They are: UNC-Greensboro, The Rev. Joe Flora; East Carolina University, The Rev. John Miller; Winston-Salem, The Rev. William Kercheval; UNC-Charlotte, The Rev. Milton Boone (a united ministry with six denominations); N. C. Central University, The Rev. Robert G. Murray (a united ministry); Fayetteville State University, The Rev. Garfield Warren. The only vacancy besides Duke is A. & T. University.

This year we entered into an ecumenical adventure with the other denominations serving UNC-Chapel Hill in providing a black Chaplain for that campus.

There are a very few problems facing your CCL Committee in the past or future that could not be solved by money. Synod was most generous at its last meeting and the committee was most grateful. We are quite cognizant of the fact that CCL is not the only important obligation and privilege Synod has to fund. We have struggled to be responsible stewards. By juggling, maneuvering, squeezing and being down-right "horsey," we have managed to get the most for our money.

We have also established priorities which we believe responsible and realistic. They are: First, the funding of black ministries at least at their present level. Second, the funding of ministries on campuses of state universities, first those with united ministries and then those with Presbyterian ministries, and third, the funding of ministries to private institutions.

The addition of new educational institutions with an expanded synod makes our obligation even larger including Western Carolina, Appalachian, UNC-Asheville. We have not attempted any ministry to community colleges. When the Reaves Foundation no longer funds the Charlotte Ministry (and their contribution can not be considered eternal), Presbyterians will have to take up their fair share with the Methodist.

These are some of the financial realities which are before the Synod. They will require patience from campus ministers; realism, understanding and the absence of greed from local CCL Committees, additional efforts to establish united ministries where one person does ministry for two or more denominations, and realistic funding from Synod.

One way we are presently seeking to solve the problem is to get out of the property business where possible, and use property income to finance the program on campus. For example, Synod's Council has leased the Duke University Center to Orange Presbytery. The funds will be used to fund that ministry. The state will soon buy the East Carolina Center. We will share the Methodist Center and use the income for the ECU ministry.

Besides the financial pressure there is a need for better supervision and accountability for this ministry. There is the necessity for long range planning. With the advent of using campus ministers as resource people for Synod, there will be larger exposure for these men, and that will increase the visibility of the ministry.

Campus Ministry is important. It is the job of the whole Synod not individual Presbyteries. It has large implication for the life of the Church and the honesty of educational institutions. It deserves the best the Synod has to give in manpower, financial resources, and spiritual vigor.

3. REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ON EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

J. Maryon Saunders, Chairman

This report to the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina will consist of (1) chronicling the meetings and actions of its Executive Committee on Educational Institutions for the twelve months following Synod's annual meeting at Queens College in Charlotte on June 6-7, 1972, and (2) expressing comments stimulated by processes now underway in organizing and structuring the new Synod.

Following its usual practice of holding two meetings a year, the committee has held sessions on the campus of St. Andrews Presbyterian College at Laurinburg on November 9, 1972, and at Synod's Office in Raleigh on April 10, 1973.

In attendance at the meeting in Laurinburg were the following Committee members: Rev. Robert E. Burns, Jr., Tarboro; Dr. Frank Johnston, Winston-Salem; Rev. Neil M. McMillan, Wilmington; Mrs. Wilborn S. Swaim, Salisbury; Mrs. Britt M. Armfield, Greensboro; D. Kermit Cloniger, Thomasville; R. D. McMillan, Jr., Raleigh; Rev. Donald G. Miller, Laurinburg; William F. Mulliss, Charlotte; Leslie N. Boney, Jr., Wilmington; Rev. Richard L. Sommers, Lexington; Vernol Robert Jansen, Jr., Secretary, Raleigh; and J. Maryon Saunders, Chairman, Chapel Hill.

The meeting's program was centered on the presentation of information by President Donald Hart and his colleagues concerning the curriculum offerings, physical facilities, and plans in prospect for St. Andrews Presbyterian College. Academic and administrative officers discussed in depth the programs and aspirations of the college, thus affording members of the Committee a significant insight into the splendid work being accomplished at the college. A summation and a review of the institution's financial position were heard with interest and comprehension on the part of the Committee.

It should be pointed out that the meeting at St. Andrews was in continuation of the Committee's policy to hold one of its sessions annually on the campus of one of the four institutions with which it is in relationship. Thus, the Committee in the recent past has had the benefit of on-location visits and unhurried opportunity to hear about programs at Queens, Davidson, Union Seminary and St. Andrews. The Committee also has been benefited by and is grateful for the attendance and presence of the four presidents and other officals representing the four institutions at annual spring meetings in Raleigh.

The second meeting of the Executive Committee during the year 1972-73 was held at Synod's Office in Raleigh on April 10, 1973. In attendance were the following Committee members: Rev. Eugene J. Boelte, Concord; Rev. Neil M. McMillan, Wilmington; Mrs. Wilborn S. Swaim, Salisbury; R. D. McMillan, Jr., Raleigh; John F. McNair, III, Winston-Salem; J. B. Faircloth, Jr., Clinton; Rev. Richard L. Sommers, Lexington; Vernol Robert Jansen, Jr., Secretary; and J. Maryon Saunders, Chairman.

The planned agenda for this session was twofold: (1) to draft its report to Synod for the year 1972-73, including comments and recommendations, if any, the Committee desired to make covering the year 1974; and (2) to formulate the 1974 budget request for consideration of the appropriate bodies.

As part of its report the Committee voted to request that the program committee of Synod's sessions in Richmond, Va. on June 5 and 6, 1973 invite Mr. Graeme M. Keith of Charlotte, General Chairman of the joint Queens-Davidson financial campaign now underway, to make a report of progress on the $6 million campaign authorized by Synod on recommendation of the Executive Committee on Educational Institutions. This campaign, it will be recalled, was developed and launched following a feasibility survey undertaken in 1971 by this committee in cooperation with the Presidents and other officers of the four institutions then receiving support by the apportionment of benevolences dollars from Synod funds. It is recalled further that, on recommendation of employed professional fund-raising counsel in which the presidents of four institutions concurred, the decision was made to proceed in 1972 with the joint Queens-Davidson campaign. The Executive Committee on Educational Institutions is represented on the campaign committee by three official members.

At its meeting in Raleigh on April 10, 1973, the Executive Committee voted unanimously to request that a total of $600,000 be set up as the 1974 budget request for Synod funds to be distributed to the four institutions. This amount increases by $50,000 the "asking budget" of $550,000 for 1973. If accepted and funded the Committee's recommended $600,000 would be distributed in 1974 as follows:

St. Andrews College	$240,000	(40 percent)
Union Theological Seminary	150,000	(25 percent)
Queens College	120,000	(20 percent)
Davidson College	90,000	(15 percent)

The recommended distribution above is based on the judgment of the Committee following lengthy consideration of a number of factors, including general experience with past patterns, efforts to recognize pressures of financial needs of the institutions, expressions of relative priorities in seeking to set amounts and percentages, and the potentials of developing increased sources of support through efforts of each institution. The Committee is definitely aware that any exact and constant pattern of distributions of benevolences funds presents great difficulty.

Following the meeting of April 10, 1973, the Committee's chairman appeared before the Budget and Stewardship Committee of Synod's Council and presented the Committee's recommendation of $600,000 as a 1974 budget request. Not taken into account in the Committee recommendation were any additional needs or institutions that might come into focus with the transition change that may occur with organization of the new Synod.

The Executive Committee on Educational Institutions has sought diligently to keep informed of our educational institutions and their programs. The Committee members express high praise on the work of these institutions and warmly appreciate the assistance and cooperation of the presidents and other officials of these schools in joining the Committee in its deliberations.

The Committee is aware as well of the challenges presented by the needs in other areas of responsibility and concern in the overall ministry of Synod's work. Even in realization that our four institutions presently receive approximately half the benevolences accruing to Synod through support of the Churches, the Committee continues to emphasize the importance and high priorities attached to adequate funding of the programs of our church educational institutions. And the Committee would especially bespeak concern for the mounting financial pressures placed upon our institutions by constantly increasing inflationary trends and the enlarged demands these reflect in effective ministry to the young people seeking college experience. All agencies involved in the total ministry of the Church share in these problems. Our Committee states anew its faith and belief in the undergirding strength of our educational institutions in the future as in the past. We do not resist changes when the vitality and strength of established processes are reviewed and assessed for their continuing benefits.

Thus, it is that the Executive Committee on Educational Institutions acknowledges with genuine appreciation the decision to ask a task force of representative membership to take a new look at all institutions and relationships with the aim of analyzing, conducting a process of continual review, and reassessing appropriate levels of support as a way and means of seeking divine guidance and succor. Our Committee volunteers its assistance and enthusiasm in full support of whatever may be its role for a "more creative and effective ministry" for all the people of God.

a. MONOGRAPHS OF INSTITUTIONS

UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY IN VIRGINIA

The name chosen for this institution more than one hundred and fifty years ago had special meaning. Union Theological Seminary represented a coming together — a true union — of the widely shared desires of many Presbyterians to provide an excellent education for Christian ministry.

During the past year our supporting synods have been reorganizing. Viewing and sharing in this change, we are reminded again of the appropriate name of this school. Union Seminary will now be controlled by the new Synod of the Virginias and the Synod of North Carolina. Once again historic interest in the support of theological education is reorganizing. Once again the role of this school as a valued theological resource center is being reaffirmed.

As it has in the past, Union Seminary in the future will encourage close and cordial ties with our supporting congregations, presbyteries, and new synods.

New Curricular Design

In September, 1972 Union Seminary began a totally new curricular design based upon developing specific knowledge and skill competencies in the practice of ministry. The new program, which has been carefully developed over a period of several years, provides training for the Master of Divinity degree and the new professional Doctor of Ministry degree.

To accommodate the new curricular design, a new academic calendar was designed dividing the year into six academic terms. The new pattern provides academic terms of 3-3-10-4-10-3 weeks. The combination of short and long terms makes possible a variety of course offerings including intensive experiences when students take only one course. Furthermore, the short terms enable ministers serving congregations to return to the campus for brief periods of resident study.

No new curriculum is ever begun with flawless design and this program is no exception. To properly assess the program and to improve it further for the years to come, the Faculty of the Seminary will critique the curricular design during a week-long retreat in May.

Union Seminary was one of six American seminaries selected in January by the American Association of Theological Schools to describe to representatives of nearly one hundred seminaries its innovative curriculum for earning the Doctor of Ministry degree. We were pleased to participate in this national event and honored to be singled out for this conference.

Students Preparing for Ministry

The new academic year began last fall with 374 students enrolled. Of this number 256 were engaged in work leading to a first professional degree and 118 were working toward advanced degrees in theology. Thirty-two students were away from the campus for an intern year.

Union has been a national leader among seminaries in emphasizing the value of a one-year internship. All interns are placed in work under Seminary supervision to insure the experience will have maximum educational value. Intern placements are now clustered in the areas of Charlotte, eastern Carolina, Richmond, Washington, and western Virginia-West Virginia. The types of intern experiences are varied. For example, Edward W. Donnell has served as Assistant to the Minister of First Presbyterian Church, Covington, Virginia while Robert E. Dunham, Clearwater, Florida, has held editorial responsibilities with a Richmond newspaper. James F. Ferry, Jr., Harrisonburg, Virginia, has been a missionary intern at Shikoku Christian College in Japan. Each will return to the campus in the fall of 1973 enriched by the year's work and experience.

The effective and diligent leaders of the Student Body for this year have been H. Carson Rhyne, Jr., President, of Charlotte, North Carolina; Nancy Jean Ramsay, Secretary, of St. Petersburg, Florida; and A. Glenn Bass, Treasurer, a native of Wilson, North Carolina.

Alumni Activities

Union Seminary alumni during the past year have been actively involved in the life of the seminary in many ways. They have participated in the design of the new Doctor of Ministry program and underwritten several pilot courses, two away from campus in Norfolk and Charlotte, and they have sponsored alumni lectures, class reunion, and nine one-day alumni seminars.

During 1972 the President of the Alumni Association was J. Shepherd Russell, Jr. of Fort Smith, Arkansas. Officers elected in January for 1973 are Fred C. Holder, President, from Charlotte, North Carolina; Robert P. Richardson, Jr., Vice President, from Richmond, Virginia; and Kenneth B. Orr, Secretary-Treasurer, from Richmond.

Faculty Changes

Several changes have taken place in the Faculty during the current academic year. Dr. James Perry Martin accepted a call last summer to become Principal of Vancouver School of Theology, Vancouver, British Columbia. Professor Bruce L. Robertson departed March 15 to become Director of the Professional Development Division of the General Executive Board. And Professor Terence R. Anderson will leave during the summer of 1973 to join the faculty of the Vancouver School of Theology.

New faculty to fill the position held by Martin and Robertson have been secured and will begin residency in Richmond during the summer. They are: Dr. Paul J. Achtemeier, formerly Kunz Professsor of New Testament, Lancaster Theological Seminary; and Dr. Thomas A. Cutting, Jr., formerly Executive Director, San Antonio (Texas) Urban Council. The selection of other faculty replacements is now in process.

Dr. Ben Lacy Rose, a long-time member of this faculty, is moving his residency to Wrightsville Beach, North Carolina to serve as pastor of the Chapel on the Boardwalk and to become General Pastor to ministers in Wilmington Presbytery. Dr. Rose will continue to serve as a member of this faculty and will teach one course each year on the Richmond campus, in addition to supervising seminary interns in eastern Carolina.

Dr. Balmer H. Kelly, after years of distinguished service as the Dean of the Seminary, elected to resign as Dean in May in order to devote his full time to teaching New Testament. The new Dean of the Seminary is Dr. Neely D. McCarter, the Robert and Lucy Critz Professor of Christian Education. Dr. McCarter is a native of Gastonia, North Carolina and earned the Doctor of Philosophy degree from Yale University.

Facility Renovation

For a number of years since the successful ADVANCE Campaign in the late sixties, Union Seminary has undertaken to use these funds to renovate several existing facilities.

During the summer of 1972, Watts Hall underwent a major renovation of the first two floors. Now provided are modern classrooms and administrative offices redesigned for greater efficiency and flexibility of use.

Friends of the Seminary

Under the capable leadership of Mrs. Wilborn S. Swaim, a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Salisbury, North Carolina, the Friends of the Seminary have had a vigorous year supporting Seminary causes. Gifts from the Friends increased by 50% over the 1971 giving level and totaled $36,-486.72. During the Spring, the Friends actively promoted congregational participation in the observance of Seminary Sunday on April 29. More than 400 congregations observed this special Sunday and used nearly 100,000 bulletin inserts prepared and distributed by the Seminary.

Fiscal Affairs

Union Seminary completed its last fiscal year ending May, 1972, just barely in the black. The intense fiscal pressures of the current year highlighted by the inflationary surge in costs since January make it unlikely that the current fiscal year will end with a surplus.

To offset the rising need for additional income, Union is moving aggressively into the organization of a Financial Development Office emphasizing annual giving, capital giving, and deferred giving. Leadership for these new development activities will be given by a newly organized Trustee Development Committee. Chairman of the Committee is Mr. Charles F. Myers, Jr., of Greensboro, North Carolina. Other members are Mrs. R. P. Gifford, Lynchburg, Virginia; Mr. John F. Watlington, Winston-Salem, North Carolina; Mr. Robert R. MacMillan, Norfolk, Virginia; and Dr. John H. McKinnon, Knoxville, Tennessee.

New Trustees

Five new Trustees joined the Seminary Board during the past year. They are: Mrs. Richard P. Gifford, Lynchburg, Virginia; Mrs. Wilborn S. Swaim, Salisbury, North Carolina; Mr. Stuart B. Campbell, Jr., Wytheville, Virginia; Rev. Fred C. Holder, Charlotte, North Carolina; and Richard H. Paul, Elkins, West Virginia.

On January 16, 1973 Mr. Aubrey N. Heflin, a member of the Board of Trustees since 1968, died in Richmond. Mr. Heflin was an outstanding Christian layman whose death is a deep loss both to the Seminary and to his family and friends.

Our Gratitude and Our Goal

As Union Seminary concludes its 160th academic year, we express our gratitude to many Presbyterians who have undergirded this school by faithful prayers, loyal interest, and generous gifts. We are grateful as well for the support many congregations give in assisting us prepare men and women for the ministry, providing opportunities for internships and field training.

To be a union of Presbyterians supporting an excellent theological education for Gospel ministry was the founding dream of this school. To perpetuate this dream in the seventies and eighties is our goal, and our commitment.

ST. ANDREWS PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE

St. Andrews Presbyterian College, Laurinburg, North Carolina. Donald J. Hart, President. All 36 trustees elected by the Synod of North Carolina, Presbyterian, U.S., which established and supports the college. St. Andrews opened its doors on a new campus in Laurinburg, September 16, 1961, as a coeducational, four-year liberal arts college. Fall enrollment in 1972-73 was 869 (423 men and 446 women).

Academic Standing: Fully accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. St. Andrews also is an institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Music, the Association of American Colleges, the North Carolina Foundation of Church-Related Colleges, the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, and the Piedmont University Center of North Carolina.

Curriculum: At the heart of the St. Andrews academic offering has been the interdisciplinary humanities program, Christianity and Culture. This four-year program is required of all students and consists of eight courses encompassing history, religion, philosophy, literature, sociology and the arts. Under the leadership of Dr. J. Edward Dirks of the Danforth Foundation a panel of distinguished educators have evaluated the C & C program and recommendations for major revisions in this program are being implemented by a student-facility committee headed by Professor William Alexander.

The interdisciplinary science program continues as an outstanding model for undergraduate science education in the nation. A pilot course embracing the fields of psychology, sociology, economics, business and political science have been refined and becomes the basis of the third interdisciplinary offering in the curriculum. The social and behavioral science program complements the existing programs in humanities and natural sciences.

Faculty: The faculty of the college number 68, 66% of whom have an earned doctorate. This represents a net reduction of two faculty positions in the face of a declining enrollment.

Finance and Development: Book value of property is $12,102,758. General and scholarship endowments total $2,256,824. Total operating budget for 1972-73 is $3,446,746. For the sixth consecutive year the college has received more than a million dollars in gifts and grants from all sources for all causes. The total in 1971-72 was $1,390,453.

With most of the building requirements having been met the college has concentrated recently on securing operating funds to supplement its modest endowment.

Two extraordinary building needs are being planned for this year, the majority of funds in both cases having already been provided.

Plans for the Belk Chapel continue to be modified. Construction has begun on the Health and Rehabilitation Center to care for the unique needs of the handicapped students, as well as the general health care of the entire student body. The Division of Vocational Rehabilitation of North Carolina is providing $342,000 of the $450,000 cost of the facility.

4. REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

Reverend H. Edwin Pickard, Chairman

The Christian Education Committee has continued to do its uttermost to fulfill the responsibilities entrusted to it by the Synod. At the same time it has tried to be faithful in preparing lists of functions, needs, and proposed budgets to be transmitted to the Transition Committee of the new Synod.

The Committee of Christian Education has continued to coordinate educational work throughout the presbyteries, sharing information and expertise, and experimenting with pilot projects across the Synod. Staff persons will be sharing the results of pilot projects with particular churches and with the Presbytery Christian Education Committees (or counterparts) of Synod.

Churches considering employing educational personnel should utilize the services of the Office of Church Personnel Services of the General Executive Board and its consultants in Synod.

The Committee, as always, has been grateful for the wise and helpful guidance of our Regional Director, the Reverend Robert Turner. While illness has prevented his functioning at maximum intensity during a good bit of 1973, his influence and guidance have still benefited the committee, its councils and cabinets immeasurably. We have continued to join prayers for his speedy, full recovery. During Mr. Turner's illness, the committee has become more grateful than ever for the valuable contribution of Miss Beatrice Kiser, Assistant to the Regional Director.

Our new Area Director, Miss Marian Fisk, has been employed during the year, serving primarily through Albemarle Presbytery. She has joined the other competent Area Directors: Mrs. John F. Cheney, Jr., Fayetteville; Mrs. Frank S. Jones, Mecklenburg; Miss Sara McNeill, Orange; Miss Donna Cook, Wilmington; and Mrs. Earl F. Thompson, Concord. Their devotion and their professional competence offer constant inspiration.

The members of the Christian Education Committee have been diligent in attendance at committee and council meetings and in fulfilling their assigned tasks. The work done by your committee is reflected in the reports of the councils, cabinets and ad hoc committees.

AUDIOVISUAL LIBRARY

Miss Beatrice Kiser, Director

Three thousand eight hundred filmstrips were used by churches of the Synod during 1972. One hundred fifty-five churches participated in the membership plan which cost $15.00 per year for a church. This membership entitles a church to use the library free of charge except for return postage. During the year a few cassette tapes were added for a trial basis. If a demand for these tapes give indication of their being used, others will be added and this will become an additional service of the library.

A new catalogue listing materials available in the library was published and sent to all churches of the Synod. Additional copies are available at Synod's Office of Christian Education at a cost of $1.00 each.

In cooperation with TRAV in Raleigh and TRAV in Atlanta, two Audio-visual Previews were held. These previews are designed to give church leaders an opportunity to see new materials — 16 mm films, sound filmstrips, equipment and cassette tapes. Others are being planned for the future.

Several Audiovisual Workshops were held during the year including events at several local churches, and features of the North Carolina Christian Educator's Retreat and the Church School Administration Conference in Montreat. This is a limited service at this time which can be arranged if sufficient notice is given.

CABINET ON ADULT WORK

Reverend Paul H. Felker, Chairman

Adult Work in North Carolina has been taking various forms in the past year. These forms have proved to be innovative, instructive, personally rewarding for those involved.

Wilmington Presbytery conducted three Music Workshops for choir directors, pianists, organists, and persons in charge of music programs. The workshops were designed to assist persons in the selection and use of sacred music for worship. These were well attended and were immensely helpful to those representatives of the smaller churches.

Young Adult work has been the center of attention in Mecklenburg Presbytery. A Young Adult Workshop was conducted one Sunday afternoon with a large attendance to participate in a discussion of "Problems Within the Family". Prohlems discussed were: The Pre-School Child, Abilities, etc; the Public School Problems; and the Single Persons and the Single Parent. A young adult Weekend Retreat was also held at Bethelwoods, S.C. Baby Sitters were provided for small children, and outstanding leaders such as Dr. Charles Kraemer and Glenn Bannerman of P.S.C.E., Dr. Larry Boggs, physician, and the Reverend Charles Cowsert, Presbyterian Foundation led discussions on: Personal Relationships, Finances, Sex, and Leisure. The response was so favorable that further young adult retreats are in preparation.

Orange Presbytery provided a three night training event for teachers of CLC materials, ULCS materials, and Christians in Families. Another training event was provided for Teachers of Adults in the Greensboro area. Rockingham and Caswell Counties had a workshop for Leaders of Adults, as did Johnston County. Churches in the Raleigh area attended a Workshop on the Planning Process.

As a result of a self-study and the establishment of goals, Albemarle Presbytery has formed a Task Force on Young Adult-Adult. Positive things are expected from the work of this task force. The presbytery also conducted a Teacher's Workshop, using Discovery-Learning approach, which included a section for leaders of adults.

In the summer of 1972 Fayetteville Presbytery conducted two Family Camps at Camp Monroe. These were so successful that a Couple's Retreat is heing planned for a weekend in the spring of 1973, in a motel setting. Consultations have heen held in local churches concerning learning opportunities for adults and providing help in curriculum planning. Presbytery terms have worked with a numher of churches in planning educational programs for all ages.

Family camping has also been an emphasis in Concord Presbytery with one Family Camp planned and directed by the Council on Outdoor Christian Education Committee. Ten local churches have held Family Camp weekends at the Presbytery Camps. The most innovative program was an Officer Training Retreat conducted over a weekend at Montreat. This was a pilot project in cooperation with the Board of Christian Education. Seventeen churches of various sizes responded to the invitation to participate. Each church was required to have at least 60% of the officers, plus the minister, in attendance. Those attending were most favorable in their comments.

In addition to these approaches to adult work the more traditional types of activities continue. Again in 1973 there will be a class on Adult Work and one on Home and Family in the North Carolina Christian Education Conference. This year, as in the past, the presbyteries are providing some scholarships for those who wish to receive this training.

CABINET ON YOUTH WORK

Reverend James T. Frazier, Chairman

Over the past year Synod's Youth Cabinet met once on December 7, 1972 at the Asheboro Workshop which was held in the First Presbyterian Church, Asheboro, N. C. All six presbyteries were represented as follows: Albemarle — Ms. Brenda Porter; Concord — Rev. Burwell Shore; Fayetteville — Mrs. Mildred Allen; Mecklenburg — Mrs. Judy Fletcher; Orange — Mr. Ken Doxey and Wilmington — Rev. Jeff Mitchinor.

After a brief period in a sharing session, the Cabinet began to think and plan what will be a Synod Youth Conference. Goals were set as follows:

1) to facilitate awareness of Me-God-World;
2) to be together in a loving-caring community;
3) to distinguish priorities of options and responses;
4) to enable each other to act upon priorities;
5) to follow through — evaluate.

Thinking in terms of basing the conference at Peace College in Raleigh the group then began to visualize a format. A list of resource people was made and a planning task force created to plan and implement the conference. The Planning Task Force is composed of one adult and two young people from each Presbytery. It met in the White Memorial Presbyterian Church, February 2-3, 1973 with the following members: Adults — Rev. Burwell Shore, III, Chairperson; Mrs. A. W. Stafford, Jr.; Ms. Mildred Allen; Mr. Ken Doxey; Ms. Ellen Ogilvie; Ms. Beverly Mills; Mr. Jim Sheegog; Ms. Dianne Randall; Mr. Pat Kinlaw; Ms. Jean McKee; Mr. Bill Courts; Mr. Roger Greene and Ms. Mary Ann Buchanan, Chairperson. The task force has set the conference on August 3-11, 1973 and given it the Theme: "Our World and Welcome To It — The People to People Conference." The Churches of Synod are asked to publicize the conference and register their young people for participation.

Synod's attention is also directed to the North Carolina Christian Education Conference in Montreat where training for the leaders of/with youth is available in the Multiple Youth Ministries Workshop.

During the past year each presbytery has planned various training events for both youth and youth leaders. These events include the following: Workshop on Youth Ministries, Youth Weekend at Bethelwoods, Curriculum Planning Workshop for youth and adult leaders, Workshop for youth and youth leaders on resources and sharing, Rally of youth for orientation and input in restructure of Presbytery, Presbytery camps and conferences, Discovery-Learning workshop involving youth and youth leaders, youth participated in Assembly Conferences, i.e., North Carolina Christian Education Conference, World Missions and Music Conference.

CHILDREN'S WORK CABINET

Miss Ruth Farrior, Chairman

The Cabinet on Children's Work met in Asheboro in December, 1972. Emphasis was placed on the role of the teacher and the variety of ways elementary children learn. Dr. A. E. Thomas, Director of Career and Personal Counseling Services, discussed the importance of the learning experiences of young children. There was also a report from the Board of Christian Education on new curriculum and updating of old curriculum.

The Christian Education Conference in June provided lab classes for teachers of Nursery through 6th Grade classes. Presbyteries provided scholarships for many leaders attending.

The work in presbyteries reflects the training at Asheboro and Montreat in the variety of workshops, retreats, and learning events. This includes lab classes, workshops for new teachers, displays of materials, classes for parents of young children, creative teaching, simulation games, discovery-learning, use of learning centers, weekday kindergarten, day care, etc.

The Board of Christian Education is planning a pilot workshop on "How to Teach". This will be a 2½ day workshop that will offer men and women who have never taught or who have not taught recently to learn basic teaching skills.

Plans are already underway in presbyteries for fall workshops and other learning events.

CABINET ON OUTDOOR CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

Reverend Robert C. Bankhead, Chairman

The interests of the Cabinet on Outdoor Christian Education have developed along the following tracks:

(1)Cooperative Training Opportunities:

A training event for the spring, to be held at Camp Grier, offering opportunities to familiarize ourselves with current materials and use them in a short term camp experience was discussed at the December meeting of the Cabinet at Asheboro.

(2)Ecumenical Endeavors:

The Cabinet has continually expressed intense interest in conversation with other denominational camps, discussing possibilities of cooperation in various aspects of the camp program. Sara McNeill and Bob Bankhead were invited to an exploratory meeting of the Leadership Development Subcommittee of the North Carolina Council of Churches at Camp Chestnut Ridge, March 7th. We have planned an overnight training session for camp directors and persons with leadership responsibilities to be held at Camp Chestnut Ridge, May 2-3.

(3)Family Recreation and Support:

Feeling a need for building relationships among camp directors and cabinet members while enriching family relationships, the cabinet has projected seasonal retreats for cabinet members and their families, using camp sites within the Synod offering seasonal recreation.

(4)Cooperative Business Administration:

A cabinet task force has been working on possible areas of cooperation in purchasing, business practices, insurances, etc. At the present time it appears that the most feasible area is insurance, and we are investigating a cooperative insurance package.

Recommendations:

1. That Synod authorize the Synod's Men's Conference, the North Carolina Christian Education Conference and the Synod Youth Conference to hold a Communion Service during these conferences.
2. That Synod encourage particular churches considering employing educational personnel to utilize the Office of Church Personnel Services of the General Executive Board and its consultants in the Synod.
3. That Synod urge local churches and Presbyteries to take advantage of all training opportunities such as the North Carolina Christian Education Conference, June 22-28, and the Church School Administration Conference, June 15-17, which are to be held in Montreat, and other Presbytery and ecumenical training events.
4. That Synod urge Sessions and Congregations to provide time and supporting funds for continuing education for their church educators.
5. That the report of the Christian Education Committee, including the report of the Career and Personal Counseling Service, be adopted.

5. REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ON HOMES

Reverend John Mack Walker, Jr., Chairman

The Executive Committee on Homes has continued the direction of program and philosophy which began to come into focus with its self-study in 1970. We are pleased to see that this approach has been accepted and endorsed by both the Mission and Organization and Institutional Relations Committees of the new Synod of North Carolina. In addition the new Synod has identified, and made a matter of high priority, the whole area of caring ministries for families. Our present excellent institutions in this field are seen as the primary resource in an enabling ministry for all our congregations in Synod.

Your committe has met twice during the year. On November the 14th, 1972 at Synod's Office and at the Presbyterian Home in High Point on April 5, 1973. The latter meeting was a part of the newly adopted policy of having at least one meeting of the committee on the campus of one of our institutions. We were at Barium Springs in April of 1972. The membership of the committee is made up of a representative of each presbytery and six members and a chairman elected at large by the Synod.

It has been the conviction of the committee that the programs of consultations and the necessary skills to direct them ought to come as far as possible from the institutions now under Synod's care. As an example of what can be made available in Synod's ministry to families, Reverend Mr. Allen G. Hamman has recently come as the Associate in Consultative Services for Barium Springs Home for Children's Goldsboro office. Mr. Hamman's office address is 1101 East Ash Street,' Goldsboro, North Carolina 27530, and the telephone is 736-0550. Mr. Hamman is ready to serve congregations in the eastern part of Synod as they plan for children and families.

As the program of the William Black Home is a part of the responsibility of this committee we report to Synod that at the August 29, 1972 meeting of the Board of William Black Home our committee made the suggestion that we begin to explore the possibility of a year round program for the Home at Montreat as a Synod conference resource center. This idea was welcomed by that Board and has since become a part of the recommendation of the Greensboro Convention for the new Synod.

As an example of the kind of programs we hope will become a part of our caring ministry your committee would cite two new programs in the Raleigh area. The first is a ministry to troubled young people, set up with the help and consultation of our resource service at Barium Springs. It is called "Haven House" and is sponsored by the Presbyterian Urban Council of Raleigh in cooperation with civic clubs and the leadership of the Raleigh community. It seeks to provide small group care homes for boys and girls who cannot adjust to their own home and who are otherwise neglected and homeless. The program is designed to be both preventive and corrective, providing a temporary home for those who do not need commitment to a state institution, but who might adjust in a group home which combines sufficient external controls with freedom to express experience, and develop in a happy relaxed atmosphere. It is not a treatment facility for emotionally ill children, but a place where the resources of the community, the Church, and dedicated citizens can assist a person to find his way through a complex physical and emotional situation. The program also seeks to assist the home from which he came to work out its problems in a more responsible way. The community is responsible for providing the facilities and for working out the policies and programs. A bill before the North Carolina Legislature will enable the State to provide for continuing education.

During the year 1972-73, another center for the care of the elderly, Capital Towers, opened in our Synod. This two hundred and eight efficiency and one-bedroom apartment complex is twelve stories high on a beautiful landscaped lot overlooking the North Hills shopping center in Raleigh. The Presbyterian Urban Council, which sponsored Capital Towers, is seeking to create a community which offers much more than housing for those of moderate income. Planned programs are designed to assist the residents to broaden their relationships and develop opportunities for useful living through becoming a part of the greater Raleigh community. Regular services are provided by ministers from the various churches. Other activities are featured to appeal to the tastes and interests of those living in Capital Towers, as well as to enlarge the use of their talents and enhance their contributions as citizens.

It is hoped that these two projects may illustrate how we can use the skills of our existing Homes in expanding our caring ministry. Capital Towers can provide insights for the Synod by which other communities may learn ways to assist those older persons who live in apartments to find new satisfactions and a growing sense of becoming a person during what may well be the best years of life. Haven House can be a guide to other communities in their efforts to meet the needs of troubled youth.

Your committee would remind Synod of two unfinished matters from its adopted recommendations to past Synods. Last year in connection with our Synod-wide seminars on our ministry to the aging each Session was asked to consider appointing a special committee to plan ways and means to meet the needs and opportunities of the aging in the church and community. From the information available to the committee the response so far has been disappointingly small. The need for this will certainly not be less in each successive year of the future. In 1970 the Synod authorized a campaign for funds for the Homes of Synod to be conducted during the five year period between 1970-1975. The Queens-Davidson Fund has had the attention of Synod, and the change to the new Synod of North Carolina opens up new factors in reviewing this action. But the fact remains that the funding of our caring ministers centered in our present Homes calls for more support than the regular budget of Synod can afford.

Recommendations:

1. That the Synod express appreciation to the Boards of Trustees of the several Homes and the Executive Directors and staffs for their continued dedication and service.
2. That Synod continue to use Thanksgiving and Mother's Day, not only as a time for a supplemental offering, but also a time of special interst in the life and programs of our Home.
3. That in the presentation of this report the appropriate standing committees of Synod hear representatives of the Homes.

A. BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

George M. Ivey, Jr., President, Board of Regents

A person would have to observe from close range, either as a staff person or member of the Board of Regents, to fully understand the activities (much less the potential) of this family service agency. As the President of the Board, I wish there were some way for me to instill in every Presbyterian some of the vision and enthusiasm which we on the Board are privileged to share.

Most of you are knowledgeable that Barium is a multi-function agency. We mean by this that its program embraces a number of services; however, these services are restricted to the ministry of service to children and families. We are aware that many people still think of Barium as an orphanage, though most realize that the residential program is geared to meeting needs and this means serving largely the child from the broken home.

Possibly it is well to indicate again that services are available to all children. While more requests for services come from our own Presbyterian churches than any other source, such requests are not limited. Referrals from all races, creeds and color are gladly received.

Multi-function also means that services are not limited to residential care. The Agency's work in the areas of family rehabilitation, shelter homes, day care and group homes is a very vital part of the broad based program.

The Agency feels that all its services are important; however, the Board of Regents does want the supporters of the program to know that the services are constantly under review. Committees of the Board meet regularly (twice each year) and for called meetings. All committees report directly to the Board in plenary session where progress and changes are discussed.

Relating the children to their own family has been a primary objective. The fact that on February 1, 1966, the boys and girls living on the campus had been here for an average of nine years was not too bad considering that at that time the program was primarily custodial in nature. It is, however, most significant to note that since that time and with an emphasis on family rehabilitation, the average length of stay has now been reduced to twenty months.

The strong emphasis towards services for the total family has moved the agency in recent years toward a program of prevention. With the introduction of a department of consultative services have come new opportunities to help the family through community based services. Some of these have already been mentioned.

Consultations are now leading the agency to more in-depth ministries in the area of prevention of family breakdown. Programs are being developed for marriage enrichment retreats, classes in parent-child relationships and seminars with various groups — such as, one parent families, singles, divorced persons, etc. Along with these could come individual counseling, marriage counseling and family group counseling.

Let me further indicate that the Board of Regents supports individually and collectively these services and would solicit the support of every Presbyterian and friend. We would encourage you to get the names of the members of the Board and to discuss with them how you as an individual and your church can best avail yourselves of the services and at the same time give your financial support.

We thank you for the interest and concern expressed in the past and trust that you will visit the Agency and learn first hand what your church is doing to help people.

B. THE PRESBYTERIAN HOME, INC.

W. H. Sullivan, Jr., President

The Board of Trustees respectfully reports the major activities of the Home for the past year.

The Board met for two regular sessions and the Executive Committee met nine times for the transaction of business during 1972.

There were 38 new admissions and 21 deaths, with a total of 257 served during 1972.

The books were audited by A. M. Pullen and Company (Certified Public Accountants) Greensboro, North Carolina, and the audit shows Capital Assets of $2,667,539.02 after recognizing reduction of Fixed Assets for $1,127,-966.93 of accumulated depreciation as of December 31, 1972. This report shows a gain in Capital Assets of $44,767 for the year. The audit also shows:

(a) Capital Fund contributions of $365,289 which included apartment and college gifts of $321,362.

(b) Operating Fund — After income from members and contributions from Synod we ran a deficit of $75,000 which had to be raised through other sources. Fortunately, the capital fund was able to contribute $78,000 to offset this deficit, which was received from unrestricted wills, trusts and bequests.

Operating income from residents and patients was increased by $156,461 over the previous year. The monthly charge was $275 and the actual cost, including depreciation was $394. The monthly charge was increased to $281.50 effective January 1, 1973 (the 2½% rent allowance) and is scheduled to be increased to $300 on May 1.

Some other highlights of 1972 are as follows:

(1) An Endowment Fund was established in 1971 with two anonymous donations in the amount of $75,000. There were contributions to this Fund of $21,363 during the year and with other income and the gain on the sale of some investments the Fund has been increased to $111,060 at December 31, 1972.

(2) $101,791 was received from wills and bequests.

(3) Contracts were let in the amount of $80,559 for work to be done to be in compliance with the Life Safety Code (Federal requirements).

(4) The construction of 18 apartments at a cost of $327,827 were completed in May, 1972, and were all occupied within 90 days.

(5) Our Executive Director, Mr. Richard A. Short, has been recognized by his associates on a national level by being elected Vice President and President-Elect of the American Association of Homes for the Aging. He is scheduled to take office as President at the annual meeting in October, 1973. This recognition is most appreciated by the Board of Trustees of the Home and we happily share that with you.

May we take this opportunity to express our appreciation and gratitude to the many wonderful friends who have responded to the Home's need during the past year. We are deeply grateful to Synod for its concern and financial support. This ministry of our church needs your prayers, increased interest, support and concern.

C. THE WILLIAM BLACK HOME, INC.

Reverend Gower Crosswell, Jr., Chairman

The Board of Trustees of the William Black Home respectively submits the following report:

Dr. R. H. Stone, Chairman of the Board, advised the Board that since his term as trustee expired as of the meeting of Synod in 1973, and he would not be eligible for re-election to the Board at this time, it would be necessary to elect a new chairman. Rev. Gower Croswell, Jr. Winston-Salem, N. C. was elected Chairman to succeed Dr. Stone. Dr. T. H. Spence was elected to succeed himself as secretary. Since Dr. Stone had also served as treasurer, the chairman-elect was authorized to seek a new treasurer to succeed Dr. Stone. It was agreed that it would probably be necessary to find a treasurer who was not a member of the Board. Mr. Charles McIver, a member of Parkway Presbyterian Church, Winston-Salem, has agreed to accept the office of Treasurer for a period of one year. The Board expressed its gratitude for the faithful and distinguished service of Dr. Stone to the Home.

Mrs. W. C. Copeland and her daughter, Nancy, of Davidson, N. C. have as of this date agreed to accept for another year the responsibility for managing the Home. They will thus be our managers again in 1973.

The Board was advised that equipment had been replenished as necessary in the Home including among other things; new silverware for the dining room; new china, and new lamps for the bedrooms throughout.

The Board authorized minor repairs to the rooms as necessary and such changes in wiring and other areas as were suggested by the insurance company to meet safety standards.

The following financial report is submitted:

CASH ASSETS:
Money in checking account	$ 1,643.45
Bank Fund — 3 Way Pass Book 5¾ Quar. 2 yr.	10,600.00

The above report was for the general treasurer as of August 28, 1972. We also submit the report for the operating season of 1972.

We submit the following report for the operation season in summary. (A complete report is included with the report turned over to the Council.)

F. REPORTS OF PERMANENT COMMITTEES

1. REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON ANNUITIES AND RELIEF

Reverend William Brown, Chairman

Your Synod Committee held two stated meetings at the Synod's Office within the past year. Each Presbytery is represented in the work of the committee, whose major task is the distribution of the funds from the Kate Bitting Reynolds Fund to the retired ministers of the Synod.

The total distribution since the last meeting of Synod was as follows:

September, 1972	$ 52,097.27
March, 1973	45,197.68
	$ 97,294.95

In the September distribution there were 122 who shared in the fund. In March 126 participated. The total received by each minister from the two distributions amounted to $785.73.

Recommendations:

1. That Churches be encouraged to seek gifts, legacies, and trusts from interested individuals to supplement the existing trusts for retired ministers throughout the Synod.
2. That the duty of handling the benefits from the Wiley Legacy be placed with the same committee as the Reynolds Fund and that retired ministers be qualified for participation in the Wiley Fund under the same rules of Synod as for the Reynolds Fund.
3. That Synod request the Co-Trustees to have the Court construe the provision of the Reynolds Will which directs the trustees to pay the net income from the bequest for the maintenance and support of aged Presbyterian Ministers of the Synod of North Carolina "as now constituted. . ."
4. That Synod recognize with gratitude the ministers of the Synod who have retired since the last meeting of Synod. They are: Rev. F. Crossley Morgan (C); Rev. John M. Murchison (C); Rev. Burriss Bender (C); Dr. Julian Lake (C); Dr. John W. Luke (C); Rev. Thompson B. Southall (C); Rev. John W. McQueen (C); Rev. J. Earl Adkins (F); Rev. Paul D. Thrower (F); Rev. H. Hoover Bear (F); Rev. Samuel Monroe Busch (M); Rev. Marcus Brown Prince, Jr. (M); Rev. William B. McSwain (M); and Rev. Herman J. Womeldorf (O).
5. That attention be called to the amendment to the rules, reducing the age of eligibility to 62, and to the provision which permits a minister to participate at age 50, if he is retired because of ill health. The records of Presbyteries should specify the reason for early retirement.
6. That as the new Synod organizes itself, the rules of the Reynolds Fund be revised or edited for clarity, and that a new brochure be prepared for distribution to interested persons.
7. That special attention be given by local sessions and presbytery committees to the emergency needs of widows and dependents of Presbyterian ministers in their locality so that needs can be reported to the Church's agency for ministerial relief.

2. REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CHRISTIANITY AND HEALTH

Dr. George M. Cooper, Chairman

The committee calls attention to the significant steps taken at denominational and regional levels of the Church to meet the clearly expressed mental and physical health needs of church professionals and their families. The General Assembly has established an administrative unit with responsibilities in the areas of recruitment, placement, care, counseling, and relocation of church professionals, both clergy and lay. The integration of these functions into the whole work of the Church has been advocated since 1963; it began in 1966 with the formation of a Division of Homes and Christian Welfare in the Board of Church Extension.

Equally important is the expanded program of Synod's Career and Personal Counseling Service (Guidance Center) at Laurinburg and Charlotte. Testing and counseling services are available for ministerial candidates under the care of presbytery and for church professionals and their families. We are gratified that most presbyteries are making good use of these important resources which have been needed by the Church and its servants.

We commend to the Church proposals of the Committee previously adopted by this Synod. The needs for better communication and understanding between ministers and physicians continues to concern us, for the potential for increased service is so great. The programs of sex education available through the resourcing agencies of our Church deserve serious study and increased use. The whole question of drug abuse deserves more attention by the Church.

The role of this committee is essentially to serve as a communication linkage between the denominational agencies and the presbytery committees. It seeks to be a clearing house for presbytery programs, distributing available information to all. In a time when the Church is preoccupied with organizational matters and issues affecting its institutional integrity, there has been little activity at either level. Being a small committee with a single function there has been little to communicate and no need of a formal meeting.

We urge that this function be retained in the new structure as a regional responsibility and that it be related administratively to the other professional concerns.

3. REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CHURCH AND SOCIETY

Reverend Robert H. Ramey, Jr., Chairman

The Church and Society Committee has held two one day meetings during the past year at the Selwyn Presbyterian Church in Charlotte. Due to the often controversial nature of our reports, your committee felt that it would be helpful if we set forth the rationale for our work in a brief introductory statement.

CHRISTIAN FAITH AND SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

Presbyterians historically have had a strong sense of social responsibility. This is true partly because of the overriding emphasis in Reformed theology upon the sovereignty of God over all of life. It is true partly because the doctrine of creation underscores our common nature and our common existence as creatures who bear the image of God. It is true partly because of the very nature of the gospel and its demands.

> Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation; the old has passed away, behold, the new has come. All this is from God, who through Christ reconciled us to himself and gave us the ministry of reconciliation; that is, God was in Christ reconciling the world to himself, not counting their trespasses against them and entrusting to us the message of reconciliation.
> (II Corinthians 5:17-19)

> And he said to him, 'You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it, You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments depend all the law and the prophets.'
> (Matthew 22:37-40)

At its deepest level the Incarnation means that ethics and theology, obedience and belief cannot be separated; that the church's ministry of reconciliation in society is inseparable from its faith in the God of Exodus and Easter who is at work in the world to reconcile us to himself and to one another. Therefore, faith in the sovereignty of God and the Lordship of Jesus Christ is the foundation of social responsibility. But conversely, if that faith never takes hold of the world and is never made concrete in the common life in deeds of social responsibility, then it is all for naught.

This is the conviction upon which the Committee on Church and Society was created and out of which it now does its work. The committee does not assume that social ethics is some separate realm, independent of the deep theological and spiritual convictions of Christian faith. Rather, along with worship and theology, fellowship and personal commitment, social committment, social ethics is understood as a part of the Church's single task of translating the language and conceptions of the Christian tradition into their concrete reality and their human meaning.

On the basis, then, of the historic and living faith of the church in the sovereignty of God and the Lordship of Jesus Christ over all of life, the committee considers issues before our society, comments upon these issues, and recommends to Synod appropriate actions for dealing with them. This does not represent the presumptuous attempt of theologians to speak with authority in matters pertaining to other disciplines, or to identify a particular social program or political philosophy with the will of God. It does represent the concern of a comittee of laymen and ministers to help the church stand and act over against two adversaries in human life which are expressions of that pride, disobediance, and estrangement from God and fellowman which we call sin.

The first is idolatry by which men tend to grant ultimate loyalty and final authority to political programs, economic policies, social values, and religious practices of our own creation, rather than to God who demands justice and righteousness in the affairs of men and nations.

Second is unbelief, which is the tendency to live and act and make decisions—political, economic, social, personal, or otherwise—as if there were no God who sees and cares.

In carrying out its duties, the committee attempts to reflect the fundamental Biblical and Reformed conviction that faith is a matter both of content and context, that it exhibits an order by which goodness is the fruit of truth, and forges a creative link between confession and responsibility.

And since any committee presumes upon the mercy of God to claim so much, all of this committee's reports are prefaced by a silent prayer of confession for the inadequacy of their content, and concluded by a claim of God's forgiveness for the lives of the committee members.

* * * * * *

At our meetings this year we discussed many concerns; however, we agreed to confine our report to three subjects: a report on a low income housing development project; a presentation of problem pregnancy; and a position paper on school desegregation.

I. Low Income Housing Development

The Caldwell Community Development Corporation, a biracial, nonprofit corporation sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church in Lenoir, North Carolina, has begun a development of privately owned homes for low income people in Caldwell County. Founded by an anticipated loan from the Farmers' Home Administration, the corporation will produce a planned community with paved streets, sewer and water systems, parks, playgrounds, open, wooded areas and furnished lots. Supported by a grant from the Board of National Ministries, the corporation will assist low income families secure home loans to create a spirit of community in the development.

Recommendations:

1. That Synod recognize and endorse the Caldwell Community Development Corporation's ministry to low income people.
2. That Synod express this support to the Farmers' Home Administration and urge a positive response by this agency to the Caldwell Community Development Corporation's request for funding.
3. That Synod urge churches in areas where low income people suffer from inadequate housing to investigate the above-mentioned ministry by contacting the First Presbyterian Church in Lenoir. N.C.

II. Problem Pregnancy

Out of intense awareness that one of the pressing issues of our time is problem pregnancy, the Church and Society Committee is attempting to offer some signposts toward help for you on this issue. Our presentation makes no attempt to settle the ever-present theological debate on the subject of abortion. The General Assembly of our Church is dealing with this issue and we point you to their conclusions.

We recognize that you as churchmen are likely to be confronted with problem pregnancy situations. We recognize that this is a complex moral and legal issue. We recognize that there are several alternatives: keeping the child, adoption, and abortion. We recognize that women are involved daily in this struggle and when there is hurt and dilemma we need to be available to be of help or to point toward it.

Therefore, the purpose of our presentation is to highlight several specific problem pregnancy cases—the legal and practical problems involved—and point to some resource for help.

Recommendations:

1. That Synod hear the Rev. Laura Buzard for fifteen minutes concerning problem pregnancy.

III. Position Paper on School Desegregation

Since our position paper last year on this subject, we have received several requests to study the issue again. We feel that these requests, offered in a Christian spirit, deserve our attention and warrant a reply. To that end we submit the following recommendation:

Recommendation:

1. That Synod adopt the "Position Paper on School Desegregation" and reproduce it in quantity for distribution upon adoption.

POSITION PAPER ON SCHOOL DESEGREGATION

In light of the continuing and perhaps growing controversy and concern of responsible citizens and church members as well as parents over the issue of school desegregation and the use of busing as one viable means of attaining an acceptable level of quality education for all the children of this state, the Committee feels that clarification and an up-dating of its position should be made at the June meeting of Synod. At least in part, this position paper is in answer to some criticism which has come to the attention of this committee and additionally as a statement to the Christians of North Carolina who may feel the need and reassurance as well as the backing of the organized church as they attempt to take a positive stand in the controversial issues involved in the continuing matter of the problems of our schools.

Our statement in 1972 attempted to indicate that there was widespread misinformation concerning several aspects of the problems of busing of children.

1) In approaching the total question of busing to achieve racial balance in the schools of this state; only four percent of the children in N.C. are bused to achieve racial balance. (statement made to Dr. Drake by Mr. Tom Davis, Jr. Director of Public Information Raleigh 12/5/72)

   Busing has been an integral, vital part of the advancement of public education in this country. There have been a number of reasons for the expanding use of buses: closing of rural one-room schools and busing children into consolidated schools, the spread of suburbs whose residents demanded bus service for their children on the same basis as that enjoyed by rural children to the place where pick-up points have come closer and closer to the pupil's home, for the benefit of both children and parents. Buses today are being used for a diverse number of purposes, school projects, nature study classes, choruses, special classes taught only in a limited number of schools, athletic team trips, buses for handicapped children, for exceptional children, visits to museums, civic centers, as well as for many other educationally related activities.

   However, busing specifically for desegregation purposes has been used nation-wide only in the last four or five years. It became a national issue only after court decisions which began in 1966. (U.S. Commission of Civil Rights, Your Child and Busing, Washington, D.C., May 1972, p. 13.) In a letter of March 1972, Secretary of Transportation, Volpe, quoted the National Highway Safety Administration as estimating that less than one percent of the annual increase in busing could be attributed to desegregation. Published estimates indicate that only from two to four percent of the children in this country who ride buses to school are bused to achieve desegregation. (Ibid, p. 7)

It is well to note that there were 587,100 children being bused in 1963-64 and 702,400 in 1971-72, but when one examines the annual percentage increase in children being bused, it amounts to two percent between 1963-64—1964-65; three percent between 1968-70; 6.3 percent 1969-71, and 5 percent 1971-1972. In 1967-68, 54 percent of all school children were being bused; this had increased to 66.5 percent in 1971-72. Earlier figures indicate two points with clarity. a) busing has been a vital and necessary adjunct to education in this state since the depression years (more than one-quarter million children were being bused in 1934-35—the earliest date on which figures are available). This figure had increased to 5 out of every 10 children in 1968-69. None of this busing was the result of the most recent court decision—the Swan Case. b) as long as there is busing on the scale which has pertained in this state for so long a time, this is prima facie evidence that neighborhood school concept is a myth and exists only in the pre-depression history of this state.

2) The amount of money being spent to bus all children in the state from state funds, amounts to only 4.5 percent of the total schol budget. The total school budget for 1971-72 was $450,000,000, the amount expended for busing was $23,000,000 or only 33 cents per pupil per day.

On a nationwide basis in 1933 the cost of transportation for pupils was 3.5 percent of the cost of operating public schools; in 1969-70 the cost was only 3.6 percent. In 1971-72 the monetary cost was 1.5 billion out of a total school budget expended of nearly 44 billion dollars. (p. 15)

3) Between 1969-70 and 1970-71 school years, there was an increase in the number of children being bused. This increase amounted to 39,700 pupils average daily attendance. The statement has been made which indicated that an additional 18,500 children in Mecklenburg County were bused for desegregation purposes only during that school year. It should be noted with care that it was at this time that the State Supreme Court ruled that children living within the city limits more than one and one-half miles from their schools, should be bused just as rural children were. a) it seems highly unlikely that half of all additional children being bused in 1970-71 in the state were located in Mecklenburg County and b) it is impossible from the available statistics to draw any conclusion concerning the number of children in the county who were being bused soley for the purposes of racial balance and how many were being bused to comply with the ruling of the State Supreme Court.

An article in The South Today made a survey of pupils at ten segregated private schools. This study showed that 62 percent of the children attending private schools were bused and that the average daily distance was nearly 18 miles each way. In contrast, the eight states in which these private schools were located were busing fewer than half of the public school children and those being bused averaged only 10 miles each way. Apparently busing is acceptable to some parents when it is to maintain segregation. In Hoke County, North Carolina the switch to desegregation resulted in bus runs that were 15 minutes shorter than had pertained under the segregated system. (Ibid., pages 8 and 14)

4) This Committee is well aware of, and seriously considers the problems involved in busing children. It takes issue with the implication that there are more dangers inherent in being bused than there are when children walk to their neighborhood schools. It also takes issue with the implication that the latest U.S. Supreme Court ruling in the Swan Case does NOT consider time, distance, or health of the children. In fact, Chief Justice Berger specifically directed lower courts to consider whether "time or distance of travel is so great as to risk either the health of the child or significantly impinge on the educational process."

   The latest figures available from the National Safety Council indicate that there are nearly two and one-half fatalities per 100 million miles of travel by private automobiles, .29 in airplanes, but only .06 per 100 million miles of travel on school buses. A study which was compiled by the Pennsylvania Department of Education over a 6-year period found bus riding three times safer than walking. The average accident rate for walkers was one per 280 pupils, for those riding buses only one per 900 pupils. (Ibid., p. 13)

5) It is quite clear that blacks do bear the bulk of the burden of busing. They have long had to bear the burden of being bused or of walking by "white" schools to reach "black" schools. Even before the first bus ran, since Plessy V. Ferguson, blacks have had to bear the heavier burden of schools which were vastly inferior to those attended by whites. Blacks may not like burden-bearing, but they have had to and continue to have more than their fair share of it.

   Parents of black children as well as parents of other minority children have some sound reasons for being apprehensive about busing. Many of the schools in their neighborhoods have been closed while those in the white communities have remained open. This is particularly true of high schools. Black principals and teachers have suffered from job loss or demotion in greater proportions than white principals and teachers. Black parents also fear for the safety of their children. They clearly remember insults, taunts and threats which were suffered by the first blacks who dared defy the walls of segregation. (Ibid., pp. 14-15)

   However, most minority Americans as well as those of the majority know that the nation cannot be assured of its future unless and until its citizens can learn to live together, and that one place this learning can begin is in the classroom. (Ibid., p. 15)

6) The Committee's position paper was not designed to polarize Christians who were suffering under the force of disunity. We should hope that the Presbyterian Church in the United States and the Synod of North Carolina are strong enough to withstand a statement composed in the spirit of Christian love and concern, not only for the church and the synod but also for the blacks. We were and still are concerned that the church should and must be a leader, not only for its own members but for non-members, for blacks as well as whites, and for our children and our children's children.

7) The state of North Carolina already has committed itself to extensive busing. We are thoroughly convinced that equality of educational opportunity cannot be achieved in this country without busing until neighborhoods are desegregated. Segregated schols would not be possible with desegregated neighborhoods. There is no reason for segregation where there is no prejudice.

This Committee is not unaware of the tenacity with which some of the rumors and misinformation are held. It is also aware that even when facts are presented to refute misinformation, facts can still be ignored if they are contrary to beliefs and wishes which people hold dear. We believe what we want to believe and what we have been conditioned to believe. However, this Committee confesses to the ideal of democracy and Christianity. It cannot escape the conclusion that with relatively few exceptions, the concern of our church and a majority of whites in this country has been focused on white children. We have failed to be concerned equally with the education and welfare—academic, social, psychological—of black children who are not only citizens of this country but children of God. We have not been concerned sufficiently with the fate of the future of this country.

Since the late '60's whites have been deeply concerned with the academic disadvantages blacks face in competition with whites, with the "unfair" burden on black athletes or other blacks who cannot participate in afterschool activities. And yet, we were not concerned previously with any of these things nor with the inferior schools which blacks attended. We were not concerned until our "white" schools were invaded. We have hidden behind a concern for the welfare of the "poor blacks" who are suffering disproportionately because of the rulings of the courts and the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

The argument recently has been that money should be spent on catch-up or compensatory educational programs rather than on busing. However, studies show that integrated minority students recorded higher achievement gains than segregated minority students even where compensatory educational programs had been instituted. (Ibid., p. 16). A study of these programs in isolated neighborhood schools in Berkeley did not close the educational gap and that no lasting gains in achievement were made was the finding. As a result of these negative findings, the Berkeley board joined desegregation and compensatory programs. To date the results indicate advancement in achievement by both blacks and whites. (Ibid., p. 16)

Educators and psychologists recognize that in schools with a preponderant proportion of minority pupils, the academic achievement of children is inferior to that of children who attend schools with a more nearly equal racial balance or where the so-called "nebulous goal" of racial balance has been achieved.

To the mind of this committee, it is a shameful situation in which we find our children and the children of our black neighbors. They are in overt and covert conflict with each other. We as citizens and as parents have transmitted to our children in word, thought, and action the prejudices and discriminatory acts which we ourselves inherited from our parents. It is equally to be deplored that some of the black parents have "given up" on the white man, on the white man's promises and even on the white man's God. They have turned away from any hope of working with the white man to achieve an integrated society. It is even more to be deplored that these parents are teaching their children the bitter lessons of broken promises, of hopes unfulfilled, of dreams which continue to be shattered. We are convinced that if this nation is to endure there will have to be a price paid by both whites and blacks and that futhermore, the longer the payment is postponed the higher the interest rate will be.

We are disturbed with the late 1972 effort on the part of President Nixon to have a bill passed which in effect would resegregate many of the schools, especially in the northern urban ghettos. President Nixon cited the fact that some militant Negroes were also in favor of such a step. However, "fundamental constitutional rights can no more be abrogated by the alleged desires of the victims of oppression than by those who would seek to oppress." (Kenneth Clark, "Public School Desegregation in the Seventies," New South, Vol. 27, No. 3 Summer 1972, p. 26) We argue with Clark (p. 27-28) that racially segregated schools contribute to the academic retardation of whites even as they contribute to academic retardation of blacks. America's white children who are the products of racially isolated schools are required to struggle with inner moral conflicts, guilt, a gnawing sense of alienation and personal incompleteness. These certainly must militate against a sense of personal fulfillment and are antithetical to that quality and substance of life essential for humanity." And, "It is all too tragically clear that black children are considered and treated as if they were expendable. Those blacks and whites who would use them as pawns in a gruesome and self-defeating power game, do not yet understand that to sentence millions of children to the prison of segregated educational inferiority is to perpetuate that pattern of social pathology which threatens the stability of the whole society. No one is so privileged as to be immune from the dangers inherent in a hard core of the uneducated within the heart of our cities." (Ibid., p. 28)

Both implicit and explicitly, letters to the Editor, public forums and debates express the idea that parents should have the right to decide which school their children should attend. In innumerable cases, parents have reasons to want to send their children to schools other than the nearest one. When these cases have been taken to court, the courts have ruled that school boards and not parents have the right to assign pupils to schools. No one has either legal or sacred rights to a neighborhood school. One of the first such decisions was made by a Cincinnatti Court in 1876 in which the court said that "children cannot cluster around their school like they do around their parish church." (Ibid., p. 11). No school district in which parents could make the decision on pupil assignment could continue to operate. The final decision must be made by the board on the basis of what is good for the district, for all children, and in compliance with court decisions. (p. 12). To quote directly from the Civil Rights Commission: To make the neighborhood school the cornerstone of American education would be to run the clock back educationally as well as socially." (Ibid., p. 12)

We therefore reaffirm our position paper as presented in 1972 and, in the light of developments which have arisen around various local, state, and national elections in November, 1972; we submit the following resolutions:

Whereas: Many citizens oppose busing as a viable means of achieving equal educational opportunities for all citizens, that the citizens and the government exert every effort to institute open housing and integrated neighborhoods to facilitate the elimination of busing to achieve racial balance and contribute to the equal participation in the best educational facilities this country can afford.

and Whereas: It has been quite evident that the federal as well as other governmental agencies have been less than zealous in their efforts to further school desegregation, we call upon the officials of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and of the Justice Department to use their resources to implement the decrees of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and of the various rulings of both District and U.S. Supreme Courts and to fulfill the constitutional rights of all of the citizens of this country.

4. REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON HISTORICAL MATTERS

Durward T. Stokes, Chairman

The committee meets twice annually, in conjunction with activities of the North Carolina Presbyterian Historical Society. In the spring of 1972, the committee met on the day of the annual meeting of the Society and joined in the observance of John Knox Day. Dr. W. Stanford Reid addressed the gathering on the topic "John Knox: 400 Years After". In the fall, we participated in the tour of historic churches in the Wilmington and lower Cape Fear regions of the Synod. This activity of the Society has grown into a significant project, worthy of the support of all Presbyterians. Beginning with a walking tour of sites in the historic section of Wilmington, we were entertained graciously at tea and a banquet. The following day a motor tour of eight early churches filled our day with reverence and appreciation.

The committee continues its distribution of papers of special merit dealing with personalities and events of the development of the presbyterian Church in this region. There are also available papers which give useful information about the care of cemeteries and gravestones, the establishment of heritage rooms, and the preservation and marking of historic sites.

Reprints of ancient works (Foote's Sketches of North Carolina) and books of original scholarship (Historic Third Creek Church and The Cowans of County Down) are available through Synod's Office and history of the Elise Academy is in preparation.

The North Carolina Presbyterian Historical Society has a membership of more than 400 persons and has enjoyed a highly successful year under capable leadership.

All churches are urged to note, observe and report special anniversaries through the pages of the Presbyterian News during the coming year.

5. REPORT OF INTER-CHURCH RELATIONS COMMITTEE

Reverend Eugene C. Ensley, Chairman

Though the Inter-Church Relations Committee held only one meeting this year, it has been active on several fronts. For one thing, some members of the committee traveled with others from the Synod to St. Louis, Missouri, where they met with the Joint Committee on Church Union to hear first hand the discussion of the plan of union being developed for the Presbyterian Church, U.S. and the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America. The purpose of this trip was not to make these persons advocates of union so much as to enable them to become knowledgeable resource persons to assist the Synod in its study of the plan of union.

The members of the Inter-Church Relations Committee also serve as official delegates to the General Assembly of the North Carolina Council of Churches. The Assembly met this year in High Point, North Carolina, on April 30th and May 1st. The report of the Executive Director of the North Carolina Council of Churches follows this report and we encourage Synod to study this report carefully and become aware of the work we do through this Council.

The Inter-Church Relations Committee rejoices at the action taken by the meeting in Greensboro on March 13th and 14th encouraging the development of closer ties with the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America and other Reformed bodies within the geographical bounds of the Synod. We see a new day beginning in our relationship with our sister churches in this state.

A great deal of time was devoted at our meeting this year to a reexamination of the rationale of our level of support of the North Carolina Council of Churches and the formulation of a recommendation to the Transition Committee of the new Synod of North Carolina on how our relationship to the North Carolina Council of Churches should be structured. First, it was the unanimous decision of this committee that Synod's support of the North Carolina Council of Churches should receive top priority because as the Council's report indicates we are able to perform a ministry through this Council that would not be possible otherwise. Second, the Inter-Church Relations Committee has recommended to the Transition Committee of the new Synod of North Carolina that some structure be provided for Inter-Church Relations. The following reasons are given for this recommendation: (1) To provide for a channel of communication between the North Carolina Council of Churches and the Synod of North Carolina Churches; (2) To guarantee that our support of the North Carolina Council of Churches will not be neglected; (3) To guarantee a system for the selection of delegates to the North Carolina Council General Assembly so that the Synod of North Carolina will continue to have an active voice in this deliberative body; (4) To develop closer ties with other Reformed bodies in the State of North Carolina, and to work for more meaningful relationships with these sister churches; (5) To guarantee that ecumenical concerns will be kept before the Synod of North Carolina.

a. REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR TO THE 36TH ANNUAL ASSEMBLY OF THE NORTH CAROLINA COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

Reverend Samuel S. Wiley, Executive Director

KEY 73—In April 1972 key people in evangelism from the member judicatories of the North Carolina Council of Churches were invited by the Council's President, Dr. James H. Lightbourne, Jr., and the Executive Director to a meeting in Burlington to consider response to the challenge of KEY 73, the interdenominational evangelistic movement which has as its slogan, "Calling Our Continent to Christ." As a result of this meeting a Task Force on State-wide Strategy for Key 73 was formed, consisting of thirty-four persons representing ten communions. Very naturally Dr.Clyde L. Fields was chosen as leader of the Task Force, since it had been his concern which had sparked the response. Dr. Fields is a member of the staff of the Southern Conference of the United Church of Christ.

"A Day for Key 73" was planned for September 11 with Greensboro's First Presbyterian and West Market Street United Methodist Churches as hosts. The featured speaker was Dr. T. A. Raedeke of St. Louis, national Executive Director of Key 73. Over 800 people attended, indicating that there is widespread interest in this movement. Following the event in Greensboro the Task Force met to make further plans. Committees were appointed for the six phases.

The Task Force also laid plans for the formation of twenty-six area committees, the function of which would be to promote Key 73 at the local level, aided by the phase committees. The area committees have been organized.

The phase committees met during the morning of January 10 and reported their plans to the Task Force that afternoon. The national Executive Committee had planned a North Carolina Strategy Seminar to be held in Raleigh on March 8 and the Task Force made plans to cooperate in this. The Working Group on Communications reported that nine TV stations in North Carolina showed the Launch TV Special; "Faith in Action," on the first week-end in January. Nationwide there were around 500 stations which carried this program.

The Strategy Seminar on March 8 drew together seventy-four leaders for instruction and inspiration. The featured speaker was Dr. John F. De Vries, Chairman of the National Phase II Committee. This seminar was designed especially for phase chairmen at the state and local levels.

In October a Finance Committee was appointed, headed by Dr. James H. Lightbourne, Jr., Contributions from participating judicatories have made this program self-sustaining and have made it possible to send a contribution of $200.00 to the national Executive Committee, making our Council one of the more than 150 Christian groups participating in Key 73.

North Carolina Council of Churches Migrant Project—In January 1965 our Assembly, meeting in Asheville, voted approval of a proposal that the Council become sponsoring agent of a Community Action Program to be funded by the federal Office of Economioc Opportunity as a part of its War on Poverty. Under the direction at first of Charles L. Herron and since 1968 of William H. Shipes, the North Carolina Council of Churches Migrant Project burgeoned into a vast program funded for well over $3,000,000 annually. However, by last summer difficulties in funding were becoming apparent, as government officials were invoking the principle of the separation of church and state. Accordingly, the Governing Board of the Migrant Project took action to become autonomous and to organize as the Migrant and Seasonal Farm Workers Association, Inc. with Migrants and The Council's Committee on Ministry Executive Board concurred, welcoming the fact that the Migrant Project had achieved a stage of maturity at which it could stand alone. Mr. Shipes will continue to be related to our Committee on Ministry with Migrants and the Council will be represented on the Governing Board of the new Association by Dr. Henry Turlington and Church Women United by Mrs. John W. Cobb.

It should be added that the Council continues in the Migrant Ministry as before 1965, aiding three local migrant councils in Henderson County, in Carteret County, and in the Elizabeth City area. The Committee on Ministry with Migrants has begun a new program of extension, seeking to get work organized in communities not now reached where need for such a ministry exists.

Church Women United in North Carolina—Special mention should be made of the excellent relationship enjoyed between the Council and Church Women United in North Carolina. With programs revolving around World Day of Prayer in March, May Fellowship Day, and World Community Day in November, CWU unites women across denominational lines for world outreach. They relate in especially helpful ways to two programs of the Council of Churches, the Church World Service Clothing Appeal and the Migrant Ministry. Last year they contributed $2,100.00 to maintain chaplains to work among the migrants and seasonal farm workers, and by the accumulation of 1,500 books of trading stamps they provided the handsome sum of $3,185.89 for the purchase of a new vehicle for use in the Migrant Ministry, this being the eighth "Harvester" they have given to this work.

This year Church Women United in North Carolina held its State Assembly in High Point on March 18 and 19 in order to meet prior to its national Board of Managers at Phoenix, Arizona, April 4-10. Host churches in High Point were Springfield Friends and St. Mary's Episcopal.

We congratulate Church Women United on its splendid progress under the leadership of Mrs. H. W. Dotson of Winston-Salem and we applaud its plans for the creation of units in new communities.

Commission on Christian Nurture—The Executive Director takes this opportunity to express the appreciation of the Council to Dr. W. Arthur Kale for the excellent leadership he gave during the short time in which he served as Chairman. It was known last April that his term would be brief, since he was to go on sabbatical leave early in 1973. However, we were eager to avail ourselves of his guidance even for a short period, because of his expertise and long-time ecumenical interest. This judgment was fully vindicated and our thanks are genuine.

Commission on Christian Unity—In like manner we express appreciation for the Rev. James D. Riddle, Chairman of the Commission on Christian Unity. A major concern of this commission during the past year has been the establishment of closer relationships with the Roman Catholic Diocese of Raleigh and the Diocese of Charlotte. Representatives of the two bishops have participated in meetings of the Commission and the results have been encouraging. A significant development in local ecumenism has been the formation during the past year of the Yokefellowship of North Carolina, Inc., headed by the Rev. Jerry D. Murray of Statesville. The Council will be working closely with this organization in fostering local ecumenical organizations.

The Church Council Bulletin—In the interest of economy the number of issues of The Church Council Bulletin was reduced from six to four in 1972. Putting the mailing-list of over 7;500 on a computer has made it possible now to operate the Durham office of the Council with one secretary. The mailing-list includes as many as possible of the ministers of the member judicatories plus a large number of interested lay people. The General Committee on Public Relations feels that it is important to maintain the Bulletin as contact with our constituency. The December issue included an informational folder about the Council made available through the generosity of Dr. Charles E. Dietze, the Council President.

Church World Service Clothing Appeal—Our Council has responsibility for promotion of the Church World Service Clothing Appeal in North Carolina. Our thirty-six collection depots during the week of February 19 sent in 59,527 pounds of clothing and blankets for Church World Service and 1,200 pounds for Lutheran World Relief, a total of 60,727 pounds. The next pick-ups by the truck from New Windsor, Maryland, will be during the week of September 4.

Commission on Religion in Appalachia—We continue our membership in the Commission on Religion in Appalachia. During the past year we have been represented by the Rev. Don Elly of Burnsville on its Project Team which is co-sponsored by Joint Educational Development. The Project Team is making a study of how values are transmitted in a culture which does not rely heavily on formal education with the belief that the learnings gained will assist in leadership development not only in Appalachia but in other cultures. The Rev. Reginald Mallet of Sylva continues to represent us in CORA's Appalachian Mission Renewal Project in North Carolina's six westernmost counties.

Annual Meeting—A planning committee headed by the Rev. George M. Webb of Shelby chose as theme for the 1973 Pastors' Conference, "The Pastor and Himself." The strong panel of leaders includes the Rev. Eugene Owens, Dr. David G. Buttrick, Chaplain L. L. McGee, and the Rev. Cecil Bishop. The Conference was held on April 30 at First Presbyterian Church, 918 North Main Street, High Point. That evening at 6:00 p.m. the Fellowship Dinner at First United Methodist Church, 512 North Main Street, was the opening event of the Council's 36th Assembly. Following this at 7:30 at First Presbyterian a public service of worship was held with Dr. R. H. Edwin Espy, General Secretary of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., speaking on the subject, "Looking Ahead in the Ecumenical Movement." Business sessions of the Assembly followed during the day on May 1 at First Presbyterian. The Richard Shelton Communications Awards and the Distinguished Service Award was presented at the luncheon that day.

Conference on the Charismatic Movement—In response to interest expressed from many quarters the Executive Board has approved our co-sponsorship with Duke Divinity School of a Conference on Charismatic Movement, to understand it more fully and to examine its impact on the churches. Bishop W. Moultrie Moore, Jr. of Raleigh heads the planning committee which has succeeded in engaging Dr. Martin Marty as one of the leaders, with others to be announced. The date will be November 27.

Other Relationships—The Executive Director continues for this triennium as a member of the Church World Service Department Committee in New York. He attended the General Assembly of the National Council's new Governing Board, as a representative of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., and of the National Council's Commission on Regional and Local Ecumenism. In the National Association of Ecumenical Staff he chairs the Farm Workers Network. Mention is made of these relationships in giving account of ecumenical stewardship.

Council Finances—Much was said about finances at the 36th Assembly. There is great cause for encouragement in the increased total of the allocations to the Council from its member judicatories. This total has risen from $14,000 in 1963 to $44,024 for 1973. However, the demands of growing programs plus inflation have more than kept pace with the increase. The minimal budget for 1973 will require $2,300 more than was in sight at the end of March. In addition there is an indebtedness of $3,000 which must be cleared in May. Consequently, the Executive Board undertook at its meeting on March 27 to raise through individual efforts $5,300 or more to meet the urgent need. A report on progress was made to the Assembly.

Conclusion—The North Carolina Council of Churches has accepted the mandate of Christ to exercise a ministry to the whole man. His Gospel is good news of spiritual salvation for the world to come—it is also concerned with the human condition in the present world. He is not only Savior—He is also Lord, and His lordship must extend to the whole of life. That is why we work to apply His precept of the love of neighbor to the social, economic, and political systems of the common life. Only then does the Gospel become fully relevant to human need.

We are venturing in holy obedience. We have found that our mission is so big that it requires the uniting of our efforts. We have formed an ecumenical fellowship and have found it good. There is a growing spirit of mutual trust among the churches of North Carolina. There is general acceptance of the principle of interdenominational cooperation in those tasks which can be accomplished better—or only—as we work together. The North Carolina Council is the instrument of such cooperation. If it did not exist something like it would have to be created. The logic of the case is to give it hearty support since it is here.

6. REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE MINISTER AND HIS WORK

Reverend David B. Jenkins, Chairman

Since this is the last opportunity for this Committee to report to the Synod under the present structure, it shall be the purpose of this report to review in brief the work of the Committee in the past, and suggest new forms and responsibilities for the future.

The most important function of this committee has been the exchange of information in connection with manpower mobility. Through two regional meetings each year the presbyteries of this Synod have enlarged the exchange process to include two other Synods. This Committee has been involved in the study of "The Church's Use of Her Ordained Ministry" even before the General Assembly's ad interim committee was appointed. In this regard the Synod of North Carolina has contributed to the larger study engaged in by the Assembly. A final function of this committee assigned under the Standing Rules of Synod is to serve as a resource for Synod and Regional Conferences on the Minister and His Work. Last year this offer was made to the presbyteries, but there was no response.

The transition committee should be informed that the work of this Committee has been relatively small in scope and requirement. It would be feasible to combine the functions assigned to this Committee with those assigned to other committees concerned with the minister under one committee dealing with Professional Development. The specific functions should include: (1) the responsibilities now assigned to the Permanent Committees on the Minister and His Work, Annuities and Relief, and Christianity and Health; (2) the responsibilities of the Career and Personal Counseling Service as it pertains to candidates for the ministry and also to those seeking career evaluation and development or change in occupation; at this point there needs to be some input from the Synod to the seminaries regarding the skills and training needed by personnel to fill the needs and vacancies in the presbyteries; (3) the development of an adequate system to provide supportive concern for non-ordained professionals such as Directors of Christian Education and Musicians; (4) continued exchange of information on a regional basis regarding vacant fields and available personnel including ordained and non-ordained persons; (5) the development of an adequate system to provide supportive concern for non-parish Teaching Elders such as chaplains, educators, institutional and agency representatives, and those engaged in campus ministries; (the presbytery has the responsibility to approve the terms of the call and the conditions of the particular task—BCO 26-8).

The following matters are commended to the Synod for consideration at this time: (1) The report of the General Assembly ad interim committee on "The Church's Use of Her Ordained Ministry" makes some significant recommendations for changes including licensure of candidates prior to Ordination, and contracts or covenants between the minister and the employer outside the terms of the call. This report deserves the consideration of the Synod at this time, and to that end it is suggested that a resource person knowledgeable with the report be invited to be present for the discussion. (2) It is suggested that the Synod study and recommend to the presbyteries a policy for dealing with a minister who elects to renounce the communion or authority of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. under the conditions set forth in BCO 111-3. (3) A pilot program of goal setting and evaluation was suggested to the presbyteries last year. It is brought to the attention on the process of short and long range goal setting and evaluation.

Finally, it is called to the attention of the Synod that the form suggested for grouping the work of several existing committees under the single heading of Professional Development is consistent with the plan of the General Executive Board of the General Assembly, and would provide appropriate linkage with the GEB so that its representatives may correspond and report on other regional developments throughout the General Assembly which are of concern to this Synod.

7. REPORT ON THE COMMITTEE ON STANDING RULES

Vernol Robert Jansen, Jr., Chairman

The Synod of North Carolina in session at Queens College on June 6-7, 1972 adopted various amendments to the Standing Rules of Synod which under normal circumstances would be recommended to the 1973 meeting for adoption. These changes and additions pertain to the membership of committees, and grow out of the reorganization of presbyteries as well as the desire to provide significant opportunities for participation by women, youth and minorities as committee members.

However, the changes have been incorporated in the rules to be proposed to the emerging synod by the Transition Committee and will be considered in connection with that report.

Our study of the present rules in connection with the restructuring process has yielded much information and great appreciation for these earlier efforts.

8. REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON WOMEN'S WORK

Reverend J. Donald Glover, Chairman

The work of the Women of the Church has been most interesting and exciting this year.

Many changes have taken place in structure, in approach, and in visionary action. The President of Synodical, Mrs. Cone McPherson, has provided exceptional leadership and vision as will be seen in her report to Synod.

The North Carolina Synodical Training School, June 18-22, and the North Carolina Women's Weekend Conference, June 16-17, under the direction of Mrs. Mac F. Jones, will provide opportunity for learning, fellowship and renewal. The theme for both will be "Accept Personhood."

With the presentation of this report, the task of Synod's Committee on Women's Work for the Synod will come to an end, due to the restructure plan. This is as it should be and is, in fact, action long over due.

The Committee stands ready to render any service it is called upon to render, although it has surely received far more than it has given. Thank you for this opportunity.

The Committee requests that Synod listen carefully to the report given by Mrs. McPherson at this time.

a. ANNUAL REPORT OF THE WOMEN OF THE CHURCH SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA

Mrs. H. Cone McPherson, President

The Women of the Church, Synod of North Carolina, is completing the final year of its formal organization with a year of change, but with a recognition of the fact that the Mission of the Church never changes.

To prove this the women have become aware of the meaning of this year's theme "God's Servant People", and that our Servant Lord calls us to an unchanging Mission in the midst of change. They realize the servant role is a way in which we can respond to what God has done for us and that by service we can show to God our gratitude.

As the six Presbyterial Presidents report the activities of their women, it is fantastic to hear of the many services they are rendering. Most of these activities are on-going local programs that have been reported year after year by our presidents which will be only briefly reported here: health and clothing needs for the underprivileged, care for the elderly, volunteer work in many areas as schools, hospitals, libraries and tutoring youth and children. Programs carried on through the Board of Women's Work continue: such as Least Coin Fellowship, White Cross, Life Memberships, Joy Gift (which now involves the total Church) and the Birthday Objective.

The Birthday Objective deserves special mention, as it is the outstanding project dear to the hearts of our women. Last year our women of the North Carolina Synod gave $53,113.78 to be used in ministry to Americans. The total amount contributed by women in the General Assembly was divided between the American Bible Society to print and distribute Bibles in the Cherokee-English and Spanish-English languages, and to print "Good News for Modern Man" to be distributed to migrant workers. The part of the money going to Stillman College was to endow a Professional Chair for Business Administration and to provide scholarships for students in this field. A special program in May, emphasizing the particular need, is held in each local church. In odd years funds go to an overseas project and in even years to an American based project.

In cooperation with Synod's restructuring plan, our Presbyterial Presidents have gone through "throes and traumas" in getting their Presbyterials set up under the restructured program. Where boundary lines have been altered, many hours of planning for making a smooth transition in Presbyterial programs and officers have taken place. We feel that this has been accomplished.

Statistically, our records are good. They show more than 56,000 persons in organized women's work into 2,189 groups for Bible study. This year at the six Annual meetings 2,568 persons attended with a total offering of nearly $3,000.00 going toward the Scholarship funds of the Hunger Program. Over 4,000 women attended the fall district meetings with offerings being taken for grass roots projects. While statistics are necessary to a certain degree, they can never portray the intangibles that are a vital part of women's work in the Synod of North Carolina.

The activities of your President this year have been many and varied. All requests have been filled. Many hours of conversation, conferences, meetings and speakings relative to the changes in our program have been met with love and understanding from hundreds of women. There has been a very real spirit of cooperation in all the deliberations and she believes everyone is trying to be open to the leading of the Holy Spirit in making the necessary changes. From 1912 to 1973 is a long time—61 years—that the Synodical of North Carolina has been in existence. But during this period changes have taken place. Some so gradual that our women gave them very little notice, others so drastic that there was much groaning and mumbling; but always the transition was made with time proving that the changes were good.

While this is the last report of the traditional Synodical President, she wants everyone to realize that Women's Work has not come to an end at all; but rather it has come to a new beginning in the total life of the Church. We are more a part of the Church today than we have ever been. The Church needs us to give up anything that does not contribute to the mission of the Church. We must live by the philosophy that as Women of the Church we are an integral part of the whole Church.

As we continue to act in a changing church and a changing society, we feel the Holy Spirit in the midst of these changes and we move with hope toward a more effective witness to our Lord and Master in the program of the Church in the years to come.

9. REPORT OF PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON WORLD MISSIONS

Reverend W. T. Perkins, Chairman

This has been a year of reorganization, beginning with the General Assembly and then the Synod of North Carolina and with many of the Presbyteries within our bounds. In each case the place of Missions, and especially World Missions, had to be decided. The Synod's Committee feels very strongly that Missions, and especially World Missions, needs to be actively promoted within the Synod and in each of the Presbyteries, and is working to see that World Missions will have a visibility in each of these courts. In some of our Presbyteries some exciting things are being done in World Missions. In Mecklenburg and Concord Presbyteries, conferences on Witness and Mission are held each year. In Concord Presbytery, money is raised through individual gifts to be used to send a large delegation to the World Missions Conference in Montreat each year. In Wilmington Presbytery, the Clarkton Presbyterian Church took a youth cavalcade to Zaire. Individual churches throughout the Synod are supporting missionaries over and above their regular giving. These are only a few examples of what we all could be doing.

The coming World Missions Conference, scheduled for Montreat during the dates of August 1-7, 1973, will be an exciting experience for all who participate. The focus of the conference will be on the task of global missions today and will have as its theme, "For Such A Time As This." There will be celebration, and varieties of Christian expression in worship and music at this year's World Missions Conference.

The Board of World Missions has planned several travel-study seminars this year, and the Presbyterians in North Carolina should take advantage of these opportunities. These travel/study seminars are designed to make Presbyterians aware of what is being done in World Missions by getting a personal view. The seminars that are planned are an evangelism seminar and study tour to the PCUS mission fields in the Orient, which was conducted in May and headed by Rev. William A. Benfield, Jr., pastor of First presbyterian Church, Charleston, W. Va., and a former PCUS moderator. The second evangelism seminar and study tour will be to Africa (Zaire) in October, and will be led by Rev. Cecil Lawrence, Charlotte, Executive Secretary of Mecklenburg Presbytery.

The Board of World Missions expressed four convictions to the GEB:

First, there needs to he new creative efforts to increase funds for Assembly programs. Second, the increase of funds for World Missions is vitally dependent on keeping members and ministers of our Church informed in a dynamic way about what our Church is doing and can do in the name of Christ outside of the United States. Third, it is vital not only that reserves designated for overseas work to he used for overseas work hut also that a vigorous effort he initiated to increase reserves for World Missions and other Assembly programs. Fourth, it is essential that sufficient World Missions reserves he maintained to provide for salaries of missionaries and staff and program costs for a full year—this is a standard set by the General Assembly in 1960.

Recommendations:

1. That each Preshytery designate a specific person within its structure whose responsibility it will he to serve as liaison hetween the General Executive Board and the Preshytery to promote World Missions.
2. That the Preshytery Chairman and the Ecumenical Mission and Relations Chairman he expected to attend the World Missions Conference at Montreat, August 1-7.
3. That Preshyteries be encouraged to send and fund at least eight other persons, including youth and minority groups, to the conference at Montreat, August 1-7.
4. That appreciation he expressed to the missionaries who worked so faithfully in this Synod for their time and service and that this appreciation be communicated to each of them:

   Rev. Frank L. Arnold
   Rev. John N. Somerville
   Rev. Earle D. Roherts
   Dr. Hervy Ross

5. That local congregations be encouraged to partially or fully support a missionary over and ahove their regular henevolence giving, hy estahlishing a relationship with one or more overseas missionaries, and that local pastors inform themselves of the work that is heing done in World Missions.

G. REPORT OF THE SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA FOUNDATION, INC.

Judge William E. Graham, Jr., President

The North Carolina Presbyterian Foundation is pleased to report two events of the past year which significantly affect its future.

First, we have now received assets totalling $32,037.03 from pledges and contributions of North Carolina Presbyterians. Virtually all pledges have been paid and the Board of Directors is adequately funded to initiate a program of stewardship education and deferred giving.

Second, the Greensboro Convention has affirmed the earlier decision of this Synod that this function is both necessary and appropriate at the regional level. The Foundation is being asked to assume management of gifts, bequests, trusts and revolving funds and to promote the entire stewardship program of the Church. The need for a staff person whose skills are communication, interpretation and education is acknowledged.

We are gratified by the support of those who have contributed the "seed money" to begin this ministry, and we appreciate the confidence expressed by the designers of the new structure who gave a high priority to this work.

I. OVERTURE TO THE SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA

Whereas, the Book of Church Order of the Presbyterian Church in the United States (Section 17-1) now has a provision for synods to determine their membership on the basis of representatives, elected by constituent presbyteries at a fixed ratio to the number of commissioners each presbytery is allowed to send to the General Assembly; and

Whereas, this provision provides that an equal number of ministers and ruling elders be elected as representatives to synod; and

Whereas, Synod, operating under the open system of representation at its 1972 meeting, had less than 58 percent of its ministers present and less than 43 percent of its churches represented by ruling elders; and

Whereas, under the present system of representation, ministers from year to year greatly outnumber the ruling elders present; and

Whereas,a presbytery-elected representative form of membership in synod would result in more likelihood of equally proportionate representation between ministers and ruling elders and in the possibility of a more efficiently operative court,

Fayetteville Presbytery respectfully requests the Synod of North Carolina, meeting in Richmond, Virginia, June 5-6, 1973, that the membership of Synod for its 1974 meeting be elected by the constituent presbyteries, with a representation of five times the number designated for each presbytery at the General Assembly of the current year, and that the expenses of professional staff persons in the employment of Synod be paid out of the budgets of their related committees or agencies, and that the expenses of committee chairmen be paid out of the budgets of their respective committees, and that future use of this plan be considered by Synod in 1974 on the basis of the trial given to it in 1974.

Done at the Fifth Stated Meeting of Fayetteville Presbytery 8 May 1973.

J. H. Stephens
Stated Clerk

J. RESPONSE OF THE RECIPIENT OF THE MARGARET BOWEN AWARD

Dr. Sara B. Little, Richmond, Virginia

Dr. Hart, Mr. Moderator, Fellow North Carolinians,

I accept this award with gratitude and with recognition that it constitutes for me a call for renewal and deepened commitment in my vocation. When I read what Will Kennedy said last year, I am amazed at the masterful job he did in relating Margaret Bowen's life and contributions to historical analysis of Christian education. I commend it to you. I see myself as standing in the tradition he says helped shape Margaret Bowen, and I am honored by being selected for this award.

It is hard to know what to say on this occasion. I would like to have done what Will did—but you can read or re-read that; or I would like to build on it. But it is too good to be tampered with. Besides, every time I started working on that, my mind jumped back to the last time I spoke to the Synod of North Carolina, sometime around 1945 or 46. I was in your employ then. I still remember that speech vividly. I memorized it so well that if you could push the right button now, I think the whole speech would follow. As a matter of fact it goes like this: "The term Sunday School Extension is one with which we Presbyterians are not overly familiar; it is one with which even we North Carolina Presbyterians are not overly familiar. But in these more recent days. . ." I can remember a table conversation several meals later, when Tom Hamilton quoted some ideas from the speech—but could not remember who made the speech! The whole process of preparation, in fact, evoked so many memories—just because this is the Synod of North Carolina—just because St. Andrews—and Flora Macdonald College—have been so related to Christian education in North Carolina—that I decided to allow myself the luxury of remembering. Some of you will recognize yourselves in the three or four conversations or interpreted events—recollections that may have developed because they do speak to some of the issues we face in Christian education today.

For example, some of you—many of you, in fact—will remember the days of youth caravans, when young people spent a week or ten days in training for helping their peers in youth ministry. On one such occasion, when we had worked hard on program planning, one young person said, in the middle of things, "This is good, but I'm not sure it gets to the heart of the matter. What I really want to know is, what do I mean when I say I'm a Christian." Plans were abandoned; the whole day was spent in honest, deep pursuit of that question. When night came, worship was an appropriate end. The young person—one of you—you may recognize yourself—said that all his church experiences, all his Christian education involvement, came into focus during that one day, and gave him a perspective for the rest of his life.

Then there was the three year struggle we had in getting ready for the first interracial college youth—Westminster Fellowship—conference in North Carolina. It happened at High Point, in the First Presbyterian Church. I remember a comment by one of the women. We had worshipped with the congregation, interracially, on Sunday; we had eaten together, recreated together, thought together. That woman said, "Something of historic importance for Presbyterianism in North Carolina happened here today, and I am glad to be a part of it."

At a youth conference at Flora Macdonald one day, when we had wrestled seriously with social issues, a vibrant, beautiful young red-headed girl came up, with tears in her eyes, to say, "You adults make me angry. You hold up before us a picture of what the church could be and do; you make us want to be of help. Then you do not enable us to see what we can actually do. Stick with us all the way through." That was the occasion for much conversation among some of us adults—Parson McClure I remember in particular. I learned much from him.

And I learned much from Dr. J. O. Mann. On one occasion, as we were talking about special themes and special programs, I said, "Dr. Mann, you do not seem to get too excited about these special things." "No," he said; "specials come and go in Christian education; fads come and go. What really counts is the steady, day by day work as we participate in the ongoing work of the church."

What does all this mean? There are some questions we face today. Is Christian education everything that happens, or is it something particular? What is more important in the church—social action or evangelism? What is the relation of Christian education to each of these? Detailed responses to those questions would be possible, on the basis of the stories, but no doubt you can see the implications as readily as I do. I shall have to generalize just enough to say that there are clues in the recollections—clues that point toward primary concern for the total ministry of the church, clues that show interdependence—but distinctiveness—of functions. There is an educational value when people make commitments and affirm positions and learn what they "do." There is need for historical awareness. And part of what today means to me is a reminder of the history of the solid, substantive approach to Christian education that is to be found in North Carolina—the collaborative efforts of the Synod with institutions of higher education is but one example.

What I want to say, in addition to response to the Margaret Bowen award, is a word of gratitude to you for the heritage I have from you—my church in Charlotte, my growing-up days—Presbytery and Synod meant as much as did my congregation—my education at Queens—and at the Davidson and Flora Macdonald conferences—my years of work for and with you—your relation to the two institutions here, in Richmond, in which I am now involved. I have been influenced, formed, by you, and by my life among you. And I rejoice today because I see the heritage I have received building into a future that will continue to carry out the ministry given to the church of Jesus Christ.

OPENING PRAYER

O God, keeper of our past and giver of our future: you are always calling us through the living movement of history to know who we are in Jesus Christ and to do his work.

We thank you for this moment, this event. Bless us in what we make of it that it may make of us a more alive, obedient, and faithful church. Stir us to work, to celebrate and to dream. Let us lay good foundations, make wise plans, point proper directions. May no task be so small that we cannot give it spiritual meaning, no action so religious or reverent that it does not also make us more practical workmen in a world of laws and money and science and politics.

O God our Father: thankful for the past and excitedly hopeful for the future, we know that we do not create the church and we cannot breathe new life into it. You create; your Spirit is the author of our life. We can only be ready, equipped, and in a position to respond.

Come Creator Spirit: work some new creation among us. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

Rev. Robert S. Busey

The name of the new Synod shall be "the Synod of North Carolina of the Presbyterian Church in the United States", subject to the approval of the General Assemhly.

That Synod adopt as its official seal the design and accompanying explanation. (Appendix 3B)

3. Mission and Organization:

That the new Synod adopt the report of the committee on Mission and Organization including the organizational structure, and the following recommendations:

A. That a task force be formed, composed of representatives of the Synod and of the Seminary (UTS) to explore possibilities to implement such programs as would seem beneficial on a reciprocal basis, such as continuing educational opportunities with Seminary leadership, provision for theologian-in-residence, etc.

B. That a task force to study Synod's ministry to higher education be formed, to consist equally of clergy, laity and persons directly involved with higher education.

C. That synod establish a task force designed to develop resources for ministry to family life and other human needs, and that the goal of this task force will be to develop personnel and materials pertinent to those needs giving individual churches and communities the expertise to minister to these problems in their area. The task force is to become a committee of the Council on the Church's ministry to families and shall include a representative from each agency to each Presbyterian family ministries institution.

4. Educational Institutions:

A. That the synod continue the election of trustees to Union Seminary, St. Andrews Presbyterian College and Queens College as provided by the charter of each institution.

B. That the synod continue financial support to the extent approved from year to year to the institutions which the Synod of North Carolina supports: Union Theological Seminary, St. Andrews Presbyterian College, Queens College and Davidson College, and further that the synod be very cautious in assuming financial responsibility to other educational institutions.

C. That the synod, in consultation with each of the institutions named in "A" and "B" above, seek to define in a written statement the relationship of synod to each.

D. That the statement defining these relationships seek to cover the extent, if any, of obligations with respect to (1) the purpose of the institutions, (2) its Christian orientation, (3) the availability of faculties and staff for support of synod activities, (4) the election of trustees, and (5) the degree of financial support.

E. That the synod be open to establishing a covenant relationship with other historically Presbyterian institutions of higher education within the bounds of the synod (such as Lees-McRae College, Montreat-Anderson College.)

F. That the synod be open to a consultative and deliberative relationship to other Presbyterian institutions of higher education that are willing to participate in its mission, declare themselves Presbyterian institutions and look to a Presbytery or higher court for their governance.

5. Family Ministries:

A. That the synod continue the ownership and control relationship with those institutions with which the Synod of North Carolina has historically had this relationship: i.e. Presbyterian Home, Barium Springs Home for Children, William Black Home; however, that financial assistance to these institutional ministries no longer be related to the agency's general operational budget—its custodial, bricks and mortar, food and laundry costs—but to program factors that raise the quality of service above the custodial.

B. That the synod be open to a consultative and deliberative relationship to other Presbyterian family ministries institutions that are willing to participate in its mission, declare themselves Presbyterian institutions and look to a court or courts of the Presbyterian Church, U.S. for their governance. Its potential service to these agencies is largely in the areas of consultation, joint planning, identification of unmet needs and standard setting, although it might in some cases aid in promotion and consider limited financial assistance to aid in the development of needed programs. That the present Committee on Homes be reconstituted by the Coordinating Council to become a committee on the church's ministry to families, including a representative from each agency named in "A" above.

C. That the program at William Black Home be coordinated with the other ministries of the synod through the committee mentioned in "B" above and that the program be expanded to year round use for retreats, training events, and conferences.

6. Stewardship:
That a high priority of the Coordinating Council be the establishment of a subcommittee or task force to continue the study of the means by which the church funds the ministries for which it accepts responsibility, that the causes of synod be studied and that any changes be made which seem appropriate to Synod's Council. The committee should cooperate with similar groups at the denominational or presbytery levels.

7. That the Coordinating Council establish a personnel committee which shall take a fresh look at the personnel requirements of the synod as needed to carry out the newly conceived mission and purposes of the synod and, as such positions are developed, to begin interview with present staff and that present staff personnel shall be continued through December 31, 1973 and employment beyond that date be determined by negotiation on the basis of job descriptions and personnel qualifications as established by the Coordinating Council.

8. That the offices and personnel of the Synod of North Carolina be constituted as the offices and personnel of the new synod.

ACTIONS OF THE TRANSITIONAL COMMITTEE: The following actions of the Transitional Committee were adopted:

   B. Task Force on Higher Education, 24 members, as described in the plan.

   C. Task Force on Theological Education, 19 members, 14 from synod at-large with representation from each presbytery and 5 members to be nominated hy the Seminary.

   That the task forces report directly at its 1974 meeting.

5. That synod express its willingness to enter into conversations with the Synod of the Virginias to explore the possibility of an inter-regional hookstore (materials resources center) and that synod request the chairman of the Coordinating Council to name a committee to explore all alternatives to comply with the General Assembly mandate that synod maintain a material resourcing center for distribution of printed and audio-visual resources.

APPENDIX 3

REPORT OF TRANSITIONAL COMMITTEE TO THE ORGANIZATIONAL MEETING OF THE SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA

The General Assembly has authority "to establish new Synods and to unite or divide those which were before established." The General Assembly acted in 1971 to "create seven synods out of the existing fifteen." The procedure for organizing the new synods was detailed and the effective date of the action was set for July 1, 1973.

Those who would comprise the membership of the new synod proposal for this region met in Convention at Covenant Presbyterian Church in Charlotte on November 30, 1971. Six study committees (with a membership of 115 ministers and lay persons) were elected.

The Convention met again at First Presbyterian Church in Greensboro to act on reports from these committees (March 13-14, 1973). It studied, debated, amended and adopted the work of these committees. A transitional committee was elected to make preparations for this meeting.

The final step in the organizational process is the approval of the actions of the Convention and the report of this committee. The actions of the Convention include the following:

The organizational meeting of the new synod shall be held in Richmond June 5-6, 1973, and representatives from all areas to be in the new synod shall participate. At the organizational meeting the following action to be effective July 1, 1973, should be taken:

- — Adopt plan approved by the convention in Greensboro
- — Elect a moderator, clerk and moderator-in-nomination
- — Elect all members of councils and committee as required under the approved plan
- — Elect trustees and directors of institutions
- — Adopt budget for 1973 and 1974
- — Adopt Standing Rules of Synod
- — Constitute the existing office and personnel of the Synod of North Carolina as the office and personnel of the new synod.

At the convention in Greensboro a Transitional Committee of twenty persons be elected who shall be chosen as to be broadly representative of the region. The general authority of the Transitional Committee shall be broad and its responsibilities shall include, among other things, the following:

a. To prepare a proposed budget for 1974;
b. To coordinate with Asheville Presbytery and the Synod of Appalachia with regard to budgetary and other transitional matters;
c. To draft and propose the Standing Rules of Synod
d. To coordinate with the General Asembly and to propose such adjustments to the plan as necessary to meet the approval or recommendation of the General Assembly.
e. To arrange transportation, facilities, program and other necessary matters for the organizational meeting of the new synod, to be held in conjunction with meeting of the Synod of North Carolina in Richmond, June 5-6.

The Transitional Committee met in Raleigh on April 11 and May 15, 1973. Subcommittees met on other occasions in Greensboro, Gastonia, Charlotte and Raleigh.

Four work groups were given responsibility for specific tasks included in the assignment of the committee: Budget, Rules, Program and Legal Titles. Each has prepared recommendations which have been reviewed by the committee and commended to Synod for adoption.

The committee has also made some general recommendations about the task forces established by the convention, about our relationship with the nominating committee and about the nominating process by which the Regional Communication Executive is to be selected.

Each of us has valued this opportunity for service to the Church. We would be reminded that "restructure" is a part of the life of every vital institution; while we did not initiate it, we recognize the necessity of it.

Respectfully submitted,

APPENDIX 3B
OFFICIAL SEAL OF THE SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES

The word "synod" comes from the Latin and Greek. The English word is taken from the Latin, synodus. The corresponding Greek word means "a meeting". Root words from which the Greek noun is derived, roughly translated, might mean "together" and "way".

The Greek noun for synod, while not appearing in the New Testament, is used in classical Greek, sometimes for persons assembling for deliberation.

The root verb, found in the Septuagint, and once in the New Testament means "to journey with". The Greek word on the Seal of the Synod of North Carolina is in the plural form, and translated means, "We travel together".

In view of the fact that the Synod, as a Court, comes between the Presbyteries and the General Assembly, the work "synod" appropriately suggests unity and relationship.

The burning bush is a reminder of the Old Testament Covenant and together with the garlands, of the Seal of the Presbyterian Church in the United States; thus, of relationship to the whole General Assembly.

The map of the Synod of North Carolina includes the seven Presbyteries which make up the Synod, and suggests fellowship.

The date 1788 stands for the organization of the Synod of the Carolinas in the Centre Presbyterian Church, Concord Presbytery, on November 5 of that year, and is a reminder that once the Synod was a part of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America.

The date 1813 marks the year of organization of the Synod of North Carolina, which occurred October 7 of that year in the Alamance Presbyterian Church.

The Cross, as always, speaks of sacrifice, love, and salvation, accomplished by Christ, the Head of the Church.

The Circle suggests eternity and unity, which are attributes of God.

The colors are not altogether without meaning. As green stands between yellow and blue in the spectrum, it suggests relationship as well as life and hope.

Blue, the color of sky and sea, symbols of the timeless ages, is also a reminder of purity.

Gold stands for stability, for worth and honor, and for majesty and glory, attributes of the living Christ, in whom all things consist.

(Philippians 2:1-11; Colossians 1:13-20; 2:9-10; I Peter 2:7; and Revelation 7:9-12)

Court Committees

Functions of the regional judicatory which are non-promatic and relate directly to the court are assigned to specified committees. These committees look to the Council for funding and staff support, but are otherwise independent of the mission structure. Members are appointed by the Moderator or elected by Synod as appropriate and as specified by the Standing Rules:

5:1 Attendance: Seven or more members appointed annually by the Moderator, preferably one from each Presbytery, shall meet prior to and, if necessary, during the meeting of Synod to evaluate and recommend to Synod disposition of requests of Commissioners or Sessions to be excused from attendance and also to report on ministers (except those honorably retired, those on active duty in military service, and those on foreign fields), who, and churches which, fail to submit requests to be excused for non-representation at the meeting of Synod.

5:2 Bills and Overtures: Five or more members appointed annually by the Moderator to receive all bills and overtures referred to it for consideration, and to make recommendation for disposition of same to Synod.

5:3 Docket: A committee named by the Coordinating Council and chaired by the Moderator of the most recent stated meeting of Synod to prepare Docket for the Council to be approved by Synod. The Stated Clerk and the host pastor shall be members of the committee.

5:4 Rules: Six or more members and the Stated Clerk who will serve as Chairman, preferably one from each Presbytery to be elected annually upon nomination by Moderator, will review Synod's rules for consistency and correctness and will bring in recommendations for amendments when and where needed.

5:5 Judicial Business: Seven members, including a Chairman, terms of office three years, staggered, and eligible to serve one additional term. Will function as defined in the Book of Church Order.

5:6 Historical: Membership shall be composed of sixteen (16) persons, including the Chairman (who shall be elected at large). The members shall be divided into three classes of five each to serve for three years and eligible for one additional term.

5:7 Records: Six (6) members appointed annually to review minutes and proceedings of Presbyteries and the Synod and report directly to Synod.

Trustees

6:1 Trustees of Synod: The Trustees of Synod shall be seven in number. Of these, six shall be arranged in classes of two each, to serve terms of three years, and eligible for re-election indeterminately. The seventh Trustee shall be the Stated Clerk of Synod.

It shall be the duty of the Board of Trustees as the Synod's agency in all matters requiring the aid or use of the civil law, to receive, take charge of, and manage to the best advantage, and account to the Synod for, according to law, all property and estate belonging, or which may accrue and enure to this Synod. They shall hold in trust, subject to the order of Synod, the said property, and all legacies and bequests which may be willed to the Synod in behalf of charitable and other objects under its control. They shall, as the Synod's agent make disposition of any or all of the said property and estate (by means of grant or pledge), and may pledge the credit of Synod, upon order or direction of Synod, or upon order or direction of such agent or agency of Synod as Synod may designate.

6:2 Trustees of Institutions: The Synod shall elect annually:

Two members of the Board of Directors of Union Theological Seminary, whose term of ofice shall be five years, for nomination to the Board of Directors.

Eight members of the Board of Regents of the Barium Springs Children's Home, whose term of office shall be for three years, and eligible for not more than two consecutive terms. The Board shall be composed of 24 members, 14 of whom shall be Presbytery representatives; two from each of the Presbyteries; and 10 members-at-large.

Five members of the Board of Trustees of the William Black Home for Religious Workers, whose term of service shall be for three years, and four members of this Board shall be women. (See 1950 Minutes of Synod, pg. 393.)

Seven members of the Board of Trustees of the Presbyterian Home, whose term of office shall be three years. Of these members at least two shall be women, and each Presbytery shall be represented at all times by at least one male member. The President of the Women of the Synod and one other woman shall be members.

Twelve members of the Board of Directors of Saint Andrews Presbyterian College, whose term of service shall be for three years; and each Presbytery shall be represented at all times on the Board by at least two members.

Ten members of the Board of Trustees of Queens College for a term of four years each. Nominees shall be submitted to the Synod by the Board of Trustees, but in its selection of trustees the Synod shall not be confined to the nominees submitted by the Board of Trustees. These Trustees shall be divided into four classes and shall be eligible for re-election.

6:3 Synod Foundation: The Board of Directors shall consist of fifteen persons who shall be elected from nominations made by the Synod's Permanent Committee on Nominations, five to serve initially for a one-year term; five for a two-year term; and five for a three-year term. Subsequently thereto, at each regular annual session of the Synod, directors shall be elected to fill the vacancies hereafter annually occurring, for terms of three years each. Vacancies occurring between sessions of the Synod shall be filled by vote of the remaining members of the Board as then constituted, the persons so elected to serve until the expiration of the term for which elected, subject to ratification by Synod.

6:4 The Synod shall elect three Trustees of the A. T. McCallum Estate Trust Fund, two laymen and one minister, one of whom shall be a resident of Fayetteville Presbytery, who shall serve for terms of four years. (See Section X of the Will.)

Trustees of Educational Institutions to which Synod elects trustees shall ordinarily serve not more than two successive terms.

The Coordinating Council

7:1 The Coordinating Council: The central administrative and executive agency of the Synod shall be the Coordinating Council, composed of forty-four voting members, and responsible to the court for the entire mission program of the Synod. The concept of this council is one of implementation rather than policy-making, which is reserved to the synod.

A. Membership: There shall be fifteen at-large members nominated by Synod's Nominating Committee and elected by Synod. There shall be 25 members chosen by the several presbyteries and confirmed by the Synod and apportioned as nearly as possible on the basis of constituent strength of the respective presbyteries, but each presbytery shall have at least two representatives. The representatives of each presbytery shall be one-half clergy and one-half laity. In cases where the total clergy representation is three, five, or seven, the lay representation or the clergy representation may be one, two or three respectively.

Other members of the Coordinating Council shall serve by reason of their office: the moderator, the general secretary, the coordinator of regional resources and the chairman of the staff cabinet.

B. Term of Office: The normal term of office shall be three years. A member shall be ineligible for re-election, except that a member who serves a fractional part of a term (less than one-half) shall be eligible for election to a full term. The membership shall be divided into three classes so that normal rotations shall provide for replacement of one-third of the membership of the Council each year. Members chosen by the presbyteries shall vacate their offices by removal to another judicatory and at-large members shall vacate their offices by removal from the synod.

C. Officers: The officers of the Coordinating Council shall be elected by the members of the Council from among the at-large members, but not including members of the staff. The Chairman shall be elected for a two-year term and shall not be eligible for re-election. A Vice Chairman shall be elected for a similar term which shall expire in the alternate year. The general secretary shall serve as secretary to the Council.

D. Meetings: Ordinarily the Coordinating Council shall meet once each quarter, but it shall always meet at least three times during the year, and as often as necessary. Special meetings of the Council may be called by the chairman, and a meeting must be called if one-fourth of the membership requests it.

Internal Operations Committees of Council

D. Personnel: Consists of five persons elected at the fall meeting of Council.

Duties: (1) To function with the General Secretary in review and evaluation of staff; (2) To serve as listening unit for staff communication; (3) To review and adjust annually the salaries of all staff.

E. Long Range Planning and Review: Consists of seven members elected at the fall meeting of the Council.

Duties: (1) To review on-going programs and recommend changes; (2) To engage in long range studies and share these studies and any recommendations to Synod through the Council.

*There should be a representative from each Presbytery on these committees.

The Staff Cabinet

8:1 The Staff Cabinet is an advisory unit of the Council composed of the professional staff of the Synod (excepting regional resourcing specilists without other duties) and of the presbyteries of the region. The staff cabinet will choose its own officers from its membership and its chairman shall be a member of the Council. The staff cabinet shall meet at least twice annually and shall provide advice and counsel to Synod's Council. The staff cabinet provides a forum of mutual support, communication and information out of which the concerns of the members are communicated to the Council.

Staff

9:1 The staff of Synod shall consist of a General Secretary, a Coordinator of Regional Resourcing and such professional and administrative staff as is necessary for the implementation of the program of Synod as determined by the Council. All staff shall be under the supervision of the Council.

9:2 The office of General Secretary shall be established to provide a chief executive officer of the Synod, who is responsible for administration and coordination of all the Synod's organizational systems, the supervision of staff, and the representation of the Synod in relation to other groups.

9:3 The Resource Coordinator will function with the General Secretary in obtaining appropriate resource persons and materials and make them available to presbyteries, churches and individuals.

The functions of the Resource Coordinator will be carried out as described in accordance with the standards for a Regional Resource System as set forth in the plan of restructure of the Presbyterian Church U.S. (Minutes of the 112th General Assembly, Part I, 102 & 104)

As a management principle, the staff will function as a matrix with the functions of support, mission and resourcing being implemented at various times by the entire staff. The mission functions are assigned to the Council and the needs of these programs will determine the tasks of the staff at a given time.

Synod's Office shall be the agency for the work of the court and it shall perform those duties required by the Book of Church Order. The Stated Clerk shall serve as Central Treasurer and General Secretary. Although the address of Synod's Office indicates a central geographical location, the staff shall be dispersed to more effectively meet the mission and resourcing needs of the Church.

10:1 The Council shall establish committees to carry out the program of Synod and implement priorities and goals set by Synod. On the basis of current needs and priorities the council shall establish committees as necessary to carry out the program.

Other task groups will be established by Synod on recommendation of the Council, such proposal to include a description of the purpose of this committee, the method of selecting its membership and the duration of the committee.

10:2 Committees to be organized by the Coordinating Council on the basis of needs already identified will initially include the following:

A. Committee on Resourcing: Under the new structure of the denominational and regional program system, synods will maintain a system of professional and material resources designed for use by the presbyteries and congregations of this region. Basic to this concept of regional resourcing is integral functioning of all levels. This has been done to a degree in the Synod of North Carolina for years, as resource people with special qualifications in Christian Education, Media Ministry, Urban Planning, Churchsite Survey, etc., have been called to various parts of the synod when needed for a particular task. Persons so utilized have included those serving judicatories in the synod and others called in from other judicatories.

The synod's resourcing center will supply not only persons but materials as well.

This conference shall be responsible for planning the summer conference program of the Synod at Montreat.

B. Committee on Media Ministry: The regional level is the most appropriate for the functional operation of media ministry as service and as resource. Production and placement of programming as an outreach service and the accessibility of responsive resource are both necessary concerns of a relevant media ministry.

Production and placement of religious programming with the North Carolina broadcast industry, involving churchmen from throughout the synod in local and regional broadcasting, and providing consultation to stations and broadcast groups in religious programming are among the services most appropriately provided at the regional level in media ministry.

The potential for outreach ministries through the broadcast media has grown rapidly in the last decade while, at the same time, awareness of other responsibilities in media ministry has increased as Christians recognize the effects of the "information explosion" on the family, the community, and the church.

An inventory of the functions of the regional judicatory should include the synod's long-standing committment to a developing media ministry. The traditional broadcast ministry, best embodied by the weekly 15-minute radio program, "Sunday School of the Air," offers the new region a substantial base for widening awareness of media ministry possibilities.

The regional level is the most appropriate level for the variety of ministries possible through service to broadcast facilities and the potential for media ministries through resource at that level to local churches and presbyteries is an area of growing concern and expanding potential.

C. Committee on Presbyterian News: Among the mission functions to be done at the regional level none is of greater importance to the total life of the church than its newspaper. In a day of rapid communication of voluminous information, the individual must have some trustworthy source of church-related material, a touch stone by which the rumors and the propaganda can be tested. There needs to he a channel through which the individual can be informed about the church, its activities and its leaders in this region. The present publication enjoys the largest circulation of any periodical of a Preshyterian judicatory—it should be improved but the value of this ministry needs to be maintained.

D. Committee on Interchurch Relations: In the area of interchurch cooperation and understanding the synod has an important role to play, for it can stimulate at the local level expression of Christian unity which ecumencial pronouncements at the national level cannot.

E. Committee on Women of the Church: The North Carolina Synodical Council has proposed an organizational design under which the preshyterial presidents (7) will form a committe to plan regional activities and to develop resources for the on-going program of the Women of the Church. This committee shall be chaired by a woman memher of the Synod Council and the support of this program shall he a function of the Council. It shall provide material and professional resources to respond to the need expressed and it shall work in cooperation with the Office of Women in the Office of the General Assembly.

F. Committee on the Church's Ministry to Family Life and Other Human Needs: Initially this committee shall function as the task force established by Synod, performing such additional functions as may be assigned to it by the Council from time to time.

Additional functions have been identified as tasks of the Council. These include Higher Education, Theological Education and Stewardship Interpretation. Each of these is the subject of further study by task forces or special committees and the organizational form of these program units must await the action of the Synod of 1974. Task forces shall report directly to synod with consultation between task forces and the Coordinating Council at the initiative of either.

Nominating Committee

11:1 The Committee on Nominations shall be composed of nine members, organized into three classes of three members each. Members shall serve a term of three years and shall be ineligible for re-election. A partial term shall be considered to be a full term.

The retiring moderator shall annually nominate persons to the new class, and to fill vacancies.

The Committee on Nominations shall have responsibility to nominate to the Synod persons to fill all positions, excepting staff. All such nominations referred to above, however, shall not preclude nominations from the floor by any member of Synod.

Financial Rules of Synod

12:1 All agencies of Synod shall clearr through the Council all requests for funds, including campaigns.

12:2 All Treasurers of Synod's Funds (Office, Homes, and other agencies and institutions) shall he bonded in an approved surety company for such amounts as the Finance and Audit Committee shall determine; and these several accounts shall he audited annually by an approved accountant; and annual reports shall be rended to Synod.

12:3 All agencies of Synod seeking benevolence support from the Synod shall present annually to the Stewardship Committee at its meeting to formulate a budget, together with their requests for support: (1) a two-year comparison financial statement; and (2) a two-year comparison of budgets.

12:4 Agencies of Synod are to operate within their hudgets, as approved hy Synod. They shall not exceed their respective budgets except with the approval of Synod or the Executive Committee of Synod's Council.

Meetings and Standing Orders

13:1 Time: The annual Stated Meeting of Synod ordinarily shall be held as early in June as is practicable, and with the concurrence of Synod's Council, the first session to begin at 2 p.m. on a Tuesday, unless otherwise ordered. The Synodical year shall end April 30.

14:1 Enrollment: The Committee on Enrollment shall meet at the place at which Synod is to convene at an hour just before the opening of the session. Each member shall, on arrival, report to this Committee or their agents for enrollment. The role thus prepared according to Presbyteries shall be reported to the Synod at the opening of Synod at which time additional enrollment shall be made.

15:1 Entertainment: Synod's Coordinating Council shall arrange for the entertainment of Synod.

Ordinarily an institution entertaining Synod shall be paid for each representative in attendance beginning with the first meal served and for lodging. This shall also apply to those guests of synod who are approved by the Program Committee. All visitors of Synod shall make arrangements for their own entertainment.

16:1 Expenses: Per capita assessment to Synod's expenses shall be of sufficient amout to meet the expenses of the Stated Clerk's office and such appropriations as are approved by Synod to be paid from this fund.

16:2 All salaried officers of the Synod, or any of its agencies, shall be elected by the Synod, and the term of office of each shall be fixed by the Synod.

16:3 When travel of staff or committee members is by public transportation, the expense shall be the actual cost. When travel is by car, the mileage shall be figured at ten cents per mile.

17:1 Orders: Following the enrollment at the opening session of Synod, the Moderator shall introduce to the Synod all ministers who have been received into its constituent Presbyteries from beyond the bounds of Synod since the last Stated meeting.

17:2 The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper shall be held on the first day of the Synod's meeting at an appropriate time.

17:3 The names of the Ministers of Synod who have died during the Synodical year shall be read in connection with the annual Communion Service, and an adequate memorial of each, not to exceed approximately 500 words, shall be printed in the Minutes of Synod.

18:1 The records of committees, councils or institutions receiving support from or under the control of Synod shall be made available to Synod or Synod's Council upon request.

19:1 No new matter of business may be introduced to Synod later than the evening recess on the first day of the meeting of Synod.
